Sigma Chi raises funds for the handicapped

By Erin Kirkpatrick

Thirteen members of CSUSB's Sigma Chi fraternity raised almost $800 for the Hi-Desert Questers by confining themselves to wheelchairs for eight hours yesterday. The group soon discovered that shortcuts don't work for people in wheelchairs. Grass and hills became major obstacles.

"I never realized all the things you have to do when you're in a wheelchair," said Richard Mercado. He cited the handicapped entrances on the opposite sides of the Library and the Student Union, and the lack of a ramp in front of the Library as problems. There are changes being made on the campus that will improve mobility for the handicapped. A ramp has been approved for the east side of the library steps, as has a lift for the theater, according to Disabled Services representative Barbara Soverighn.

"It really is a tough job," said Soverighn on getting around campus in a wheelchair. She mentioned an assistance program for new students, the Mobility Training Program, designed to acquaint them with the fastest and easiest routes around campus.

"I feel pretty good about the fact that (the campus) is pretty accessible," said Soverighn.

Mobility was not the only problem encountered.

"We're finding out a lot about what people go through," said organizer Arnold Castro. Castro had encountered people who were impatient while he was maneuvering through doors. He was not alone in experiencing negative reactions from people.

"In a crowd of people, they all look up because they don't want to see you," said Paul de Dianous.

Despite a few negative incidents, the effort was a success, and there is interest in repeating it.

"We really appreciate the help we got today," said Castro. He cited the sponsors and supporters for the success of the event. Special praise was given, half-jokingly, to Debbie Nunn for pulling "Walt" out of a ditch on his way to campus.

Larry Hetter elected Associated Students President in run-off

By Ted Fisher

Larry Hetter was elected Associated Students, Incorporated President in a close run-off election, John Dutrey, A.S.I. Elections Chair, announced Wednesday night. With fourteen percent of the student body voting, Hetter received fifty-five percent of the votes cast. Candidate Patrick Lewis received forty-five percent.

Hetter and Lewis had qualified for the run-off election by finishing first and second in last week's voting. In run-off voting Tuesday and Wednesday, April 26th and 27th, Hetter received 613 of the 1,116 votes cast, while Lewis received 503.

"I'm in shock," Elections Chair Dutrey said. "I'm very surprised this many students turned out to vote. I guess students do have concern about Associated Students and how their money is spent." Current Associated Students President Steve Hekman agreed.

"I was surprised at the large turnout with the run-off election," Hekman. "If Larry works as hard in Associated Students as he did on his election, he'll have no problem dealing with the Administration."

Pat Lewis expressed his thoughts after a hard campaign. "It was a great campaign on everybody's part," Lewis said. "I will be involved in Associated Students next year. Larry worked very hard to win, and the efforts of all the candidates involved. I feel, will enable more students to get involved. Thanks to all the people who helped me, and since I have more supplies left, same time next year. Just joking. Special thanks to Lynn."

Hetter will begin his term as A.S.I. President on June 1st, 1988.

At the time of the announcement of the results, no grievances had been filed with the A.S.I. Elections Committee.

To the Editor,

It has been brought to my attention by a very good friend of mine that we are in the very cramped and dry space of our newspaper. We all remember the boom times of last quarter with Andy Stanford and the Greek boys slugging it out toe to toe, week after week, edition after edition. God! those were good times! But after that letter by Matt Webster, and the reply by numerous Greeks that proved that they could write a letter without cutting anyone down or mentioning the words "party" or "beer", things got pretty weak around these here pages. So for my friend, (Yes I’m calling him fat!) I offer the following controversies.

First, since it was election time, lets talk about our beloved candidates. To begin with, Kudo’s to all of you for taking interest enough in this fine institution to work towards changing it. (That is if your intentions were good.) Now let’s get into the diet! What is with these hoky campaign slogans and posters? In my mind (writter that it is) I seem to have the vision of Calvin and Hobbs taking on a stuffed animal over a piece of wood. I want to know what was going on in people’s heads when they planned if you are elected besides longer cartoons on Saturday morning. Let’s talk politics, not promotion! And who is this guy running for treasurer who bought the dozens of helium balloons? I don’t think I want someone who throws money around like that handling mine. I won’t say anything about any of the other candidates because they haven’t done anything to really catch my eye, and that in itself should be a point of concern. But on to my next topic.

The brave, and yet extremely bold, editor Kim Schnepp, (Bold because she printed this white hot piece yellow journalism) makes the comment that the people are complaining about the paper should come to write for it in order to help improve it. What the heck, they will even be paid! Yet time after time when articles are written for the paper voluntarily, promoting upcoming events, or giving reviews or information on past events, they fail to appear between the covers of this wacky weekly. The writer’s corner was removed because apparently it was too much hassle reprinting the writings as they were written. Maybe with your new computer this problem can be overcome and student contributions to literature will fill the pages again. (Remember Kimmypo, we WRITERS are also only learning and should be given a fair amount of slack, just like you editors!) Speaking of student writers, why do the Greeks have a page all to themselves? I hardly think that is fair to the rest of us. If the Greeks have a page all to themselves, then I think it’s only right to give all other clubs an opportunity to fill in as on what is going on in their weekly meetings. Even think with that type of opportunity given to them, some clubs or organizations would publicize all publicity person to write a weekly article on club going on. And that, Madame Kim, will fill a lot of newspapers, and move a lot of newspapers. Just because it’s not Greek, doesn’t mean it’s not good!!! AND WHERE IN HELL HAPPENED TO BLOOM COUNTY??

The boy of Summer

The Catcher is awry

By Ted Fisher, Managing Editor

I didn’t get a single vote for A.S.I. President. Perhaps this shouldn’t surprise me, but somehow I’m still hurt. Still, it’s not the end of the world. I’ve still got my column.

Softball, the game of fat champions, can lead to the realization of one’s life. Or shin splints.

Lately I’ve been waxing philosophical. Standing in right field, (a good place for anyone who can’t really catch all that well), near a patch of dandelions, I began to question my existence.

I asked myself, “What does it all mean? Why am I here, standing in right field near a patch of dandelions, and what should I do now? I hope they don’t hit it to me.”

By the time I came to bat I had passed “I think, therefore I am,” and gone on to wonder if cookies really are made by the Keebler Elves. I was walked, mercifully, and as I stood on first base I felt that everything was a massive joke that I hadn’t been let in on, or had doodled off and missed. I could hear the laugh track.

I was bumped up to second base, and I began to sweat. What if, I thought, this is all there is? Endless running around bases, endless fly balls, endless pitches just slightly inside and high. No post-game show, no locker-room pep talk, no Vin Scully in the sky. Second was as far as I got, and I began to doubt the game would end without casualties.

Then, like a cruel joke of fate, a ball was smacked over my head. Oh, I chased it down, I threw it in, I checked myself for injury. But the whole thing seemed like a personal insult, a cruel slap in the face, a cookie without chocolate chips. I began to mumble under my breath.

I struck out the next time up. Someday, I thought, I’ll look back on this and laugh. Manically.

Out in the field, now way behind the dandelions, I pictured my life as a Driver’s Education Simulator. Sitting in a room with fifteen fake steering wheels and speedometers, watching an unsteady film of “normal” traffic, pretending to drive. Going eighty in reverse, when suddenly a small child on a bike, a woman with a baby carriage, a motor cycle, and a pair of nuns all dive out in front of me.

No one hit anything to me, and I felt both thankful and left out. I could probably catch one, I thought, if only they’d hit it to me. In the last inning, I got an R.B.I.

It’s not whether you win or lose, but the idea of being responsible for your own life in an existential sort of way that counts.
Library support group donates collected works of Frank Lloyd Wright

Frank Lloyd Wright (1867-1959) was one of America's greatest and most creative architects. During his career, Wright's rich, imaginative talent created a variety of architectural forms. His "Prairie Style" architecture was particularly influential in 20th century American residential design.

The Ffau Library of CSUSB has recently received from the California State University, San Bernardino Library Associates support group a twelve volume set of the collected works of Frank Lloyd Wright. Publication of the set began in 1984 and to date ten volumes have been published, with the remaining two volumes scheduled to be published soon. Material in the volumes includes Wright's monographs, preliminary studies and renderings. The set is located on the fourth floor of the Library and the call number is NA 707W7 4A 1984.

Each volume is beautifully illustrated and contains drawings and photographs of the homes and buildings designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. The set is ideal not only for the architect and student alike, but also for anyone interested in this art form. It is a superb collection of the works of one of our most renowned architects.

The Library Associates support group which donated the set currently has a membership of 359 people. The group was formed to promote the relationship between the University, its library, and the community, to increase public awareness of the resources and services of the CSUSB Library and to sponsor cultural programs such as exhibits, lectures, and other events. The next campus event to be sponsored by the Library Associates will be a talk by Los Angeles Times political cartoonist Paul Conrad on Sunday, May 22 at 2:30 p.m. in PS 10. Admission is free.

San Bernardino receives new monument: a college prank waiting to happen?

For the first time, a book on world politics and the future has been published simultaneously in the Soviet Union and the United States. The book, BREAKTHROUGH: Emerging New Thinking, contains writings by thirty Soviet and Western Scientists. These scholars worked cooperatively for over two years to realistically define the requirements for long-term survival in the nuclear age.

Martin E. Hellman, the Western Editor of BREAKTHROUGH, will speak on Wednesday, April 27th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Dr. Hellman will describe the key ideas in the book and this innovative effort by Soviets and Americans.

Dr. Hellman is a Professor of Electrical Engineering at Stanford University. His research and writing are concerned with international security, societal implications of technology, cryptography, and information theory. He has received numerous awards for his work and is a Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

Week-long activities planned for Cinco de Mayo Celebration

Former KNBC-TV news anchor Frank Cruz and Vons' President Bill Davila will be among the featured guest speakers during the Cinco de Mayo celebration May 2nd through the 7th at Cal State, San Bernardino. Cruz will appear May 3rd at 7:30 p.m. in the Cal State Upper Commons while Davila is slated for May 5th at 5 p.m. in the student union. The talks are among several free events that week, including a Cinco de Mayo Fiesta May 6th from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the University. For more details about the week's events call (714) 877-7673.

Food and clothes drive for the Homeless

The newly founded Coalition for the Homeless is sponsoring a food and clothes drive whose proceeds will be donated to homeless families and individuals by way of the Freaze Community Center/Project Heart Program. All donations can be dropped off in boxes located in the Student Union in front of the main desk. The drive will be held from May 2 to May 13. Canned and boxed goods as well as warm clothing, shoes, and blankets are especially needed but all donations are welcome.

If you are interested in learning more about the Homeless issue and how you can become involved in helping those in desperate need, please attend the next meeting which will be held on May 5 at 6:30 p.m. in the Pine Room of the Lower Commons. All are welcome.

Japanese language and culture at Susquehana University

Japanese is the foreign language rising fastest in popularity among college students today, and for good reason. Japan offers great riches to young Americans: fascinating history, elegant traditions, booming economic frontiers, and a culture unique in its blend of oriental and western ways.

From July 28 to August 19, Susquehana University, at Selinsgrove, PA, will offer an intensive program in Japanese language and culture. Ninety hours of instruction will consist of five hours daily, taught by native Japanese instructors, using progressive, dynamic methods and materials. Students will earn four transferable semester hours of credit.

Language learning will be complemented by presentations on the culture behind the language. In addition, weekend trips to New York City and Washington, D.C. will help students discover Japanese culture in the United States.

American students will share a residence hall with twenty-four Japanese students from Tokyo's Soshu University, who will be studying English language and American culture. Contact with Japanese students will provide unlimited opportunities to make friends for a lifetime.

A fee of $1400 includes 90 hours of instruction, lodging in a dormitory, three meals a day and two overnight trips. Contact Dr. Susan Johnson, Susquehana University, Selinsgrove, PA 17870, Tel. (717) 374-0101 for application forms and information. Applications are due by July 1, 1988.

Gay and Lesbian Union Meet Apr 28

Monday, May 8th, 1988

The next meeting of the Gay and Lesbian Union will be held on Thursday, April 28 from 1.2 p.m. in the Ffau Library 241. A section of the 1985 Oscar Award-Winning film "The Times of Harvey Milk" will be shown and pizza will be provided. Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to attend. The next meeting will be on May 12, 26 and June 9 at PL 241. For more information, call Dr. Craig Henderson, faculty advisor, 807-7441.
National Orange Show to run April 28 through May 8

The 73rd Annual National Orange Show themed, "A Slice of Tradition, Acres of Fun!" will run from April 28 through May 8 in San Bernardino.

The Orange Show celebrates the citrus industry with headline entertainment, civic and commercial exhibits, farm animals and livestock displays, flower shows, theme related contests and a variety of family-oriented events.

The country fair-type atmosphere will also include free shows, Little Mexico, honoring Mexican heritage and culture, and adult and kiddie carnivals.

Citrus Sam, the official Orange Show mascot, will make his first appearance in six years. The 25-year-old character has been given a new wardrobe and will be roaming the grounds throughout the run of the show. He will also be available to pose for instant photos with children.

Headliner entertainment, with music ranging from rock and roll to country, will be presented free with admission. The concerts will be held nightly in the Budweiser Pavilion, with afternoons and evening performances on weekends. The line-up includes: The Righteous Brothers, April 28; Mickey Gilley, April 29; Dick Dale and The Del-tones and The Surfari's, April 30; The Kingston Trio, May 1; Jan and Dean, May 2; Lee Greenwood, May 3; Joan Jett and the Blackhearts, May 4; The Temptations, May 5; Jerry Lee Lewis, May 6; Bobby Vee, The Diamonds, The Rivigtons, and The Riscochtes, May 7; and American Legends of Rock & Roll, May 8.

Free grounds acts will also be featured each afternoon and evening throughout the run of the show. These acts include the Walking Puppet Stage, Jimmy The Juggler, Guido the Comic magician, the Junior National Champion Coal Cloggers, Sharon the Mechanical Model, mime Mark Wenzel, hypnotist Tony Angel, a comedy magic show by 'Shoes and Snickers', and racing pigs from Arkansas, the Rapid Razorbacks. The Great American High Dive Team, sponsored by Miller High Life, will perform high diving feats each afternoon and evening of the show with nightly performances followed by a fireworks display.

To tie-in with the theme of the Show, there will be a memorabilia exhibit in the Home Arts building where relics from past Orange Shows will be on display.

The annual Flower Show will have a large participation from local floral groups and tree growers, including the California School for the Deaf that will showcase a landscape design exhibit. A diverse selection of new products will be on display in the Damus Building that past Orange Shows will be on display.

Cal State Participated in AAF

On Saturday, March 23, Cal State San Bernardino participated in the annual American Advertising Federation (AAF) District 15 competition held at the Orange County Register, CSUSB competed against three other schools; Pepperdine University, CSU Fullerton, and St. Mary's College. Nestlé Food Corporation sponsored the event, and the products this year were Nestle's milk chocolate, milk chocolate with almonds, and Alpine White with almonds candy bars. Presenting for San Bernardino were Heidi Becker, Richard Lari, and Deepak Khandelwal, Denise Daversa, and Scott Siebert.

RC's Corner

Not much happening at Cal State in the sports department this past week. The wet weather enabled Cal State's athletics to take a little time off. The Coyotes were not the only team on break.

For the first time in its two-year existence, the San Bernardino Spirit was rained out—twice. Last year the Spirit enjoyed the original Southern California weather—hot and smoggy.

The Los Angeles Dodgers were also influenced by the wet weather. They were forced to postpone THREE straight games due to Stadium Lake, the first time in its thirty-year existence at Chavez Riviere.

We witnessed a bit of history on Sunday. The Baltimore Orioles look like bad weather. They are winless in their first 18 games and manager Frank Robinson said after Sunday's game in Kansas City, "we can't pitch, we can't field, we can't hit. If we played an intersquad game, the score would end in 0-0." Look for the Orioles to make some changes.

A team destined for greatness is Cal State's baseball team. They are currently 26-4-1 and ranked fifth in the nation. So if you see or know a Coyote baseball player, salute him. I'll be back next week with all kinds of sports to report on from Softball to alligator racing.

CSUSB hosts
Budweiser
Super Sports

All CSUSB students, faculty, and staff are invited to participate in Budweiser College Super Sports Competition. Somewhere between the Olympics and seventh grade P.E., Super Sports consists of six demanding team events: the exciting tug-of-war; the thrilling volleyball competition; the exhausting 880 relay; the astounding frisbee relay; the sometimes dangerous obstacle course; and the six-pack pitch-in, which apparently has something to do with throwing empty beer cans into a trash can.

There are free t-shirts for the first twelve teams that sign up, and the winning team will receive mugs. Each team will consist of four men and four women. The event will be held Saturday, April 30th at 1:00 p.m., but you must sign up on the intramural bulletin board (in the P.E. building) before the mandatory team managers meeting Friday, April 29th at 12:00 p.m. in Student Union meeting room A.

Hekman accomplishes original goals

by Julie Calderon

Steve Hekman is a happy man. As our ASI President, he has accomplished many of the goals he started with the beginning of this school year. Was his term in office like he imagined it would be when he ran for office? The answer is a definite yes. Having already served one year as AS Vice-President, Hekman was prepared as well as knowledgeable of the busy life he was about to embark on. What has being ASI President done for Hekman? "It's thrown a lot of problems into my lap that you have to learn to deal with in a way that pleases both sides—that's administration, students & faculty." A feat that, if done successfully, will come in handy for the soon to be businessman.

So many goals, so little time. ATM, marquee, Post Office, ASI Community Services...the list is a long one and it hangs proudly on Hekman's office wall, a daily reminder of his accomplishments as well as current goals. The professional looking Hekman elaborates, "Most of my goals were science oriented, but I also included a few social goals like the ATM that will be put in the Student Union entrance of the campus that is presently being collaborated on by both administration and students and ASI is also working towards the installation of rendacard copy machines for the Student Union. Also, recently CSUSB joined the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce, a move that will prove to open many doors for the campus.

When speaking to Freshman, President Hekman emphasizes, "get involved, I don't care whether you're a philosophy or English major, Philosophy majors—join the philosophy club, English majors, join the english club, and so on." His concern regarding commuter students is that they are often the ones that end up leaving school early, therefore, if you "join something, you're bound to find someone with the same interests and it's also a good way of making contacts."

Has it been tough to balance the books & politics? "ASI has actually helped me keep my grades up because it really makes you work but he adds, "Unless you don't have a social life, ASI can hurt your grades." Now, let's not take this wrong, the deep-voiced Hekman says with a laugh, "I'm not a boring person—I do go to the movies, I like comedy so I go to comedy clubs. Also, music is my hobby." Having once been a piano playing band member, Hekman enjoys a variety of music styles. Besides classical, Hekman chooses music to suit his mood, "everything from Led Zeppelin to Depeche Mode." He is also a loyal Oingo Boingo fan.

'I'm not a boring person.'

Steve Hekman

Hekman shows his self-confidence when he says that in 10 years from now, "I will either own a company or I'll be president or chief executive officer of one, I'm one of those who would like to work for somebody else for a while but I'd also like to have my own business. I think I can do well on my own."

Now that his time as ASI President is coming to an end, Hekman is responsible for providing services to the students and it's also a good way of making contacts. "May the Bastards Beware".
Larry Hetter

Hetter elected 1988-89 President

CSUSB Students:

I sincerely thank all of my supporters. All of the things that I mentioned during my campaign I will uphold and work for during my term.

I commend and respect the opposition and look forward to working with them for the students interests next year. I encourage all students to get involved with government and help make next year a productive one. I will evaluate all positions fairly and without preconceptions.

The students are our main concern and their involvement is essential to maintain equity in the spending of student fees. I will assist in the creation and disposition of concepts and ideas offered by students for students.

Through the knowledge I acquire from the representatives of each school, I will be aware of the needs of the students that need addressing. I will actively research and evaluate these needs and promptly act in accordance with A.S.I. procedure.

The students that helped me throughout this campaign have increased my faith in friends which will never be forgotten. I respect and thank all of you.

Larry Hetter

To all ASI Candidates:

Congratulations on a terrific Race.

Thank You for all you do -

The party to end all parties

Do you believe in Nostradamus’ predictions? Worried about the BIG ONE? Just want an excuse to party? If any of you answered yes to any of these questions, then the End of the World Party is for you.

The Party, sponsored by ASProductions, will kick off on Monday, May 9. Throughout the day favorite disaster movies will be shown in the pub. At 7:00 pm, the movie “The Man Who Saw Tomorrow” will be shown for all of you to catch up on Nostradamus lore. Finally, at 9:30 pm, a live band will “rock” the pub until the shaking starts. The evening will be filled with fun activities and a special appearance by a noted authority on death. Don’t worry about classes the next day -- at that point, it won’t matter.

Movie Review: Of Permanent Record

Permanent Record defiantly leaves you with a permanent feeling after seeing this spectacular film. The movie is one that will have an effect on all who see it. Some have even said it may be one of the best movies for 1988.

The movie is about a high school senior who seems to have it all. He has a pretty girlfriend, is in a band who is starting to "go places", and has just received a scholarship to a large music school. David, played by Alan Boyce, doesn't think everything is so perfect in his life, however. Towards the beginning of the movie you can sense that he is having problems dealing with things in his life.

David and Chris, his best friend, played by Keanu Reeves, plan a party at Chris' house because his father is out of town. Chris' father doesn't seem to be home much of the time in fact. David and his girlfriend seem to be having problems. Well, actually the problem is they don't talk, they just have sex. This might not seem like a problem to some of you, but anyhow. At the party David doesn't seem to be having a good time and he decides to take a walk. Chris comes out after David and hides behind a rock. When he looks up to scare his friend he realizes David isn't there.

It isn't until Chris receives some of David's lyrics in the mail and a note that he realizes that his fall wasn't an accident.

The rest of the film is a very accurate account of what family and friends go through after someone close to them commits suicide. The movie doesn't really deal with why David killed himself, but rather deals with the after effects.

The actors and actresses in this movie are mostly newcomers. All of them do a wonderful job at portraying this shocking subject with feeling and realism.

Tekes in state of celebration

This week in TKE, the Tekes are in a state of total celebration, fueled by the fact that they have received notification that TKE of CSUSB will initiate a national chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon this June. This news came as a surprise to the San Bernardino Tekes, who are currently a colony of TKE. Western Division President Chris Grosso, a Tek of 18 years, informed local TKE President Mike Haulber that he was so impressed by CSUSB's TKE colony that he would take steps to insure the initiation by June. Previously, the men of TKE San Bernardino had been organizing to become a national chapter in the Fall of 1988.

In other news, local Tekes traveled to Pomona, where TKE of Cal Poly gave a dance party fundraiser to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation. Much money was raised as keg beer was sold at one dollar per round. Zippy brought his bucket. Always the life of the party, the Tekes of S.B. hit the dance floor, with Steve Moore executing moves that would make John Travolta blush. Trying to be as contemporary as possible, TKE alumni Brent did his Fred Astaire routine to the horror of all who watched.

In a rare demonstration inter-fraternal brotherhood, Topper and the Kabuna soberly sang a song to a small herd of Sigma Chi's only moments after being introduced to them. Mark Miyashiro gave everyone a two minute course entitled, "How to Climb Over a Barbed Wire Fence in a 90 mph crowd."

With most of the group not in the mood to drive home, all 15 local Tekes piled into George's VW Bug (La Bomba) for a safe ride home.

On the sports scene the TKE softball team handed the comedy team of Trig-gerfish a 4-3 loss as Team TKE, coached by alumni Tom Lesher, was victorious on the first game of the season. Led by the powerful batting of Jeff Nishkian, Mike Shea, and Rex Hollifield, the Tekes took the lead in the first inning. Crucial defensive plays by TKE associate member Dan Page helped to preserve Tke's lead despite the offensive attacks by the ever-so-jocular Trig-gerfish.

In other sports, congratulations are in order for brother Art Paz and his fellow "PWRSPK" teammates. Art and the other "powersplinkers," including Pankaj Patel, Selene Trapp, Gene Parshall, April Lewis, Olivia Carter, and Paul Kripsky, won the intramural Co-Rec Volleyball 6-on-6 tournament with an undefeated and play-off record.

The men of TKE are currently distributing the latest campus sensation, the "Survival Card." The solution to the student budget, this card features free pizzas, beverages, discounts on flowers, tanning videos, shirts, donuts, grinders, and much more. All of these freebies and discounts can be redeemed at merchants near the campus, with many at the new plaza on Kendall Drive. CSUSB's Associated Student President Steve Hekman bought one, so why shouldn't you? The Survival Card don't leave campus without it.

Friday the 13th will be your lucky day in May if you get a ticket for TKE's semi-annual booze cruise. Come sink with us aboard the luxurious "Tiki" as we cruise scenic Newport Harbor. Teke's last booze cruise was sold out in the first few days of ticket sales, so inquiring minds should contact your friendly neighborhood Teke.

Birthday wishes to Jeff Morro and Darin Sciesz who each turn 19 for a total of 38. Next week: Kurt Beardscomb gets a job in a flower shop, Knipper dates a woman with six kids, Alan 'Material Boy' Lin trades in his Sony for Hitachi, and Fred Abejo gets his name in the paper.
AD Pi's are full of pride

Congratulations to the ladies of Alpha Delta Pi for your steadfast competition in Derby Days last week. You showed them all who the king of the jungle was on Wednesday, but it must have worn you out for Thursday. We were a little worried about the outcome when it came down to the money, but thanks to Susanne and Amy, and all those generous men in the pub we made it! A big round of applause should go to Alpha Phi for giving us a run for our money (no pun intended). Also thanks to the Little Sigma's for their encouragement.

Eta Kappa Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi would like to congratulate the following elected pledge class officers: President; Colleen Blackwell, Vice President; Amy Smeltzer, Social Chairman; Trina Whiteside, Secretary; Jody Henderson, Activities/Chaplain; Doris Wardwell, Treasurer; Diana Covarrubias. Good Luck girls! Also welcome Amy Olson to the Beta Pledge Class!

Planned this weekend for all ADPi's is a sisterhood building retreat. Can Paula actually be serious about dressing up bananas?? Have fun girls!

To the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon, we would like to thank you for the fabulous social last Saturday night. We all had quite a time.

"Dad was right. You get what you pay for."

More people choose AT&T over other long distance services. Because, with AT&T, it costs less than you think to get the service you expect, like clearer connections and 24-hour AT&T operator assistance, instant credit on wrong numbers, and the assurance that we can put virtually every one of your calls through the first time. That's the genius of the AT&T Worldwide Intelligent Network.

So when it's time to make a choice, remember, it pays to choose AT&T.

If you'd like to know more about our products or services, like the AT&T Card, call us at 1-800-222-0900.

On the up side though, I am very glad to see that Mr. Ted Fisher is Managing Editor. Someone actually criticized his work in a recent editorial. I was appalled!!! The paper finally gets someone with a great deal of writing talent, who sees a unique and imaginative side of humor, and this clown has the gall to say that humor has no place in the editor's section. Hey pal, when the scars from the lobotomy heal, call back! Lately I've been reading the paper just for his weekly jaunts into collegiate bizarries. Mr. Fisher I'll buy you a beer someday soon and maybe we'll talk about old times and certain things we have in common.

Well! I don't know about the rest of you, but that is all the major controversies I can think of in one sitting. If I missed one of your favorites then by all means write to this paper and put in your two cents worth, that is why I wrote this column. But that is all the major controversies. Well, that is all for now. See you next week.

The first of four free presentations, which are open to the public, will be given May 2 by Dr. Carmen Tafolla, associate professor of women's studies at Cal State, Fresno. Tafolla will read her poetry and share some of her personal experiences as "A Chicana Poet" from 1-3 p.m. in the Panorama Room of the Lower Commons.

"Hispanic Women" will be the subject of Dr. Roberta Johnson's lecture May 4 at 6:30 p.m. in the Panorama Room of the Lower Commons. Johnson, a professor of Hispanic Studies at Scripps College in Claremont, has written extensively on Spanish literature for Spanish and English publications.

Bill Davila, president and chief operating officer of The Vons Companies, Inc., will talk at 5 p.m., May 5 in the Student Union Multipurpose Room. Davila's talk will start as a produce clerk with Vons 40 years ago has given him some ideas on "Building Your Formula For Success," the title of his lecture.

A Cinco de Mayo fiesta will be held May 6 from 11 a.m.-3 a.m. on the Lower Commons Plaza. The fiesta's first-concert, first-served Mexican Buffet Lunchcorn will be accompanied by the music of Mariachi Vallarta and the dancing of Los Ninos Bailarinos. Art contest awards will be presented by M.E.Ch.A., and a two-hour live broadcast of the festivities will be carried by KDIF Radio in Riverside.

"International Night" will close out the week's festivities May 7 at 6 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Cal State foreign students will perform dances and songs from their native countries of China, Coast Rica, India, Indonesia, Japan, Sri Lanka and Vietnam. Following the performances, international delicacies will be served in the Creative Arts Building atrium.

Open to the public, the international celebration has a general admission of $5, $4 for students and $3 for children. Tickets are available through the Associated Students' box office at (714) 887-7496 and the American Culture and Language Program Office at (714) 887-7666.

Sponsored by the Associated Students' Ethnic and Cultural Committee, Cinco de Mayo week events were organized by the Hispanic Faculty and Staff Association, the Latino Business Students Association, Los Amigos and M.E.Ch.A.

"We're doing this to help out people in wheelchairs," said de Dianous. Other members expressed a new understand­ment of what it's like to be in a wheel­chair.

Money received by the Hi-Desert Queslers will be used for handicapped housing.

"You can say to yourself, 'Boy, that must be tough,' said Frank Youkselter, "but you don't know how tough it is until you put yourself in their shoes." The experi­ence was summed up when one member pointed out, "We got it for eight hours. They have it for life."

Slower then they had been seven hours earlier, the members of Sigma Chi rolled on-campus towards the end of the ex­perience. With tired arms, Paul de Dianous pushed himself up in his chair.
