Lorin was a Physics major in his senior year at Brigham Young University when he realized that he was not going to be happy with his major. After he returned from a stint in Vietnam, he worked in the family business for several years. Then he decided to pursue the Bilingual Education major at CSUSB. He is presently doing his student teaching and will have his credential in June.

Joyce was a junior at BYU when she met Lorin. While he was in Vietnam, she completed her degree and is now a registered nurse. When I realized that Joyce and the children under the age of nine, I pictured a

NOW. I don't expect guys your age to have that many kids, but you don't have a hell of a lot in the schools these days, but I expect you to do something to pay your way, because I think I've paid all I want to pay for kids going to college. I don't think you should get a free ride.

DAILY: Estimates are that if tuition were charged, 100,000 students will be knocked out of the CSUC system.

JARVIS: I wish there would be and especially a lot from foreign countries. We could cut 100,000 foreign students — legal and illegal aliens going to school here — mooching on us and get them the hell out of here.

All you say doesn't make any impression on me because you're inferring that if you go to Cal Poly, you'll get an education, I don't believe it, because they don't give you one. They give you a bunch of garbage.

DAILY: What about, for example, minority students, who plan to go to college, who can't afford tuition, and who are already working to help their families?

JARVIS: Good for them. They have to work too. I think that as long as the school system is not producing education, that when I pay $50,000 a year in taxes, I don't get any education for it — I get a scam. The school system is not an education institution anymore, it's a political Mafia for money. The only difference between the school system and the Mafia is that the schools steal more money. — Jarvis

The only difference between the school system and the Mafia is that the schools steal more money.

DAILY: How much does it help your campaign having the support of people like Carol Hallatt (Lt. Gov.) and Nancy Knowles (Bill. Pres. & Republican leader in the state Assembly) and (Lt. Gov.) Mike Curb?

JARVIS: It helps because they're quite respectable people. We have some bright people, both Democrats and Republicans, and that's why Proposition 9 is going to pass in California about 3-1.

DAILY: Why does their public-figure support help you, but having Gov. Brown against you not worry you?

JARVIS: Brown doesn't count for anything. He's a dead duck politically because he hooked up with (Tom) Hayden and (Jane) Fonda and the public thinks they're great.

I don't give a damn what Brown does, no. He said he's going to vote against it — well, I'm going to vote for it. So, I'm going to cancel out his vote. Of course, he may vote absentee because he hasn't been the state much in the last 200 days.

DAILY: While campaigning for Proposition 13, you made much of the support of Nobel prize-winning conservative economist Milton Friedman. I read in the newspaper that he's come out against Proposition 9. . .

Chung was the co-anchor for Channel 2 news, will speak Sunday evening, May 18. The free public lecture will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building. For her appearance here, Miss Chung will speak about current trends in television news and women in television news. A buffet reception will be held in the Commons before the lecture and tickets may be purchased from the President's Office.

anything you want a funny thing — all the people that were against (Proposition) 13 when Friedman was for it, they said he was a shithead. And now that he made a great deal of money, they think he's great. That's a hypocritical bunch of bastards.

The reason Milton Friedman said what he said is because he was afraid that if we passed (Prop. 9) the legislature would increase the taxes on corporations (Proposition 9) and increase the state taxes — the corporations don't get a nickel. And Friedman has always felt we should reduce taxes on corporations.

(Redding to a letter to him said he was from Friedman) — I believe it is better to let Proposition 4 (passed in November '78, putting a ceiling on state spending) well before we move further to use the initiative process on specific taxes. At the same time I will not raise further taxes by Proposition 9.

DAILY: How about waiting for other laws already passed by the Legislature to take effect first? (The state Legislature has repealed the business tax that provided cost-of-living indexing so Californians will not be pushed into higher brackets by pay increase — two provisions Proposition 9 hopes to seal into the state constitution.)

JARVIS: The legislature never passed them until I filed Proposition 9. They passed them to try and defeat Proposition 9, and each one of them has a clause in it that can repeal it any time. So that is a big fat fraud. They're thieves up there.

DAILY: Do you think Proposition 9 really will result in cuts in government spending, or will taxes that can be levied (businesses and sales taxes) be increased?

JARVIS: No, it won't cut it a nickel (Proposition 13) didn't cut it any either, because your school has gone way up in price while it has only been $3 a year. And every city has more money and every county has more money and the state has more money. And after Proposition 9 passes, your school district will have 40,000 elderly citizens saying if (Proposition) 13 passes, they'd lose all tax benefits — that was a lie. They said Proposition 13 was for the rich — that was a lie. Jerry Brown, after Proposition 13 passed, said it was the best thing that ever happened to California after saying the previous six months it was the worst thing. So he's either lying one place or the other. And of course they lied about the surplus. They said it was $1.5 billion and I said it was $6.5 billion, and it turned out to be $6.5 billion. So a long series of monumental lies that your friends in Sacramento and in the school system told you, most of it is the school system. The people in the school system are pretty clever liars — most of them.

DAILY: People are also saying Proposition 9 is for the rich, that it's legalized kickbacks.

JARVIS: They're liars, it's progressive. If you have a $15,000 income, you get a 70 percent reduction, $10,000 in taxes amounts to $26.70. But if you only earn $10,000 to $12,000, you only get about a $70 reduction per year. (State Franchise Tax Board Figures.)

DAILY: That's not correct. I just told you what it is.

JARVIS: No, that's not right. I just told you what it is. If you have less than $15,000, you pay very little income tax, most of them none at all. They don't pay nothing. They have a free ride on the rest of us.

DAILY: What does the $30,000 (income) you get in a higher bracket, you will have a 63 percent reduction and that'll be about $35 a month. (Prop. 9)

JARVIS: Thieves, all thieves, it's a progressive system.

DAILY: I'd appreciate it. After Proposition 9 passes, 1 would like to see all the people that were for Proposition 9 and say what he said is because he was afraid that if we passed (Prop.) 9 don't decrease corporate taxes. (Proposition) 9 don't decrease corporate taxes. Jerry Brown hasn't reduced taxes on corporations. (Proposition) 9 is the best thing that ever happened to California.

DAILY: If you go to the May Company, and you buy a pair of shoes, do you think they tax the shoes on the sales tax? No way. What do you think the state of California does with their $6.5 billion surplus? They said it was $1.5 billion and I said it was $6.5 billion, and it turned out to be $6.5 billion. Jerry Brown said it was a lie. Jerry Brown said that Proposition 13 was the best thing that ever happened to California after saying the previous six months it was the worst thing.

JARVIS: Yes, because the people are gradually getting intelligent — most of them.

DAILY: I mean the fear of losing your house because of high property taxes.

JARVIS: I didn't have to play on their fears — they were going to lose their houses. The only fear I played on were the politicians, and I was playing on their fears. But the people, I wasn't playing on their fears at all. That's a real good psychiatrist, and we believe psychologist's dream after he's been smoking marijuana.

DAILY: I mean the fear of losing your house because of high property taxes.

JARVIS: Yes, because the people are gradually getting intelligent — especially the ones that don't go to school.

DAILY: A lot of the states have half the property tax we have. (Texas) has no income tax and they have better education and less crime. And every time you increase taxes, you build a goddamned big Rolls Royce out there, a Mercedes-Benz and call it education. And it goes for (tax) going out fast... because a lot of environmentalists hate us (and) they can't prevent us from having oil and gas.

BSU Barbecue by Cheryl Hicks

We would like to welcome all of those who are interested in participating in the BSU in the near future. The barbecue will be held on May 31st between 12 p.m. and 6 p.m. at Cal State Poly. The cost is $2 per person. Fun activities will continue with music and dances.

"We're very religious and that's important to me. I want my child to be able to go to church. I think it teaches them the values of life. I feel it's a good thing..."}

Lorin stated. "If my children grow up with the commitment in their children, that I have to them, we will be successful."
Ground Broken For New Child Care Center

by Tim Hamre

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Child Care Center were held last Friday at 9:30 a.m. in the site west of the Student Services building.

About 75 people attended the ceremonies, including the children of the present center located at Kendall Elementary School. Child Care Center Director Mary Ontario opened the ceremonies by taking of how nice it would be to finally be on campus after a four year struggle to get funding for the center. She also introduced people to the group that will conduct the new center a reality. These included: President John M. Pfau, Vice-President for Administration Joe Thomas, Dean of Students Kenton Monroe, Associate Dean of Students for Special Services Tom Rivera, San Bernardino County Supervisor Bob Hammock, and Jack Causey, the architect of the building.

Pfau also addressed the group about the time and effort that went into the project, and talked of the youngest group in the CSBSB family.

Hammock thanked everyone involved for giving him a chance to prove that the city and county would work together. (Hammock was instrumental in getting the city and county to jointly fund the construction of the center.)

The speeches were followed by the groundbreaking ceremony. Pfau implanted the college’s ceremonial shovel aided by Hammock, Causey, and several of the children.

Soviet-American Relations Speaker

Mr. Bruce W. MacDonald, Senior Strategic Forces Advocate in the Department of State’s Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, will visit our campus on Wednesday, May 14, 1980. He will conduct a seminar on Soviet-Americans relations and SALT II in Dr. Ackley’s International Security and Defense Strategy class in LC-5 from 1-3 p.m.

The Village Idiot

by Shari Mills

Having not written an article in two weeks, I figured it was time to give an update on what’s happening in Serrano Village.

First, the 4th annual Serrano Village Track Meet took place last Saturday. Since I am writing this before the event took place (this is last week’s time). I do not know what house won this year’s plaque, no do I know who scored the most points for men and women to win the tropheus being awarded. I do know, however, that Dennis Mondrake showed receive special recognition and thanks for all of the time he put in to make the track meets each year. Without Dennis, Serrano Village would never have had the 1st annual Track Meet. Thanks Dennis, and congratulations to this year’s winners.

The second order of business is to remind everyone to attend the Spring Dinner Dance this Saturday, (your time). At the Chili Pepper. The dinner dance, co-sponsored by SVC and A.S. will start at 7 p.m. with dinner. Even though the tickets are sold out outside dancing until 1 a.m. The Choros, alias Ivan Glassco, Robin Bullington, and Anthony Duncan will also be there to entertain. There are a limited number of tickets, so be sure to buy them as soon as possible during dinner at the commons, or see Shari Mills (me) in Badger. Tickets are $6 each.

Yearbooks will be going on sale very soon. The yearbook committee will be putting it together this week. Anyone with pictures to be submitted should turn them into the housing office by Wednesday. Flyers will be posted in the residents halls with more information about the yearbooks.

Badger residents plan to hold the 1st annual (we hope) Spring Fest for Serrano Village on May 31st from 1-5 p.m. Chairman Greg Bourgeois and his committee have planned such events as a 5 kilometer run, mud wrestling, 3 legged race, scavenger hunt, egg toss, plus many other activities to take place in and around Serrano Village. Dinner will be served and an a.c. raffle will be held.

Student Consultation On Faculty Effectiveness

Senior Music

The music of Bach, Stravinsky, Brahms and Weber will be presented in a recital given by senior Pat Sieben of San Jacinto on Friday evening, May 16. The program will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building. Students and community members are invited to attend at no charge.

Recital

A music education major, Sieben will graduate from Cal State this June with honors. He plans to return to the college in the fall to do graduate studies in his field.

Have A Bash

On AKP

Alpha Kappa Psi is offering everyone their big chance to get even with the high price of gasoline, or at least a chance to release some frustrations. The chance will come this Thursday, during the Spring Festival at noon.

At the Festival, AKPsi will have a gasoline pump and a sledge hammer. For a cost of only 25 cents you can take a bash on the gasoline pump. For $1 you can have five bashes.

So come out and have a bash at the AKP gas line pump smash.

THE BAR EXAM?
Fulton And Frazier This Week!

This week there are two intramural participants of the week due to the fact that none was so honored last week. Our first worthy recipient is the venerable and fanatical Jeff Frazier. Jeff injured his shoulder a few weeks back but was out the next day playing. Last week Jeff made a fantastic dive at a fly ball, fell on his shoulder and broke his clavicle. But would this slow Jeff down? No way! He left the emergency room and went to coach his high school team. That's dedication! Said Jeff: It's not so bad; I can still drink beer with the other arm! Get well and stay off that shoulder.

Our other lucky intramuraler this week is Jeff Fulton; Jeff was instrumental in Cretin Trucks 4-3 win over Powerline. Jeff played outstanding in the game coming to the plate twice and scoring twice. He led a very stingy truck defense playing superbly in the field.
