Blacks migrating from LA to Riverside County

By Agapio Garza

The Press Enterprise

For the first time since they began their Depression-era migration from Mississippi Delta counties, many Blacks are moving out of Los Angeles County. Their flight is an extension of a general movement of blacks from the large cities of the south to rural areas of the West. In Los Angeles, the study found, there are fewer blacks leaving the city than entering it. In 1972, 1987, and 1988, 8,283 blacks left Los Angeles, while 10,661 entered. The study found that, between 1975 and 1980, 96,833 moved to the Riverside County area, about 33,000 from Los Angeles, and about 24,000 from Orange County. The study also found that the majority of those who moved from Los Angeles to Riverside County were aged 20-54.

Mansfield & Associates, a leading African American public affairs and communications firm, has announced that it has signed a contract to represent the Little Rock Nine throughout the city government and schools.

Mr. Mansfield, a long-time supporter of the Little Rock Nine, said, "Our firm is honored to be able to help these trailblazers represent their interests in the government and schools of Little Rock.

The Little Rock Nine, a group of nine African American students who attended Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas, in 1957, faced significant racism and resistance when they attempted to integrate the school. The U.S. government, through a Supreme Court decision, mandated that the school integrate, but it took the Army to force the city and city government to comply with the decision.

Mansfield & Associates is currently representing the Little Rock Nine in their efforts to ensure equal representation and opportunities in the city government and schools.
Joe Black To Be Honored By Sickle Cell

Wilton D. Carter's kick-off for re-election to another term on the Riverside Board of Education was an overwhelming success. "I am happy to see so many people come out for this occasion," said Chuck Singleton, Pastor of Loveland Church. Pastor Singleton was commenting on the 105-plus who attended the reception held Thursday, October 1, at Mr. Carter's home.

A cross section of Riverside residents was on hand to wish Wilmer success in his bid to retain his seat as a member of the Board. Attendees included Bishop Roy M. Johnson, John Lengrillo, Counsellor, San Marin and Tom Sainye, all the current members of the Riverside Board of Education, Mrs. Rohlo, Stacey Miller and even some candidates seeking a seat. One of the candidates said, "even though I hope to take one of the open seats, I want Wilmer to re-tain his, so we can do even more for the children in the District.

An excited Lynell Hirtz, Tami, for Wilmer's Cam-paign, said, "I am pleased so many came out to support Wilmer, especially the day lady who pressed $2 into my hand and said she didn't have much, but wanted to do all she could to ensure victory for Wilmer."

Mrs. Hirtz is Cousin of Don's, Lawmencover Service in Rialto. In citing her campaign theme, "Education Turns Me On," Wilmer told the enthusiastic crowd, "I am en-couraged by the efforts of all the young people who are involved. We will win because of the youth, and for the youth."

Anyone wishing to assist in Wilmer's campaign should call (714) 421-180.

Mr. And Mrs. Alfred Briggs Celebrate 25th Anniversary

RIALTO — Alfred and Vetrina Briggs made a decision to have a year-long celebration for their 25th wedding anniversary last Christmas. For Christmas, they purchased new rugs, so they could be worn during the long, rainy season.

In April, which is the actual anniversary month, they went to Las Vegas and redecorated their suites at the Little White Chapel, where they were married 25 years ago.

That was so touching, Mrs. Briggs became overwhelmed and chocked up with tears. About 100 relatives and friends enjoyed the festive occasion with them.

To climax the year, Christmas cards will be sent to friends and associates who read, "Our 25 Years Together." Alfred and Vetrina have had a wonderful life together and have hopes for many more happy years.

Column To Get Historic Funding

Assembly Assistant Majority Leader Jerry Eaves (R-Fontana) said a City of Angel will receive another $400,000 for the Carnegie Library at Cal State University, Fullerton, in the state budget. He said it was instrumental in securing the additional funds needed, which is the essential key to get the additional funds in order for the City of Fullerton to proceed with the restoration. The City of Colton and the Colton Historical Society has raised a substantial amount and was able to get the State Historical Resources Protection Act to come up with $400,000 in the state budget to help fund the project, but that was still not enough. So we looked around and finally came up with an additional $200,000 that we put into SB 150.

SB 150 was signed on September 30, 1987. The last step is bills approved by the Legislature to be signed by the Governor.

The additional funding for the Carnegie Library will make the restoration be scheduled through the State Department of Parks and Recreation. The money will enable the conversion of the historic library into a museum for the City of Colton as part of the city's centennial celebration.

City State officials say that they are working as fast as they can to program the money when the budget allocations are passed. Contracting activities may begin in the next few weeks according to those officials.

Conference On Promoting The Health Of Black Americans In Atlanta

The first national conference on Promoting the Health of Black Americans will be held November 13-14 in Atlanta, Georgia at the Holiday Inn Crowe Plaza. More than 200 attendees, including four hundred lay and professional people will review identified health risks facing Black Americans and investigate diverse health promotion option programs addressing those risk factors which have been created and implemented at all levels of society. Twenty-four speakers and presenters will join with representatives of more than seventy cooperating organizations and registrants from an exceptionally wide range of disciplines to discuss the evaluation of health promotion for Black Americans.

The conference on Promoting the Health of Black Americans is presented by the National Center for Health Education in New York City. It is sponsored by Campbell Soup Company through the involvement of Campbell’s In America initiative. Registration for the November 13-14 conference on Promoting the Health of Black Americans came from “The Report of the Secretary’s Task Force on Black and Minority Health” (U.S. Dept. of Health and Human Services: 1985. Promotion of Disease, Disability and Death in Blacks and Other Minorities (U.S. Centers for Disease Control).

Space is limited for this conference. Information may be requested from Dr. Warren H. Hess, Assistant Director, Office of Minority Health, says the conference structure is unique and responsive.

“We wanted a format that would allow dramatic and dynamic input by everyone attending. With a series of seminar sessions and breakout sessions, we have that,” Dr. Hess says.

Conference information is available by writing to NCHE, 30 East 20th Street, New York, New York 10016-9701. Special flight rates and hotel rates are available for conference registrants.
