Dick Gregory Keynoter At WCBA Tribute To Dr. Carlton Goodlett

John Holman, convention chair and publisher of the National Association for Gifted Children, has announced that Dick Gregory will be the Keynote Speaker at the West Coast Black Publishers Association's tribute to Carlton Goodlett, M.D., Ph.D., publisher of the San Reporter in San Francisco.

According to Holman, "Our association is delighted that Mr. Gregory accepted our invitation to honor Dr. Goodlett. He will truly be a highlight for the evening and I know that everyone will be inspired by his message."

Dick Gregory's reputation as a brilliant comedian is predicated only by his dedication to the cause of human liberation. As well known for his comic antics as for his political outspokenness, Gregory has played such diverse roles as author, lecturer, human-rights activist, actor, philosopher, political analyst and leading expert on survival and diet control.

Gregory's career began in 1960 when he smashed the color barrier by becoming the first Black comic to work in first-rate White night clubs. Since then he has spoken as a comedian and humanitarian.

Knowledge of his talent spread worldwide and he became a regular on national television. Dick Gregory is also the author of nine books, including Cooking With Mother Nature, a best seller on health and nutrition for several years. He is also a recording artist with many albums to his credits. And as a lecturer, Dick Gregory has become one of the most sought-after speakers in the world.

The noteworthy and timely occasion honoring Dr. Goodlett will be held at the Fourth Annual West Coast Black Publishers Association in San Francisco, California at the West St. Francis Hotel, October 22, 1987, beginning at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30 p.m. All convention activities will span from October 21 to October 24.

The WCBA collectively represents 28 newspapers with a total weekly circulation of over 850,000. The organization was established in 1971 and currently has 16 members. Hillard Harris is President.

For more information about the WCBA Tribute to Dr. Goodlett and the convention, please contact the Convention Coordinator, Alescia Buford and Associates at (310) 995-6645 or the San Reporter (415) 915-5778.

BAPAC Convention To Be Held In Sacramento

The annual BAPAC convention will be held in Sacramento, October 16-18, 1987. Most of the meetings will be at the Sacramento Convention Center.

This is going to be a significant event leading into the 1988 presidential primary," said Alice Huffman, State Chair.

"The California Newspaper wrote an article entitled "Is Black Power Fading?" The question is timely since the largest California city mayor is Black, the most powerful Speaker in the world is Black, and many Black elected officials are significant in the operation of California. Moreover, the front runner in the National Democratic Party is Black (although the media plays down this). But just one of the challenges to expanding political power is a problem. We all know what it takes to become a number," said the state chair.

The convention will be held on Saturday, October 22, 1987, reception at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Los Angeles City Councilman Bob Fara! spoke to Assemblyman Willie Brown about the importance of BAPAC.

Does God To Heal Everyone?

QUESTION: Dear Pastor Woods, what do you think of the teaching that God wants everyone to be healed? I know that many Christians believe that God loves all people and that He knows our needs.

Ms. A.A., Radio Listener

ANSWER: Let me answer your question with the Bible. "Beloved, I wish above all things that you may prosper and be in health, even as your soul prospereth" (2 Thessalonians 3:1). "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, to day, and forever" (Hebrews 13:8). "The devil comes to steal, kill, and destroy. I come that they may have life, and have it more abundantly" (John 10:10). "Bless the Lord, oh my soul, and forget not all His benefits" (Psalm 103:2).

If you have a question that you would like answered, write: Pastor Reginald Woods, Resurrection Temple, P.O. Box 1355, Riverside, CA 92504.

Health Agenda An Election Issue Says Black Congress

The Black Congress on Health, Law and Economic Development (BCHLE), an umbrella organization representing Black professional organizations, met in Palm Springs where it called for a national strategy to address the high morbidity and mortality occurring disproportionately in the Black community, and it appealed to all communities to hold incumbent and potential candidates for local, state and national offices accountable.

In response to the 1985 Report of the Secretary of HHS Task Force on Black and Minority Health which identified almost 80,000 excess Black deaths linked to six disease categories, BCHLE initiated an innovative approach, "Operation Taking Charge," a call for awareness within the Black community.

Since large portions of the Black community are poor and/or do not have health insurance, being under-insured and because of adverse changes in the Medicaid program, BCHLE demands that this situation be corrected.

The Black Congress calls on all components of the health care system - health care providers, the insurance industry and local, state and Federal Government - to address this high morbidity and mortality occurring disproportionately in the Black community, and it appeals to all communities to hold incumbent and potential candidates for local, state and national offices accountable.

Gas Company Advises Customers To Close Meters Only If They Smell Gas After Quake

Nearly 13,000 Southern California Gas Co. customers were inconvenienced following last week's earthquake because in many instances they needlessly turned off the natural gas to their homes or apartments, a gas company official has explained.

In the aftermath of the quake that struck the Los Angeles area, officials at Southern California Gas Co. are advising customers not to turn off their gas meters in the event of an earthquake because they smell gas or hear the hissing sound of a gas leak.

"Our system suffered very little damage as a result of the quake and the aftershocks, but we did have thousands of customers who turned off their meters," said Arnold Dickson, district manager for the gas company.

In the aftennath of the earthquake, the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. Gas Company has also turned off the natural gas to their homes or apartments, a gas company official has explained.

Why wait any longer? Turn off gas service to their homes unnecessarily. Dickson said that some customers did not have their service restored for several days because of the lack of a specific appliance, it may be possible to turn off gas service to their homes unnecessarily.

Gas service should only be turned off if the customer believes there is a leak. If a leak is coming from a specific appliance, it may be possible to turn off gas service to that appliance without turning off the gas.
Beverly Hills/Hollywood NAACP Celebrates 20th Anniversary Image Awards

It was 1965 and all of Hollywood (or almost all of Hollywood) was gearing up for the biggest event of the year—the Academy Awards. But on this fateful day in 1965, preparations were also underway for a major demonstration and picket that would focus national attention on the plight of Blacks in the entertainment industry corporations.

Within the entertainment industry itself.

Efforts were made for several years to institute the prestigious show so that millions of Americans would be able to share in the positive and enriching images that this award represents. Finally, in 1981 and 1983, the 14th and 16th Image Awards were televised through syndication.

The NAACP then decided to take the issue of full and equal opportunity a step further. An awards system which would honor those artisans, craftsmen, technicians and executives who contributed to the positive portrayal of Blacks was created. Thus an entirely new era in the entertainment award field was initiated by the NAACP with the creation of "The Image Awards".

What began as a small dinner with a few award presenters, has grown to become the biggest event of the year—the Image Awards. This year, the 20th Anniversary Image Awards show will prove to be the most spectacular and star-studded event in the history of the show. With many surprises that will certainly be revealed in the annals of entertainment history.
