Moser-James Still Fighting For Presidency

AS Vice-President/Acting President Bruce Jeter informed the AS Senate last Wednesday that he has been informed by Dean of Students Kenton Monroe that AS President Sydneye Moser-James had been removed from office.

He stated that Moser-James was in the process of trying to reverse the ruling, and that he was the official Acting President.

Jeter stated that he foresaw no major changes in the operation of the AS as Moser-James would continue to perform most of her tasks, and would continue to represent the students on a statewide level.

There have yet been no developments on Moser-James' efforts to reverse the ruling.

In other action, the Senate clarified their earlier allocation of $1120.00 for a senior class banquet. Among other things, they stipulated that any graduating student (senior or graduate class) could get a free ticket and they could have one guest at a price of $1.75.

Tickets would be available to other students at a price of $3.25. This action was upheld by the Executive Cabinet in their meeting which was held on Thursday.

Joe Labita was appointed by the Senate as their representative to the Student Services Fee Advisory Panel, which will advise the Dean of Students on the Student Services budget. Tim Hamre was appointed by the Cabinet as their representative to this panel.

The Senate and the Executive Cabinet will both meet on Wednesday of this week, in the Student Union Senate Chambers. The Senate will meet at noon, while the Cabinet will meet at 2 p.m.

Register For Crime Prevention Conference

A special conference focusing on the prevention of crimes against people will be held here Saturday, June 2

Designed for the general public, the free conference will direct attention to preventing crimes in the areas of child abuse, consumer affairs, rape and senior citizens.

Since space in the conference is limited, registration is required by this Friday through the Office of Continuing Education at the college, 887-7527.

The full-day program will begin at 9 a.m. in PS 10. Workshops will last until 4 p.m.

"This is the first time a crime prevention conference of this caliber has ever been offered in the Inland Empire," explained Detective Paul Curry of the San Bernardino Sheriff's Office, who is director of the San Bernardino County Crime Prevention Office and co-coordinator of the conference.

"Never before have so many professionals, all top-notch speakers, been assembled together to share their expertise on these crime-related areas."

Workshop discussions will be led by the Attorney General's Crime Prevention Unit as well as other representatives from crime agencies at the state, local and college levels.

"This conference has been designed to meet the public's need," Curry said. "We want to help people become aware of the problems we are facing today and show them where to go and what can be done for help."

Conference participants may attend two of the four workshops offered. The morning topics will be child abuse and consumer affairs. The afternoon workshops will be on rape prevention and senior citizen related crimes.

A sampling of the questions to be answered in the various workshops include: Who do you complain to when you feel you've been ripped off; What is child abuse and who should report it; Where do you draw the line between child abuse and punishment; Who is responsible for rape in society; Is rape only a woman's problem; How can senior citizens protect themselves from crime and where do they go for help.

The child abuse workshop will be led by: Rusty Gagnon, district administrator for the state Attorney General's Office; Dr. Herbert Geise, formerly chief pediatrician with the San Bernardino Medical Center; Captain Phillip K. Schuyler, juvenile division commander for the San Bernardino Sheriff's Office; and Richard Tornero, Sheriff's Office in Fontana.

Conducting the consumer affairs workshop will be: Lt. Paul J. Connoioy, Colton Police Department; Ken Kohne, from the San Bernardino District Attorney's Office; Bob Foster, deputy attorney general for the State of California Department of Justice; and Jim Lorenz, chief assistant United States attorney, San Diego.

Speaking for the rape workshop will be: Frances Coles, assistant professor of Sociology and coordinator of the Criminal Justice program at CSCSB; Superior Court Judge Patrick J. Morris of San Bernardino; and Phyllis Plate, former director of the San Bernardino County Rape Crisis Center.

The senior citizen workshop will be given by Detective Paul Curry; Stirling O'Ran III, associated with the Victim Advocacy Program of the San Bernardino County Probation Office; Mike Moore, Fontana Police Department.

The free conference is being offered by the California State Attorney General's Office in cooperation with Cal State, San Bernardino Campus Police and San Bernardino County Crime Prevention Officers.

AS Finance Board Develops $72,478 Budget for 1979-80

For the first time in the history of CSCSB, the AS has developed a budget which is less than the budget of the previous year.

Last week, the AS Finance Board recommended a budget of $72,478 for fiscal year 1979-80. This is less than the original $76,000 budget adopted for this year.

The Finance Board, chaired by Treasurer/Treasurer-elect Patricia Sweeney, met for three days last week to review all the requests for AS funding for next year.

Board members included President-elect Kathy Fortner, Vice-President/Vice President-elect Bruce Jeter, Appropriations Committee Chair Weidon Sutton, Senator Mike Alexander, Senate/Cabinet Secretary Anji Lavin, College Business Manager Leonard Farwell and AS Advisor Richard Bennecke.

The budget recommended by the Finance Board will be sent to the new AS Board of Directors, which will hold its first meeting on June 1.

The Board of Directors will have until June 30 to adopt the budget. It is anticipated that the Board of Directors will adopt the budget without making any changes.

The AS budget has traditionally increased every year as the enrollment on this campus increased every year. However, enrollment started to decline this year, and it is predicted to decline for quite a few years to come.

This means that the AS will probably be receiving less revenue from the fees they collect, and consequently must allocate the money more sparingly.

A summary of the budget drafted by the Finance Board is as follows:

White Collar Crime: "More Dangerous Than Street Crime"

by Mark Kemenovich

About four dozen students and faculty appeared last Wednesday to hear Gilbert Geis, professor of Social Ecology, UC Irvine, speak on "White Collar Crime."

It is the "paramount social and economic problem" in the United States today, he said, quoting President Carter's address to the Los Angeles Bar Association.

According to Geis, "One problem with white collar crime is its ability to command high-priced legal talent for its defense. Laws can be changed, officials and policies manipulated because 'money is power'."

Geis spoke about the problems created by government officials, large companies, violations of criminal law and an inability to act against these criminals.

His lecture was punctuated by scenarios and hypothetical stories, with an occasional commentary on a real case.

Geis views white collar crime as an endemic social problem effecting the entire fabric of life in the United States.

"White collar crime is more dangerous than street crime," he said.

"It creates horrendous cynicism, attempts at duplication (if the President can do it, why can't I?) and a general malaise" created by the inability to attack it.

In some cases, endeavors to attain a redress for suffering brought about by companies have been replaced with a mere attempt to embarrass the companies, due to the problems created by outstandingly competent staffs of lawyers.

Part of the problem stems from the training that lawyers receive, Geis claims.

They are trained to take any stand and defend it to the best of their abilities without regard to moral issues. They are trained to give the best possible legal service no matter what the case.

This "laudable" goal causes problems for society.

Specifically, he stated, recent cases involving the Ford Motor Company and the Pinto gas tank have illustrated the problem. In an attempt to achieve successful civil litigation, the case has given way to an attempt to charge the entire company with manslaughter — which would result in a mere $10,000 fine.

The point is to embarrass as much as possible in the hope that this will achieve some necessary change since civil lawsuits tend to be an unsatisfactory and time-consuming process with little hope of large success due to the extremely high levels of legal competence available to the larger firms.

White collar crime is not limited to fraud, according to Geis, but can, and has, led to death as in the Pinto case, and a small plane manufacturer and health care mistake.

"It is easy to buy your way out of white collar crime" Geis said, since few think of actual criminal proceedings.

In conclusion, Geis warned that white collar crime breeds injustice and contempt for the judicial system and government.

It "gnaws at the society from within" and is finally "notoriously overlooked and underrated" as a criminal problem.

Geis views white collar crime as a huge social and legal problem due to the subtle ways in which it impacts on every aspect of life and eats its way into the very heart of our society, creating such a pervasive rot that it may eventually lead to the collapse of our way of life.

Entry Level Positions In Federal Government Discussed

What are some entry level positions in the Federal government? What jobs are available with a bachelor's degree in a social science? What are salary levels for Federal employment?

Answers to these questions will be available during the next "Career Conversation" sponsored by the Career Planning and Placement Center.

Ada Halbrook from the Social Security Administration in San Bernardino will be the resource person. All students are invited to the "Conversation" which will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) beginning at 1:30 p.m. in Student Union Meeting rooms A and B.

The positions she will be describing require a bachelor's degree. They are people oriented jobs which require interaction with clients and many one-to-one situations.

The GS-5 salary range is the usual beginning amount; currently this is $10,507.00.

Ada Halbrook is knowledgeable about the entire application process including the PACE examination and related details. This informal discussion will invite questions and comments from the audience. Freshmen through senior students are urged to attend.

"Career Conversations" is designed to provide students with an opportunity to talk with a person in a particular professional or career area.

"Clears Name"

Editor, the PawPrint:

In regards to your Editorial in the PawPrint on May 15, 1979: After reading it I felt as if you were asking why all the secrecy about Sydne Moser-James no longer being eligible to hold the office of A.S. President. Also I felt that you were implying that this was wrong and that the students should have been told. I agree. When you spoke to me I told you then that Sydne herself had not even spoken to me about it nor had she yet on May 16. I myself heard it on hearsay the day you found out and knew nothing except that she was ineligible to hold office due to her grades.

It was implied that I was completely informed about the situation through the proper channels. However I knew more about the entire problem from reading the PawPrint than from Sydne.

I am sorry you failed to mention this in your editorial, but I feel that I should clear my name from this situation.

Woman Survives Murder Attempt In The Gym

Editor, the PawPrint:

Since I first started getting involved with the Intramurals Program here at Cal-State, I have had a lot of fun and found most of the people a pleasure to play with and against. However, in the words of one of my favorite songs, "I hate people when they're not polite"; and Monday night before the evening volleyball league's tournament, I came across some players I could really hate. Court etiquette is not passé, and I was more than a little amazed to watch three Intramural players spiking balls at people warming up on the other side of the net. Excuse me, fellas, but I was there first! When you entered the gym, the other court was totally devoid of humanoid life and I have never found any discernible difference in quality between courts or nets in our gym. When I asked you politely why you didn't use the other court, you replied, "It's a free court." I agree with your logic, but I think your attitude sucks. I have since prayed to the God of Volleyball, and hopefully, more natural disasters will strike you than were seen in all the "Airport 7's" movies put together. If I were a male and 6 inches taller, or just 6 inches taller, I would have threatened you with bodily harm, but as it is, I thought of kicking you in the shins in the middle of your jumps, but relented. It is people like you that take the fun out of playing, and the next time we play, don't expect a handshake after the game from me.

Aguilar's Airbrush Painting Bought By Student Union

by Jana Ondrechen

An airbrush painting by CSCSB graduate Kevin Aguilar is now installed in the gameroom of the Student Union. The acrylic-on-canvas work, measuring 5 by 8 feet, is the 20th in Aguilar's "Desert Nursery Series," and was purchased by the Student Union's fund for property improvement.

Aguilar began doing large-scale paintings of cacti during his senior year at Cal State. Months before his graduation last spring, a work of his entitled "Arizona Cactus" became part of the permanent collection of the Museum of Fine Arts in San Diego. Riverside Art Center featured an exhibit of his paintings last January, and Aguilar's work is currently being displayed in San Francisco's Source Gallery, located at 1099 Folsom at Seventh, where it may be viewed through June 1.

Dixieland Band, Jazz Combo, and Jazz Ensemble Give Excellent Performances

by Caren Nece

In a world where new concepts of music are being produced everyday it is inspiring to know that here, at CSCSB, there can also be found a group of composers and musicians who are creating promising works in contemporary jazz.

Learned musicianship and imagination best describe the concert given by CSCSB's Dixieland Band, Jazz Combo and Jazz Ensemble last Wednesday night in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

The Dixieland Band gave a performance that even the First Original Dixieland Jazz Band would have found very entertaining. Pat Sieben gave a very articulate clarinet solo in clarinetist Larry Shields' "Clarinet Marmalade."

The Jazz Combo consists of eight musicians who work exclusively in the growth of each other's composing and arranging techniques.

Five original compositions were presented by the Combo, the first being, "Once Loved" by Arnold Jacks, tenor saxophonist in the jazz ensemble.

The composition is a very nice, mellow jazz tune that portrays the talented musician that Jacks is.

"For Eva" by Danny Sanchez, lead alto in the jazz band, is a very good jazz short which should be listened to more than once to appreciate the musicianship of this imaginative musician and accomplished soloist.

"All for One," arranged by Pat Sieben, featured a very nice alto sax solo by Danny Sanchez and brought out the smooth-flowing flugelhorn line.

Arnold Jacks on the flute

Pat Sieben is a sophomore music major from San Jacinto and is a very versatile musician as his repertoire includes baritone, alto and soprano sax, clarinet, flute, and French horn.

Another original chart, "Keeaumoku Street" by Mark Ulmer, lead trombone in the jazz band, is a nicely composed, straight-ahead jazz tune that reflects the melodic ideas that are also found in Mark's solos.

The Jazz Ensemble performed six charts in which two of the selections are original tunes. "M&M&M" by Danny Sanchez is a Count Basie-style composition that featured Arnold Jacks on tenor, Clyde Parker on guitar, Mark Ulmer on trombone, and Lee Roberts on piano.

"For the Time Being" by Mark Ulmer, is a bossa nova tune that featured smooth, flowing solos by Ulmer on Trombone and Danny Sanchez on alto. Clyde Parker, guitarist, was featured in a very well presented, creative solo.

The highlight of the Jazz Ensemble was "Checking the Cell Structure" by Gordon Goodwin, which opened with a ballad style composition featuring an excellent piano line by Lee Ann Roberts, an enthusiastic and creative pianist.

Pat Sieben on the French horn

The second part of this chart breaks out in a faster up-beat rhythm with the sax and trombone sections at their best.

"Milestones" by Miles Davis, stands to be the strongest of the charts performed and featured strong solos by Lee Roberts, piano; Danny Sanchez, alto; Clyde Parker, guitar; and a very sharp, strong, and inventive solo by drummer Ken French.

Paul Curnow, director of the jazz bands, has created marvelous opportunities for the jazz musician here at CSCSB and his fantastic musicianship, combined with his sincere devotion to the love of jazz, was reflected by the jazz performance.

It is sad to know that the concert last Wednesday will have been the last here for Curnow.

Curnow's direction of the jazz band will be greatly missed and CSCSB can't begin to thank him for the great job he has done in integrating CSCSB's jazz performers into truly winning bands.

Touring Theatre Provides Valuable Practical Experience

by Ingrid Doesburg

Each year the Theatre Arts department offers a two-unit class in Theatre practicum which enables students to prepare for and perform in the CSCSB Touring Theatre. During the first quarter of the class students make props, costumes, sets, and practice their lines for the plays. The plays are then performed during the spring quarter at local high schools, clubs, and organizations.

This year the group will be performing comedy sketches entitled, "Variety — A Taste of Vaudeville." All of the sketches were written by William Slout, professor of Theatre Arts, who is also the co-ordinator and director of the Touring Theatre. The two main purposes of the Touring Theatre are to recruit students to CSCSB's Theatre Arts Department and to enable the students enrolled in Touring Theatre to perform as actors and actresses.

The Touring Theatre will be holding an on-campus performance on June 8. This will be an all evening event, and the group will be presenting a number of comedy sketches. The plays will be held in the CSCSB Theatre. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and students. Reservations can be made by calling 887-7452.

Tokay Powerline Over Softballers In Hard-Fought Game

by Tammy Salyer

INTRAMURAL UPDATE, MAY 11-16: 10-PERSON SOFTBALL — In the early Bird playoff game, Broken Arrows defeated the Mojave Indians 28-2. Teaching Machines won by forfeit over the Roosters in the Rattlesnake League, while Cretin Trucks Del Rosa stung Waterman 15-ZIP. Jeff Fulton, Al Estrada, and Ed Vickers played well for Cretin Trucks. In the day's most exciting game, Tokay Powerline won a hard-fought contest with the Softballers. Tokay really had to scramble around those basepaths to preserve the victory, because the Softballers had the score tied 20-20 through the seventh inning. Due to the efforts of Tokay's Ervin Caver, who has been doing a good job all season and continued this by hitting three home runs and going 5 for 5, Bill Bain, Paul Lemire, Willie Sasao, Medardo Gomez, and Karl Acosta, the Powerline scored 9 runs in the extra inning to take the game 29-20. In the Coyote League, Fine Arts squeaked by the North Street Gang 9-8. Steve Vancuar, Jeff Garnde and Joe Moran played well in the game.

COED SOFTBALL — Los Banditos de los Basepaths defeated Garret-Morris 10, 19-5. Mike Curtiss went 4 for 4, and Byron Waggoner went 3 for 3 to lead their team to victory. Shandin Crazyhorse pulled off a close one with the Bad News Pears, 15-12. Sources close to the teams reported the reason for the close score was "Muscles" Glasco taking himself out of the lineup because he was so sure that his team would smear and mutilate the Pears. He underestimated the Pears, because they had the score tied through the sixth inning. Those theatre guys ain't weaklings!! In the game of the has-beens or the have-nots, Supply & Demand got by Mojave 11-9. Adrian Sanchez, Mike McCarty and Dennis Mendonca were excellent in the game.

COED VOLLEYBALL TRIPLES — Blues Power used the cannonball serves of Mel Mathews and sometimes erratic hits by Jeff Wasetis to dispose of Tami and the Titans, 15-13, 15-4, 15-10. Old Tami took out her frustrations on teammate Jeff Frazier, as she repeatedly pummeled him with the ball. Despite a spirited upset bid by Tom's Team, the smooth Barking Spiders prevailed with a varied assortment of dinks, bumps and spikes, 15-3, 15-8, 15-5. After the game, the flabbergasted Tom sighed, "It was really bad!"

LADIES 3:3 BASKETBALL — The Triple Trouble Five-Some smacked Instant Funk 3-7, 7-5 and 8-6, behind the hot shooting of Val Devlin and Evelyn Sternath. The passing and shooting of Sonya Jackson and key baskets of Nancy Feretti kept Instant Funk in the games. Pegi Roffers and Paula McGrew played an excellent defensive game.

CINDERELLA STORY OF THE WEEK: The Born Losers actually won a game. Are you ready for this? They won by forfeit over Amelia Earhart and would like to thank everyone who made this victory possible.
