CALIFORNIA STATE COLLEGE,
SAN BERNARDINO

THE BULLETIN

March 3, 1972

FIRST PROGRESS
REPORT SUBMITTED
BY TASK FORCE

The Task Force has submitted its first progress report to President Pfau, who read it to members of the Faculty Senate at its meeting last Tuesday.

Revision of the present general studies program by reducing the number of required general studies courses and increasing the number of options for students was presented as a goal of the Task Force.

Retention of the small classes, a distinctive feature of the College, was recommended by the Task Force, which also urged the continued revision of departmental requirements to add flexibility and easing of articulation problems.

To accomplish the above goals the Task Force will consider institution of alternate degree programs, such as BA-BS, a restructuring of course requirements and class sizes to make the upper division segment of the College more nearly self-supporting, mechanisms to facilitate interdisciplinary studies and institution of new programs and areas.

An open-mike forum will be held by the Task Force today at 11 a.m. on The Green. Students are invited to present their views on College curriculum.

COLFERS TO LEAVE
FOR IRAN APRIL 1

Carol Colfer, anthropologist and wife of A. Michael Colfer, Assistant Professor of Anthropology, has been awarded a Fulbright-Hays doctoral research grant for one year's study in Iran.

Mrs. Colfer will do research on "The Role of Women in an Islamic Society" in a small village near Rasht on the Caspian Sea.

Professor Colfer has been granted a leave of absence by the College to accompany his wife and three-year-old daughter to Iran, where he will engage in research on "Kinship Organization and Fishing Boat Crew Ties."

The Colfers will leave San Bernardino April 1 and plan on arriving in Iran about the middle of April. During their stay in the ancient kingdom they will live in a mud house in the village which has no electricity, running water or other conveniences. The nearest they will be to modern conveniences is the capitol city of Tehran, approximately 300 miles away.

Professor Colfer will return to the CSCSB campus in March, 1973.
