Time to Be Equal

New York

Throughout the country, cities and suburbs are recording increases in violent juvenile crime - and, by virtue of being located in the heart of the media spotlight, are the most effective way to solve the crime problem is not just "get tough," but America in the 1990s.
The American juvenile population is booming - our country faces a $5 billion - $10 billion $25 million - which means that we must develop viable strategies to "catch our lawbreakers and put them away," but to do so successfully, we need for the next two months.
Grady Brown, our associate professor of Native American studies at Riverside Community College, has been invited to make a presentation at the Wisconsin Indian Education Board and has been past Southern California Black Vice President and past President of the California Indian Association. He is a founding board member and has been the Associate Professor of Native American Studies at Riverside Community College. His paper on reservation and raised on the Colorado River Indian Reservation, his personal story of experience and standing up for native American communities, and his list goes on and on. Grady Brown has substantive experience in planning and implementing some of the most creative activities and advising Chicago/Indian college students. His special values in advocacy have gained him support and respect from a variety of people at the University of Arizona, where he has been the Director of Chicago University Programs. He is a founder of the Chicago University Programs at UCR. He is husky and his connect to the community as a whole.

Eta Phi Beta Sorority Holds Scholarship Luncheon

By Mary Lou Tomlin

Eta Phi Beta sorority, Inc., Gamma Alpha Chapter, Lake Elsinore, Calif., held its Annual Black History Scholarship Luncheon Saturday, March 1, 1997, at The Hag Arnold Club, March Air Base.

Dr. Donna D. Opoku-Agyeman provided entertainment, and electrified the audience with a number of selections. In addition, there were African American vendors present for shopping after the program.

Awards were presented to Soror Dorothy Sylvester-Brown, as one of the Founders of Eta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., which now has 52 Chapters. Alberta Marie Kearney, Founding Member of Delta Zeta, the African American Historical Museum in Perris, Calif., was presented with the community award. Awards were presented to Soror's of the Gamma Alpha Chapter.

Our Bodies

Allergy Relief

Tamine helps control the sneezing and nose wheezing, while the decongestant works on the sinuses.

Although some antihistamines claim they don't cause drowsiness, it's still the most common and annoying side effect. Because children react differently to different antihistamines (some kids actually get hyperactive), it's quite possible that one product will give your son a major case of yawns and another won't. You may want to try different antihistamines until you find one that works with minimum side effects. Another tactic is to use an antihistamine only at night and a decongestant during the day. Whatever you do, avoid decongestant nose drops or sprays. After a few days of use such sprays have been found to aggravate the lining of the nose and cause a sort of "rebound congestion" that may make your son even more runny than before. If your child has persist­ent or a "cold" that just won't go away, ask a doctor or a pediatrician.

Antihistamines available that are totally non-sedating. Your doc­tor may also recommend a pre­scription nasal spray with steroids, one that can reduce the swelling caused by histamines (some kids actually get hyperactive) at night and a decongestant during the day.

Family Talks

After buying a hot dog, we see the nearby stand to get coleslaw, relish, mustard, mayonnaise, and catsup. Each of these condiments in a circum­stance, a word meaning "that they are standing around." Circumstances are never an essen­tial part of the hot dog (or event) but rather they are "accep­table" that go around the hot dog itself. So, if we see a bun, onions, relish, and mustard on the floor, but not the hot dog itself, we can infer that they came off a hot dog. Finding onions alone or mustard alone would not cause us to make that assumption.

Early on, circumstance referred to a large number of people standing around some­thing and by Shakespeare's day this something was a formal show or ceremony. Then the meaning extended to specify what everyone was present around the main event. Each show has a circum­stance. In other words, a cir­cumstance is to be seen. Such words are connected, related to, and influencing the main event. Perhaps it paved the way for the main event to hap­pen, problem of it is a fact, or modified it.

The adjective (a word that limits a word with a color, as in "red apple") circumstantial, suggesting completeness of detail, has a special meaning in law. Circumstantial evidences are facts from around the main event (e.g. a crime which ajudices for materials of proof. Legal examples include blood­grouping tests, DNA testing, and similar Scientific Evidence that could link the accused with the crime. See if you see from Atlas, that is an evidence of a conspiracy. It certainly would seem that it is true but there may be other and better explanations. For example, Titan may be having shooting or the escaping kill or merely, as a bystander, picked up the pistol after the event and dropped it.

It is the ability to find addi­tional possibilities for what could be a cause that elevated Sherlock Holmes, the fictional private detective with amazing deductive powers, from the rest of us. When we wish to judge un­certainty by investigating the circumstances available or when we are biased in the circumstances we select in order to make the conclusion fit our beliefs, chances are we are doing great harm to some­one. This is how we falsify accurate people! This is how rumors start.

Criticism of our daily lives is a source for the children's classic hay fever symptoms. Decongestant nose drops or sprays have been found to relieve his hay fever without making him drowsy?

Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearance of our great God and our Savior Jesus Christ? - 2 Thess 3:18

I clearly remember Thursday, October 13, 1977, as if it were today. I had just returned from soror Bible study at one of the member's home. As I was standing at the kitchen sink preparing dinner, the Holy Spirit spoke to me and said, "Write this message because it is the way you feel. It is your true feelings about you and myself. You have just focused on God's word and have discovered something in you that is yearning to express itself."

No sooner spoken than done, I stopped washing the dishes, wiped my hands with the towel and pen in hand, and with the Holy Spirit guiding me, I wrote: "I am and hope to be, I owe it only, God, to thee. My life, my works, my joys, my failures and my pleasures, my everyday need, because he cares. In the light of a new day and in the setting of the sun, the beginning and ending is a view, a friend and guide, God, by trusting in Thee throughout boundless eternity. Help me, Lord, not to falter, stumble or fall, for You alone, are also as all and end. So what do you gain, going through tribulations, fear and pain, no friends or companions by your side, to guide you over the swelling tide? We walk by faith and faith alone, keeping our eyes on His heavenly throne. Come! Share in this blissful peace. Your wisdom and knowledge, He will increase. He raises all that are bowed down and uplifts all who fall. He is always near to all that upon Him call. Therefore I will look upon the Lord; I will wait for the God of my salvation; my God will hear me. "Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy; when I fall I shall arise; when I sit in the darkness, there shall be light unto me. " Micah 7:7"

My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus’ blood and righteousness; my saviorship, not the covenant from Sinai; my Jesus. On Christ, the solid Rock I stand; all other ground is sinking sand.

Schools Look For Minority Teachers

If you've ever thought of being a teacher, our schools want you.

If you've been working for years in another career, but the idea of being a teacher warms your soul, our schools need you.

If you're a member of any minority group, our schoolchildren especially need YOU.

The men and women teaching today in California's public schools are predominantly white (80.3 percent, according to a study done by the California Educational Research Cooperative), but only 42.3 percent of the state's students are white.

So where are the minority teachers? Why are they missing from California's classrooms? With the recent classroom size reductions mandated by the state for the lower elementary school grades, teachers are in hot demand.

"Most of the state's substitutes and retired teachers have been recruited for fulltime work in the classroom and many recruitment programs already are hard at work recruiting adults with a four-year college degree or more to leave the private sector and "switch careers already," said Carolyn Williams, Special Assistant to the Superintendent in the Safe Schools Unit of the office of the San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools, of public schools.

These recruitment programs are especially interested in speaking with educated and qualified minority adults.

Realistically tells us that our schools have problems, there's no doubt about that. Part of it may be related to the fact that many of these children - our minority population - are not being educated by people of the same culture. They have no role models for success. "We hope to attract more minority teachers and they can make a difference," said Williams.

Kaiser Donates $50,000 To New Community Clinic

Kaiser Permanente Medical Center in Fontana recently presented a $50,000 community service grant to the Social Action Community (SAC) Health System to develop and manage a satellite clinic in the City of Montclair.

The SAC West End/Montclair clinic was created to provide health care services at a low cost to individuals and families, without medical insurance who cannot afford necessary health services.

The new clinic is a result of a West End Community Health Partnership that includes Kaiser Permanente Medical Center in Fontana, SAC Health System, the City of Montclair, and Mt. Baldy Union Way.

"We are pleased to present this grant for $50,000 to the SAC Health System," said Philip S. Caseley, Jr., MD, Area Associate Medical Director at Kaiser Permanente Medical Center in Fontana. "Kaiser Permanente realizes that in order to build a healthy future, we must focus on the community as a whole."

The new clinic is located at 5111 Bonita Street and scheduled to open in May. Health services offered at the site include basic medical care for the entire family including physical exams, immunizations, gynecological care, lab and mammography services.

"Through this unique community health partnership," added Richard H. Hart, MD, DPhi, President of SAC Health System, "we will be able to provide health services for lower income residents in the West End."

Minority Teachers Needed

so that our teacher population will reflect the same diversity as that of our students," Williams said.

Several school districts will be on hand at the Island Empire Diversity Job Fair on Wednesday, May 7, at the Orange Grove Show Event Center in San Bernardino recruiting teachers. Schools are eager to hire college-educated adults and have several programs available to ensure adults with a few-year college degree and who have passed the CBEST exam can start as soon as possible, without having to spend a year as a student teacher. Programs may vary depending on school district.

Salaries for public school teachers are attractive, ranging anywhere from $29,000 a year for beginning teachers without experience, to $58,000 for experienced teachers with a master's degree and additional college/university courses.

For more information on the CBEST exam contact the CBEST Program, National Evaluation Systems, Inc., P.O. Box 14080, Sacramento, CA 95814-0800, or call (916) 928-4001

The Island Empire Diversity Job Fair, sponsored by the non-profit organization National American Unity Association (NAUA), is held twice yearly, in May and October. More than 50 employers - in industries ranging from school districts to law enforcement to retail to administration to professional and high-tech - will be on hand. More than 7,000 job seekers are expected to attend.

The Island Empire Minority Job Fair is co-sponsored by National American Unity Association, the San Bernardino Sun, the Inland Valley Daily Bulletin, radio station KCOL 99.9, KXAL-AM, and Super Z 950 AM.

The American News and Dameron Communications. The event is free and we are asking for canned food donations.

How Can I Get On Fire For God?

QUESTION: Dear Pastor Wood, I have been a Christian for four years. Recently, I have experienced a lag in my zeal for God. I use to read the Bible a lot and pray a lot, and now everything I do has lost all meaning. How can I get fired up back for God?

C.L., San Bernardino, CA

ANSWER: In order to experience the zeal and drive that you once experienced in your Christian walk, you must do the same thing you used to do. If you prayed and read your bible a lot before, what makes you think that after you have induced those aspects of your life, that you can maintain that previous zeal? The book of Revelation describes the future state of the Church of Ephesus recovering something which has been taken away from you. Remember therefore, when you cut the onion, and you cut them a piece by piece.

Questions & Answers

Dr. Reginald Wright

Sometimes Christians get so involved in their profession at church or fellowship with other Christians that they neglect their own spiritual development and growth. No Word, No prayer, No sharing your faith - leads to No Change! Hence, Scriptures say, repent and get back on track.

Lakers in NBA playoffs, Clippers knocking on post-season door

Without Shaq, Horry Lakers holding on. Clippers improvement puts them on target to earn a playoff berth.

BY LELAND STEIN III
BVN Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES - When the Los Angeles Clippers and Los Angeles Lakers meet this Friday at the Forum in Inglewood, each team will be looking to solidify its playoff positioning.

The much improved Clippers are in the thick of a playoff berth. Presently they are entrenched in the Western Division's eighth and final playoff spot; although they have lost five of their past six games.

As a result of the Clippers' mini-slump, their overall record has dipped to 26-34, withPhoenix breathing down their necks at 24-38.

With 22 games left in the regular season schedule the Clippers have to get busy and right the ship.

Behind the play of Loy Vaught (14.9 points with a 49.6 shooting percentage and 10.3 rebounds), Rodney Rogers (13.5 points), Maltik Sealy (12.1 points),Darrick Martin (11.1) and fine rookie Lorenzen Wright, the Clippers have the right stuff to regenerate the fine play they produce during the month of February.

In fact, the Clips went 8-4 in February, but have already started March off at 1-5, albeit a number of the losses were close encounters. Still, at this point in the season playing solid may not be enough to hold off the Suns.

Without Shaq's 25.8 points on masterful shooting, the Lakers are 7-8 and 14.6 steals proves this . . . .

"The Lakers on the other hand were - with Shaq O'Neal - threatening to win the Western Conference title and earn the home court advantage that goes with it."

But injuries have set the young Lakers' team back a bit. Sure they have played gritty without Robert Horry and Shaq, but they are under .500 without the big guy in the middle.

The Lakers' record stands at a respectable average of a little more than 18 points per game and final playoff spot; although they have lost five of their past six games.

It's a given. Most of us know that with education and hard work, you can do just about anything. But it takes a little more than just providing a classroom for your kids to do well. It takes nurturing and understanding of how to succeed in our society. We believe that's why Historically Black Colleges and Universities graduate more black children into a productive workforce than any other major university. HBCUs are our communities with brilliant black graduates, over 40% of the nation's black doctors and dentists, 50% of black lawyers, and 75% of black PhDs. That's why HBCUs by sponsoring the Nissan-HBCU Summer Institute to help enrich and develop HBCU faculty and black institution's have better aids and tools to empower and inspire our children for our country's future. Nissan is dedicated to taking people places.

The Delany Sisters' First 100 Years

Ms. Heath was a former journalist who introduced the Delany Sisters to a world audience by writing an article about them for the New York Times in 1991. After the publication of the article, called "Maiden Ladies with Stories to Tell," Ms. Heath was asked by a book publisher, Kodansha America, to expand her newspaper feature into a full-length biography. Ms. Heath, who chose instead to create the work as oral history, worked with the Delany Sisters for almost two years to gather material for the book. After its publication in 1993, Ms. Heath won numerous awards for her creative efforts, as well as national recognition for "discovering" the Delany sisters: Ms. Heath's second collaboration, "The Delany Sisters' Book of Everyday Wisdom," was published in 1994. A third book, "On My Own at 107: Reflections on Life without Stereotypes," was published in 1994.

The Delany Sisters were born during the turbulent "Jim Crow" two decades after the end of the Civil War. With co-author Ann David, they published "Having Our Say: The Delany Sisters' First 100 Years," in 1993, when Sadie was 104 and Bessie was 102. The book sold more than half a million copies, and remained on the New York Times best-seller list for more than six months. The play is set in the Delany home on Mt. Vernon, New York, where the audience is invited to "come into the kitchen" while the sisters prepare a meal and relate their memories of the past, their secrets of the present, and their expectations for the future as the third millennium dawns. Often funny, and quite moving, "Having Our Say" is ultimately an eye-witness account of 100 years of American life. More information about the play is available on the Internet at http://HavingOurSay-ThePlay.com.

The theatre also has announced that groups of 20 more attending performances, including one lower-priced matinee on April 2, may purchase at the McCallum Theatre. Discounts on tickets are available by calling the McCallum Theatre box office, 73-000 Fred Waring Drive in Palm Desert, or by phone, (619) 340-ARTS. They also are available at all Ticketmaster outlets, and by phone, (619) 220-TIXS.

It's considered good manners to thank your hosts after enjoying a satisfying meal and stimulating conversation in their home. Perhaps that's why Emily Mann has been receiving so many thank you notes these days. Though the comfort of her home isn't hers, and the feast of chicken, ham, turnips, corn bread, amaranth and what-all wasn't cooked by her hands, she's responsible just the same. As playwright and director of Having Our Say, Mann has transformed the untold wisdom and candid recollections Sadie and Bessie Delany's 1993 bestselling memoir for the stage, and transformed the lives of hundreds in the process. In the play, as in the book written by the long passage of time. SHELTERED COMMUNITY OF RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA; PROFESSIONAL LIVES -- SADIE, AS AN

“TWO THUMBS UP!”

FROM: Dorothy R. Leavell, President - National Newspaper Publishers Association

Black Americans are no longer tolerant of a “double standard” treatment of Black African Nations by the United States Government. If Jewish Americans can stand up for Israel we can stand up for Africa. Now is the time to let President Clinton know that we African-Americans respectfully recommend responsible engagement with Nigeria and oppose isolation and economic sanctions.

Let us all sign the Petition For Fairness To Nigeria, we will see that they reach the White House during Black Print Week, March 19-22, 1997.

NATIONAL COALITION FOR FAIRNESS TO NIGERIA
-PETITION DRIVE-

The National Coalition for Fairness to Nigeria was formed in November 1995. The purpose of the organization is to encourage open and objective dialogue among those who write and implement America’s foreign policy and to advocate fairness toward Nigeria.

We, the undersigned do petition President Clinton to lift diplomatic sanctions and reject appeals to impose economic sanctions on Nigeria and to adopt and accept recommendations for a policy of responsible engagement and a FAIRNESS

DOCTRINE to help Nigeria as we are helping Israel and the PLO resolve the crisis of the Middle East and promoting a peace process in Bosnia with the Dayton Agreement.
