WOMEN'S WEEK!

April 20, 1973

The BULLETIN

WOMEN

A plethora of Women's Week events will hit the campus next week. Discussions ranging from Monday's "Non-Traumatic Abortion Methods" by a psychologist who treated women with post-abortion problems to Friday's "Anti-Rape" panel by the Los Angeles Rape Squad, will be interspersed with films, lectures, photo exhibits, slide shows, self-help clinics, etc. Legal rights, women in prison, black women in business, growing up female, history of women and many other related topics will be explored in the week-long event, sponsored by All Sisters, campus women's group, and the ASB. Margie Taft, Senior art student, is coordinator.

Mary Jane Shoultz, former Asst. Prof. of Education at CSCSB and author of the book Keys for Your Feminist Future, will speak on "Literacy is Dead" Monday evening. Two CSCSB psychology professors, Doris Durrell and Gloria Cowan, will conduct Wednesday evening's panel discussion on experiences of growing up in the U.S. educational system.

A complete program of the Women's Week events will be distributed with this week's Bulletin.

STUDENTS MAY GET SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS AFTER REACHING 22ND BIRTHDAY

Students receiving social security payments may now get checks for a time following their 22nd birthday, according to word received from the San Bernardino District office. Under a change in law, undergraduate students can continue to get payments through the end of the semester or quarter in which they reach age 22. The change means students will no longer face the problem of having their benefits stop in the middle of a term. Under previous law, social security payments stopped when the student reached 22. Students or advisors may contact the local Social Security office, 2110 E. Highland Ave. in San Bernardino for further information.

HERBERT BLUMER, WELL KNOWN SOCIOLOGIST, TO PRESENT LECTURE TUESDAY

Noted sociologist Dr. Herbert Blumer will speak on campus Tuesday, April 24, at 1:30 p.m. on the fifth floor of the Library.

Dr. Blumer, well known for his work in the area of race relations and major labor-management disputes, will deal with "Critical Assessment of Current Sociological Points of View," and will entertain questions following the lecture. According to David Decker, Asst. Prof., sociology, and coordinator for the event, Dr. Blumer is one of the best known contemporary American sociologists, and has published widely in the areas of race relations, collective behavior and social theory.

Area residents and the campus community are invited to participate in a lunch with Dr. Blumer, which is sponsored by the Sociology Club and Alpha Kappa Delta, in the Commons Cafeteria from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The lecture is open to the campus and the public without charge. Sociology faculty from CSCSB and community colleges will attend a dinner at 4:30 p.m. in the Lower Commons honoring Dr. Blumer.
