Dr. Joyce Brothers
Gives Honest Advice

by Sandy Lang
Chronicle Staff Writer

Recent college surveys say young people still believe in the miracle of love and the fashion of lifetime marriages, according to Dr. Joyce Brothers.

Brothers, a noted psychologist, spoke to an overflowing crowd in the Upper Commons last Wednesday night.

Brothers said that while the 90's are the "HE" generation with male dominance in the work force and in the area of marriageability (presently there is a considerably higher proportion of marriageable men in this country), the '90s will be the "FE" generation.

Women will be sought after for the more complicated jobs because women are statistically better educated, said Brothers.

She said more than 50% of today's college students are women.

Recent research shows that people need to confide in others in order to lead happy lives, said Brothers.

Brothers said women have confidants more often than men and tend to confide in other women most of the time.

She said men often keep things to themselves but when they do confide in someone it is usually a woman—their wife if they are married.

Brothers outlined a process for effective learning of written material.

1. Flip through source to see what you will be reading.

2. Divide material into segments—beginning, middle, and end. Plan on spending most of your time on the middle portion.

3. Read a section, close the book and recite what you just read. Write the material down if you have time.

Brothers said the best way to retain material for a short time (until the test the next day) one should go to sleep immediately after studying the source and sleep for at least four hours.

Pay attention to normal body rhythms (which are tracked by fluctuations in body temperature, hunger, and sex drive) to develop because they are too alike.

Brothers, whose psychological advice also appears in her daily syndicated newspaper column, in her books, and in her daily NBC Radio Network commentary, said "giving advice puts you in a very vulnerable position."

She said when her daughter chose Socrates, she was surprised if it passed, but felt if it did, it would not make a marked difference on campus.

The proposal calls for increasing the minimum wage, with student assistants from 18-21 years of age receiving only 85% this increase.

"I am not comfortable with it,"

Evans told the students. Paying employees less than what they feel the doing" damages morale and hurts overall activity," he said.

A.S. president Hekman added that in its recent meeting the CSSA supported the general increase in minimum wage, but opposed the sub-minimum wage proposals.

CSSA representatives are planning to attend public hearings as well as notify state and university officials of their position.

Another important topic brought before Evans was Greek housing, and the proposed fraternity and sorority row. Evans told Mark Cascio, president of the Greek council, that the campus planning committee was discussing the idea, but he was "not clear what trustees would agree to it."

The Board of Trustees has been hesitant to designate land for student use as living facilities because they're "single-sets," or all-male and all-female buildings.

This situation, the trustee felt, can be viewed as discriminatory.

David Pavao, president of the Drama Club, asked Evans if, among the new buildings, such as the 1990 building, there were any plans for a new Creative Arts building.

"We have been planning for a new Theater Arts building," Evans told Pavao. The building would contain a recital hall with 500 seats. "All the CSU campuses have this facility except ours," he continued, but added, "we do not have that large of a Dramatic Arts department."

"We are fearful we could not make it as strong a case."

The governor's position, maintained Evans, is that "there's such an acute need for Business, English and High Tech schools. He has not been very supportive of a Fine Arts building."

Evans's did reassure Pavao, however, that there would be such a building, although it may take five years.

The question of new buildings raised the discussion of the Student Union $13 million expansion, with Randy Herrell asking Hekman how students could become involved.

"Attend the meetings," was Hekman's reply. The once-a-month meetings are increasing to two or three times a month as building time steps up.

"All the input at the board—all the student needs come straight out of the board," said Hekman.

Hekman addressed other campus additions, such as the proposed ATM acquisition. The project has been turned over to a Student Union committee, said Hekman, who will make a recommendation to the BOD, hopefully by the end of the winter quarter.

Both presidents addressed the increased parking fee issue, agreeing that it was "a necessary evil."

The CSSA, reported Hekman, took a stance opposing the increase, proposing a one year moratorium to explore other campus transportation. But, agreeing with Evans, Hekman also saw the increase as "a necessary evil."

One of the more interning questions addressed was what benefits were actually received from the lottery money.

"We get about $600,000 a year depending on the amount of tickets bought," said Evans. The Administration, however, was limited on what it could and could not use the money for.

It could be spent on enrichment type activities, institutional related activities, building instructional materials, and artistic endeavors," said Evans. It could not be used for buying land or constructing buildings. Evans told the questioner, David Pavao, that he would provide a breakdown on the Fine Arts promotion for this year.

After the forum, students were asked what they thought:

"It was good," said Greek council president Mark Cascio, "but there was a lack of student support. This place should have been packed," he said. When asked what he thought of Evans' response to the Greek housing issue, Cascio replied that he "understood Evans' stand."

"If he set himself in a set position—he got nailed with the minority issue last year (1986 Fall)

Concern On Campus Safety Expressed By Cal State Students

Dear Editor:

In a recent experience with our campus police, the question is our campus really safe? I was on October 30, the night our campus community celebrated Halloween, someone stole a tarp off a pickup in the new parking lot. I had just the week before, had the NISSAN sign stolen. This incident was told to the Campus police, and their comment was pay more attention to that particular parking lot. However, when we reported the theft of the tarp we were told "that's too bad," and since they'd been short-handed on staff that last night, we only ONE officer had been on duty. I found it amazing that on such a busy night as Halloween, only one officer would have been "protecting" our university. The officer who took our report continued to describe how this particular morning he was off-campus for over an hour-and-a-half on a "call on the 215." This was the only officer on duty that time. His words were "while we are off campus, people can take anything they want on campus." My question is, does this include students' lives? Is our campus safe? How can the police protect those who are on campus while they are on Northpark giving tickets? I was under the impression that Campus Police are to protect the campus, not the surrounding neighborhoods. I, myself, am a dorm resident and I feel extremely unsafe. While our Campus Police are off ticketing people along the surrounding streets, and the people on campus "can take anything they want," what sort of protection is this? Our parking fees are to be severely increased next year, however there is no security to ourselves in those lots, or our automobiles that we park in those lots. There is always a risk to walking alone on campus, especially as a woman, however, knowing that there is only one officer on duty, and that officer is off campus. Who protects the person on campus, how long must they wait if they are attacked, or do they have to wait for the police to find them? Would screams for help ever be heard on Northpark or the 215??? I fell the security of our students is of vital importance to our school, and it seems to be a lacking system. Sincerely,

Anja K. Anderson

Note: I was told it was a waste of time to write this to the Chronicle, since if the letter does not contain students of vital importance to our school, and it seems to be a lacking system. Sincerely,

Anja K. Anderson

Student Finds Teke Article Simplistic

Dear Ms. Schnepp:

I am completely embarrassed and appalled at the lack of professionalism displayed in the Tau Kappa Epsilon Article this week on page six. This "Benito" person, who doesn't seem to have a surname, rambles on and on about the activities of his fraternity in lingo and connotations that the average reader could not possibly decipher. Instead of publishing "This Week in Teke" in your paper, you might suggest to him that he limit his simplistic and childish column to fraternity news alone, not details on who barfed at what party or who's rumored to be pregnant. I find this in extremely poor taste. How can this fraternity gain more popularity on campus with "news," rumors and extensive bibliographies such as these. Outside of the Teke circle, who really cares about the food between Tom's teeth?

I find it disturbing that this garbage merits half a page of space in The Chronicle, especially in light of the fact that it names you as one of the new Teke Sweethearts. In reading the other Greek columns on the page, I found them to contain news of the group's activities and not merely the members themselves—that information belongs in the Personal Ads column.

In short, I would suggest that you: a. give "Benito" lessons in newswriting, or b. find the courage to edit the column more thoroughly. Please accept my opinion as constructive criticism aimed at The Chronicle, and not based upon your merits as Editor-in-Chief.

Sincerely Yours,
Laura F. Mihld

An error in the Nov. 11 issue has been brought to our attention. The title on page 7, "Anti-Defamation League Becoming A Menacing Presence Across The U.S." should instead read the "Neo-Nazi Group Becoming A Menacing Presence Across The U.S." We sincerely apologize to anyone that may have offended.

Theater Arts Has New Free Ticket Policy

By Claudia Grogan
Chronicle Staff Writer

A new policy regarding theatre arts performances has just been announced by the department. There will be space available for free tickets to each performance for CSUSB students at all plays this season. The way ticket rush works is as follows: Any seats empty at curtain time will be given away to CSUSB students who present their ID card at the box office. A line for the student rush seating will begin forming at 7:30 in the creative arts lobby prior to every performance.

Music Department Plans European Tour In 1988

By Claudia Grogan
Chronicle Staff Writer

The Music Department at Cal State is alive and well! In the halls and practice rooms throughout the Creative Arts Building you can hear singers warming up their voices and instruments tuning up, as the department prepares for a tour of Europe this summer of 1988. Both the choral and instrumental groups, Concert Choir and Wind Ensemble, are joining forces to present a special program of music in Germany, Switzerland and Austria. This will be the first European tour by the department. People that are interested in accompanying the group on tour, even if they don't sing, are invited to contact the music office for tour details and information.

September saw the formation of a new musical group for the music department. A new group called the Reverence Singers, dedicated to the performance of music from the Afro-American tradition, is forming. See "Tour," pg. 10

CSUSB Opera For Beginners

When you hear the word "Opera" among your friends, what is your first reaction? Do you conjure up pictures in your mind of strange people singing in a language that you don't understand, wearing funny clothes? Or do you say, "Of course, opera is the music you hear when they shoot the villains in the village of mice from the bad cat attack?" Or do you say, "I've seen operas before, but I'm sure I couldn't understand it." See "Opera," pg. 10

EXPLORE AND SEE WHAT'S HAPPENING AT CSUSB

Many students have you found yourself driving through treacherous and deserted places you've never been at. Or how many times have you found yourself pedaling or walking your bike somewhere—where there's no one just to get away from it all. This little urge inside us makes us do things and sometimes it becomes a ritual of a special kind we enjoy. It's that particular activity so many of us don't think about what we are actually doing, and we just repeat the regular pattern over and over, like we're doing something 'crazy' going on, and I can tell you that you are very 'adventurous.' Let's not hide our heads in dirt holes like ostriches do, let's explore and see what's going on. Here at Cal State San Bernardino, there will be more exciting adventures being planned. We will be planning more fun fulfilling, unexpensive explorations.

Confession

On November 19 Father Joe Kroh will celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation (Confession) at 11:00 am in Student Union. A $5 with regularly scheduled Mass will be held at 10:00 am the following at 12:00 noon. All members of the University community are welcome to attend. Father Joe for these celebrations.

BSU Raffle

BSU will be having a Thanksgiving Turkey Raffle, Monday, Nov. 23rd at 11:55 a.m. Tickets sold for $1.00 in front of the Library on Thursday, 9th Friday, 20th and Monday 23rd. On Thursday and Friday the tickets will be sold from 10 a.m. to 11:50 a.m. Please see the Black Student Union and buy a ticket for only a $1.00.

BSU Raffle

The Black Student Union is having a canned food drive. When you purchase a raffle ticket in front of the library, please bring a can of non-perishable food. Thank You for your support.

Ministry

Ministry has been set for Wednesdays, 12:00 noon in the Student Union Multipurpose Room (SUM) and Thursdays, 6:00 p.m. in the Student Union Room B.

The Fall Festival was very encouraging as we handed out over 200. Members contributed and received over forty names of people who were interested in a Bible Study/fellowship meeting on campus.

If you have any questions about ministry the Club is on campus and ready to help. For more information contact Scott Payton at 887-3715 or at the Student Union during office hours.

FMA Holds Workshop

On October 28, the Financial Management Association is presenting a worthwhile event which should be of interest to CSUSB's business students. On Tuesday, November 24, the workshop will be held from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m. in the Student Union Room B. The speakers will be Tom Hearn, Director of Finance and Administration and John Vazzani, Assistant Director and controller for the CSUSB Business Department.

Discover the Mammals of Bette 6 Boo"

The current production of "The Mammals of Bette 6 Boo" performances are Nov. 18, 19, 20, and 21. If you don't have tickets, remember you can participate in the picture rush.

The next production is "Come Back to the Five and Dime, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean." It will appear beginning March 3rd through the 12th. Further information will follow concerning the cast and crew of that production.

Campus Crusade

Campus Crusade For Christ meets every Wednesday night at 6:15 p.m. in the SUMP for a "Time-Out" meeting. It's a time to learn about yourself, the regular stresses of life to come and enjoy your friends for a time of fun and fellowship. Learning. Also, we will keep you posted on the many special events coming up. Again, every Wednesday at 6:15 p.m. in the SUMP, why don't you take some time needed "Time-Out?"

A.S. LEADERS 1987-88
by Patrice Bolding

Holly Carmack is full of energy. She recalls her past experiences and future plans, then smiling, then becoming serious, then smiling again, spinning the broken tab of her Diet Coke on the table the whole while.

"If you’re young, you kind of feel out of place because you think ‘how come I’m the only one who cares?’ Then I met with other leaders who were like me,” she continued, referring to her meeting with Hugh O’Brian Youth Organization (HOBY) in her sophomore year at Apple Valley Senior High School.

“An ambassador from that past, Carmack said, took the position because “I felt I could make a difference.”

Besides the pressure from her friends, Carmack said she took the position because “I felt I could make a difference.”

Entering the organization in March, 1987, just as it was incorporating, or “separating from the parent, or University,” Carmack is taking part in rewriting the bylaws and restructuring the A.S. organization. She set up the Personnel Committee, formed last spring, and chaired the Ad Hoc Committee, which helps formulate goals for the Board, and researches special issues. In October of this year, Carmack put together a three-day retreat, or conference, for the A.S. board members, complete with guest speakers and special activities. She currently chairs the Rules Committee, and is Chair Pro Temp—Second in command to Board Chairman, Vice President Curtis Bayer.

When Carmack isn’t busy with her student government activities, she studies English assignments, which she said isn’t hard since one of her hobbies is reading.

When asked who her favorite author or what her favorite book was, Carmack’s brown eyes lit up and almost crinkled shut in a smile.

“Oh, I don’t know what my favorite is...there’s so many!” she said. She finally settled on three—Heart of Darkness by Joseph Conrad, Kurt Vonnegut’s Breakfast of Champions, and Loitering with Intent by Muriel Spark.

Majoring in English, it’s no surprise that Carmack, who will be a senior next quarter, wants to write. But what she has written is a surprise.

“I rewrote a book that was already written,” she said. The book, titled Better Than Ever, is about cosmetic surgery, and will be out sometime in January, she said.

Her dream, however, is to be a professor at a university teaching English.

“I think I will teach eventually,” Carmack said. “I have interests in a lot of areas, she continued, still spinning the broken tab. “I’m the type of person who changes—I need constant change, to do new things.”

“I’ve always felt like, I had something to give to the world,” she said. “And I don’t know how yet, but I think that will come. I just have to do the foot work.”

Position open for A.S. Elections Chair.

This entails coordination of elections in the Spring. This is a paid position. Stop by the A.S. offices for more information.
It's About That Time Again--Prepare Yourself For Flu Season!

What is Influenza?
It is a viral infection of the bronchial tubes and lungs that can make someone of any age ill. Usually the flu occurs in the United States from about November to April.

How do I know I have the Flu?
Flu symptoms are usually similar to a cold, only worse. The major differences are that the flu usually lasts longer, makes you feel more ill and have more fever, and can give you stomach problems as well as respiratory ones. Flu can cause any combination of the cold symptoms, plus high fever (up to 104 degrees), headache, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal pain, chills, and pain in the back and limbs.

Should I get a Flu Shot?
Flu vaccines prevent illness caused by most strains of the flu. However, because the flu is usually mild and most people recover fully, routine vaccination of healthy children and adults is not emphasized. Flu vaccine is recommended for people who are more likely to get infections or complications. Included in this "high risk" group are: persons over 65 yrs. of age, people with severe anemia or diseases of the heart, lungs, or kidneys, and diabetics.

CAN YOU DONATE?
Donating blood is a very simple process. Anyone who is in good health, weighs over 110 pounds, and is between the ages of 18 and 65 can donate blood. Please do not fast before your donation, and allow about 45 minutes for registration, donating, and light refreshments.

All donors will receive a t-shirt or a Kool-Kan holder from the Blood Bank. They will also receive coupons redeemable for a free medium soft drink at the Commons. A drawing will be held after the Blood Drive where cassette tapes courtesy of KCKC radio station will be awarded. Also, an intramural t-shirt and hat donated by Recreational Sports will be presented to two lucky donors.

Start the Thanksgiving break right by "giving" a special gift. Contact the Health Center at 887-7641 if you have any questions.

Remember that even if you are at high risk, you will not be given the flu vaccine if you are ill or have a fever. Also, if you are allergic to eggs, you should not be given the flu shot.

How else could I avoid getting the flu? You may be able to avoid being infected or infecting others with the flu by following these suggestions:
Avoid needless exposure to large groups of people and anyone with a cold or the flu.
Cover sneezes and coughs with a disposable tissue.
Wash your hands regularly after carrying out their duties.

Great American Smokeout
Thursday, November 19th, is the day set aside for the Great American Smokeout. This originated in California in 1976 as a light-hearted way to modernize to quit for one day, in hopes to get them to quit for good. As a result, it has now developed into a national event. A special emphasis is on adopting a smoker and helping him or her to stop smoking, only for the day. So, if you are a smoker, we challenge e to a try on November 19th. Survival kits will be donated by the Health Center, with the American Cancer Society. If you're not a smoker but know someone who is, we encourage you to get involved with them. Adopt that person for a day. You may be saving someone's life.

CONSIDER THIS: The number of premature deaths is equivalent to 920 fully loaded 747 jumbo jets crashing annually. That's 350,000 people each year. Can you imagine how concerned we would get and what action we would take immediately if that were to happen?

Con't From Front
forum.) He's taking it one step at a time. Overall, I think he's doing a fine job," he said.
I wanted to hear about the Greek housing," said Evin Ashworth, president of the Alpha Phi sorority.

"It sounds like they're not in any hurry," she added, disappointed. Overall, however, Ashworth thought the open discussion was good. "I liked the whole people asked," she said.
One of the most poignant questions, David Pavano, thought the forum "interesting." "I've never been able to focus," he said, "like the lottery situation."

How long does the flu last?
How quickly you recover will depend upon your age, your general health, and on how closely you follow the prescribed treatment. In most cases, symptoms from the flu will begin to improve within 3 to 5 days, but could linger on for 1 to 2 weeks.

Remember, an ounce of prevention is the best remedy. However, if you do get the flu or have any questions about flu vaccine, contact the Health Center at 887-7641. An appointment will be made for you if necessary.

How many of the people who died of lung cancer last year were smokers?

Basketball Opens Season At Local Tournaments
by Ron Carter

Cal State basketball teams open the season this weekend in local tournaments.

The men’s squad will travel to Claremont on Friday to participate in the Claremont College Tournament. The Coyotes are looking to improve on last year’s 13-13 record.

Junior guards Gerald Duncan (6’2”, 171 lbs.) and Gregg Bujnovski (6’0”, 160) will lead the Coyote attack along with the 1987 Coaches Award Winner Elroy Moses (6’4”, 193).

Duncan, 87 game team MVP, averaged 19.3 points and 6.8 rebounds per game while setting numerous single-game highs. Combined with Bujnovski and Moses, they have the potential to make a successful season. Game time on Friday is at 6:30 p.m. in Claremont.

The women’s team will open their season in the 6th Annual University of Redlands Women’s Basketball Tournament. They play Friday at 2:00 p.m. against CSU Stanislaus. The Coyotes won the tournament in 1985 and lost the title game last year to Whittier.

Swim Team Places High In Every USD Event
by Sheila Huggins

Since this is the first year CSUSB has ever had a swim team, 10 school records were set during their first meet on November 8 at the University of San Diego.

Coach Bruce Brown’s team, which presently consists of 10 women and 10 men, have been practicing since the beginning of October on basic techniques of swimming.

“My philosophy is that before anything else is done, the techniques should be accomplished,” Brown emphasized. “It’s the little things we’ll be able to win with.”

His philosophy must be working because in every event against USD, at least one Coyote managed to place in the top three or better.

“Thay swam well against USD,” Brown said, “and I was really pleased with their performance.”

Kathy Long took second place in the 500-meter freestyle with a time of 5:46.87. She also placed third in the 1000-meter freestyle event.

Stephanie Ferguson did well in the 100-meter Breaststroke by capturing second place with a time of 1:13.33.

Beth Bowens obtained two third place finishes in the 200-meter freestyle and the 100-meter freestyle.

Melanie McDonald, Tina Vallaeus, and Michelle Carlisle all captured third place finishes in each of their respective events against USD.

The combination of McDonald, Bowens, Long, and Carlisle grabbed an impressive second place finish in the 200-meter relay event with a time of 1:54.03.

The next swim meet will be against the University of Redlands on November 21 at 10am. It will be the Coyotes first ever home meet in their new USD.

“We’ll be able to tell how well we’re doing after the Redlands meet,” Brown said, “because our abilities are about even with theirs.”

Soccer Is On The Way To Final Four
by Brian Murphy

It all began on a sunny, yet chilly Nov. 6 morning in La Jolla, CA. The air was crisp, the grass on the soccer fields at UC San Diego was slightly damped from the previous rainstorms. By 11:00 a.m., two teams had begun their quest to be champions.

The Coyotes of CSUSB were taking another step on their way to the NCAA Division III Final Four.

First, they came up against La Verne, SCIAC League champions and annual visitors to this tournament.

The game shifted from one goal box to the other as both defenses held the other back from scoring. But, at the 37:25 mark of the first half, sophomore Kent Edwards chipped a shot into the upper right corner of the net to pose what ended up to be the only goal of the game.

“We are really fortunate to be sitting where we are now,” stated senior forward Mard Yaswarsky. “Team effort is what brought us here. Not just the guys who score, but everybody.”

The game was a very physical one indeed. The referee handed out five yellow cards, three to Cal State’s Steve Trapani, Kiko Montes, and Jerry O’Hara. CSUSB’s next contest was against UC San Diego, who were 5-0 winners over St. Thomas of Minnesota.

This game, which was played the day after the win over La Verne, was one of the most tense of the season.

Lasting through the entire game without one goal scored by either team, it went into 2-10 minute overtime and again no one scored.

According to NCAA rules, the teams must now then go into shootouts, which is when each team selects five members to face the opponent’s goalie, one-on-one.

Coach Carlos Juarez selected Yaswarsky, Dennis Carter, Hector Uribe, Bill Allopp, and Jerry O’Hara. Yaswarsky missed the first shot and USCD missed their first two as goalie Randy Green knocked them away.

O’Hara made it official when he beat the Triton goalie to score his 26th goal of the season.

“Defense was the key today and ours made no mistakes,” said Juarez, whose team raised their record to 15-2-3. “Being organized is what made the difference.”

With the Midwest-Far West region championship under their belt, the Coyotes were on their way to Pennsylvania to meet Elizabethtown, Elizabethtwon with the Penn-New Jersey region champion.

For the second game in a row the Coyotes went into a shootout with the game tied at 0-0. But, this time, it was still tied after the first shootout. So then the teams went a sudden-death shootout.

In the sudden-death, Green blocked Elizabethtown’s Brian Diezal on the second kick of the shootout, and Edwards came through for the second time in three games by putting in the game-winner.

“At first I was going to kick to the right side of the net, but when I got up there, I changed my mind. My strength is going to my left. It was a better decision,” Edwards said.

For the first time in CSUSB history, an athletic team has reached the Final Four. The Final Four tournament will take place this weekend against Washington University St. Louis, MO at Greensboro, NC.

The Chronicle November 18, 1987
It looks like winter has come to stay. Midterms are over, but more are on the way. The bone chilling cold winds will be with us soon. And we only have three weeks left of the Fall quarter. That means Christmas break is around the corner. One whole month of skiing, shopping, visiting and, unfortunately for some of us—working.

The guys in Delta Sig have been taking it easy this quarter by concentrating more on school, our new pledges, and intramural sports. Paul Yates was awarded fifty dollars as a scholarship from Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity, for having a 3.5 grade point average. He also graciously donated the money back to the Eta Beta Chapter of Delta Sig. (YITBOS PAUL!) The new pledges have been working hard this quarter learning about the national fraternity and what it is like to be a college fraternity man.

For the past couple of weeks the Delta Sig's have been competing in Intramural Flag Football. The "A" team for Delta Sig is undefeated going into the playoffs.

According to the guys on the team they are looking forward to playing against the Tau Kappa Epsilon's flag football team. Good luck guys!

For the purpose of letting the campus know more about TKE and its members, this column began two weeks ago profiling the Teks four December graduates. This week column will profile founding father Kevin B. Varner. Kevin is a California native, born in Pasadena. He spent much of his younger years in San Bernardino though, because his father was offered a partnership in a prominent law firm in the local area. When Kevin was twelve, his two younger brothers and his mother moved to Mission Viejo. He attended Mission Viejo High School where he participated in football, basketball and track. He was also photo editor of the school newspaper and staff photographer for the yearbook.

Kevin attended his first year of college at San Diego State University. There he joined the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and served in its pledge class for several years. Since he is in another national fraternity, Kevin will not become an initiate Teke, although he will always be bonded in brotherhood with the Teke's of Cal State San Bernardino.

The past couple of weeks have been filled with a myriad of events in Sigma Chi. First of all, the Teeter-Tooter Cruise. The actives and pledges owned the lake for a night as they had a wild time tightening the bonds of brotherhood.

Next, we would like to congratulate the Western Champion Coyote Soccer Team. shredded the Green Wave of California State University at Fullerton 2-0, with two goals by Alan Pezzati. The Alpha Phi house is kept up beautifully by the Alpha Phi ladies who reside in the house. The pledges had a fun filled and crazy day which included a shopping spree and a run-in with an L.A. Traffic Officer. What a day! All in all, Saturday was a great success.

Yet another memorable event occurred Monday, November 9th. It was the Big and Lil’ Sister unveiling (and what an unveiling it was). The Alpha Phi pledges each put on a pair of specially made boxers and their informal names were read off a pair of boxers that matched their personality. Every girl was thrilled to discover the identity of their secret Big Sisters for making the experience such a memorable one.

The Alpha Phi pledges would like to extend two very special ‘Thank You’s’ to the Teke and Sigma Chi pledge classes. Thank you Teke pledges for the invitation to the pizza party held on November 11th. And thank you Sigma Chi pledges for your gracious invitation to the party held on November 18th.

Upward Bound Program Gives Students A Taste For College Life

by Yolanda Ledesma

CSUSB offers a guidance program for high school students who need to familiarize themselves with college life. The program, titled Upward Bound, involves eight high schools from five districts.

"We are the liaison with the high schools. We work with the counselors and students," said Denise Benton, program director.

The program is federally funded and is designed for students from low-income families whose parents have not completed college. Benton explained that students of parents who attended college are often better prepared to study for the SAT, but those who have not need to have their options opened and encouraged to think about college.

According to a 1981 study, more than 90 percent of Upward Bound high school graduates enter secondary education.

"We're looking for that student whose parents did not go to college and who's expressing interest in college," Benton said.

Upward Bound is in its 14th year at CSUSB. The program offers rigorous academic instruction in English, math, science, reading, writing, and help preparing for college entrance exams. Assistance is also available in filling out paperwork for financial aid.

Upward Bound students participate in the Summer Residential Program. This program exposes students to college life by allowing them to live in the campus dorms for five to six weeks during the summer.

The residential program gets students involved in social, cultural, and academic learning situations. For extracurricular recreation the students are taken to cultural events and activities they might not attend otherwise.

Tours of the three California universities and private colleges are also a part of the program. This year the students will visit Chapman College, Cal State Fullerton and U.C. Irvine, Benton said.

The program works with the community in assisting students.

"We try to network with other community agencies such as Social Services, which covers welfare and medical assistance and family counseling," Benton said.

The cooperation between high schools, colleges and community has produced a successful program, according to Benton. Sixty-five to 70 percent of students involved complete college.

According to a 1981 study, more than 90 percent of Upward Bound high school graduates enter secondary education.

Hat Trick Puts O'Hara Over Single-Season Scoring Record

by Sheila Higgins

It has been a great season for the CSUSB men's soccer team, but it has been even better for 21-year-old forward, Jerry O'Hara. His name was entered in the CSUSB record book by passing the single-season scoring record of 17 goals set by Tim Franklin in 1985. O'Hara has scored 24 goals this season with one game remaining.

The team has had an impressive season. The Coyotes compiled a record of 12-2-3. They captured first place at the Las Cruces tournament in New Mexico earlier this month. They earned a place in the regional playoffs which will be held Nov. 6-8.

This season has been on the cale for O'Hara. Ever since he put on a Coyote soccer jersey, he has been successful.

During his first season O'Hara scored 10 goals and was awarded Most Valuable Player. Last year he scored 13 goals and was named to the All-Tournament team at the Frente Pacifico tournament.

This season has been his best. On Oct. 14, 1987, he scored three goals against Cal Lutheran to break the single-season scoring record. By scoring three goals he also became the only player in CSUSB history to score three goals in one game.

"I was happy. It was a relief because it's something I wanted to do for a long time," the modest, O'Hara said about breaking the record.

He comes from a family of 10 children. He was born in Torrance and grew up in Garden Grove, Calif. He played high school soccer in New York before returning to California to graduate from Fontana High School. His whole life has been devoted to soccer. He has been playing soccer since he was six, although soccer has only recently been recognized by Americans.

Soccer takes a lot of my time," he said. "I want to start getting into my life again.

Parking Service Strives To Promote Understanding And Minimalize Students' Problems

by Dan Berens

Although some people at CSUSB feel there are problems with parking on campus, Harry Larsen, manager of the campus parking program, disagrees.

"People have a perception of parking non-available," Larsen said. "This is generally untrue. We regularly survey the parking lots and there are almost always 200 or more available spaces."

"One problem is that some students are not willing to park at a farther walking distance," Larsen added.

Another problem for Larsen is getting information about parking rules out to students.

"The campus is very public relations conscious and parking compliance is very important," Larsen said. "If students are aware and understand the rules, parking problems become minimal."

Parking Services Office for an evaluation of their parking. If approved, their license plate number will be given to the Parking Officers and the vehicle can be parked without displaying the driver's decal.

People who use car covers will also be considered to not display a parking decal.

CSUSB enjoys a better student parking space ratio than other campuses, according to Larsen. CSUSB has 8,300 students and 3,000 parking spaces. Cal State, Chico, has 15,000 students and 750 parking spaces available.

One improvement in campus parking was the addition of 400 new spaces. They are an expansion of the old Commons parking lot and run between the main entrance and the dorms.

Larsen explained a solution for people who can't conveniently display their parking decal.

"I feel one of our most important services is our issuing a courtesy, cost-free warning for some violations. This allows the driver to come into compliance with no further hassle," Larsen concluded.

The 5-foot-9-inch junior is not sure if he wants to play another season of Coyote Soccer. He is a pre-law history major and wants to concentrate more on his studies.
Now You See It, Now You Don't
by Debi LoRocco

The Lee Grabel Magic Show in the SUMP Wednesday evening was an entertaining showcase of what we call magic, but what Mr. Grabel calls "the ultimate in conjuring" and "the psychology of deception." The charming Mr. Grabel involved the audience in much of his act which certainly added to the fun. What would a magic show be without a beautiful assistant? Mr. Grabel was assisted by the lovely Helene who is as delightful as he.

The show began with a number of smoking pipes and ringing alarm clocks seemingly materializing out of thin air. One of his best tricks was one that involved several audience members. Mr. Grabel asked for a dollar bill from one person, while another noted the serial number of the bill. Another member went up on stage, held the bill in his hand, while Mr. Grabel held a plate of 3 lemons. The boy was asked to choose a lemon and write his initials on it. Mr. Grabel then took the bill from the boy, placed it in an envelope, and set it on fire. He then had the boy cut open the lemon. Wouldn't you know it, the bill with the same serial number as noted earlier was inside! How did he do it?

We never found out how he did the lemon trick, but in the second half of the show, Mr. Grabel did some demonstrations that showed us all how deception really works. He also explored the question of the paranormal. It's all up to us, are there forces in the universe that we have yet to discover, or is magic all a matter of deception?

directed by Clarence Williams. Williams is well-known in this area for the fine quality of his gospel choirs. The ensemble is intended to be a "town/gown" organization. It is open to anyone on campus and to citizens of the inland area as well.

The fall concert calendar for this year has some exciting events for listeners. Most of the performances are free and everyone on campus or off is invited to attend. Kicking off the season was the combined efforts of CSLU's Wind Ensemble and the Symphonic Wind Ensemble under the direction of Dr. Torres-Santos and the SBVC Kicks Band directed by Paul Kardon. If you missed their concert, plan to attend their next offering in winter quarter for some great jazz.

Yet to come are the Reverence Singers and Concert Choir combined concert on Nov. 20 at 8:15 p.m., and the Chamber Orchestra Concert, directed by Dr. Richard Saylor. The Orchestra program of "Mostly Mozart" will feature Horn soloist Phil Wright, student Conductor Craig Williams and soprano Claudia Grogan. This will be the second performance of the group this fall, and the concert is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 22 at 3 p.m.

The Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Carolyn Neff will present its fall concert free of charge on Wednesday, Dec. 2 at 8:15 p.m.

The final offering of this quarter will be a very special fund-raising event sponsored by the Concert Choir. They will present the "Music of Christmas," followed by the one-act Christmas opera written especially for television by Gian-Carlo Menotti, "Amahl and the Night Visitors." This is not to be confused with a funny story about a shopping center at night. Amahl is an opera about a small shepherd boy.

The opera, written by Gian-Carlo Menotti especially for television, is short, clear and written and sung in English. Amahl tells the story of a small crippled boy and his mother who are visited by the three kings. Later when the kings are asleep, the mother sees all the gold they have and thinks of what she could do with it for her child. Finally she decides to steal a few pieces of the gold and is caught by the servant of the kings.

The Kings are awakened and they tell the mother to keep the gold because the child they are bringing it to doesn't need it. "For He is the Son of God," When the mother realizes the gold is for the Christ child she wants to send gifts also but has nothing to send. Then, Amahl, offers his crutch which is his only possession. In that moment he is healed. In the end he joins the kings on their journey to Bethlehem to give his crutch to the Christ child.

In December, the department will present "Amahl and the Night Visitors." This is not to be confused with a funny story about a shopping center at night. Amahl is an opera about a small shepherd boy.

The music for the opera is very modern and certainly not stuffy. It is filled with interesting melodies and harmonies and covers the full spectrum of emotions: the mother, struggles with a decision about stealing the gold, and finally decides she must take some. The music seems to float along with the feelings she is having about what some gold would do for her child. Then when she is caught red-handed by the servant, the music explodes and the young child quickly responds to protect this mother from the awful man who is now struggling and fighting with her. Amahl’s world which has been simple and sweet is suddenly filled with wonder, fear, confusion, and worry. But, as the Kings finally release them both, the whole feeling is one of love and understanding.

The miracle that occurs during the struggle, is not so much that the boy who has been crippled becomes cured, but that his love and unselfishness is almost unbelievable.

So, if you have never seen an opera before, or if you have, why not try this one? Tickets are on sale now in the music office, Room 175 of the Creative Arts Building, or from any member of the concert choir. Performances are Dec. 5th at 8:15 pm and Dec. 6th at 7:30 pm. General admission is $8 and $5 for students.

Call your mummy.

You remember. She was always there when you were frightened. And if you got hurt, she was standing by with bandages. Wouldn't it feel good to talk to your mother again right now? Calling over AT&T Long Distance service probably costs less than you think, too. And if you have any questions about AT&T rates or service, a customer service representative is always standing by to talk to you. Just call 1 800 222-0500.

Sure, your schoolwork and your friends keep you busy. But call home and find out what she's wrapped up in.

The cast for our production is being filled with an actual mother and son, Claudia Grogan and her 10 year old son Jared, of Moreno Valley. The Three Kings Kaspar, Baltibazar and Melchior are being sung by Bill Cox, Joshua Lee and Dennis Hackett. Their servant is portrayed by Ian Ocasio, a theatre major.
