President Lets Racism Cloud His Mind On Drugs

Douglas H. Ginsberg, recently withdrew his name, after much pressure, for the nomination to the highest court in our nation. President Ronald Reagan, a supposed fighter of illegal drugs, said until the end, Ginsberg was bewareful and it was quess that within the last eight years, he used Illegal Drugs. "The boys will be boys ac­­tive.

Reagan's defense of Ginsberg's drug use shows what racism makes you lose all sense of righteous. He admitted when Bork was not confirmed by the Senate he would get someone that, who was just as unreliable. Reagan would rather have a conservative racist, drug user on the Supreme Court than to do it right.

The reason we cannot clean up the drug problem in the United States is because of weak leadership emanating from the White House, who speaks with a forked tongue.

Nancy Reagan runs around the country telling schoolchildren that illegal drugs are wrong, and her husband defends a drug user. We wish to point out and make it perfectly clear, everyone in the 1960's did not use drugs. In the Black community, drug abuse was not accepted by the leadership, nor the achievers. It wasn't until, recently, younger Blacks, some who weren't even born in the 60's began openly admitting drug use.

Ronald Reagan, Senators, and other so called conservatives tend to accept the conservative code only when it relates to: voting rights for all citizens, equality of the races, Martin Luther King holiday. Thurgood Marshall's interpretation of the constitution and support of apartheid in South Africa, to name a few.

In all of the above, Reagan and his cronies were involved. Reagan didn't feel he needed a voting rights act, and as long as the Supreme Court nominee thought the same way, drug use or any other character flaw was ignored. Equally of the mass should not be, if the nominee was against equal employment, drug use was okay. Reagan was against the Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday, to commensurate a great leader, who died fighting for changes in law as interpreted by the Supreme Court, but Reagan supported a nominee who would destroy this right, and opposed the fact he used to be using drugs. Conservatives, who do Reagan's dirty work, blamed Thurgood Marshall for saying the constitution wasn't written for Black people, (how could it, it considered Blacks 3/5 a person) however, they support an admitted drug user for the Supreme Court to serve with a man of his calibre, who would most assuredly vote against whatever Marshall was for.

Reagan, Dole and others support both South in Africa, which will not grant the indigenous people the right to vote in their own land, they support Ginsberg a drug user for the Supreme Court.

We maintain a conservative racist in the worst combination there is. The White House thought just because a Senator was White and from the South, they would all think alike. There is a big difference. Racism makes one lose sight of all rightness. The conservative southerners in the South, they would all think alike. There is a big difference. Racism makes one lose sight of all rightness. The conservative southerners in the South, they would all think alike. There is a big difference. Racism makes one lose sight of all rightness. The conservative southerners in the South, they would all think alike. There is a big difference.

Preparation Vital When You Seek A Loan

Whether you're looking to apply for a business or personal loan, you'll fare better if you've already established a relationship with your banker, supply the loan officer with all needed information, and make the best of preliminary information, according to the November issue of Black Enterprise, Black America's guide to economic success.

Loan officers are more inclined to give money to a regular customer. "Get to know a key person before you need money," says Warren Smith, executive director and chief operating officer of the Boston Bank of Commerce. Smith suggests that loan officers introduce themselves to the branch manager when you open a checking or savings account.

Before you sit down to discuss a loan, say Black Enterprise, contact the officer to find out all the documentation he or she will need. Call financial statements, pay stubs, tax returns or, if appropriate, a business plan.

Gathering background information is what slows down the loan process, so "if a person is well prepared, that's impressive," says Smith.

While it's true many lenders aren't colorblind, and that redlining is still practiced too much to still convince a home buyer if you live in a white area, there's plenty you can do to stack the odds in your favor. It's important to know what you want.

"Our profit margin on loans is around 2-3% so we want plenty of assurances," emphasizes Richard Shubey, president of the Independence Bank of Colorado. Be specific about how much money you wish to borrow, stress the Independence Bank article. Justifiably all planned expenditures on detail. Show at least two independent sources of income. Be scrupulously honest about your credit history, and present a calm, businesslike appearance.

If your overhead, or fixed expenses, exceed 40 percent, you're headed for trouble. Employment stability, usually at least three years on the job, is also critical.

Because interest rates can vary by 2 or 3 percent from lender to lender, relate to lending situation, shop around for the best deal. Be aware that mortgage and home equity loan carry many hidden costs, and those too vary with lenders.

The November issue of Black Enterprise containing the article is available at selected newstands or by sending $1.95 plus $1.00 postage to the publisher, 130 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10011.

If Shopping For Quality Carpet - Check The Warranties

You've probably heard that the way to tell about a carpet's quality is to check how densely it is made - "the denser the better," the traditional wisdom says. But that in an untrue measure of quality that no longer applies. If you are shopping for carpet today, there are other signals of quality that you should look for.

The most important and effective way to judge carpet quality and potential performance on your floor is to look at the warranties that the manufacturer puts on that carpet. Read the warranties in detail and see just what is covered and what is not. You might be surprised to realize how little, perhaps none, of those warranties actually give you once your carpet is installed.

If you want to be sure that the new carpet you buy will stay looking good for years, shop carefully for the warranties, and other standard carpet warranties are important - but they don't give you protection against marring and crushing and other on-the-floor performance problems. For that kind of protection, you need a special performance warranty...

You can learn how to tell which warranties protect you against which problems in a free booklet from Armstrong World Industries called "Understanding Carpet Quality." This booklet is most needed for anyone considering new carpet, or car also contains helpful information about what to look for (and what to avoid) when shopping for carpet, how to tell what you are really getting in a carpet, and how to save you may have lost over time is insured.

For your free copy, write Armstrong Consumer Services, "Understanding Carpet Quali ty," P.O. Box 3001, Lancaster, PA 17604. Or call the Armstrong Consumer Line toll-free, 1-800-233-3823.
King Remembered On 24th Anniversary

Martin Luther King III joined "The Dream Goes On! 24 Years Later," which was the title of a panel affair held in Clearwater, Florida to commemorate the 24th Anniversary of Martin Luther King, Jr.’s March on Washington. Hundreds of the nation’s and world’s most outstanding leaders were in attendance to commemorate in song, verse, dance, and art.

The event was sponsored by the "Evening in Celebration of the Arts Committee" of the Central American/Indian Louder Committee.

Hans Jantschke, from the United Nations was on hand to support the cause and greet George Fernandez, Secretary General Janssi Perry, President of the India Railwaymen’s Union, and Member of Parliament in New Delhi, India. Fernandez was the site for Parliament while he was in jail with the largest majority ever in India’s history. In 1979 Fernandez stood up for democracy.

Jantschke announced that this year, week before it was known publicly, that the President of Costa Rica, Oscar Arias, would win the Nobel Peace Prize. The route stated he was because he only had no army and because Arias was the winner of the Martin Luther King, Jr., United Nations Award.

Fernandez paralleled the lives of King and Gandhi, "Christ set the goals, and Gandhi did the tactics," he said, "give courage to the oppressed, and tried to bring about change in the heart of the oppressed. Without the change of heart there would be no change in the oppressed." "Martin Luther King, Jr." he continued, "provided courage to a people that have for centuries been oppressed." He said both men fought for a new society, a new world order, a vision he says has been forgotten. Both were assassinated.

"Martin Luther King, Jr." he continued, "provided courage to a people that have for centuries been oppressed." He said both men fought for a new society, a new world order, a vision he says has been forgotten. Both were assassinated.

"Unless there is a dedication to their work there is no hope for India, America or the world." Dr. Rudman, from the Martin Luther King, Jr., Center for Non-Violent Change, Philadelphia, spoke of how King’s thoughts were international he transcended national boundaries. "It became clear he (King) was a world leader, so they had to kill him. They were afraid of the outcome of a mature world leader," he said. Rudman called for a return of non-violent solutions and called on all nations to petition the United Nations and call for the "21st Century of Non-Violence."

The program was outstanding as Christina Kami Kinski, dancer, known for her work in CAT’S and other Broadway Productions danced. Cindie Gavigan gave a "tribute to King," Bill Owens and the Los Angeles Gospel Jews sang as did the famous Amanda Ambrose. Ambrose also performed, "Never Regret Yesterday" as a duet, and David Porzentni’s tribute was entitled "The Human Family."

The program ended with a $10,000 presentation to Martin Luther King III, and his cousin Derrick King for the Center For Non-Violent Change and the unveiling of an eight-foot portrait depicting Martin Luther King, Jr., and Gandhi walking in a meadow with arms around each other’s shoulders.

Actor Michael Roberts, of Brenta fame, and his wife Paltolas were narrators for the event.

"Melody Kids" Are Available For Your Child

By Marleece Arlington

After purchasing and listening to a cassette tape program in conjunction with reading a variety of books, periodicals and magazines on self-esteem and positive thinking, I soon began to formulate ideas of thinking positive. I knew I had to go on even farther than reading only, if I wanted to become a successful person. Therefore I became a foster. I don't think I would know how to do something as easy as 8:5 job, something I enjoyed doing.

My reasons for starting Black dolls was very simple in conjunction with my desire of becoming a successful entrepreneur; I am a young mother of a 5-year-old girl who suddenly found in most of the major stores a lack of quality dolls especially dolls that portrayed a positive image for the Black child male or female. I basically a mother that would want every child to have the feeling of beauty in his own daughters mind. The solution I found in the stores were very small in quality and quantity.

The dolls we are marketing are called Melody Children. Melody Children stand 24 inches in height and are 14 months of age, have soft bodies, and weigh 454 No. "G" Language sponsored by the Riverside Schools Hold Conference

The Riverside County Historical Commission will present the Historian-Of-The-Year Award to Elizabeth Coffman, an outstanding leader in historic preservation, at a luncheon on Thursday, November 19, at Palm Springs. The Commission will also give a Special Recognition Award to Gloria D. Scott of Corona for her involvement in Corona's Centennial Celebration.

The event will honor Mrs. Scott for her substantial accomplishments in the preservation of materials and sites vital in Palm Springs' history. Through her tenure as Chairman of the Board of the Palm Springs Historical Society for 19 years, she has assisted in launching a historical museum to preserve one of the most valuable photographic collections in the County, helped to write and plan the Historic Site Ordinance for the city of Palm Springs, and fought to preserve Riverside Schools Hold Conference

Parent, teachers, paraprofessionals, and school administrators will have an opportunity to confer on English as a Second Language sponsored by the Riverside County Office of Education. The event will be held today, November 12, at the Rancho Suropean. Twenty-two exhibitors will have materials on display from publishing houses, educational toy companies, and materials suppliers.

Parents are encouraged to attend the conference and then consider employment with a Black-owned newspaper soon upon graduation.

Questions & Answers

Is It Wrong To Be A Member Of A Church?

Question: Please answer the question, "Is it wrong to be a member of a church?"

Answer: There are many Christians who believe that you believe in Jesus and do not necessarily belong to any church. They consider this belief to be an essential part of their faith. However, this belief is not without controversy. Some Christians believe that being a member of a church is important in order to fulfill the Christian mission of spreading the gospel. Others believe that church membership is not necessary for salvation. Ultimately, it is up to each individual to determine what they believe is right for them.
