On Saturday, June 16, at 8 p.m. the Seventh Annual CSCSB Commencement exercises will be held in the College Gymnasium. According to figures received from the Admissions and Records office, some 676 students are eligible to receive B.A. degrees. Of these, 359 will attend the ceremony.

In addition to the B.A. candidates, six M.A. candidates will receive degrees in Elementary Education and one senior will receive a B.S. degree in chemistry. This will mark the first time in the College's history that B.S. and M.A. degrees will be conferred.

Among the master's candidates are two brothers - from CSCSB alumni, Daniel and Pete Carrasco, class of '68 and '69, respectively. Also receiving M.A.'s are Liston L. Caldwell, Susan Orrock, Ruby Rubio and Constance Mae Wallace. The recipient of the College's first B.S. degree will be Kenneth Thomson, chemistry major.

Commencement speaker will be Dr. James G. Bond, President of Cal State U, Sacramento, speaking on "Excellence Re-visited." Because of the many candidates and guests, admission to the exercises will be by ticket only, which have been issued to the graduates. A reception in honor of the graduates and their guests will follow in the Little Gym and Pool area.

Among the candidates seven are graduating with highest honors:

George Weiny, Professor, P.E., will leave for the Island of Truk in the Pacific tomorrow where he will spend several weeks training Trukese divers in salvaging sunk Japanese warships.

Prof. Weiny will call on experience gained as a demolition expert during the Korean War to detect and immobilize live explosives before the salvaging operations begin.

He will join five other experts from across the U.S., selected from a large number of applicants, all members of the National Assn.
