they apply for admission to a graduate program on their own campus.

Students applying to graduate school at the California State University and Colleges in the Winter, 1973 Quarter, will be required to pay a fee of $20 even if

Formerly, a student applying to a graduate program on a campus other than his own was required to pay the admission fee, whereas a student applying to the graduate program on his own campus was not charged a fee for admission.

The action to require the additional fee was taken by the Board of Trustees at its January 25-26, 1972, meeting.

According to Assoc. Dean H. Stephen Prouty, the change (Title 5, Education Code) means that some students will now be paying $20 to continue their education on their own campus. Graduate students working toward teaching credentials and masters degrees will now pay a $20 fee when their educational status changes from undergraduate to graduate.

NOW AVAILABLE ... TICKETS FOR Harold Pinter's
The Birthday Party

Tickets are available for all performances of Harold Pinter's "The Birthday Party," including the special scholarship benefit Sunday, Nov. 19.

Theatre tickets and dinner for the special performance are available at a package price of $4.50. Dinner will be served in the Commons from 5:30 to 6 p.m., cafeteria style. Prices for tickets only for all performances, including the scholarship benefit, are the same throughout the run: $2 general, $1 students/staff.

Pinter's play, written in 1959, takes place in a dingy seaside boardinghouse. A sometime pianist, a guest at the run-down resort, is the target of a sinister plot, which includes plans for his birthday party. And it is not his birthday. The rest of the characters make plans for the party, oblivious of the impending fate of the pianist.

Performances are billed for Nov. 10, 11; 15, 16, 17, 18. Curtain time is 8:15 except for the benefit performance at 7 p.m., Nov. 19.
