Anti-Tuition Coalition Formed

In what their Legislative Director Steve Glazer says is an effort to be "proactive rather than reactive" the California State Student Association has announced the formation of a California Coalition for Tuition-Free Higher Education.

The CSSA, in co-sponsoring the coalition with the University of California Student Lobby.

Last year Proposition 13 inspired cuts in the state budget reduced the state allocation to the CSUC system. With further cuts eminent, there was talk of imposing tuition as a means of making up for reduced state support.

The CSSA and other student groups throughout the state collectively and were responsible for some of the fullest participation being displayed against tuition. The CSSA was also successful in persuading the Board of Trustees to change their six year old position of support for tuition.

Despite those successes, Glazer and others fear talk of tuition again in the future. "We've really just started looking at it," Glazer warned. "The trend towards more austere budgets is going to continue and higher education is going to be threatened."

In the first step toward forming the coalition, the CSSA formed a Board of Directors. The honorary members include: President Pro Tempore of the State Senate James Mills; State Assembly Minority leader Carol Hillard; Secretaries of the Controller Kenneth Cory; March Pong Eu, Assembly Majority leader Howard Bean; and State Controller Kenneth Cory.

We're proud to have a board which reflects such diverse views," said Glazer, who along with UC Student Lobby coordinator Dave Shontz, is executive director of the coalition.

Glazer went on to say that their willingness to join is a clear indication that tuition is a very real threat. "We can't just wait for something to happen." Glazed said.

The CSSA is now in the process of asking groups to join the coalition. Representatives from student government offices at all 19 CSUC campuses will go out into the community to solicit members.

By signing the "Coalition's Statement Against Tuition," an organization will be under no obligation, however their name will be used in the fight against tuition. They can keep informed of all activity in regard to tuition bits.

The statement starts out by saying, "We believe the tuition-free policy has greatly benefited the citizens of California and strengthened the economic, social and cultural fiber of the state."

"State support for higher education must be a high priority. Facial criticism should mean the re-analysis of priorities. We consider higher education a high priority and tuition as near fatal to it."

The statement ends with this paragraph: "We will oppose any legislation or measure which would change California's historical position of tuition-free higher education. We commit our organization to join with the California Student Association and the University of California Student Lobby in presenting a united powerful force of business, labor, education and community organizations to keep California tuition-free."

The CSSA has set a goal of 200 members by December 15. Among the many reasons the CSSA cited for opposing tuition last year was that it would reverse recent gains made in the system towards accessibility. Ethnic minorities, women and the poor would be disproportionately effected by tuition, claimed the Association.

Those claims were backed by a survey of studies including those made in states where tuition had recently been imposed.

A recent draft of a study by the California Postsecondary Education Commission said that for an increase of $100 in fees the CSUC would lose 8,800 students.

March Glazer, an "increase of that size would open the door for more and higher fees, I'm afraid that education would become a privilege rather than a right. We don't believe that should happen."

DEAR UNCLE WALL

Dear Uncle Wall,

You recently asked a question. No much is known about what goes on in your area. However, I will try to answer a few questions.

In California, the state has a law that prohibits anyone under the age of 18 from driving a car. This law is designed to prevent accidents and injuries. If you are found to be driving a car without a valid driver's license or if you have a learner's permit, you may be subject to fines or other penalties.

In addition, the state requires that all vehicles be registered and have valid insurance. If you are caught driving without insurance or a valid registration, you may be fined and your vehicle may be impounded.

As for the lost peasant? No one is sure what happened to him. However, there were reports of a group of people who disappeared into the forest.

I hope this information is helpful. If you have any further questions, please feel free to ask.

Sincerely,

James Beale

The Continuing Saga of Tumbledown Tech

One day, at the start of a new year, a brown haze settled over Tumbledown Tech.

"This isn't some place that I've ever been in before," grunted an anxious student. "They must keep using those machines that work on their own and they're not even paying attention!"

Just then, a large black cloud formed in the sky, and the wind picked up. The students were forced to take cover in their dorms.

"I don't know what to do," one student cried out. "We have to do something about it!"

The wind grew stronger, and the students were forced to evacuate their dorms. They could see the fire spreading across the campus, and they knew they had to act fast.

"We'll have a deputy there right away," the chief said to the students. "But for now, please stay calm and wait for the police to arrive.

The sheriff's deputy, it seems, was busy refreshing himself in the Temple of the Southwestern United States. He was not expected to arrive for another hour.

So far, the sheriff has been good at his word. His men can be seen going around the huts on the lower east side. They even have police dogs, and the investigation is now underway.

The students are being concerned about a lost peasant, called the sheriff.

"How could you let a peasant disappear before the census date?" he shouted. "Don't you know that the Prophecy of the Hups and the gods of the safety and prosperity of our country are at stake? "

With less peasants on the census rolls, they will surely give us less money.

The students, however, say that the loss wouldn't happen again.

So far, the sheriff has been good at his word. His men can be seen going around the huts on the lower east side. They even have police dogs, and the investigation is now underway.

I hope this information is helpful. If you have any further questions, please feel free to ask.

Energy Fair '79 Opens

Energy Fair '79, the most complete look at alternative energy sources in Southern California, will be scheduled to be held at the Long Beach Convention Center November 2-4. Friday, November 2, is Industry Day for companies and government agencies, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Director Jackie Cooper will host the Public Opening Ceremony Saturday, November 3 at 11 a.m., in conjunction with many exhibits. A special tribute to both the most simple and the most sophisticated energy forms should be of interest to the scientific and business community.

Sun, wind, water, and nuclear fusion along with hydro, methanol, alcohol and ethanol, and alcohol blends will run everything from ufo's lighting, nuclear propulsion, and turbines in this unique take at virtually all possible power possibilities. Visitors to the 12 separate cities, businesses, homes, and forms of recreation

Joining the Saturday festivities will be Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley, Long Beach Mayor Dr. Thomas Clark, and faded movie stars Suzy Parker, Superman, Yvonne Burke, actors Stefanie Powers and Iron Eyes Cody, labor leaders, scientists, students, and consumers. The fair will be open 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday.

Thursday through Saturday a program includes presentations of the Energy Hall of Fame, the New York Times, the Israeli, to Congressmen George E. Brown, Jr., and Warren Buckmaster. Expositions and demonstrations, winners of the Save-Energy Art Exhibit, will receive trophies. The fair will be open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Special seminars for scientists, inventors, teachers, and educators, and the public will be held throughout the Fair. Besides a solar and wind-powered model train and a hydro unit from the Title IV, this hall will generate electricity, the Fair will offer a musical electrical quartet powered by sun and wind, a solar-powered hydrogen-powered pickup truck, electric cars, a solar-powered communications satellite, and a solar-powered mobile sculpture among the many exhibits.

Special supports expected to attend are Lloyd Bridges, Beau Bridges, Jeff Bridges, Buddy Ebsen, Janice Hahn, Memorial Auditorium, Alan Harrill, Suzanne Somers, and Congresswoman Patricia McKinley. General admission to the fair is $4 students and seniors $2, children under 12 accompanied by adults free. The Long Beach Convention Center is at 300 E. Ocean Blvd. For directions, call the Long Beach Convention Center, (213) 436-3645.

Participants will be able to view the races from a special viewing area at the Santa Anita track on Sunday, November 2.

Sign-ups are taken at the Student Activities Office Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. Participation is limited to the first 40 persons who sign up.

The cost is $8, which is paid when the participant signs up at the Admissions and Transportation.

One Woman Show By Former Student

by Jana Orendzech

Recent Paintings of a former Bowden student is now on display at the Inland Empire Gallery through November.

Created this summer, the series of eleven painting is a journey of worlds within worlds, containing figures or animals cascading through the landscapes. In sequence, the titles set up a guided tour.

Tiny Dancer, in the Palm Garden, Wildflower, with a Puppet, See, Rabbit, On The Edge, Dinasaur, Seem From The Edge of the Dunes, Undying River, G. From Memory, To the Tune Chuck E. Is in Love, Probing the Biological, With 40 Figures in P. Gallery.

They show people and places in the new available world that is not always seen by the former C.S.C.S.B. student and now a senior at the University of California, Riverside.

Her professional career had its first stage appearance at the age of nine. In 1976, in New York, where she participated in the underground comic movement, published covers, stories and her own comic book Tales For The Children. In 1978 she had five one woman shows, also and took part in several group exhibits.

In 1976 Mandee moved to the West Coast and became a resident of Radio City. Since then, her work has been in group shows in San Bernardino, Riverside, Laguna Beach and Los Angeles. Mandee has also designed two record album covers for Greg Kihn and the late Stan Kerson.

The Inland Empire Gallery is located at 3663A Canyon Crest Drive in Riverside. In the Barnebroad complex across from UCR Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday evenings.

Soviet Lecturer

Insights into the existence of a Soviet combat brigade in Cuba will be provided by an internationally ac- claimed British diplomatic scholar, and authority on Soviet foreign policy, Dr. Richard Hutchings Thursday, October 31 at 5 p.m. in the Physical Sciences Lecture Hall of the Physical Sciences Building.

In his 7 p.m. lecture, Professor Hutchings will address the topic, "Soviet Arms to the Third World: Patterns, Implications." This appearance has been moved to the Lecture Hall of the Physical Sciences Building. With the current controversy about a Soviet combat brigade in Cuba, Professor Hutchings believes that while Soviet arms deliveries to particular countries are acknowledged by political considerations, the pattern must be related to economics and the USSR's political timetable in world affairs," commented Dr. Richard Ackley, associate professor of Political Science, who is arranging the event.

As we go to press, it has been learned that Dr. Ackley is traveling to the Soviet Union to study arms negotiations. "The implications posed by Dr. Hutchings are quite startling," Dr. Ackley said.

The author has more than 50 publications, including three books, Dr. Hutchings is particularly interested in Soviet economic policies, economic defense spending, and the influence of international relations on arms control. In Moscow, Hutchings travels extensively in the USSR. His most recent book, "Soviet/Detente: Soviet Arms Policy and the Arms Control Process," was published in the Fall of 1980. Hutchings has also served as researcher officer in the East European Section of the research department of the British Foreign Office and the European Section of the British Foreign Office. Hutchings is a member of the British Foreign Office's British Council, and has also served as research officer in the East European Section of the British Foreign Office.

In the past decade, he has also served as a consultant to the U.S. government, particularly with respect to the U.S.-Soviet arms control negotiations, and with respect to the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, the Arms Control Association. He is a member of the British Foreign Office and the European Section of the British Foreign Office.

Friday Afternoon Movie Matinee

Addams

The Associated Students Activities Committee has decided that the movie for this Friday after- noon will be "The Addams Family." It is a free Friday afternoon matinee beginning November 2nd and running through the remainder of the fall quarter. The time of the showing will be 3:30 p.m. The evening hours still remain the same.

This will simply be an additional showing.

Dr. Richard Hutchings
So what's the theme of this house?

$4.26 was paid last Friday night for the privilege of dunking Dean Students Kenton Monroe into a tank of water. It was the highest bid received for the five administrators who got wet in Shandin's Water Dunking Booth at the Serrano Village Halloween Party.

The $4.26 bid, paid by the combined team of Tom Cherhoniak, Tim Hamre and Amy York, resulted in Monroe being dunked twice. Associate Dean of Students Doyle Stansel got dunked for a bid of $2.00, and again for a bid of $1. Director of Activities Jeanne Hognerson got dunked for $2.00, made by Anji Lavin, who chairs the Publications Board on which Hognerson sits. Assistant Housing Director Wayne Hutchins brought in two high bids of $1.60 each, the second bid coming from R.A.'s Lynda Smith, Terri Callaway and Glen Alberi. People seemed reluctant to dunk Activities Advisor Roberta Stathis-Ochoa (except for the constant bidding of her husband), but there were finally three high bids of $1.00 each (none from her husband).

Also dunked at Shandin's booth were R.A.'s Terri Callaway, Glen Alberi, and A.J. "Big Mouth" Beechko. (A.J. was doing so much breathing that the booth itself dunked him twice in order to shut him up.) The last person dunked, of course, was Serrano Village "Wet Puppy" Melvin.

People waited in long lines to enter Tokay's Haunted House. Greeted at the door by a wolfman, those who entered viewed Count Dracula, waited for a mad doctor operate, and were attacked by a chainsaw maniac and a swordsmen. Technical problems, however, caused the Haunted House to close early, disappointing about 25 people who were still in line.

Joshua's "Last Chance (Wedding) Chapel" proved to be quite popular. There were even some repeat customers. (It is rumored that Eugene Kopolsky got married six or seven times.) All together, they performed about 90 ceremonies, with 32 couples having their picture taken to commemorate the "occasion."

Waterman's Kissing Booth was going along pretty good, but it really took off when a couple of Waterman's "blond bombshells" showed up and the price went up to 50 cents. From the look of things, the customers were getting their money's worth. (Except for Uncle Walt who kept...)

Wally would like to extend his thanks and appreciation to the office for what he has been informed was a fun evening for him. He explained that this showed that there was a potential for more on-campus activities during the weekend.

The total tallies of how much each house took in at their booths are as follows: Shandin - $17.00, Shandin - $12.00, Arrowhead - $32.00, Badger - $29.35, Waterman - $47.00, Mojave - $2.50, and Gnome - $5.00.

Activities also featured a dance and dance contest in Arrowhead. Winners of the dance contest, who each received a $5 gift certificate from the Arrowhead Canteen, were Sean & Patty (from Badger). Did you comment on the evening, Hutchins said that the "draw was good and even better than we expected and included many off-campus groups." He explained that this showed that there was a potential for more on-campus activities during the weekend.

Oldies Take First Place

It was a showdown for first place and the Oldies But Goodies gunned down the Dominators two games to three in the 3:3 Open League. The Oldies used superior teamwork and the superb play of Jeff Fulton to outlast the Dominators 11-5, 11-8, 11-6. Steve Fries was hot for the Dominators but it wasn't enough to stop the OBG's once they got rolling. Greg Price played a hard game for the winners as did Bob O'Brien. The two victories put the Oldies 1st, Dominators 2nd, and they are not likely to give up the top spot.

Mabel's Men finally took the ball to the basket and by a hot shooting Fred Jones as they walked over the Men in the first two games 11-5 and 11-7. Mabel's Men can play better than their record indicates. They have a balanced team with all the members contributing to their victories. Lynda Warren, Sharon Newfelt, Barbara Flagg and Paul McGraw play well together and should take their second slate in a row. The trio of Pegi Roefers, Sonya Jackson and Nancy Ferrell still have a slim chance at beating the Earhart's in the championship, but they'll have to play much better than they did this week.

In a series that was cut short due to rain, the Turkey's won the first two matches as they squeezed by Deja Vu by scores of 12-10 and 14-12. In the second game both teams missed opportunities to win it but it took Joe Long to come off the bench to score two straight baskets to give the Turkey's a narrow victory. But it was Deja Vu's turn in the historical third game as Ed Ehrlin and Paul Johnson worked for their first victory. Rumor has it that champagne flowed in the Faculty Locker Room after the game.

The Rimjammers worked all over the Badger Bullets as they swept all three games, 11-5, 11-4 and 11-8. The Rimjammers looked pretty sloppy in the third game with the much smaller Bullets and they will have to improve quite a bit to maintain their unbeaten record. Look for their big man, Ervin Caver, to make it or break it for the Rimjammers.

The Oldies But Goodies have to be picked the team to beat. They have a balanced team with all the members contributing to their victories. Deja Vu Does It!

It took them 27 games to do it, but Deja Vu actually won a 3:3 contest. Last year the team had a perfect record of 0-18 and was 0-4 until they met the Banking Turkeys. The Turkey's won the first two matches as they squeezed by Deja Vu by scores of 12-10 and 14-12. In the second game both teams missed opportunities to win it but it took Joe Long to come off the bench to score two straight baskets to give the Turkey's a narrow victory. Badger Bullets 3 6
Deja Vu 1 8

Any one of these three teams from the Blue Division could take the overall league title. Night Moves has the talent but they have problems putting it all together at once. Both the Misfits and the B-Bombers hustle hard and that could make the difference, but I'll wait until next week to make my prediction for the League Champion.

The divisions races are tightening up after three weeks of play. Here is how the teams stand:

BLUE DIVISION

Night Moves 6 3
Misfits 6 4
B-Bombers 5 4
Wil's Team 2 7

Here are the league standings after the first round:

OPEN LEAGUE

WON LOST
Oldies But Goodies 7 2
Dominators 6 3
Mabel's Men 2 7

Amelia Earhart

S.T.P & N

It was a repeat of last year's championship game and the result was the same when Amelia Earhart destroyed S.T.P & N in three straight games. The first two matches were close as the two teams battled to scores of 7-4 and 7-5. The Amelia team ran away with the final, 7-1. Amelia Earhart is a well balanced team with all the members contributing to their victories. Lynda Warren, Sharon Newfelt, Barbara Flagg and Paul McGraw play well together and should take their second slate in a row. The trio of Pegi Roefers, Sonya Jackson and Nancy Ferrell still have a slim chance at beating the Earhart's in the championship, but they'll have to play much better than they did this week.

In a series that was cut short due to rain, the Turkey's won the first two matches as they squeezed by Deja Vu by scores of 12-10 and 14-12. In the second game both teams missed opportunities to win it but it took Joe Long to come off the bench to score two straight baskets to give the Turkey's a narrow victory. But it was Deja Vu's turn in the historical third game as Ed Ehrlin and Paul Johnson worked for their first victory. Rumor has it that champagne flowed in the Faculty Locker Room after the game.

The Oldies But Goodies have to be picked the team to beat. They have a balanced team with all the members contributing to their victories. Lynda Warren, Sharon Newfelt, Barbara Flagg and Paul McGraw play well together and should take their second slate in a row. The trio of Pegi Roefers, Sonya Jackson and Nancy Ferrell still have a slim chance at beating the Earhart's in the championship, but they'll have to play much better than they did this week.

A-Tokay Bites the Bullets

A-Tokay gave the Badger Bullets a double dose of good defense and a powerful offense as they shut out the Bullets 32-0. Jay Alverson and Daley supplied all the points A-Tokay would need. Alverson had 18 points and Daley was right behind him with 13. Roben Booker also scored a one point conversion. Tow's swarming defense never gave the Bullets a chance to put the ball in the end zone.

In a surprisingly lopsided game the Village People destroyed Lethal Dose 50-0. Lethal Dose gave up 23 points in the first half and never seemed to mount a comeback. Leading point getter for the People was Paul Lemire with 12 and Richard Applegate found in the single Dose touchdown.

The Watermen Plumber's could do no worse as they ran all over the M & M's. 70-6. Richard Knowles with 22 points for the victors and Convery averaged the shutout for the M & M team. Peg Reenasser put the ladies in the scoring picture with her touchdown run in the second half.

Morongo Slightly Optimistic managed to score a touchdown in both halves, but it wasn't enough to stop the Frosh Commuter's as they rambled on to a 32-12 victory. This game gave more proof that the Frosh team will make a strong showing during the playoffs. Troy Roscetti and Rich Schaefer lead the Frosh for the second week in a row with 18 points. Scoring for MSO were Barnes and Lockert.

Divisional news and standings shape up in the Coast League. This is how the teams stand as of Oct. 19:

a Dell Yount interception, and ran for what appeared to be a touchdown. The play was called back when the runner straight armed one of the Shandin defenders. On the next play Dr. Parson broke through the Brigade line and threw them for another loss by sacking their 08. The Brigade handed the ball back over to Shandin with close to two minutes remaining and Shandin moved the ball down to the Red's 10 yard line. John Flathers ran it in from there and
