Sigma Chi raises funds for the handicapped

By Erin Kirkpatrick

Thirteen members of CSUSB's Sigma Chi fraternity raised almost $800 for the Hi-Desert Questers by confining themselves to wheelchairs for eight hours yesterday. The group soon discovered that shortcuts don't work for people in wheelchairs. Grass and hills became major obstacles.

"I never realized all the things you have to do when you're in a wheelchair," said Richard Mercado. He cited the handicapped entrances on the opposite sides of the Library and the Student Union, and the lack of a ramp in front of the Library as problems. There are changes being made on the campus that will improve mobility for the handicapped. A ramp has been approved for the east side of the library steps, as has a lift for the theater, according to Disabled Services representative Barbara Soverign. "It really is a tough job," said Soverign on getting around campus in a wheelchair. She mentioned an assistance program for new students, the Mobility Training Program, designed to acquaint them with the fastest and easiest routes around campus.

"I feel pretty good about the fact that (the campus) is pretty accessible," said Soverign.

Mobility was not the only problem encountered.

"We're finding out a lot about what people go through," said organizer Arnold Castro. Castro had encountered people who were impatient while he was maneuvering through doors. He was not alone in experiencing negative reactions from people.

"In a crowd of people, they all look up because they don't want to see you," said Paul de Dianous.

Despite a few negative incidents, the effort was a success, and there is interest in repeating it.

"We really appreciate the help we got today," said Castro. He cited the sponsors and supporters for the success of the event. Special praise was given, half-jokingly, to Debbie Nunn for pulling "Walt" out of a ditch on his way to campus.

Larry Hetter elected Associated Students President in run-off

By Ted Fisher

Larry Hetter was elected Associated Students, Incorporated President in a close run-off election, John Dutrey, A.S.I. Elections Chair, announced Wednesday night. With fourteen percent of the student body voting, Hetter received fifty-five percent of the votes cast. Candidate Patrick Lewis received forty-five percent.

Hetter and Lewis had qualified for the run-off election by finishing first and second in last week's voting. In run-off voting Tuesday and Wednesday, April 26th and 27th, Hetter received 613 of the 1,116 votes cast, while Lewis received 503.

"I'm in shock," Elections Chair Dutrey said. "I'm very surprised this many students turned out to vote. I guess students do have concern about Associated Students and how their money is spent."

Current Associated Students President Steve Hekman agreed.

"I was surprised at the large turnout with the run-off election," Hekman. "If Larry works as hard in Associated Students as he did on his election, he'll have no problem dealing with the Administration."

Pat Lewis expressed his thoughts after a hard campaign. "It was a great campaign on everybody's part," Lewis said. "I will be involved in Associated Students next year. Larry worked very hard to win, and the efforts of all the candidates involved. I feel, will enable more students to get involved. Thanks to all the people who helped me, and since I have more supplies left, same time next year. Just joking. Special thanks to Lynn."

Hetter will begin his term as A.S.I. President on June 1st, 1988.

At the time of the announcement of the results, no grievances had been filed with the A.S.I. Elections Committee.

Opinion

The Boy of Summer

The Catcher is a dull by

Ted Fisher, Managing Editor

I didn't get a single vote for A.S.I. President. Perhaps this shouldn't surprise me, but somehow I'm still hurt. Still, it's not the end of the world. I've still got my column.

Softball, the game of fat champions, can lead to the reevaluation of one's life. Or shin splints.

Lately I've been waxing philosophical. Standing in right field, (a good place for someone who can't really catch all that well), near a patch of dandelions, I began to question my existence.

I asked myself, "What does it all mean? Why am I here, standing in right field near a patch of dandelions, and what should I do now? I hope they don't hit it to me."

By the time I came to bat I had passed "I think, therefore I am," and gone on to work of coincidences really are made by the Keebler Elves. I was walked, mercifully, and as I stood on first base I felt that everything was a massive joke that I hadn't been let in on, or had dozed off and missed. I could hear the laugh track.

I was bumped up to second base and I began to sweat. What if, I thought, this is all there is? Endless running around bases, endless fly balls, endless pitches just slightly inside and high. No post-game show, no locker-room pep talk, no Vin Scully in the sky. Second was as far as I got, and I began to doubt the game would end without casualties.

Then, like a cruel joke of fate, a ball was smacked over my head. Oh, I chased it down, I threw it in, I checked myself for injury. But the whole thing seemed like a personal insult, a cruel slap in the face, a cookie without chocolate chips. I began to mumble under my breath.

I struck out the next time up. Someday, I thought, I'll look back on this and laugh. Manically.

Out in the field, now way behind the dandelions, I pictured my life as a Driver's Education Simulator. Sitting in a room with fifteen fake steering wheels and speedometers, watching an unsteady film of "normal" traffic, pretending to drive. Going eighty in reverse, when suddenly a small child on a bike, a woman with a baby carriage, a motor cycle, and a pair of nuns dive out in front of me.

No one hit anything to me, and I felt both thankful and left out. I could probably catch one, I thought, if only they'd hit it to me. In the last inning, I got an R.B.I.

It's not whether you win or lose, but the idea of being responsible for your own life in an existential sort of way that counts.

Letter to the Editor

Thank you to volunteers who worked Health Expo '88

Among the many volunteers for the Health Expo on Saturday, April 16, were six with a very special expertise, Sign Language Interpreters. Diana Holmes, Nick Erickson, and Kathy Rock Veylit, who are staff Interpreters with Services to Students with Disabilities, Teena O'Connor and Sharon Jackson, Interpreters from the Abram Friedman Center in LA and Susan Raimussen, community volunteer (and Diana's daughter) provided special assistance to hearing impaired participants. Leaders in the deaf community, CSUSB hearing impaired students as well as participants from outside of the Inland Empire were tested, weighed and informed along with the other participants at Health Fair Expo '88.

Library support group donates collected works of Frank Lloyd Wright

Frank Lloyd Wright (1867-1959) was one of America's greatest and most creative architects. During his career, Wright's rich, imaginative talent created a variety of architectural forms. His "Prairie Style" architecture was particularly influential in 20th century American residential design.

The Flax Library of CSUSB has recently received from the California State University at San Bernardino Library Associates support group a twelve volume set of the collected works of Frank Lloyd Wright. Publication of the set began in 1984 and to date ten volumes have been published, with the remaining two volumes scheduled to be published soon. The collection, in the volume Wright's monographs, preliminary studies and renderings. The set is located on the fourth floor of the library and the call number is *NA 2707 W74 A4 1984. Each volume is beautifully illustrated and contains drawings and photographs of the homes and buildings designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. The set is ideal not only for the architect and student alike, but also for anyone interested in this art form. It is a superb collection of the works of one of our most renowned architects.

The Library Associates support group which donated the set currently has a membership of 359 people. The group was formed to promote the relationship between the University, the library, and the community, to increase public awareness of the resources and services of the CSUSB Library and to sponsor cultural programs such as exhibits, lectures, and other events. The next campus event to be sponsored by the Library Associates will be a talk by Los Angeles Times political cartoonist Paul Conrad on Sunday, May 22 at 2:30 p.m. in PS 10. Admission is free.

Food and clothes drive for the Homeless

The newly formed Coalition for the Homeless is sponsoring a food and clothes drive whose proceeds will be donated to homeless families and individuals by way of the Fraze Community Center/Project Heart Program. All donations can be dropped off in boxes located in the Student Union in front of the main desk. The drive will be held from May 21 to May 13. Canned and boxed goods as well as warm clothing, shoes, and blankets are especially needed but all donations are welcome.

If you are interested in learning more about the Homeless issue and how you can become involved in helping those in desperate need, please attend the next meeting which will be held on May 5 at 6:00 p.m. in the Pine Room of the Lower Commons. All are welcome.

Gay and Lesbian Union Meet Apr 28

The next meeting of the Gay and Lesbian Union will be held on Thursday, April 28 from 1:2 p.m. in the Flax Library 241. A section of the 1985 Oscar Award-Winning film "The Times of Harvey Milk" will be shown and pizza will be provided. Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to attend. The next meeting will be on May 12, 26 and June 9 at PL 241. For more information, call Dr. Craig Henderson, faculty advisor, 867-7461.

RC's Corner

Not much happening at Cal State in the sports department this past week. The wet weather enabled Cal State's athletics to take a little time off. The Coyotes were not the only team on break.

For the first time in its two-year existence, the San Bernardino Spirit was rained out—twice. Last year the Spirit enjoyed the original Southern California weather—hot and smoggy.

The Los Angeles Dodgers were also influenced by the wet weather. They were forced to postpone THREE straight games due to Stadium Lake, the first time in its thirty-year existence at Chavez Rivene.

We witnessed a bit of history on Sunday. The Baltimore Orioles look like bad weather. They are winless in their first 18 games and manager Frank Robinson said after Sunday's game in Kansas City, "we can't pitch, we can't field, we can't hit. If we played an intrasquad game, the score would end in a 0-0 tie." Look for the Orioles to make some changes.

A team destined for greatness is Cal State's baseball team. They are currently 26-4-1 and ranked fifth in the nation. So if you see or know a Coyote baseball player, salute him. I'll be back next week with all kinds of sports to report on from softball to alligator racing.

CSUSB hosts Budweiser Super Sports

All CSUSB students, faculty, and staff are invited to participate in Budweiser College Super Sports Competition.

Somewhere between the Olympics and seventh grade P.E., Super Sports consists of six demanding team events: the exciting tug-of-war, the thrilling volleyball competition; the exhausting 880 relay; the astounding frisbee relay; the sometimes dangerous obstacle course; and the six-pack pitch-in, which apparently has something to do with throwing empty beer cans into a trash can.

There are free t-shirts for the first twelve teams that sign up, and the winning team will receive mugs. Each team will consist of four men and four women. The event will be held Saturday, April 30th at 1:00 p.m., but you must sign up on the intramural bulletin board (in the P.E. building) before the mandatory team managers meeting Friday, April 29th at 12:00 p.m. in Student Union meeting room A.

For more information, contact Joe Long, at 887-7416.

The Chronicle congratulates all of CSUSB's athletes.

INTRODUCING NOT-SO-FAST FOOD.

We’re CHOW FUN. Chinese-Thai Food and we’re new to the CSUSB area. We serve the closest thing to home-cooked Oriental food this side of L.A.

It’s fast food, yes— but not so fast that we need to wear uniforms or be ruthlessly efficient. Just call it fast enough food.

Oriental food is renowned as one of the most delicious, least fattening, most nutritious foods you can eat— food that helps you look, feel and perform your best.

So come and get it. (We don’t deliver yet.) Call ahead and we’ll have it waiting.

Larry Hetter

Hetter elected 1988-89 President

CSUSB Students:

I sincerely thank all of my supporters. All of the things that I mentioned during my campaign I will uphold and work for during my term.

I commend and respect the opposition and look forward to working with them for the students interests next year. I encourage all students to get involved with government and help make next year a productive one. I will evaluate all positions fairly and without preconceptions.

The students are our main concern and their involvement is essential to maintain equity in the spending of student fees. I will assist in the creation and disposition of concepts and ideas offered by students for students.

Through the knowledge I acquire from the representatives of each school, I will be aware of the needs of the students that need addressing. I will actively research and evaluate these needs and promptly act in accordance with AS procedure.

The students that helped me throughout this campaign have increased my faith in friends which will never be forgotten. I respect and thank all of you.

Larry Hetter

To all ASI Candidates: Congratulations on a terrific Race.

Thank You for all you do - Mary Kehew

End of the World Party

Monday May 9 in Wylie's Pub

The party to end all parties

Do you believe in Nostradamus' predictions? Worried about the BIG ONE? Just want an excuse to party? If any of you answered yes to any of these questions, then the End of the World Party is for you.

The Party, sponsored by ASProductions, will kick off on Monday, May 9. Throughout the day favorite disaster movies will be shown in the pub. At 7:00 pm, the movie "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow" will be shown for all of you to catch up on Nostradamus lore. Finally, at 9:30 pm, a live band will "rock" the pub until the shaking starts. The evening will be filled with fun activities and a special appearance by a noted authority on death. Don't worry about classics the next day -- at that point, it won't matter.

Permanent Record defiantly leaves you with a permanent feeling after seeing this spectacular film. The movie is one that will have an effect on all who see it. Some have even said it may be one of the best movies for 1988.

The movie is about a high school senior who seems to have it all. He has a pretty girlfriend, is in a band who is starting to "go places," and has just received a scholarship to a large music school. David, played by Alan Boyce, doesn't think everything is so perfect in his life, however. Towards the beginning of the movie you can sense that he is having problems dealing with things in his life.

David and Chris, his best friend, played by Keanu Reeves, plan a party at Chris' house because his father is out of town. Chris' father doesn't seem to be home much of the time in fact. David and his girlfriend seem to be having problems. Well, actually the problem is they don't talk, they just have sex. This might not seem like a problem to some of you, but anyhow. At the party David doesn't seem to be having a good time and he decides to take a walk. Chris comes out after David and hides behind a rock. When he looks up to scare his friend he realizes David isn't there.

It isn't until Chris receives some of David's lyrics in the mail and a note that he realizes that his fall wasn't an accident. The rest of the film is a very accurate account of what family and friends go through after someone close to them commits suicide. The movie doesn't really deal with why David killed himself, but rather deals with the after effects.

The actors and actresses in this movie are mostly newcomers. All of them do a wonderful job at portraying this shocking subject with feeling and realism.
This Week in Tke

Tekes in state of celebration

This week in TKE, the Tekes are in a state of total celebration, fueled by the fact that they have received notification that TKE of CSUSB will initiate as a national chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon this June. This news came as a surprise to the San Bernardino Teks, who are currently a colony of TKE. Western Division President Chris Grosso, a Tek of 18 years, informed local TKE President Mike Haufler that he was so impressed by CSUSB’s TKE colony that he would take steps to insure the initiation by June. Previously, the men of TKE San Bernardino had been organizing to become a national chapter in the Fall of 1988.

In other news, local Tekes traveled to Pomona, where TKE of Cal Poly gave a dance party fundraiser to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation. Much money was raised as keg beer was sold at one dollar per round. Zippy brought his bucket. Always the life of the party, the Tekes of S.B. hit the dance floor, with Steve Moore executing moves that would make John Travolta blush. Trying to be as contemporary as possible, TKE alumni Brent did his Fred Astaire routine to the horror of all who watched. In a rare demonstration inter-fraternal brotherhood, Topper and the Kahuna soberly sang a song to a small herd of Sigma Chi’s only moments after being introduced to them. Mark Miyashiro gave everyone a two minute course entitled, “How to Climb Over a Barbed-Wire Fence in a $200 outfit.” With most of the group not in the mood to drive home, all 15 local Tekes piled into George’s VW Bus (La Bomba) for a safe ride home.

On the sports scene the TKE softball team handed the comedy team of Trig-gerfish a 4-3 loss as Team TKE, coached by alumni Tom Lescher, was victorious on the first game of the season. Led by the powerful batting of Jeff Nishikian, April Lewis, Olivia Carter, and Paul Patel, Selene Trapp, Gene Parshall, Kripsky, won the intramural Co-Rec league, with a Bachelor’s or advanced degree between October 1, 1987 and January 31, 1989, you’re invited to attend a commencement exercise at Orange Show. You may qualify for $400 from Ford and pre-approved credit from Ford Motor Credit Company. To qualify for pre-approved credit, you need: (1) verifiable employment beginning within 120 days after your vehicle purchase; (2) a salary sufficient to cover normal living expenses plus a car payment; and (3) if you have a credit record, must indicate payment made as agreed.

The $400 from Ford is yours whether you finance or not. Keep it if you apply it to the purchase or lease of an eligible Ford or Mercury vehicle. For all the details, contact us or call Program Headquarters, toll free, at 1-800-321-1536.

This Wednesday April 27th, twenty Brothers of Sigma Chi will be participating in the first annual "If You Care, Sit in a Chair Day" sponsored by the High Desert Qiesters. All proceeds from this event will go into a special account to build new handicapped housing. Brothers will need to sit in a wheelchair and go through the motions of a person confined to a wheelchair for eight hours. The wheelchair is to be taken to class, to work, and everywhere an able-bodied person may go. If you see a brother around campus or in the community be sure to give him some encouragement, doucment, to the cause, or even help him along.

In other news, the annual Pledge/Acceptive softball game was played recently resulting in a 24-14 active victory. "We smoked 'em," commented Brother Randy Smith. Also the first annual faculty breakfast this past Thursday went off very well. The CSUSB faculty not only received some hot food, but also gained some knowledge about Sigma Chi and Greek life in general.

It was just the beginning of fun and surprises for the Seniors of Alpha Phi. We started it all with a Monday night party in the Chapter House. Everyone brought something except for the Seniors. After we ate the Seniors gathered for a group picture and were given gifts from their special Bear Buddies. This was just the first night and they still had the rest of the week to go, with surprises here and there.

Each Senior had two Bear Buddies, an Active member and a Pledge member, these girls were able to show and express the love and appreciation that the chapter felt as a whole. Showing our thanks and gratitude was the purpose of having a special tribute to our Seniors. To become a Senior takes hard work and a commitment, and that's what the Seniors of Alpha Phi have done. Because of their experience, knowledge and willingness to help others, the girls of theEta Beta Chapter look up to them and value the things that they have left for the chapter to grow on. The theme of Senior Week has been given the name “THE GOLDEN GIRLS.”

Gold is a metallic element that was one of the first known metals. Possession of this attractive bright yellow metal has been a known mark of wealth for thousands of years. It has been valuable throughout the ages chiefly because it is scarce.

Gold owes much to its physical properties of beauty, softness, and resistance to chemicals and density. Gold has a lovely yellow color and a soft metallic glow. Its softness makes it easy to work with.

Like Gold, the Alpha Phi Seniors possess qualities such as beauty and delicacy. If I was asked to describe these lovely ladies in one word, I would choose the word “gold” because of its value to many people.

Similar to gold, the Seniors in Alpha Phi are easy to work with. By showing forth a caring and loving attitude, each one is always willing to lend a helping hand. It is during the darkest of times that the Alpha Phi Seniors are able to shine bright. They are truly what keeps most of our candles lit.

It is not often that we take the time to tell our seniors how much we value their sisterhood. Their contributions of love and friendship to our sorority have helped to keep our circle of sisterhood strong and meaningful.

These lovely ladies are Evin Ashworth, Cheryl Luther, Shelleann Machain, Laurie Marscher, Rajean Mayberry, Stephanie Nash, Robyn Reiter, and Kristen Walck. I would like to dedicate these special words to them.

“Stay Gold”
Think upon the moment long ago
One breath and there you will be
So young and carefree again you will see
That place in time. So Gold.
Sail away to way back when
You thought that all would last forever
But like the weather nothing can ever be in time.
Stay Gold.
But can it be when you see a memory
And yes you say so must a day to fade away
And you feel the ray of sun. Stay Gold.
Life its but a twinkling of an eye
Yet filled with sorrow and compassion

Colleen Blackwell, Vice President; Amy Smelzer, Social Chairman; Trina Whiteside, Secretary; Jody Henderson, Activities/Chaplain; Doris Wardwell, Treasurer; Diana Covarrubias. Good Luck girls! Also welcome Amy Olson to the Beta Pledge Class!

Planned this weekend for all ADPIs is a sisterhood building retreat. Can Paula actually be serious about dressing up bananas?? Have fun girls!

To the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon, we would like to thank you for the fabulous social last Saturday night. We all had quite a time.

P/s love,
“Alphie”
"Editor cont..."

On the up side though, I am very glad to see that Mr. Ted Fisher is Managing Editor. Someone actually criticized his work in a recent editorial. I was appalled!! The paper finally gets someone with a great deal of writing talent, who has a unique and imaginative sense of humor, and this clown has the gall to say that humor has no place in the editor's section. Hey pal, when the scars from the lobotomy heal, call back! Lately I've been reading the paper just for his weekly jaunts into collegiate bizarrities. Mr. Fisher I'll buy you a beer someday soon and maybe we'll talk about old times and certain things we have in common.

Whee! I don't know about the rest of you, but that is all the major controversies I can think of in one sitting, if I missed one of your favorites then by all means write to this paper and put in your two cents worth, that is why I wrote this mailroom monstrosity. Come on, I dare ya! Tell me what's on your mind, call me-

The first of four free presentations, which are open to the public, will be given May 2 by Dr. Carmen Tafolla, associate professor of women's studies at Cal State, Fresno. Tafolla will read her poetry and share some of her personal experiences as 'A Chicana Poet' from 1-3 p.m. in the Panorama Room of the Lower Commons.

"Hispanic Women" will be the subject of Dr. Roberta Johnson's lecture May 4 at 6:30 p.m. in the Panorama Room of the Lower Commons. Johnson, a professor of Hispanic Studies at Scripps College in Claremont, has written extensively on Spanish literature for Spanish and English publications.

Bill Davis, president and chief operating officer of The Vons Companies, Inc., will talk at 5 p.m., May 5 in the Student Union Multipurpose Room. Davis's start as a produce clerk with Vons 40 years ago has given him some ideas on "Building Your Formula For Success," the title of his lecture.

A Cinco de Mayo fiesta will be held May 6 from 11 a.m.-3 a.m. on the Lower Commons Plaza. The fiesta's first-come, first-served Mexican Buffet Luncheon will be accompanied by the music of Mariachi Vallarta and the dancing of Los Ninos Bailarinos. Art contest awards will be presented by M.E.Ch.A., and a two-hour live broadcast of the festivities will be carried by KDJP Radio in Riverside.

"International Night" will close out the week's festivities May 7 at 6 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Cal State foreign students will perform dances and songs from their native countries of China, Coast Rica, India, Indonesia, Japan, Sri Lanka and Vietnam. Following the performances, international delicacies will be served in the Creative Arts Building atrium.

Open to the public, the international celebration has a general admission of $5, $4 for students and $3 for children. Tickets are available through the Associated Students' box office at (714) 887-7496 and the American Culture and Language Program Office at (714) 887-7666.

Sponsored by the Associated Students' Ethnic and Cultural Committee, Cinco de Mayo week events were organized by the Hispanic Faculty and Staff Association, the Latino Business Students Association, Los Amigos and M.E.Ch.A. More information is available at (714) 887-7673.

The film moves a little slow at first, but once the viewer becomes involved with the survivors it moves along with solemnness and reality.

The subject of suicide is defiantly something that needs to be addressed. When it’s addressed in such a real way through a superb movie it helps everyone to see the impact of such a desperate act. This was a truly touching film, I don’t think there was a dry eye in the whole audience. I think this film will be one of ’88’s truly outstanding pictures.

“We’re doing this to help out people in wheelchairs,” said de Dianous. Other members expressed a new understanding of what it’s like to be in a wheelchair.

Money received by the Hi-Desert Quilters will be used for handicapped housing.

“You can say to yourself, ‘Boy, that must be tough,” said Frank Youksleter, “but you don’t know how tough it is until you put yourself in their shoes.” The experience was summed up when one member pointed out, “We got it for eight hours. They have it for life.”

Slower then they had been seven hours earlier, the members of Sigma Chi rolled on-campus towards the end of the experience. With tired arms, Paul de Dianous pushed himself up in his chair.

“...because I want to know how they do this all day and then lift themselves out.”
