did Simpson Verdict Bring Out Bigots?

by Harddy Brown

"The Times" is a daily newspaper in Los Angeles, California. It is owned by Times Mirror Company, a subsidiary of The Times-Mirror Company, Inc. The newspaper was established in 1881 and is the oldest daily newspaper in Los Angeles. "The Times" is the largest circulating daily newspaper in the United States, with a weekday circulation of over 1.5 million copies. It is distributed throughout California and parts of Nevada, Arizona, and Utah. The newspaper is headquartered in downtown Los Angeles and is known for its comprehensive coverage of local, national, and international news, as well as its emphasis on investigative reporting. It has won numerous Pulitzer Prizes for its investigative reporting and journalism. The logo for "The Times" is a black and white illustration of a cityscape with the text "The Times Los Angeles Daily News" written in white letters. The newspaper is available in print, online, and mobile formats.

The Black Voice News was established in 1972 as a grassroots newspaper serving communities of color. It was founded by Michael Nutter, a journalist and civil rights activist, and is now owned by a group of community members. "The Black Voice News" is known for its coverage of local news, as well as its focus on community organizing, social justice, and empowerment. It is a free, community-based publication that aims to provide an alternative to mainstream media. The newspaper is distributed through direct mail, community events, and partnerships with other organizations. The logo for "The Black Voice News" is a black and white illustration of a Black woman holding a newspaper with the text "The Black Voice News" written in white letters. The newspaper is available in print and online formats.
Recently I overheard a mid-aged man boast of his physical prowess, complete with a weight lifter. Surrounded by several friends, I couldn’t help but be gushed about his ability to dead lift several hundred pounds in one fell swoop. Perhaps the most limping instruction one he failed to recognize, his response to his kid’s question, “You can’t be a professional weight lifter do you?”, is the very essence of body, not the mind, as a terrible thing to waste.

And so, towards the year 2000 the rhetoric about “preparing students for the workforce” becomes ever more heated. Just as a physical weight lifter depends upon a trained and fit body, the successful student of the future would depend upon a trained and fit mind.

The President and Secretary of Education have announced numerous initiatives aimed at building a new nation of a million millionaires, while state and local leaders work to define the tools that are needed by the new century. The most obvious need is the African-American community in the city of the future. There is no need to look further than the future of schooling itself. Many are working towards a new method of retraining, rethinking and retooling the education system as we know it. A new vision is necessary for the future and the goal is an education system that is ready for all students.

Unfortunately, most of these statements can be placed into the same basket as those heard at every school where students are struggling to compete with the world. There are schools that have made the transition, and schools that have not. But in the end, the future will belong to those who are ready.

Axioms: The Best Knowledge

In school, I was always looking forward to playing high school football. When my high school played with records that were broken, I was always the first to be mentioned. I was mentioned as a basketball player, a tennis player, and a soccer player, but never as a football player. I was never mentioned as a football player, but I was always looking forward to playing high school football.

Axioms: The Best Knowledge

The “whole is greater than the sum of its parts.” This is an old saying that can be traced back to the ancient Greeks. It states that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. This is a common saying that is used to describe the idea that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. This is a common saying that is used to describe the idea that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. This is a common saying that is used to describe the idea that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. This is a common saying that is used to describe the idea that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. This is a common saying that is used to describe the idea that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. This is a common saying that is used to describe the idea that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. This is a common saying that is used to describe the idea that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts.

Because of this, the idea of the whole is greater than the sum of its parts is a fundamental principle in many fields of study. In mathematics, it is used to describe the concept of a set. In physics, it is used to describe the concept of a system. In philosophy, it is used to describe the concept of a whole.

In the context of the school, it is used to describe the concept of a whole. In this context, the whole is the sum of all the parts. The parts are the individual students, the individual classes, the individual teachers, and the individual schools.

In a similar way, the idea of the whole is greater than the sum of its parts is used to describe the concept of a school district. In this context, the whole is the sum of all the parts. The parts are the individual schools, the individual districts, and the individual states.

In the end, this idea is used to describe the concept of a whole. In this context, the whole is the sum of all the parts. The parts are the individual students, the individual classes, the individual teachers, the individual schools, the individual districts, and the individual states.

$70 Billion Commitment To Community

Special to Black Voice News

By Nova Hinn

While Wall Street studies the proposals of two competitors bidding for Great Western Financial Corporation, one of the competitors, H.F. Ahmanson & Company, continues to gain support for its hostile takeover with a timely announcement of a unprecedented community reinvestment commitment of $70 billion over 10 years. This commitment will help minorities in low-to-moderate income families buy homes, establish small businesses and benefit from additional charitable contributions.

H.F. Ahmanson & Company, the parent of Home Savings of America is bidding with Seattle-based Washington Mutual for Great Western Financial Corporation.

Home Savings officials state that, while the company’s announcement falls on the heels of the regulatory approval process, the decision to provide the $70 billion is just part of a long standing commitment it has enjoyed with its business and residential communities throughout the nation.

However, officials are clear that the current figure is based on a successful merger with Great Western which will increase its customer base. Should the merger fail, the amount would decrease to less than half of the $70 billion to reflect the Westland, CA based company’s current audience.

This commitment is the latest in the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) made in the banking industry and would provide $75 billion for home ownership, $12 billion for consumer loan products, $10 billion for small business loans, $5 billion for multi-family home financing, $500 million in permanent financing for multi-family housing, $40 million in tax credit equity investments to benefit low-income renters, and millions more allocated for charitable contributions and diversity initiatives.

"This is making this commitment because it is good business," said Charles E. Rinehart, chairman and CEO of Home Savings of America. "We see this as an opportunity, not an obligation. As I said at the closed meeting, we have been one of the major financial institutions focusing business on low-income and minority areas of our communities for a long time. Why wouldn’t we take this opportunity to work on our communities and take steps to address their needs?"

Representatives from the Greenlining Coalition and the California Reinvestment Committee (CRC), which includes more than 200 community, civil rights, church, minority business and nonprofit groups, are credited with helping Home Savings develop the proposed commitment.

"Normally, our organization opposes mergers because of the resulting loss of jobs and closing of businesses," said John Gamboa, executive director of the Greenlining Institute. "This case is an exception because Home Savings has taken a step forward in this opportunity to work with communities and take steps to address their needs.

The council has always enjoyed outstanding CRA record, and according to the council, the new market will be one of the best in the nation. We see this as an opportunity for people of color. They are the first post-Prop. 209 buyers and we will be purchasing homes and become part of this market. This CRA will allow our communities to profit as they prosper.

According to Greenlining representatives, all the financial institutions have enjoyed outstanding CRA ratings from federal regulators, but Washington Mutual has not detailed a viable CRA or had close contact with the community through outreach programs such as those offered by Home Savings. When the coalition made attempts to convince Washington Mutual CEO Kerry Killinger to discuss the merger, Washington Mutual is still hoping to meet with Washington Mutual CEO Kerry Killinger to discuss the merger.

"Washington Mutual is typical of companies that do not have a real connection to the community," said Brian Townsend, president of the West Coast Black Publishers Association. "While they may run ads in the daily newspapers, a news release about the potential merger is all the black communities have seen. If this is the impression they want to project to the community, then we know whom to support."

Washington Mutual is a competitor bid for Great Western in February immediately after Ahmanson's unsolicited offer. Although a Home Savings Great Western merger would have better cost savings, an estimated $490 million annually, Great Western teamed up with its "white knight," Washington Mutual's efforts.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team Diet

During the next seven seasons the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members used the "Tini team" diet to lose up to 40 pounds in two weeks. That's right - 20 to 40 pounds off in two weeks. The diet is not a fad food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal weight is maintained (not important) while reducing. You keep "Tini" - no starvation - because the diet is easily followed. It's a diet that is simple to follow on your own. Work, travel or stay at home. (For men, too.)

It is highly successful diet. It's not a fad diet that will not work. Why would we take a diet that won't work? Why would we take a diet that won't work and give you up to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lost 20 or 40 pounds in two weeks. Other times they will also be a part of the celebration and receive 10% off on hair styles. Call (909) 875-3008 to reserve an appointment.

Arizona 'Cats streak past defending NCAA champs

Exciting NCAA Final Four over-time game at RCA Dome won by Arizona's young 'Cats, with Simon driving them home, 84-79.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 1 - Twice at nice? Double-up for the Kentucky Wildcats? What a stimulus...the Arizona Wildcats had a lot to say about those lofty goals.

Officially nervous...well, how could any 18 to 21 year-old not be? I was and I was only skipping the event as it unfolded. Pressure? What is pressure? "...towards the end of the game,..."

The show-goers in the RCA Dome that night, with 64 teams and concluded with the Final Four is the ultimate test of skill, heart, teamwork, luck, timing and coaching. And the all important pressure...especially the free ones before the game to produce a career type game.

In the end the young and revitalized Arizona Wildcats pulled off one of the most improbable run in the history of the NCAA tournament, beating five of the nation's top seeds (Minnesota, North Carolina and Kentucky) and upset Arizona were the survivors of the Road-to-Glory. When the final horn sounded on this college basketball season, the unraveled Arizona "Cats" had upset a 54-29 over-time victory to back to Tucson with them. And they did it in grand fashion to a maturing, prospering young basketball team that was indeed fun to watch, with physical play, finesse too, money drive to the basket, play to Tucson with them. The only state that has a high school tournament departures left a hurt that many Arizona Wildcats (25-9) that was indeed fun to watch, with physical play, finesse too, money drive to the basket, tough rebounding.

Four Without a care in the world. We weren't outstanding Player, following an exceptional return to the NCAA's 'Big Show' without a hurt that many Arizona Wildcats (25-9) that was indeed fun to watch, with physical play, finesse too, money drive to the basket, tough rebounding.

How could it not be when over 47,028 fans in the RCA Dome, the 2000 game . walks that link the RCA Dome, the Arizona and Kentucky) and upstart Arizona final: THE NATIONAL CHAMPION!!!

Final Four Notes from Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS - The following are a few notes and stuff about the host city of Indianapolis:

- At the 1991 Final Four in Indy an estimated 60,000 visitors spend $23 million.

- Indy has hosted the 1980, 1991 and 1997 Final Four, championship games and will host the 2000 game.

- Indy has played host to over 30 Division I NCAA Championships ranging from basketball, tennis, baseball and water polo, to track and field, swimming, and diving.

- The RCA Dome was built in 1984 and is attached to the convention center. The cost of the Dome was $75.5 million and has 65,000 permanent seats. But, has drawn a record 67,296 for the U.S. Olympic basketball teams, played the NBA All-Stars on July 9, 1994.

- One of the most exciting features of the Indianapolis downtown is the enclosed sky walks that link the RCA Dome, the Convention Center, the Circle Center mall and numerous other downtown hotels - you never have to go outside if you stay in center hotels.

The amazing young 'Cats got a roll and it was strong from the start. They were up 10, and were up 10, and never looked back...except for the final...

"When you shoot as much as we did...it hurts your hustle and pressure," noted Kentucky guard Anthony Epps. "We started out of number and you could see us be effective as the pressure starts building up..." The Blue out Kentucky's chance to mirror Duke's back-to-back effort in 1991-92, and become only the second school to repeat since UCLA won seven consecutive titles from 1967 to 1972.

Clarence "Big House" Gaines is still touching lives

Legendsary Hall of Fame coach Clarence "Big House" Gaines is and always will be a do-gooder for those that came into his life.

We never lost hope despite the segregated world of this rural setting because we had adults who gave us life, and surely black folk had an extra lot of problems, and we were taught that we could struggle and change them.

Marian Wright Edelman

INDIANAPOLIS, April 2 - Born in Paducah, Kentucky - in the heart of the nation's tobacco fields - and having chased away a cat to a statistic to the segregation that permeated America.

I grew up on a farm, and, most importantly, folks around him taught him that he could struggle, big and little and all the time.

And change things he did!

After a 47-year career at the helm of the Winston-Salem State Rams, Gaines led Marian Wright Edelman's words and used his coaching position as an opportunity to give back.

He - and women - he encountered a sense of failure and responsibility that they could carry with them all their lives.

As the education of Earl "The Pearl" Monroe (recently named to the NBA's 50 Greatest list), Lute Olson, am Iang Hill, Tidelands Jordan, Eugene Smiley, Carlos Terry, Joe Cunningham, Earl Washington, Chevel Defares, et al., more just dribbling a basketball or setting a pick or make the extra pass on and off the court.

Only Gaines could turn a temporary assignment into a lifelong position.

Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1981, Gaines retired in 1991 as the winningest coach in NCAA Division II history with a career record of 206-181.

In that day early morning I woke up my mother talked about going to school. When I left high school I was excelled at planning. I've been going at Morgan. But I'm glad I went to Morgan, because the guy that coached there, Eddie Hurt, was one of the smartest guys I've ever met.

STEIN: Did you play three sports in high school?

GAINES: We only had two - football and basketball.

When I went to Morgan we didn't even have a gym, we practiced against some of the problems of this town. Basketball was a two month game. Plus, Morgan was very strong in track, so I attempted to throw big discs. I wasn't very good, but I kept it in shape.

STEIN: Do you think the game of basketball back then?

GAINES: Basketball was a very good game. The YMCAs dominated back then. In fact, I recalls many guys out of basketball.

STEIN: Tell me about your college sporting experience.

GAINES: I went to Morgan College when I attended that was on the team all four years. We won the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) championship in 1949, that was before the tournament.

STEIN: How did you get on coaching?

GAINES: When I got out of Morgan College I was at a separate high school. It was the only night that 1 ever turned his back on one of his kids, he's a piece of work.

STEIN: How was your family life like?

GAINES: I am from a loving family. I've been married 47-years and he's just as easy going as he was so something you played on the off-season. When I left high school I was excelled at planning. I've been going at Morgan. But I'm glad I went to Morgan, because the guy that coached there, Eddie Hurt, was one of the smartest guys I've ever met.

STEIN: What was your fond earliest memory of basketball?

GAINES: My fond earliest memory of basketball was when I was a junior in high school. They had a baseball team that was a little different from the other teams around. We had a baseball team that was a little different from the other teams around.

Mr. Van Leer enjoys a successful and varied career in film and television as a seasoned performer. His most recent appearance was in the role of Mohammed Ali in the HBO original movie, "The Second Civil War," which premiered on HBO in March. Van Leer has also appeared on NBC-TV’s Movie of the Week “Women to an Execution,” NBC’s original film “Against the Wall” and as the grounds keeper in the feature, motion picture, "A League of Their Own," starring Tom Hanks and Geena Davis.

A graduate from Western Kentucky University with a bachelor’s degree in Graphic Communications, Mr. Van Leer began performing excerpts from the words and writings of Dr. King in 1985. His "POWER ON EARTH," can trace its lineage to Van Leer’s powerful characterization of Dr. King in the one-man testing success "A MESSAGE TO THE WORLD." Those early performances evolved into an on-going series of performances on campuses across the country over the next two and a half years. In addition to his dramatization of Dr. King's works, Van Leer developed a series of one-man performances that focused on the lives of other African-Americans who truly made a difference in their time.

Today, Darryl maintains an annual performance schedule of more than 60 colleges and universities, and to-date, he has performed his one-man show to well over 100,000 people. Mr. Van Leer’s work was recognized by the National Association of Campus Activities in 1994 as "Best Performance" and by Campus Activities Today as "Performer of the Year." "POWER ON EARTH" is presented by E. J. Elliott Productions. The performance schedule is Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m., Sunday at 2 p.m. All tickets are $20 and are available by telephone through Theater 816-893-3993 or 213-466-7767. Group sales are available at the same numbers. The Beverly Hills Playhouse is located at 254 South Robertson Boulevard, in Beverly Hills.
