SOCIAL SECURITY EARNINGS
TO CHANGE ON JANUARY 1

Effective January 1, earnings taxable under the Social Security Law will be changed. The 5.2 percent payroll deduction will remain unchanged, but will now apply to the first $9,000 of gross earnings instead of the previous ceiling of $7,800.

For those whose gross annual earnings exceeded $7,800 in 1971, the Social Security deductions will begin again for the new calendar year as of the December pay warrant, dated January 1. This is because the tax year for State employees is from the December pay period to the December pay period.
