Senate Not To Put Black Student Union On Probation

The AS Senate rejected the idea of placing the Black Student Union on probation by a vote of 0-9-1 on a motion to do so at their April 18 meeting.

The vote followed a report delivered by Senator A.J. Beechko, who chaired a special ad hoc committee which gathered information on the issue. The committee recommended there be no probation.

The committee concluded that there was a "breakdown in communications."

On clubs in general, the committee decided that a pamphlet which outlined the steps for getting and using funds for organizational activities would be helpful for student organizations, and that AS representatives should be more available to student organizations.

The committee also put forward the idea of AS sponsorship of Black History Week.

In other action, the Senate awarded a bid to purchase a movie screen from A.F. Milleron Co. at a price of $345. AS Activities Chair Kathy Fortner reported on three different bids which had been received, of which A.F. Milleron was the lowest.

She also reported that the screen should be delivered within three weeks. The Executive Cabinet upheld that action later the same day, and also had an informal discussion on whether or not the movies should be moved back to PS-10 in the interim.

The general mood was the the movies should be moved back, but that there were several problems to consider such as the cost of custodial services in PS-10, the resulting decrease in the use of Union Activities, and the confusion that would be caused by moving the movies back and forth.

Both the Senate and the Cabinet adopted a resolution urging the State Senate to pass AB 224, a bill which would ban discrimination against students in housing.

The resolution, introduced by Dale Conrad in the Senate and Tim Hamre in the Cabinet, also calls upon Senators Ruben Ayala and Robert Presley to support this bill.

It also commended Assemblyman Terry Goggin for his support of AB 224 as it passed the Assembly in a close vote.

Both bodies also adopted a resolution calling upon the Senate and the Assembly to oppose any cuts in the CSUC budget which could harm the quality or accessibility of educational programs in the CSUC.

The resolution, introduced by Fred Cole in the Senate and Hamre in the Cabinet, also calls upon Senators Ayala and Presley, and Assemblymen Goggin, Bill Leonard and Walter Ingalls to oppose any such budget cuts.

The Cabinet convened late because most of its members were involved in a discussion with a member of an accreditation team which is evaluating our Student Services' programs.

They discussed problems with our programs and what things might be done to improve the programs.

Absent from the Cabinet meeting were San Arnold and Patricia Sweeney (who had a class conflict with the late meeting.)

Absent from the Senate meeting were Brett Wyatt, Dan Klocman (who had the flu), and Joe Labita (who was in L.A. attending the annual Model U.N. conference).

Both bodies will not meet due to a lack of action items. The next meetings will be on May 2 (Senate at noon, Cabinet at 2 p.m.) in the Student Union Senate Chambers.

Middle-Income Students Now Eligible For Financial Aid

by Patty Wagner

As a result of the enactment of the Middle Income Students Assistance Act, (MISAA), 50 to 75 percent of the college students here at Cal State could now be eligible for some form of financial aid.

For years, students from middle income families have either had to work their way through college, take out loans, or be put through college by their parents. They didn't qualify for government assistance. Now through the MISAA, middle income students have an excellent chance of receiving financial aid.

The MISAA encompasses several major financial aid programs. These programs include the Basic Educational Opportunity Grants (BEOG), the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG), and the College Work Study.

The parents' annual income is the deciding factor in the amount awarded by BEOG. Up to the present, the ceiling for the BEOG was $15,000 per year. Now that the MISAA has been passed the ceiling has risen to $25,000 per year.

In one case, a student whose parents had an annual income of $44,000 was declared eligible for a basic grant of approximately $300. The student was a member of a family that had three other children in college.

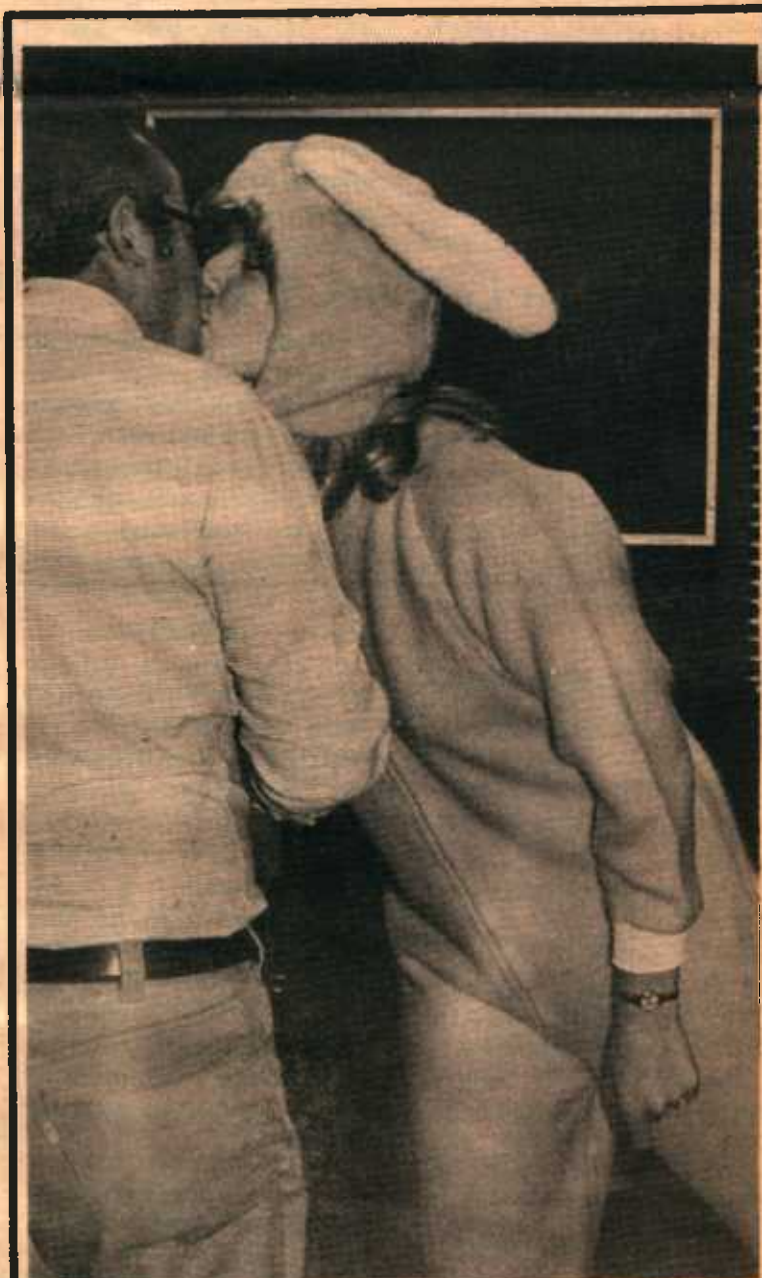

The amount of monies awarded by the SEOG will increase by 150 percent during the 1979-80 school term.

The college Work Study funds will increase by 35 percent over the previous year. The financial Aid office has intentions to run a large summer college work study program for those who have been declared eligible for financial aid.

These are just a few of the programs through which middle income students may now qualify for financial aid.

Ted Krug, the financial aid director, encourages each and every undergraduate student to file an application for a Basic Grant. It will only cost you two hours of your time and 15 cents for a postage stamp.

SURPRISED BY THE EASTER BUNNY — The Easter Bunny paid Kent Schofield, chairman of the history department, an unexpected visit last week. Before he even knew what hit him the Easter Bunny had delivered a basket full of treats, planted a kiss firmly on his cheek, and hopped away down the halls of the administration building.

War Correspondent To Discuss Hitler's Germany

A New York Times war correspondent who traveled with the invading German armies before U.S. involvement in World War II will discuss his experiences this Thursday at 8 p.m. in PS 10.

C. Brooks Peters, who worked for the Times in Nazi Germany from spring 1937 to late fall 1941, will speak on the topic "Inside Hitler's Germany: A War Correspondent's Experiences."

During his years in Germany, Peters traveled with the Nazi armies as they invaded Poland, Belgium, Holland and France. As each country fell, his personal account was revealed to the American public and the world in the New York Times. Additionally he watched and reported on the bombardment of Warsaw and the bombing of Rotterdam.

"I actually met Hitler; Goering, head of the German air force; and Goebbels, chief minister of Nazi propaganda," Peters said, "and I was present at more occasions when Hitler spoke than any other American reporter."

On November 10, 1938, he witnessed in Berlin, from beginning to end, the calculated extermination of six million Jews, or as he calls it "the worst pogrom of the 20th century, now known as 'Crystal Night.'"

"My story of this night of horror for the Jews of Germany and Austria was a world 'beat' in the Times," he said.

Because of his unique background, Peters has participated in numerous conferences dealing with the "Holocaust." Over the past year he has lectured at colleges and universities in Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Vermont, Washington, Oregon, California and Florida.

He is a member of the planning committee for the recently established Simon Wiesenthal Center for Holocaust Studies at Yeshiva University in Los Angeles.

A retired lieutenant colonel in the United States Marines, he served in the Pacific during the Solomon Islands campaigns. Since 1950, he has been attached to numerous U.S. government missions abroad and has worked as a freelance writer and lecturer. He currently lives in Dallastown, Pa.

Peters received his bachelor's degree from Lehigh University in Pennsylvania, his master's degree from New York University and attended the University of Berlin.

In addition to his free public lecture at Cal State, Peters will also speak to classes earlier in the day.

Discover Career Options

Have you ever wondered about the different types of jobs available with your major? Even though your college graduation may be two or three years from now, are you exploring different career possibilities within your major?

It is possible to begin discovering answers to these questions next Tuesday and Wednesday, May 1 and 2. The Career Planning and Placement Center will have its annual display inside the library, first floor, south entrance area from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"The goal is to acquaint students with the services of the Placement Center," noted Theron Pace, who has made the arrangements. "It is very important for freshmen and sophomore students to begin the process of discovering the various career options available with a particular major. We do not have a list of such alternatives because it would be an impossible task. We do, however, have resource information and related techniques which make possible each person drawing up their own list of possibilities."

Nancy Pemberton, Paul Esposito, or Theron Pace will be present at the display during the period to provide a conversational and informal atmosphere.

A handout sheet will be distributed which outlines the services provided by the Career Planning and Placement Center. Sample resume formats, recent issues of the "Job News" publication and Business World magazines will be available. Also, the current College Placement Annual and Career Opportunity Index will be on the display table.

This is the fourth year for the display; each year it has attracted about 150 students. "The primary idea is to go where the students are and let them know how the Center can be of assistance," Pace concluded.

In last week's article, "Where Have All The Grade Reports Gone . . ." Registrar Jo Ann Von Wald was misquoted as suggesting that students telephone their professors for their grades. It is illegal for professors to do this under student right-to-privacy laws. Von Wald says that she suggests students ask professors for their grades in person — and be able to show their student ID.

Acrobatic Club Flips Over Disco

The acrobatic club will present a free disco gymnastics show tonight at 7 p.m. in the Cal State gymnasium.

The program will be different than traditional gymnastic shows in that it will feature routines done to disco music, explained Debra Nelson, gymnastics instructor.

The co-ed group will perform exercises on the balance beam, the uneven bars, the floor and the trampoline. A tumbling and vaulting demonstration will also be presented featuring the difficult "Sukahara vault."

Members of the acrobatic club who will be performing include: Joyce Beaton and Sandra Carter, of San Bernardino; Lantice Bernard of Compton, Luz Gonzales of Thousand Palms, Cynthia Groce of Adelanto, Bryan and Rod Hendry of Crestline, Jim Smith of Sunnymead and Cyndi Weltner of Redlands.

Cinco De Mayo Celebration Planned

by Ingrid Doesburg

This Spring, Cinco de Mayo activities will be hosted by two clubs: The Spanish Club and MEChA. Activities will run May 1-7. The musical events will be broadcasted throughout the valley on these local stations: KESQ-TV, Palm Springs; KCAL-AM Radio, Redlands; KVIM-FM Radio, Coachella; KNSE-AM Radio, Ontario.

On May 3 and 4 the clubs will be serving food; a sample menu consists of tamales, taquitos, soft drinks, pan dulce, cookies and tortilla chips.

The events that will take place on May 5, the day of Cinco de Mayo are as follows:

Marachi Cocula will serenade students on the Student Union Patio at 11:30 a.m.

A play entitled Las Dos Caras del Patroncito starring CSCSB students Miguel Figeroa, Enrique Martinez, Gena Baca, and Sylvia Silva will be performed in the Student Union Multipurpose room from 11:30-12:30 p.m.

Folklorico (de San Bernardino) in the Lower Commons at noon.

Cal State Car Show in the Student Union Walkway from noon to 1 p.m.

A band performance by Conjunto Los Perros in the Student Union Room will play the entire day.

Other activities:

A float representing the Spanish Club and MEChA of Cal State is entered in the annual Cinco de Mayo

Parade in San Bernardino.

An art show featuring Mexican Art will be exhibited the entire week on Cinco de Mayo in the National Orange Show in San Bernardino.

Coordinators for the campus Cinco de Mayo activities are: Debbie Tamayo, Grace Magalanes, Flavia Delgado, and Enrique Martinez.

The Spanish Club and MEChA have been raising funds throughout the year selling pan dulce and carnations, among other items, to bring us this day of festivities and entertainment. As the day of Cinco de Mayo approaches, more activities will be added to the roster. Look for the complete schedule in next week's PawPrint.

Three Mile Incident Brought Bigger Problem To A Head

What scares me most is the Crisis crisis that newspapers and television seem determined to bring about. The recent Three Mile reactor incident is a good example. Over the past couple of decades, the wolf-criers have stepped up the pace to the point where no time is allowed for evaluation before the average American gets his first, and all too often his last, information on a technological failure episode. Don't wait for enlightened analysis, or evaluate and compare dangers. The more sensational the reporting, the more papers sold and the higher the TV rating. At this point I'll wager most people think electricity from coal is obviously safer than from uranium. Ask a coal miner before you decide.

Isn't the biggest danger that we will lose our national poise? Responsive government must work within the bounds of public opinion. When the latter is irresponsibly manipulated by the media, uninformed dissatisfaction may lead to national frustration and failure of nerve. If that day arrives, and we are simply unable to act intelligently, the technological civilization, upon which we currently depend for our existence, will probably disintegrate. Many good writers have addressed this.

In my opinion, C.P. Snow was essentially correct. U.S. education in technological subjects has fallen dangerously behind education in literary arts — and the latter is not doing too well. There is no quick fix, and we cannot count on anyone doing it for us. We must educate ourselves in matters technological and in critical listening and thinking (college can help).

Starting with this article, be critical of everything you read or hear. Remember the strong economic motivations of the media and technological institutions to present self-serving versions of the truth. And try to be thoughtfully, patiently active in an age when distraction and apathy are embraced by your friends who have given up hope.

Children On Campus "Deceptively Complex" Issue

Editor, the PawPrint:

Recent Letters to the Editor raise an issue of considerable concern to many campus members: how best to deal with large crowds or rowdy high school and junior high school age guests on campus. Please be assured processes are well underway to develop a more comprehensive approach to the problem. I have presented the matter to the Student Union Board of Directors and its Policies and Procedures Committee is working on it. I have communicated student concerns to President Pfau and have requested that the Administrative Council (the top administration of the campus) review campus wide policy in this area. I have also had several meetings with Dean of Students Kenton Monroe and know he has discussed the matter with the President.

The matter is deceptively complex. (1) The campus has an obligation to provide cultural and educational outreach to the community it serves. (2) We are entering a period of enrollment decline. Frankly, each young guest is a potential CSCSB student. The amount of state money allocated to this campus — the money providing programs and services to all of us — is determined by enrollment. It will hurt all of us if lower enrollment brings lower funds, less faculty, and decreased course offerings. (3) On another level, the revenue generated by the heavy games use by the youngsters does help defray other Union costs which might otherwise require increasing the Union fee.

The difficulty comes in trying to provide community programs while protecting the rights of current students. Cal State students should not be subjected to classrooms disturbed by kids running and shouting in hallways or be denied access to the Union facility for which they are paying, nor experience rude and inconsiderate behavior from any guest on campus.

Some solutions in process include: arranging for additional adult supervision of youth groups; more astute scheduling of break periods to spread out use of the Commons and Union; increased security coverage; improved communications between departments scheduling events and staff in the buildings they will utilize. Each of these plans will require time for modification as we learn what works and what doesn't.

Some points raised in the letters should be clarified. The AS as an organization does not own the Union. The AS does not have the authority to ban anyone from the Union. Conceivably, the Student Union Board of Directors could ban, but doing so could raise serious legal questions about access to a public building (yes, it is a public building) by the general public. The reason I suggested the AS present a resolution to the SU Board was to direct the formal voice of the student body to an agency with the means to do some of the things AS cannot.

In the meantime, interested students with ideas, suggestions or concerns are invited to share them with me or with the office of the Dean of Students or to attend the meetings of the Union Board.

4 Candidates For 1979-80 AS Offices Speak Out

Elections for the 1979-80 AS officers will be May 2 and 3. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and located at the Crossroads during the day, and the front of the library at night. Students must have their CSCSB ID to vote.

Under the recently passed AS Constitution, students will vote for a

Kathy Fortner
Candidate for President

This next year will prove crucial for the Associated Student government at CSCSB. A new constitution has been adopted by the students. The new structure is smaller, more efficient, and accountable to you the student. During the first year of operation under the new constitution it is imperative that the A.S. President grasps the potential for excellence that is now possible.

During my three years at CSCSB I have served on a large variety of student organizations and positions. I have served as chairperson of the A.S. Activities and Elections committees and the campus-wide Publications Board. My experiences with those committees and the Serrano Village Council, Student Union Board of Directors, and the Ad Hoc Committee on Constitutional Reform have given me a broad based understanding of both the student government at all levels, and, more importantly, students and student issues. I have served as a policy implementer, maker, and leader.

In the first year of this new form of government it shall be important to have an accessible President, one who is willing to listen to individuals, as well as organizations, and one who will provide strong, sensible leadership. As President of the Associated Students I will attempt to restore the visibility and accountability needed.

As President my first priorities will be concerned with improving services, programs, and representation of the students of CSCSB. Some of the most important issues are child care (What happened to our day care center?), expanding operating hours in the Pub, more activities in the Student Union, re-institution of the book co-op, and improvement of the campus communication lines to you, the student.

The President also works for CSCSB students on the state level, as representative to the Cal State Student Association. This is an important function, and I intend to represent the views of the students, not my personal views.

I have enjoyed my work with A.S. government, and have brought to bear my experiences both as a commuter, and resident student, as a day, and evening student. I hope you will agree that the variety and depth of my administrative and leadership experiences qualifies me to serve as your next President. With your vote on May 2 and 3, let's grasp that potential for excellence.

Tim Hamre
Candidate for President

How would you feel if one of the classes you were planning to take next year was cancelled because of insufficient funds? What if your whole department or program was eliminated? How would you like your fees raised next year?

These questions might sound like far cries in the wind, but it could soon become a reality that we, as students, must face in the next few years. We are all here for the purpose of receiving an education. When that education is threatened, we must respond.

This is where your AS President comes in. One of the President's most important tasks is to represent your interests to all these groups that are deciding the future of your education. Since these groups (i.e.: the state legislature, the Governor's office, the CSUC Board of Trustees) operate on a statewide level, your interests must be effectively represented on a statewide level. If you are not effectively represented, your interests will be ignored. One of my primary goals as your President will be working to preserve our educational programs. After all, what good is the AS to you if you're no longer a student because the college is no longer offering what you want.

Hopefully, though, you will still be a student here next year. In that case you will be interested in what I think the AS should be doing next year since they will be spending your money. I see several challenges facing the Associated Students. The first has to do with the fact the AS will probably be dealing with a much smaller budget next year. This will require a reshaping of priorities and the President must know how to still get things done with less money. I believe my experience as Business Manager of The PawPrint last year when I helped to dramatically expand its operation on an extremely limited budget, serves as excellent experience. Believe me, I know how to squeeze a lot out of a dollar. I believe I also have some innovative ideas for generating other sources of revenue that will maintain and increase AS programs without having to increase the AS fee.

President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and representative from their major or school.

The following candidates did not turn in a statement: Thomas Cherhoniak, Administration; Joan Brunmier, Humanities; Debbie Smart, Interdisciplinary, Dual, and Special majors; and Chris Ellis, Social Sciences.

We're still experimenting with the potential of our Student Union. We still have facilities which are under utilized. As the current Student Union Board Treasurer, I see how much we're paying to run that building and I want to get all we can for each dollar spent. I would like to see more evening entertainment in the Pub. The disco dances have really caught on this year and I believe we could expand those programs.

One thing I'd like to emphasize next year is a better publicity program for AS. Students need to be better informed of the programs, services and activities the AS provides if they are to take full advantage of them. Better promotion of programs will lead to increased use of them so that students get more for their dollars.

Speaking of students being better informed, I see a definite need for better publicity for the Student Services' departments on campus. How many of us are really aware of the many, many different services available through such places as Financial Aid, Counseling and Testing, the Health Center, Placement Office or Veteran's Affairs? Students must also have more input into the programs and services that are offered to us. Has anyone ever asked you what you would like for those offices to be providing? I will. And I'll see that information gets back to the right people and will work for what you believe is important. After all, we are paying for those services.

I would also like to see the AS be more responsive to Serrano Village, and the kinds of activities that the residents there would like to see. We allocate a lot of money for activities, and ideas from Village residents on how to spend it would be welcomed. I would also like to see more Village people working with the AS Escape program to offer more group trips to plays, concerts and programs in outlying communities or in the Los Angeles area. (The dorms are nice, but you have to escape occasionally.)

In addition to the things I mentioned earlier, the AS President serves as the chief administrator for all the functions of the AS. That person also provides the leadership for the Student Union Board of Directors and the Instructionally Related Programs Board. This is in addition to representing your interests to the campus administration and negotiating with the administration for more services for you.

I believe I have the experience to be an effective President. Having worked this year as your AS Executive Assistant, I have been exposed to everything the AS President has to do and be responsible for, both on this campus and statewide. Since I initiated and served on the Ad Hoc Committee on Constitutional Reform which just developed our new constitution, I am quite knowledgeable of the new system we will have. As the current AS Judicial Representative, I am knowledgeable of all the legal and technical ramifications of AS government.

If you want someone who knows the job, then on May 2 and 3 vote Tim Hamre for AS President.

Debbie Tamayo
Candidate for President

Greetings,

My name is Debbie Tamayo and I am currently campaigning for the office of AS President. Rather than making big promises about how I will try to solve the dilemmas of higher education if elected, I will propose only to represent the needs and concerns of the CSCSB student body to the fullest of my potential. Realizing that to represent such a diversified group, I must know the student body to an extent, I propose to be attentive to the voice of the student and take proper actions when they are determined to be necessary.

Why am I seeking this position? I am seeking the position because I feel that I am as capable as any if not more capable of fulfilling the duties of AS President and because I have a deep desire to see the seeds that have been planted by past student representatives grow to benefit the students of CSCSB. I also have a desire to suggest the creation of new programs to reflect the new times and to improve on those that the students, faculty and staff have enjoyed in the past.

I won't go off and try to impress you, the constituents, with all of my past accomplishments because though I gained much knowledge in the past I will not be relying on my past accomplishments to qualify me as your representative of the future. I will say only that I currently President of the M.E.Ch.A. Club here on campus, which by the way is an administratively as well as a student respected group. I am also a Youth Representative to the Mayor's Youth Advisory Council of San Bernardino, and Treasurer of the CSCSB Committee For Clubs. My purpose in telling all this is to show that I lack not experience in leadership as I am currently holding several positions of leadership and also to evidence the fact that I am capable of representing and acting in the best interest of a diversified group, as the students of CSCSB are. As far as promises go, I will make none this time because I realize that I can only make promises after I hear the voice of the constituency.

So, I'll leave it up to you to use wisdom when you vote. Regardless of who you vote for, please come on out to the polls and be heard. Only you can decide who you want representing you.

VOTE FOR DEBBIE TAMAYO FOR AS PRESIDENT.

Thank you.

Bruce Jeter
Candidate for Vice-President

A new constitution has placed a challenging path in front of us. I have the experience to deal with this new path. I am your incumbent Vice President, running for re-election. My name is Bruce Jeter. This new constitution has brought about great changes in how your student government will work. I am very familiar with this new document as I am with the old structure of the government.

Experience is my strongest asset because I have worked hard in making the Associated Students work for the students. I have been involved on the Union Board, Foundation Board, and Faculty Senate; making the entire campus work for the student. This year the Union Board has expanded Union hours and increased the number of activities happening in the Union, truly making the Student Union a student's home. Working on the Faculty I have seen many changes in the curriculum requirements for students. These changes have made this campus a very unique educational institution.

Also adopted this year was a new slogan for the A.S., "Students Working For Students." This states the fact that we are all students here, working for a common goal, an education. But as humans we need other things besides work. Activities for entertainment, PawPrint for information, and a strong voice in how we are affected by faculty and administration. This is when student government comes in.

The A.S. is the student's voice.

VOTE EXPERIENCE, VOTE JETER

Sandra Regalado
Candidate for Vice-President

For those of you who don't know me, my name is Sandra Regalado and I am running for A.S. Vice-President.

Even though I am only a sophomore I believe that I am qualified for this position. Being that I am currently the Vice President of a very active club on campus I feel that I am very familiar with the rules and procedures of this school.

You might wonder what my personality is like to I'll give you a small insight. I am regarded by my peers as a very energetic, active and responsible person who is also receptive to the students' needs and seeks improvements.

I shall make no promises on special issues but one thing for sure is that if elected I shall do my best and work in the most effective way possible, but to do so I will need your vote! If you want your A.S. government to work more effectively for you then vote for me, Sandra Regalado.

Sandy Case
Administration

Angela Lavin
Candidate for Treasurer

Next year is the beginning of a new era in our AS Government. We have a new constitution, a new set of by-laws, and a new code of Fiscal Policies and Procedures. With these new documents, we will be building a more precise and concise government. I want to be a part of this "new beginning."

My ideas and concerns for the office of AS Treasurer are very long and detailed, but since I am limited to space, I will only hit upon a few key items. My basic philosophy as Treasurer would be to strictly enforce all policies in a prompt manner, and to tighten already existing policies so future problems can be avoided. An example of this concerns official signatory powers. By this, I am referring to the signatures that are considered as official AS representation on purchase orders, requisitions, contracts, etc. At present, the AS President, Vice President, Treasurer, or Activities Chair, in the case of an AS sponsored activity, can sign as the legal representative. This can lead to problems such as duplicate expenditures of money, and misunderstandings by the receiver of these funds. I would suggest the signatory power be held by the AS Treasurer and the Vice President only. Including the Vice President would help prevent any severe delays if the Treasurer was unavailable, but would confine the power so fewer communication problems could occur.

My past experience in AS includes: Senate/Executive Secretary, Election's Committee Chair, Publication's Board member and Activities Committee member. Along with the "inside" knowledge I have gained about the workings of AS, I, also, am an Accounting major.

Besides all the above factors, I am willing to work in this office. I want to serve the students in a hard working and informative capacity. The students have a right to responsible handling of their AS fees and of monies needed to make their education a well rounded experience.

Pat Sweeney
Candidate for Treasurer

The job of a good Treasurer is not only to maintain accurate books, but to monitor the progress of all A.S. funds. The job is one which requires a good sound background of experience in handling accounts.

As this year's Treasurer my responsibilities have been to keep books, and monitor input, and output of more than $70,000.00. A job requiring much experience.

Being aware of what it takes to be a Treasurer is half the job. This is not a job one learns in two weeks, rather you develop over several months.

As a candidate for treasurer this year I believe that my experience as Treasurer must weight heavy as a qualification.

My work in A.S. extends into the college administration where A.S. accounts are part of college administrative functions, such as E.O.P. and Disabled Students, etc. The need to be familiar with the close interrelationships between A.S. and the college administration is essential.

To maintain a sound administration rapport with all those with whom I come in contact, my office has been one of adjustment, and openness.

This year I did a job I can be proud of. I developed an understanding of the job behind the job of Treasurer. I worked long and hard to acquire the knowledge, and know how to get the job of Treasurer done better, faster, and more effectively.

A vote for me, Pat Sweeney, is a vote of confidence in a job well done. Whether you vote for me or not, PLEASE VOTE!!!

Hello—

My name is Sandy Case and I am running for the office of Administration Representative on the Board of Directors for 1979-80.

I am currently a Freshman Senator and a member of the Senate Rules Committee and the Ad Hoc Committee on Constitutional Reform. I am also a member of the A.S. Activities Committee and a member of the Committee for Clubs. My experience in A.S. this year has been very helpful to me in many ways. I have been able to get to know many students, faculty, and staff better, and I have been able to help them know what is going on in Student Government. My experience this year will help me to fulfill the duties of a member of the Board of Directors next year, if I am elected.

The Associated Students need people who they can count on to get the job done. I feel I am qualified for this position and you can count on me to get the job done. I can only do this with your help, so please come out and vote for Sandy Case, Administrative Representative on May 2 and 3.

Weldon Sutton
Education

With every student on this campus paying $20 per year in fees to the Associated Students, the A.S. has quite a responsibility to the students of this campus to act in a fiscally responsible and professional manner.

Over the past several years, the A.S. has tried to develop more professionalism. I believe several good steps have been taken in that direction this year. The biggest step, of course, was the adoption of a new constitution that will make the structure of A.S. more businesslike and professional.

One of the most important duties of A.S. is to represent the students in dealings with administrators and other groups. To be an effective representative, you must have the respect of the people you are dealing with. This respect is gained in a large part by the professionalism of your organization.

Your A.S. also represents your interests to those bodies that make decisions which will have a very important impact on your life as a student. Specifically, I'm thinking of the State Legislature deciding what the budget for CSCSB will basically be. For instance, some suggested cuts in the budget could result in reduced course offerings or even the eventual elimination of some programs.

I believe that is these considerations that are most important to the students in the School of Education. (After all, not too many of us go to dances or other activities.) In addition to being concerned about education in general, we are all concerned about the quality of our education, and whether or not that education is accessible to us.

I will work to maintain our educational programs if you elect me as your representative to the A.S. Board of Directors.

This academic year has seen the adoption of a new A.S. Constitution, a document which is the culmination of several years of effort. This new constitution represents a radical change in not only the way A.S. is structured but also in the way students are represented. In view of these changes it is important that we continue to progress.

A.S. government has long been isolated from the students. This need not be the case. The government exists for the students and is run by representatives of the students. Input from the student body is necessary to insure efficient function of their government.

Many students feel that nothing can be done and therefore are ambivalent. Frequently students will have problems with bureaucratic red tape but when informed the student government can deal with the situation appropriately. We the students can work to make this campus better. It can provide what we feel is necessary to insure an enjoyable atmosphere.

As a representative on the Board of Directors of the Associated Students I will continue to work for the students of CSCSB. My goals are to find out what is needed and to work at achieving such ideals.

Jazz Ensemble One Of Four Chosen To Participate In Conference

by Caren Nece

Like hundreds of other jazz ensembles throughout the western hemisphere, CSCSB's jazz ensemble sent an audition tape of their group to the Music Educators National Conference in May of 1978.

Out of hundreds of tapes, CSCSB's ensemble was chosen as one of four jazz groups to participate in the Music Educators Western Regional Convention last month.

The CSCSB jazz ensemble, under the direction of Paul Curnow, lecturer in Music, performed March 29 through April 1 at the Disneyland Convention Center in Anaheim before a gathering of 5,000 music educators from over eight neighboring states.

"It is a once in a lifetime honor to be chosen to participate," Curnow said. "I am very pleased with the group's performance."

Curnow, who has been director of the ensemble for the past two years, is working very hard helping the jazz program to grow. He also directs the new Dixieland band and jazz octet.

The Dixieland band and jazz octet work independently outside of the jazz ensemble.

Curnow's jazz octet sessions use original charts and arrangements written by the players in the octet.

"This allows each musician to be able to hear and play their own work," Curnow explained. "It gives them the experience they need."

Curnow went on to say that jazz involvement at CSCSB as well as in the surrounding high schools and colleges is growing.

Music directors are becoming more aware of jazz and are beginning to bring together the resources each has to offer for the students, Curnow said.

Unfortunately, there is still a very small interest in jazz in San Bernardino but, Curnow feels the major reason for this is the lack of publicity.

"If people knew about our concerts and activities offered by the colleges we would find a larger interest in jazz," Curnow stressed. "We can't seem to get anyone to give us the publicity."

Curnow also commented that the majority of the concerts being offered are free to the public.

In spite of the lack of proper publicity, jazz is spreading and the musicians involved are showing an ever-growing talent.

"Our students are becoming more enthusiastic in their performance," Curnow said excitedly. "They are very interested and creative musicians."

Interested in hearing some of the enthusiasm that is spreading among college jazz bands? CSCSB's jazz ensemble will be giving a spring concert Wednesday, May 16, at 8:15 p.m. in the Creative Arts Building.

The concert is free.

The students of this campus have recently approved a new constitution which will make A.S. Government more efficient. Under this document students will be more adequately represented and the Representatives will have a more direct influence on policies which affect you the student. In order to provide adequate representation, it is necessary for a communication network to exist between the student body and the government. As a representative from the school of Social Sciences, I will make every effort to provide this communication. Input given to me by students will be relayed to the Board of Directors and every effort will be made to achieve suggested ideals.

My past association with A.S. has been through on-campus organizations, such as: the Veteran's Club, the Anthropology Club, and the Faculty Senate Committee for Student Affairs. This experience, along with my willingness to work for the students of CSCSB, will provide a foundation for better communication between the students and their government.

I invite my opponents to an open forum where our constituents may question our ideas and views on issues which concern them. I hope everyone will take the time to exercise their rights as an A.S. member by voting for their student government representatives.

Dan Klocman
Social Sciences

They asked me to make a campaign statement for the forthcoming election. I would like you, the student, to vote for me, for the office of Social Science Representative; but I feel that I can't make any campaign promises like the other candidates to achieve that goal. The only thing I can do is to say that I will try my best to work for and fully represent your ideas in Student Government.

Cretin Trucks-Deimann Hts. And Shandin Crazyhorse Score In Coed Softball

by Tammy Salyer

INTRAMURAL UPDATE — WEEK OF APRIL 16-19: Two Coed Softball games were played Monday, while Waterman and Supply & Demand double-forfeited because of a lack of female players. Cretin Trucks-Deimann Hts. defeated their opponents, The Bad News Pears, 18-ZIP. Rudy Covarrubias, Bill Krumwiede, and Roy Madrid all swatted home runs, while Billy Bain completed a nice double play that effectively stopped the Pears' only rally. As Mike Baran of the Bad News Pears (and Georgia) solemnly analyzed his team members: "We were ba-yad news, ya'll!" In the other game, Shandin CrazyHorse stepped on and squashed the Mojave Indians 15-7. Muscle-man Ivan Giasco hit two home runs, John Fiathers made two outstanding catches, and Julie Noble played an all-around excellent game despite a leg injury.

In Ladies 3:3 Basketball on Tuesday, Instant Funk dunked and sunk the Born Losers 3 games to ZIP. Sonya Jackson, the game's leading rebounder, Juanita Rowan, the leading scorer, Pegi Roffers, good defense, and Nancy Ferretti, good all-around play, totally dominated the game. The Born Losers were good sports, as Terri Calloway, Michelle Peters, Norma Andrade, and Becky Bowman were an excellent example of what Intramurals are all about: good natured, friendly competition. The Triple Trouble Five-some battled Amelia Earheart and came out ahead 2 games to 1, in a match of brawn and scrappy play.

Giants Val Devlin, Paula McGrew, Helen Sturnath, and Evelyn Sturnath put away the victory with good teamwork and well-placed shooting. Jette Schweigl and Sharon Newfield played a good game, and I sure wouldn't want to tangle with Philosophy Prof. Barbara Flagg out on the court or in a philosophical argument: she doesn't like to lose.

In Coed Volleyball Triples play on Wednesday, Steve Booth's Barking Spiders II defeated Blues Power 2 games to one, and Tom Scott's Tom's Team came out ahead of Tami and The Titans, 2 games to one.

NOTE: because of the PawPrint deadline, Friday softball games will be reported a week late.

Be sure to catch Archery, Horseshoes, the Novelty Relay, and the Pet Show tomorrow during the Spring Festival!

The Gay Student Union will have our first meeting of the quarter tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the Student Union. We encourage all people interested to stop by. The topic for discussion will be "Lesbianism." This topic was chosen because we hope it might aid in generating some involvement in the female gay population on campus. Please make the time for an opportunity to express yourself and make your presence felt at CSCSB. . . the Christian Life Club invites students, faculty and staff to hear a guest speaker, Mr. Steve Brewer, currently a seminary intern at the First Presbyterian Church in San Bernardino. This intern year represents his second year at San Francisco Theological Seminary. Christian Life will meet in the Student Union's meeting room today from 12:15-12:50. Everyone is encouraged to bring their lunch and enjoy the fellowship. Steve Brewer attended CSCSB during the 1966-67 school year; he then joined VISTA and was assigned to the Corvallis, Oregon, area. Subsequently, he graduated from the University of Idaho with an Interpersonal Communication major. Steve's topic will be "When is the Kingdom of God?" and he will be interested in a discussion and participation by those present.
