Anti-Tuition Coalition Formed

In what their Legislative Director Steve Glazer says is an effort to be "proactive in our response to the crisis," the California State Student Association has announced the formation of a Coalition for Tuition-Free Higher Education.

The CSSA is co-sponsoring the coalition with the University of California Student Lobby.

Last year, Proposition 13 inspired cuts in the state budget and reduced the state allocation to the CSU system. With further cuts imminent, there was talk of imposing tuition as a means of making up for reduced state support.

The CSSA and other student groups worried that this "will happen quickly and unfairly and were responsible for both governments that would come out of the fight against tuition. The CSSA was also successful in persuading the Board of Trustees to continue their six-year-old position of support for tuition.

Despite those successes, Glazer and others fear talk of tuition again in the future. "We've really just started our campaign," Glazer said.

March 8 that the coalition will be held Thursday in the multi-purpose room of the Student Union, from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m. Howard Sukin will host the dance with his New Custom Disco Show.

A disco dance contest will be held, so grab your dance partner and get it together. The judges will be selected from students, faculty, staff and alumni only. Sign up at the door from 9 to 10 p.m. The contest will begin at 10:30 p.m.

CORRECTION! This contest is not limited to 12 couples as was stated in previous other advertisements.

The contest is part of the CSSA Interregional Program and is sponsored by Associated Students and the Department of P.E. and Recreation.

Judging the disco dance contest will be professional dancers, Douglas Dye and Robyn Perry. The criteria on which they will judge will be style and originality, music and dance continuity, partner to partner continuity, and audience response.

In addition, in addition, Douglas and Robyn will perform a dance routine at 10 p.m. prior to the contest starts.

They have danced professionally for two years and have performed and competed in numerous places, such as "The Inland Empire Division of the California State Champs," in which they received second place. They also performed at "The Knott's Berry Farm where they made the top 20 of California State Champs." in which they received second place. They have also performed at "The Turntable and at Disco Village, receiving first place awards at both discos. This talented couple has appeared on "On Spec," a television show, and have had an exclusive interview with New York's popular magazine "Or (The Scene)."

Changes Made in Friday Night Movies

New seating arrangements in the Student Union Multi-Purpose Room and the addition of an afternoon showing are methods that will be utilized in an attempt to alleviate viewing problems at the Friday night movies sponsored by the Associated Students.

These actions are the result of a discussion held by the AS Board of Directors at their meeting of October 22.

In other action at that meeting, the Board allocated $51 to the CSSA dues account, bringing the total allocated to that account to $563.13. This action was followed by a report by Treasurer Pat Sweeney showing that our campus should pay $850.60 in CSSA dues, based on 20 cents for each of the 4,253 students registered this quarter.

The Board also voted to indefinitely postpone an allocation of $200 for the Health Center Open House. It was felt that more information needed to be presented on this item before action could be taken.

The previous week, at their meeting of October 16, the Board denied a $36 allocation request to the Student Union Hearings Committee.

Don Gruber: On Location With "The Jungle Books"

Don Gruber, stage manager for the television show "The Jungle Books," continues his work in India. He has just completed filming in Nepal and is now filming in the Punjab.

There were some instances and snags that held up the production of the film, as our stage manager described. "The main problem of filming was the fact that the major actor didn't have enough time to learn the lines. He finally learned them after extensive rehearsals, but his stage fright remained, while the rest of us played.

The end product of the film turned out well. The major problem was the weather, which was so hot that the microphone picked up a lot of wind, so we had to go back through and dub vocals. We also, at one point, went to the Ardorikan in L.A. and had to do some filming there because the same scenes didn't turn out in the first film that had to be reshot."

Don Gruber and his team are currently filming in Nepal, and will continue filming in India.

Not all eight days were spent working on the film as Don explains. "The trip was arranged mainly to get film, but we had just as much fun, due to the fact that one of our actors lost his glasses on a fun expedition down the river, and we were unable to film correctly for about two days." "But, we also went to have a good time, to get away. We brought some rubber rafts that we would take out on the river and take home to the Aridorsian in L.A. and to do some filming there because the same scenes didn't turn out in the first film that had to be reshot."

"All in all, it was a very interesting and rewarding experience..."
So what's the theme of this house?

$4.26 was paid last Friday night for the privilege of dunking Dean Students Kenton Monroe into a tank of water. It was the highest bid received for the five administrators who got wet in Shandin's Water Dunking Booth at the Serrano Village Halloween Party.

The $4.26 bid, paid by the combined team of Tom Cherhoniak, Tim Hamre and Amy York, resulted in Monroe being dunked twice. Assistant Dean of Students Doyle Stansel got dunked for a bid of $2.00, and twice again for a bid of $1. Director of Activities Jeanne Hogenson got dunked for a bid of $2.00, made by Anji Lavin, who chairs the Publications Board on which Hogenson sits. Assistant Housing Director Wayne Hurst brought in two high bids of $1.60 each. The second bid coming from R.A.'s Lynnda Smith, Terri Calloway and Glen Alberi. People were reluctant to dunk Activities Advisor Roberta Stathis-Ochoa (except for her constant bidding of her husband), but there were finally three high bids of $1.00 each (none from her husband).

Also dunked at Shandin's booth were R.A.'s Terri Calloway and Glen Alberi and A.J. "Big Mouth" Beechko. (A.J. was doing so much huffing and puffing that the booth itself dunked him twice in order to shut him up.)

First person dunked, of course, was Serrano Village "Wet Puppy" Melvin.

People waited in long lines to enter Tokay's Haunted House, greeted at the door by a wolfman, those who entered viewed Count Dracula, waited for the mad doctor to operate, and were attacked by a chainsaw maniac and a swordsman. Technical problems, however, caused the Haunted House to close early, disappointing about 25 people who were still in line. Joshua's "Last Chance (Wedding) Chapel" proved to be quite popular. There were even some repeat customers. (It is rumored that Kopolsky got married six or seven times.)

All together, they performed about 90 ceremonies, with 32 couples having their picture taken to commemorate the "occasion."

Waterman's Kissing Booth was going along pretty good. But it really took off when a couple of Waterman's "blond bombshells" showed up and the price went up to 50 cents. From the look of things, the customers were getting their money's worth. (Except for Uncle Walt, who kept...
Did the judges really have that tough of a choice in deciding which one was best?

Even though there was great enthusiasm among the judges as they went from booth to booth, many expressed surprise that the decision was really not that difficult. Judges who were uncertain about their future were able to have their future predicted at Mojave's fortune telling booth. Mojave's "Ladies of Leisure" also read palm.

Oldies Take First Place

It was a showdown for first place and the Oldies But Goodies gunned down the Dominators two games to three in the 3:3 Open League. The Oldies used superior teamwork and the superb play of Jeff Fulton to outlast the Dominators 11-5, 11-8, 11-5. Steve Fries was hot for the Dominators but it wasn't enough to stop the Oldies But Goodies once they got rolling. Greg Price played a key game for the winners as did Bob O'Brien. The two victories put the Oldies But Goodies in first place by one game over the Dominators. Greg Price played a key up against the Oldies But Goodies. The two teams battled to scores of 7-5, 7-6 and 7-5. The Oldies But Goodies ran away with the final, 11-4. The Oldies But Goodies are a well balanced team with all the members contributing to their victories. Lynda Warren, Sharon Newfelt, Barbara Flagg and Paul McGrew play well together and should take their second title in a row. The trio of Pegi Roefers, Sonya Jackson and Nancy Ferratti still have a slim chance at beating the Earhart in the championship, but they'll have to play much better than they did this week. In a series that was cut short due to a pulled muscle, the Y-Nots took two out of three from the Zip Ah Dee Dee Dahs by scores of 7-5, 7-6 and 5-3. Both teams had a lot of fun, but will not be a serious threat to upset one of the top teams.

Deja Vu Does It!

It was a repeat of last year's championship game and the result was the same when Amelia Earhart destroyed S.T.P & N. in three straight games. The first two matches were close as the two teams battled to scores of 7-1 and 7-5. The Amelia team ran away with the final, 7-1. Amelia Earhart is a well balanced team with all the members contributing to their victories. Lynda Warren, Sharon Newfelt, Barbara Flagg and Paul McGrew play well together and should take their second title in a row. A-Tokay Bites the Bullets

A-Tokay gave the Badger Bullets a double dose of good defense and a powerful offense as they shut out the Bullets 32-0. Jay Alverson and Daley supplied all the points. A-Tokay would need. Alverson had 18 points and Daley was right behind him with 13. Roben Botter also scored a point conversion. Tox's swarming defense never gave the Bullets a chance to put the ball in the end zone.

In a surprisingly topsided game the Village People destroyed Lethal Dose 50-0. Lethal Dose gave up 20 points in the first half and never seemed to mount a comeback. Leading point getter for the People was Paul Lemire with 12 and Richard Auyouf with 6 from the single Dose touchdowns. The Watermen Plumbs could do no wrong as they ran all over the M & M's. 70-6. Richard Knoupillon has 22 points for the victors and Conboy averaged the shutdown for the M & M team. Ted Reemer put the loafers in the scoring picture with her touchdown run in the second half.

Morongo Slightly Optimistic managed to score a touchdown in both halves but it wasn't enough to stop the Fosh Commuters as they rambled on to a 32-12 victory. This game gave more proof that the Fosh team will make it known during the playoffs. Troy Fodder and Al Schaefer got the Commuters for the second round. Each in a row with 1 points. Scoring for M5O were Barnes and Lockett.

Divisional races are starting to shape up in the Coast League. This is how the teams stand as of Oct. 19.

BLUE DIVISION

Watermen Plums 1
Fosh Commuters 1

BROWN DIVISION

It will be a battle between the Village People and A-Tokay in the Brown Division and the winner of that game will probably face the Watermen Plumbs in the championship game.

Red Brigade Can't Hold Shandin

Crusaders Score!

In the only close game of the week Shandin Crazyhouse beat the Red Brigade in a controversial contest, 16-12. The Red Brigade protested the call after they claimed the time was not kept properly during the last two minutes of the game. The actual game was well played by both teams. Shandin scored at the half, 10-6. The Brigade took the lead on a line run by Bob Kutch. With Shandin on the Brigade one yard line. Kutch intercepted a pass on the line and ran it all the way back for the go ahead score. With less than four minutes to go the Red Brigade had the ball deep in Shandin territory, thanks to a Del Doni interception, and ran for what appeared to be a touchdown. The play was called back when the runner straight armed one of the Shandin defenders. On the next play, Dr. Persons broke through the Brigade line and threw them for another loss by sucking their QB. The Brigade handled the ball back over to Shandin with close to two minutes remaining and Shandin moved the ball down to the Red's 10 yard line. John Flathers ran it in from there and the two point conversion made it 18-12. The Red Brigade failed to go anywhere in the remaining seconds to give Shandin their second victory.

Badger Bullets

32-6. The Bullets held the Browns to only eight first half points but failed to muster an offense of their own. Kim Nelson and Ivan Glasco provided 12 points each for the Browns to keep them undefeated. Kim Nelson came on a safety when the Pokers lost the ball in their own endzone. Unfortunately for the Crusaders their points were too few too late as the Pokers scored 40 points in the first half and cruised to a 54-2 win. Bill Bain had 20 points and Alex Urquijo did what most linemen only dream about. Urquijo blocked a Crusader pass high into the air and caught it and took it all the way down for the backfield.

Pokers

It was a battle between the Village People and A-Tokay in the Brown Division and the winner of that game will probably face the Watermen Plumbs in the championship game.
