Dave and Paula not only have the same major, they try to attend the same classes whenever possible. Dave said, “We like to be together. It helps when we can discuss the class together. It also saves us money on books.” Paula added, “We enjoy watching the teachers’ reactions. They’re usually a little surprised, but then they seem to get used to the idea quickly.” The Allbecks feel that going to school is easier now that they are married. Paula commented, “We don’t have to take time for dates, and we don’t have to entertain each other.” Dave feels that his study habits are improving and his grades are going up since their marriage.

Although neither might expect that a couple would feel like they were competing with each other if they were in the same classes, the Allbecks say just the opposite is true with them. They have a great concern for each other. Paula worries about how Dave is going to do on a test, and Dave is really proud when Paula excels. “I expect Paula to do better than I do. She has better study habits than I have.” Paula commented, “I feel that my ability to learn is a gift from God, and I have a responsibility to use that ability well.” They both noticed that at the beginning of the year they tended to respond in class in a way they thought the other one would agree with. Paula noted “We’ve had to realize that we are individuals, and we won’t always think alike.”

The Allbecks are Christians, and their faith and their church are very important to them. “Church attendance helps us grow in faith. Our church is based on Jesus as the center of our lives. Church helps us define our moral attitudes and our feelings for each other,” Paula noted.

Dave works 30 hours per week at B & M Auto Parts in Riverside, and Paula plans to do substitute teaching in January. Dave plays the rhythm guitar and is the lead vocalist in a band called “Haven.” The band usually plays two or three times a month at weddings and other social events. The Allbecks also enjoy entertaining their friends and playing impromptu folk ballads.

In the future, Paula plans to be an elementary school teacher, and Dave plans to work as a school counselor. “With my training, I suppose I could work in various businesses, but Paula and I want to have our summers and holidays free so that we can travel and do things together as a family.”

The Rules Committee, which met last Wednesday to discuss the postponed resolution, will recommend to the AS Board that the original resolution be replaced with another resolution.

The new resolution urges the Foundation and PFM to change the wording of their contract to comply with any recommendations of Thursday’s meeting, and promises AS action if the Foundation and PFM fail to come up with a solution which is acceptable to the dorm students.

The resolution refers to widespread dissatisfaction among the dorm students, the petition with 245 signatures, and the need for clarification of some of the contract provisions continued on page 3

Intruder Flees From Closet

by mark a. Kemenovich

About 2:15 a.m. Monday morning, November 19, two dorm roommates were in their room preparing for bed. One of the girls opened a closet and found a male crouching within. Screams startled the dorm and the in­truder escaped. Three other dormitories are reported to have received similar visitations. Girls in two different dorms of another dormitory reported walking to find their door open. One girl reported seeing a male outlines in the doorway. Numerous incidents of the sort were reported.

Entry to the dorms was thought to be via a planter moved to allow the intruder to pull himself onto the balcony and enter the dorm through the normally unlocked sliding glass door in the kitchen.

One witness helped prepare a police com­posite sketch of the intruder. Concerned the believed the intruder had been seen on cam­pus. As of November 24, the picture had still not been distributed to the dorms. A descrip­tion is also unavailable to the residents.

Unconfirmed reports indicated the possibili­ty of the one of the dorm residents being responsible for the intruder. The resident was a witness against a matter unrelated to the school. One theory proposed for the unusual inci­dents was an attempt on the part of the in­truder to locate the witness or to stage theatrical break-ins as a method of harassment. Another theory is, that the inci­dents were merely pranks.

Tension runs high in the dormitories. In one recent incident, a girl went to her room and entered it. Another resident observed this but did not recognize the girl. Another resident went to the girl’s door and knocked. When no one answered the door, authorities were notified. The girl had simply been afraid to answer her door.

No connection has been officially recognized or established between the latest series of incidents and a previous series in­volving thefts in the dormitory parking lot. On October 18, a battery was stolen from a car and other incidents of a similar nature are believed to have occurred. On Sunday, November 4 at about midnight three male residents of the dormitories observed suspicious-footed people in the parking lot and con­fronted at least two other individuals. A fight is reported to have taken place in which two of the dorm residents may have been injured by a knife or screwdriver.

Signs of Hope

This is now the fourth issue where The PawPrint is running a story about the Foundation/PPM contract. Much has happened this past month.

At first, I wondered if The PawPrint would go on being aumb by itself with no one else backing us. My concern was shared in the Associated Students. I am now glad to know that we are no longer on the limbo.

The 245 students who signed the petition that was circulated among the dorms showed the administration that we were not just blowing hot air when we said we would take action. The results show us that we can do it and there is every indication that more students will join the movement. The Associated Students have just taken a very significant step. The officers of the Associated Students are now also starting to take some action. (I wish, however, that they would make it more public. After all, we have been proclaiming them for three weeks.) I’m not sure if the Associated Students have the power to make all the changes they are calling for. That is a question for their members to decide.

The meeting scheduled for this Thursday shows much promise. I hope some meaningful changes will come out of it.

There are some major questions to be answered. The PawPrint has now done its part by investigating the situation and reporting its findings. The Associated Students and the administration must now work with the students to find answers.

No one is sure what will happen next. The signs are, however, that the Associated Students have a chance of making a difference.

The AS Board of Directors allocated a $700 loan to the International Club last Tuesday in order to give them funds to launch a T-shirt sale to raise funds for Cambodian relief.

The International Club will use the funds to purchase 200 T-shirts which they will sell at a higher price in order to raise money for their Cambodian Relief Drive. Dr. Brij Khare, the club advisor, explained that they would actually be buying the T-shirts for Cambodian relief, and the T-shirt would be given to the donor as a token of appreciation.

The first $700 raised will be returned to the Associated Students, while all funds raised above that figure will go towards Cambodian Relief. The Club members were also told that they would be shipped to Cambodia. Collection boxes are located in the Student Union and in the Activities Building.

Although The PawPrint was unable to learn when the T-shirts will be available, they are expected before the end of the quarter.

While there was agreement among the AS Board members that the Cambodian Relief Drive as a concept was sound, there were some questions as to the role that the Associated Students could play in it. Upon the advice of Dean of Students Kenton Montgomery, it is felt that the AS Board would not allow AS to give money to this cause, but would allow them to loan the money to the International Club. Thus it was decided to make the allocation a loan which had to be paid back.

The International Club originally requested $1,750 to purchase 500 T-shirts. AS Board members seemed to feel that the 500 T-shirt goal was unrealistic, and therefore only allocated $700 to cover the purchase of 200 T-shirts. It was explained to International Club members, however, that they could invest the money earned on the sale of the first 200 T-shirts to buy more T-shirts to sell. (Whether or not that action is taken will probably depend on how good T-shirt sales are going)

AS Vice President Bruce Jeter chairs the meeting of the AS Board of Directors.

In the only other action taken at last Tuesday's meeting, the appointment of Mark Cantwell as the Representative from the School of Natural Sciences was approved. Cantwell was appointed by AS Vice President Bruce Jeter to replace Dale Conrad, who resigned earlier this quarter.

After the spectator's gallery was filled with dorm residents concerned with the Foundation/PFM controversy, and the AS Board was presented with a petition signed by 249 dorm residents requesting them to pass a resolution calling for the termination of PFM's contract, the AS Board voted to postpone consideration of the resolution concerning the Foundation/PFM contract.

The motion to postpone was supported by Moreno and students Sandy Case and Bruce Granados, while all others voted against postponement. After Jeter had voted against postponement, the motion would have failed. The Chairman's vote was not allowed to be counted, and the motion to postpone would affect the outcome. Jeter, however, decided to not vote, as is customary for the chair.

The Rules Committee met last Wednesday to review the resolution, and will recommend to the AS Board that an alternate resolution be adopted instead. (See related story on page 1.)

An allocation request from The PawPrint for $1,635 to purchase photo equipment was postponed until the second week of winter quarter.

The academic year statement for the 1979-80 academic year was postponed since everyone had not yet read the goals statement.

A petition request for an activities student assistant and an activities custodian was sent to the Appropriations Committee.

Contract Controversy

Also at the AS Board meeting, AS Vice President Bruce Jeter was presented with a petition signed by 249 dorm residents requesting the AS Board to pass a resolution calling for the termination of PFM's contract. Jeter was given to the donator as a token of appreciation.

Further has drafted a letter to the members of the Foundation Board regarding several issues which have been raised over the contract. The letter, which is expected to go out early this week, is based on information supplied to Jeter by Poston, November 15 by Paul E. Smith of the Mark Kemnich Foundation.

The letter is broken down into three sections which deal with the issues of who pays for the Resident Assistant (R.A.) contract, whether the contract was properly monitored, and the information upon which the Foundation Board based their decision to allow PFM to pay minimum wage to its student employees.

In the first section on the R.A.'s board costs, Further raises several questions. First, why, if the Foundation is not charged for the board costs of the R.A.'s (the contract specifies that PFM shall provide free board to the R.A. that cost is figured into the charges for housing, and why the R.A.'s must also sign over that part of their paycheck to the Foundation?

Furter further asks that if the Foundation is charged for R.A.'s board, is that not in violation of PFM's contract. (Investigation by The PawPrint indicates that the Foundation is not charged for this cost.)

In the second section of the letter, which deals with the contract specifications for dinners, Further raises two series of questions.

In the first series of questions, Further points out that there have been times when the dorm students were not provided with the proper choice of entrees. She asks what will be done in the future to ensure compliance with this contract provision. She also asks what restitution will be made to the dorm students for the extra charges that they incurred.

Second series of questions deals with the allocation that students were originally denied access to copies of the contract. Further states, if copies of the contract were in college files and therefore were public records, they were not promptly released upon request by the students. The accessibility made it impossible for the students to monitor the contract themselves. In the second series of questions, Further requests a Foundation Board to reconsider their decision to allow PFM to pay minimum wage to its student employees.

The AS Board was presented with a petition signed by 249 dorm residents requesting the AS Board to pass a resolution calling for the termination of PFM's contract, the AS Board voted to postpone consideration of the resolution concerning the Foundation/PFM contract.

The motion to postpone was supported by Moreno and students Sandy Case and Bruce Granados, while all others voted against postponement. After Jeter had voted against postponement, the motion would have failed. The Chairman's vote was not allowed to be counted, and the motion to postpone would affect the outcome. Jeter, however, decided to not vote, as is customary for the chair.

The Rules Committee met last Wednesday to review the resolution, and will recommend to the AS Board that an alternate resolution be adopted instead. (See related story on page 1.)

Sexual Role In Faculty RTP

To Be Decided Wednesday

For over six years the California State Student Association has fought for student participation in the faculties as a part of the college decision-making process. Until this year, the student role was limited to participating on committees at CSUC schools. Presently, there are no provisions for any kind of student involvement on these committees.

"We don't feel we have a right, but a duty to participate," says CSSA Chair Don Devich. The Cal State Bakersfield president continued, "we're not experts but we have a prospective from the classroom that we think is important."

CSSA Liaison to the Chancellor, June Robertson, says that the move to get students on RTP boards was in response to students' requests for better representation of the student voice. Robertson points out that there have been times where dorm students were not provided with the proper choice of entrees. She asks what will be done in the future to ensure compliance with this contract provision. She also

Restrain Urged On Iranian Situation

The Academic Senate of The California State University and Colleges today called upon the state to use its influence to curb any hostility directed against Iranian students during the current international crisis over occupation of the American Embassy.

The Academic Senate represents faculty from the 19 CSUC campuses ranging from Humboldt State in the north to San Diego State in the south. Included are a number of campuses where demonstrations have resulted in threats or physical attacks upon foreign students.

Sorae Iranian students have been prevented from demonstrating their support of the current American policy or its attempt to return the former Shah to Iran.

The Academic Senate takes the position that civil rights, including the right to freedom of assembly and association, should be protected even if an international or domestic crisis endangers public opinion.

The Senate urges all members of the academic community in The CSUC "to treat Iranian students with the courtesy and decency we expect foreign visitors to receive whenever they may be studied abroad."

The action was taken at the group's November meeting at CSUC Headquarters in Long Beach.
Chapter VI

If one takes a stroll in Tumbleweed Town, one will quickly deduce that fall is giving way to winter. The mighty winds which descend from the Rabbit Mountains have turned cold, even though snow has yet to fall on the mountains. With the icy winds coming on, the activities of the fall season are winding to a close. Most peasants have gone into seclusion, and are burning the midnight oil as they prepare for "the tests" which are held each quarter of the year.

For, by passing "the tests," a peasant comes one step closer to no longer being a peasant. And, after all, who wants to spend the rest of their life as a peasant? And, after all, who wants to spend the rest of their life as a peasant? For, by passing "the tests," a peasant comes one step closer to no longer being a peasant. And, after all, who wants to spend the rest of their life as a peasant? For, by passing "the tests," a peasant comes one step closer to no longer being a peasant. And, after all, who wants to spend the rest of their life as a peasant?

THE VILLAGE IDIOT

by Tony

NO COMMON THANK YOU — The Serrano Village Council (SVC) would like to thank Bill Ferris, the manager of the Commons for the use of表格ches for the Village Thanksgiving dinner. Bill also donated the entire dinner for Friday night. Thank you very much.

SPEAKING OF TURKEYS — The Village turkey dinner was great. Terry Calloway gave her all (as did the turkeys) to ensure that at least 13 of the Village residents had a very nice turkey day.

TIME TO SMILE — Smiley Elementary School's PTA this week gave the final OK on the sale of the water dunk tank to the Village. The $50 for its purchase was allocated earlier in the year.

FINALS — Don't forget the Commons will be open Monday and Tuesday nights, 9-10 p.m. of finals week for free coffee and other goodies for residents. And the Housing Office will be sending emails to the houses on Wednesday night of finals week.

NO NAMES PLEASE — Don't forget to get a little sleep before you head to finals. There may be a few from this year that you won't want to repeat next year.

GOOD LUCK WITH FINALS, MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL AND HAPPY NEW DECADE!!

Children's Festival

The students, faculty, and staff are invited to bring their children from ages 2 to 12 years old to the CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL. This event will be held Saturday, December 1, 1979, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The A.S. Activities Committee and the CSCSB Child Care Center staff will host a fun-filled day of crafts, games, and movies featuring some of the favorite cartoon characters such as Bugs Bunny, Pink Panther, Roadrunner, and many more. Also, there will be a special visit from Santa Claus. The donation is 50 cents per child, with all proceeds going to the CSCSB Child Care Center. Please provide a sack lunch for your children. We will provide fruit drinks and other snacks.

Parents, you are welcome to stay the afternoon with your children and join in on the fun, or you may drop your children off for the festival, do your Christmas shopping, and return later to pick your children up.

This Saturday

The CHILDREN'S FILM FESTIVAL will take place in the Student Union. You won't want your child to miss this special event, planned especially for them by us, the A.S. Activities Committee and the CSCSB Child Care Center.

Activities Pack For Winter Registration

The Activities Office will once again assemble a packet of informative materials to be handed out to students at registration. All handouts to be included in this packet should be in the Activities Office by December 17, 1979. (This deadline allows our staff ample time to assemble the packets.) If this presents a problem you should notify the Activities Office to see whether special arrangements can be made. We will be assembling between three and four thousand packets, so plan your materials accordingly.

Black Students Union Activities

by Lola Thomas

The Black Students Union is "on the move." President James Williams announced a very successful Black History Committee. Our very active vice president, Chester McIntosh, was appointed chairman of the Black History Week Committee, as well as Student representative on the Committee of Clubs on campus.

The list of a series of dances was set for May 23 in the SUMP Room of the Student Union. Ticket takers will be Lori Keith, Michelle M. Thomas and Brady Richardson.

Chester McIntosh submitted two designs for our BSU T-shirt emblem. Members chose the one depicting two college graduates.

Counselor Jean Peacock informed the members about the upcoming Third World Conference to be held at CSCSB on March 24 thru May. More than 400 professionals and paraprofessionals will attend the conference. Area high school seniors will be guests. BSU, MECHA and EOP staff members will serve as hosts and hostesses.

Why There Are Clouds

by Ivana Glassco

As God was going about his business, as you know, He decided to create the Heavens and Mother Earth. He created two sisters who keep Mother Earth company, and He named them Light and Darkness.

Now Light was as beautiful as one could never comprehend; her skin was so very fair, her teeth shone the brilliance of thirty-two suns; her eyes could persuade angels; and her hair was as yellow as to be beyond compare. Everyone loved to play when Light was around for she was very cheerful and outgoing. She was very good friends with Sister Joy and Brother Happiness, and even thought Father Time was known to be partial to no one you could tell that he liked Light more than any of the others. Light could talk endlessly about any subject and it would not bore you. That is why Mother Earth loved Light and would go about her daily business enjoying Light talk.

And yet, Darkness was not ugly. She had the same basic features of her sister Light but she always seemed to be hiding herself and no one ever saw her. She was not witty like her sister and didn't talk very much. So whenever it was her turn to keep Mother Earth company, Mother Earth would fall asleep and leave Darkness to sit alone. And all of this came about because Darkness was actually very, very shy and no one understood.

Darkness began to think that no one liked her and so finally she sat down and cried. She cried and cried and cried so long that Father Time thought she would never stop. Then she stopped — Brother Hate who was always up to no good came and laid a hand upon her shoulder and consoled her. Everyone who knew Brother Hate disliked him because he was master to Sister Jealousy and Brother Envy and used them wrongly.

Now Darkness never had any friends before because of her shyness, so when Brother Hate consoled her she put her trust in him. Brother Hate saw Darknesses beauty which also pleased her. His tongue was the most charming and soon they were married. Very fast thereafter did Brother Hate's influence steal upon Darkness's mind so she became one of his slaves and bore him a child. It was a boy and it was called Evil, which means "The Tool of Darkness". Darkness was tempted to get revenge for her mother. The lightning is his spear; the thunder is the clouds roar of anguish; and the rain, the rain is the tears of Darkness' sister, for Light is always in the company of Sister Sorrow when Evil attacks. She wishes she could have been a better hostess to Evil.

So, I must be making progress. Or an event that blurs the imagination happened. I Long To Live For Me

I live for myself, and yet am I sure? I must be loyal to someone else for I live for myself, and yet am I sure? I've lost my liberty and my well-being. All the freedom within myself. I've lost my liberty. Trying to live alone, it seems To bring chains into my life. Binding and breaking bones, it drains The sap, cutting the knife. Others cheering and laughing will not affect my soul. For love. Not understood at all will kill The joyous fiery dove.

Musing and setting my life straight To understand how I feel, For every time my bones break Down, my pain will not be still. Why do others I have to please And why my happiness I'll never be at total peace Longing for my loneliness. Confused and weary, I've become An example of the past. My tune, it has changed: it has sung Of freedom, to hold it fast. One day When I give up or or or whichever way. I'll have realized and obtained something important to me and my well-being and possibly to my sanity. I'll have yielded to the fact that every once in a while things are not going to be as l'd like. So, I must be making progress.

Evil does not give up however, he tries and tries and keeps on trying. You can hear and see Evil still trying to get revenge for his mother. The lightning is his spear; the thunder is the clouds roar of anguish; and the rain, the rain is the tears of Darkness' sister, for Light is always in the company of Sister Sorrow when Evil attacks. She wishes she could have been a better sister and understood Darkness' shyness.

Joint Federal Task Force Seizes Contraband

by M.A. Kemenovich

PEORIA, ILL. — A joint Federal Task Force composed of Immigration Investigators, Food and Drug Administration Investigators and Custom's Agents of the Treasury Department have reported the arrest here today of Mr. S. Clause AKA R. Kringle AKA F. Christmas during a raid this morning.

Operating on a reliable informant source, federal agents served a warrant and stationed themselves around the living room of E. Scrooge and surrounding the fireplace. Agents reported setting up rumors in previous years of a massive smuggling operation run by an undocumented alien who operated during the winter solstice period from an undisclosed northern location. The smuggler appeared in the fireplace shortly after midnight wearing a beard, disarranging his hair, and wearing a sorry red suit. He was carrying a load of contraband.

The alleged smuggler had been peddling various forms of joy for many years without proper clearance from the Food and Drug Administration. Other charges include Entry of Goods in Contravention of Law. A Deputy U.S. District Attorney reported hoping for a speedy trial. "With the prisoner's confession and arrest in possession of all that contraband, we feel it is an open and shut case."

SUNDAY SCHOOL SEES FATHER CHRISTMAS HANGED

Father Christmas was hanged yesterday from the railings of Djem Cathedral and burnt publicly in the precinct. This spectacular execution took place in the presence of several hundred children from the Sunday Schools. It was decided on with the agreement of the clergy who had condemned Father Christmas as a usurper and a heretic. He was accused of paganizing the festival of Christmas and installing himself like a cuckoo into the state schools from which the crib has been banished.

The following story was found in our archives

From the Bethlehem Bugle, December 25, 0000

A disturbance near Isaac's Livery Stable early this morning resulted in a confrontation between Legionaries and a group of shepherds and royalty.

The first indication of trouble was the appearance of hundreds of sheep blocking the roads as they followed their shepherds to Isaac's. The blocking of the sheep soon aroused the sleeping neighborhood. Bethlehem has been in a restless mood with the influx of strangers here for the census.

Local residents called the police and the duty legionaries arrived promptly. They were about to disperse the crowd when three kings confronted them.

Aved by the unexpected royalty, the patrol leader sent for the Centurian of the Watch who arrived grumbling. He ordered more troops out when the Kings refused to leave, demanding to see a child. The local maternity hospital was suggested.

The kings became more irritated demanding a phone so they could call the Procurator of Judea in Jerusalem. The Staff Duty Tribune arrived with two assistants who began to clear the streets when another stranger appeared next to the Tribune wearing wings, a luminous robe, and carrying a flickering sword. He politely suggested to the Tribune that perhaps he and his troops would be more comfortable in their barracks. The Tribune agreed. He is still unavailable for comment.

Informed sources state he and his troops seriously depleted the wine rations of the innkeeper. The Inspector General is making inquiries regarding this strange consumption.

The crowd proceeded to Isaac's and the angry neighborhood calmed down during a free concert of singing which filled the night.

Demonstrator's Converse On Peoria
National Guard And 82nd Airborne Alerted

by M.A. Kemenovich

Hundreds of thousands of juveniles riding bicycles, scooters, bikes, skateboards, and go-carts are reported converging on Peoria. Ill. Spokespersons for the group vow they will release their supplier of contraband joy recently arrested by federal authorities on numerous smuggling and immigration charges. Alarmed Department of Justice officials have requested the President order the U.S. Marshall's Tactical Control Force to Peoria.

The TCF consists of 150 deputy U.S. Marshals who can theoretically be placed anywhere in the United States within four hours. This is the group which first isolated wounded Knee in South Dakota.

Requests have also been made to alert the 82nd Airborne Division for a possible call for assistance. The Governor reported placing the Illinois National Guard on alert.

Police road blocks have failed to stop the mobs as the desperate youths gallantly resisted the blocksades and daringly drove their skateboards and go-carts beneath the blockades.

A beaten and harassed officer stated on the way to the hospital after having had his knee cap severely blackened in a fist fight with a vicious six year old. "I'm glad I'm out of it now. When they get to Peoria, they'll make Sherman's March to the Sea look like a cakewalk. They've already seized every hot dog and ice cream cone within a three state radius."

Chapter 2
Saint Luke
King James Version
Verses 1-20

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesarea Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. And this taxing was first made when Augustus was governor of Syria. And Jesus was from the city of Nazareth, in the province of Galilee; but was of the house and lineage of David; To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered, and she gave birth to her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn. And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night. And an angel of the Lord appeased upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there came with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even to Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them by the shepherds. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God, for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Is There A Santa Claus?
Yes, Virginia!

Virginia O’Hannlon, age 8, wrote this letter to the Editor of the New York Sun, Francis Church. The famous response appeared on September 21, 1897 and was reprinted at Christmas for the next half century.

“Dear Editor, I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Pope says it’s so. The Sun’s so. Please tell me the truth: is there a Santa Claus?”

“Virginia O’Hannlon,” 115 West Ninety-Fifth Street.

VIRGINIA, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, VIRGINIA, whether men’s or children’s, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him. But we have learned to do our little work so surely, that if we had been able to burst into the unseeable and unseeable in the world, which is no other child, perhaps, than we are ourselves — then have we shown that which was not seen and understood in the world. You may tear apart the baby’s rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but we do not show to a four-year-old boy that a five-dollar watch is made of gold and lovely jewels, because he needs to hear the ticking and watch the time. And the wise and learned say God is infinite, and my head is none of your业务. Would that it were so and life was what was promised to us as a child and not what we found it to be.

Christmas is a time where we are allowed to be what we would like to be.

This is the time which reminds us of what we could be.
Christmas is the time we visit Camelot.

Commercializers

To coincide with this year’s avalanche of Christmas commercialism, ALTERNATIVES is sponsoring the first annual “Best and Worst Christmas Contest”. The contest, open to all Americans and Canadians, will be seeking examples of Christmas gifts, from past years, which best illustrate:

1. THE BEST OF CHRISTMAS COMMERCIALISM: gifts that were particularly tacky, useless, extravagant, expensive, awful, useless, and/or utterly crass, and primarily served only the financial interests of the manufacturers and retailers (examples: automatic, electric “in-the-shell” egg scramblers; $300 Monopoly games made out of chocolate; patriotic toilet seats; $99 “X-mas Stockings” filled with x-rated films);

2. THE BEST OF AN “ALTERATIVE CHRISTMAS” gifts which demonstrated a more meaningful, human and socially responsible celebration (examples: things which were homemade, scheduled, gifts of time, a shared experience of the teaching of a skill or talent; a gift given to someone else in your name).

This year, the Best and Worst Contest, there’s finally a way to share those examples or excessive commercialism that set new standards in bad taste or those special and creative gifts that really did reflect the true Christmas spirit. Entries must describe, in 200-300 words, a gift actually received by the contestee. Each entry should explain why the gift reflected either excessive commercialism or a more meaningful, human and socially responsible Christmas. Photos of the actual gift are optional — but non-returnable.

The names of people submitting “Worst of Christmas” entries will be kept confidential, and the winner of this category will have the option of having his/her name withheld from public announcement. The winner of this category will receive a prize.

Entries must be received by December 18th at the following address: BEST AND WORST CHRISTMAS CONTEST, Alternatives, 4274 Oaklawn Dr. Jackson, MI 49201.

P.O. Box 500, 100 Main St. Traverse City, MI 49684.

In the spirit of an Alternative Christmas, ALTERNATIVES will donate $500 to two non-profit, tax-exempt human needs or social change organizations. The winners of the “Best” and “Worst” categories will each be able to designate one of the donation recipients.

Entries must be received by December 18th at the following address: BEST AND WORST CHRISTMAS CONTEST, Alternatives, 4274 Oaklawn Dr. Jackson, MI 49201.

The sponsoring organization, ALTERNATIVES, was founded in 1973. The non-profit, public education organization was launched specifically to develop resources and projects to challenge and de-legitimize the way commercialism of our celebrations and holidays.

ALTERNATIVES wishes to help revive a more human and socially responsible celebration with its Alternative Christmas Champaign. An “Alternative Christmas” focuses on three themes: 1. Challenge Christmas commercialism, 2. Adopting alternative and more meaningful gift-giving traditions and celebration practices, and 3. Diverting money which is typically spent on holiday extravagance to worthwhile social change and human needs groups.

In the past six years, ALTERNATIVES has produced numerous resources on alternative celebrations and lifestyles. Most prominent among these resources has been the Alternative Celebrations Catalogue series. Now in its fourth edition (with over 120,000 copies sold), the Catalogue offers ideas on how to develop alternative celebration styles and more socially responsible lifestyles.
The Golden Century Of Venetian Painting
On View At L.A. County Museum of Art

by Jana Ondrechen

The first major exhibition of Venetian Renaissance painting ever organized by an American museum is on view through January 27, 1980, in the Frances and Armand Hammer Wing of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.

Guest curator Terese Pignatti, director emeritus of the civic museums of Venice and professor of art history at the University of Venice organized the exhibit over a five-year period, in collaboration with Kenneth Donahue, Director emeritus of L.A.C.M.A. The Golden Century of Venetian Painting was made possible by a grant from BankAmerica Foundation and an indemnity from the Federal Council on the arts and humanities.

Venetian art of the Renaissance differs from that of the rest of Italy, for the Venetian Republic developed in relative isolation from the rest of the peninsula. As Italy's greatest commercial power, Venice was deeply absorbed in trading, and was shaped by influences distinct from central Italy. While the art of the Renaissance in central Italy was strongly influenced by classical Greece and Rome, Venetian art fused its own late Roman traditions with Byzantine, Islamic, and Romanesque and Gothic influences. Protected geographically from external attack and blessed with internal peace, Venice lived up to its official title of "Most Serene Republic". In contrast to the central Italian republics, which were torn by both internal and external strife.

Unlike the artists of Florence and Rome, who were preoccupied with systematic, theoretical approaches to art, Venetian artists focused on direct observation of nature. Most significant was the special Venetian approach to color—color was — and is — a different experience in Venice. Light reflections on the water surrounding the city create an atmosphere unique from that of the mainland. In the mid 1470's Venetian painters began switching from the traditional tempera emulsions to oil paints; for oils were better suited to expressing the Venetian love of brilliance of light and color.

With the oil medium, it was possible to paint without preliminary drawing, to soften outlines, blend colors and depict subtle or intense plays of light and shadow. Venetian painting has been called the most complete expression of the Italian Renaissance in art. Covering the period from 1470 to 1590, which Professitng Pignatti has described as "the complete age of Venetian painting", L.A.C.M.A.'s exhibit contains 50 paintings by 21 artists.

The works range from famous masterpieces such as Titian's "Venus of Urbino" to the stark elegance of Timothy App's "Dryad," to the striking realism of Adriaen van Ostade's "The Village Blacksmith." The large works include Titian's "The Coronation of the Virgin," Veronese's "The Marriage at Cana," and Tintoretto's "Raising of the Daughter of St. Lausus." Venetian artists often worked in a series, and several series are featured, including Titian's "Horse" paintings, Rembrandt's "The Night Watch," and Veronese's "The Marriage of St. Catherine," which is being restored for the exhibition. The exhibit is planned to remain in L.A.C.M.A.'s exhibit for three years and will travel to New York City in 1981.

The Golden Century of Venetian Painting is literally a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to view these paintings together. Due to restrictions stipulated by many of the lenders, the exhibit will not travel to other museums, nor is photography allowed. However, a catalog with every work illustrated in color is available in the Museum Shop.

Docent tours are offered daily at 1 p.m., and on the second Tuesday of each month when admission is free. At 7 p.m. Hours on these free days only are 12 noon to 9 p.m. Regular hours are Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. (The Museum is closed Mondays and on major holidays).

Admission is 50 cents for students and senior citizens with I.D., and young people 15 through 17. Admission is free to Museum members and included in the general admission fee for non-members.

"Los Angeles Abstract Painting" On Display At UCR

by Jana Ondrechen

Works by 16 L.A.-based artists are featured in "Los Angeles Abstract Painting" on display through Dec. 15 at the University of California, Riverside Art Gallery.

The exhibit is sponsored by UCR and the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, where it premiered in September.

On view are works by Lita Albuquerque, Timothy App, Craig Antim, Karl Benjamin, Jerrold Burchman, James de France, Tony de Lape, Dennis Darby, Charles Christopher Hill, Craig Kauffman, Ted Kende, Patsy Krebs, Jay McCall, Margit Omar, and Jean St. Pierre.

These are relatively young artists still establishing themselves, with the exception of Karl Benjamin, one of the most underrated Los Angeles artists. Benjamin, who resides in Claremont was selected because he has been an influential figure to many of the younger artists in the show.

All in all the show is excellent, especially in its range of approaches and pleasing surface textures from vibrant, linear shapes by Benjamin to glaze, shiny surfaces such as Craig Antim's "Verdant" and Jean St. Pierre's "Rita," to the stark elegance of Timothy App's " Nimbus.

UCR Gallery hours are 11 a.m. through 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Admission is free to the public.

Air Cav Col­

The ground fighting appeared fairly realistic and made the movie. Brando wasn't a prisoner or victim of the film, but the audience was. He didn't fall apart because of the war but because of an inefficiency of moral glue.

Brando wasn't a prisoner or victim of the war. He was a victim of his own delusions. He was leading his men to their deaths, but he couldn't admit it. He was arguing with himself. He was fighting the war but because of an inefficiency of moral glue.

It is unfair to herald this occasion of memoirs. It is also unfair to ignore the more normal, less brilliant men, who kept themselves together through the chaos of war.

I want to see the movie "free" and wonder what the picture would be like if I still had the power to see without feeling that it was a falsification. The Village People outdistanced the Moochers 52-8 to advance to the Co-ed Football Championship. Sonya Jackson and Nancy Ferrets combined for twenty points and George Duncan scored two touchdowns in the win. The Moochers were able to muster only one touchdown by Cap­

The championship will be played November 30, at 3:30 on the playing fields. Tokay (6-0)

Racquetball Doubles

gordon McGinnis and Val Devin outlasted their nearest rivals to claim victory in this year's Racquetball doubles tournament. Devin remarked: "It would have been nice if more teams had entered."
Looking back at last year’s NCAA basketball tournament, it is no wonder that college basketball is one of the most exciting sports. A look at the championship game — Larry Bird leading a small, Indiana State, against "Magic" Johnson and Gregory Kelser and the fancy passing of Michigan State — would show that college basketball is the sport of the 80’s.

It is also a topsy-turvy sport. Besides the UCLA dynasty, there really has been no school in recent years to dominate. As a matter of fact, although the two finalists in last year’s tournament, have only lost three starters from their teams, they are both unranked by any major polls. It is only fair to point out, though, the three they lost were three of the best in the nation last year, Bird, Johnson and Kelser.

Graduation has not hit too many teams, however. Only UCLA has really been hit by it. This year, there are so many fine players returning that picking a top ten seem ed to be naming last year’s playoffs. The best thing about it is that I won’t be here next quarter so I won’t hear the flak if I am wrong.

1. DePaul. After making the final four for the first time in at least 30 years, DePaul comes back with only two starters. Fortunately one of them isn’t Mark Aguirre (24 points per game). With a fine recruiting year, the Blue Demons will be right around the top.

2. Notre Dame. The Irish have four of their five starters back including Kelly Tripucka. Why the Irish aren’t number 1 is unfortunate one of them isn’t Mark Aguirre (24 points per game). With a fine recruiting year, the Blue Demons will be right around the top.

3. Kentucky. With a new center 7’1” Sam Bowie and seven of eight top players back, Kentucky has a very good chance to go all the way, especially when one of those players is Kyle Macy, probably the best playmaker in the game.

4. Ohio State. One of the best centers in basketball, Herb Williams, and the best recruit from the midwest, Clark Kellogg, the Buckeyes will be a big challenger for the national title. If they had another guard to go with Kelvin Ransey, Ohio State would be the team to beat.

5. Louisville. Probably the most exciting team in college basketball, the Cardinals bring back three of their starters. With a fantastic recruiting year and Darrell Griffith, the “Doctor Dunleavyen” and other top players back, Louisville will challenge.

6. Duke. After a disappointing season last year, they were picked to go all the way, the Blue Devils return with four starters and strength in rebounding. Mike Fratole and Gene Banks lead the Blue Devils, who have to find a playmaker guard to become a major threat this year.

7. Louisiana State. If any team deserves to be a dark horse this year, it is LSU. Returning four starters and a player who sat out last season due to injury, Durand Macklin (19.0 points per game in 1977-78), the Tigers seem to be able to go for this season. Their only drawback is that they are in the same conference as Kentucky, the Southeastern.

8. UCLA. Of all the teams, graduation hurt UCLA the most. The Bruins lost 75 percent of their scoring and still expect to make it to the playoffs. Larry Brown, the new coach at UCLA, still has some top players back. Kiki Vandeweghe and James Wilkes will help the Bruins to another national championship. With a great recruiting year, UCLA has the makings of another dynasty.

9. North Carolina. Mike O’Konen, All-American last year, lead the Tar Heel this season. Along with O’Konen and Al Wood (17.8 points per game) the Tar Heels recruited James Worth, a high school All American from Gastonia N.C. With another freshman, Jimmy Bradlock, running the plays, North Carolina could not have enough experience to challenge this year. Another problem is they are in the same conference (the Atlantic Coast) as Duke.

10. St. John’s. If there is a surprise this year, it would be St. John’s. After shocking everyone and making the Eastern regional finals last year, this year should be easier. They return the five starters but also their starters, but there will be some competition for a forward spot. Curtis Redding, a transfer from Kansas State, already, says one pro coach, “is a pro prospect right now”. He averaged 18.4 points as a freshman at KSU. The NCAA has expanded the playoffs to 48 teams. There will be a lot of excitement this year and a lot more competitiveness. Still with the talent they have, De Paul should end up as Number 1 with a host of other schools hot on their trail.
