Truck Crash Lands On Campus

time I reached the scene, the two men were still degrading the injured vehicle and were unloading equipment from the rear of the camper in an attempt to locate some tools so they could begin repairs. They didn't realize, however, nothing short of a portable, fully-equipped garage could solve their problem.

When the truck hit the curb, both front wheels flew off along with the brake drums which shattered upon impact. Brake shoes were laying at odd angles along the vehicle route and broken glass and twisted metal littered the lawn.

Still, attempts were made by the two to pick-up the front of the truck and somehow replace the shattered drums and flat tires. While the scenario continued to unfold, I squelched off a few frames of the damage. Finally, the campus police arrived and instead of apprehending the two persons involved in the accident, one

Campus Police Stories

Dodge City Revisited

At about 2:30 Sunday morning, October 5, Campus Police responded to a call from a Resident Assistant requiring help. It was reported to the PawPrint shortly after the incident that a resident of one of the halls was threatening people with a handgun which turned out to be plastic, and offering it to others with suggestions for use. Another student was in an assigned room and opened a drawer according to reports and another resident saw a real weapon.

Apparently, the two stories became confused and the Police were called for under the assumption the real weapon was being used.

The Police discovered only a minor violation of law which prohibits possession of a firearm in a state residence hall. The Police took the weapon back to the station for storage, a service they maintain for all dormitory residents with 24 hour access.

No arrests were made and no complaints were filed according to the spokesperson for the Campus Police.

Bookstore Break-in

The College Bookstore was broken into during the early evening hours of Saturday, September 5.

Campus Police were alerted by an alarm and Officer Moses apprehended a suspect inside the store.

The individual was a juvenile and his name was not released. He was turned over to county juvenile authorities.

No loss or damage was reported to the Bookstore by the bookstore.

UPC/CFA

Dumke

WAR

A proposal to change the salary schedule of the faculty of the California State University and College was submitted by the Chancellor's office to the board of trustees at their bi-monthly meeting on September 23.

The first time anyone apparently heard of the plan outside of the Chancellor's staff was on September 10, when a preliminary proposal, apparently prepared by the chancellor's staff, came to the attention of the UPC Statewide Academic Senate.

In a meeting on September 18th it was agreed that the UPC Academic Senate make a request "in the strongest terms" asking the CSUC Board of Trustees to return the draft document to the Chancellor instructing him to consult with the Academic Senate, the campus representatives, and appropriate faculty representatives in order to find out if there is a need for a schedule revision.

The United Professors of California and the Congress of Faculty Association who were at odds in a recent debate over who is to represent the collective bargaining, have apparently come together in denouncing this recent move by the Chancellor.

The UPC has sent a letter to the CSUC Board of Trustees outlining the point of the Chancellor's resignation.

Both the CFA and UPC have filed unfair labor practice charges against the CSUC with the Public Employment Relations Board.

Traditionally a proposal would be thoroughly reviewed and discussed with various concerned organizations or representatives before submitting it to the Board of Trustees.

The Board of Trustees consists of five ex officio members including the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the Assembly, Superintendents of Public Instruction, and the Chancellor. There are also six members appointed by the governor, and there is one student representative. They are responsible for the management, administration, and control of the CSUC. For example they make requests to the legislature for money for general support, they can raise or lower student fees, or they can authorize the construction of new buildings that do not take general fund support.

According to CSCSB representatives of the Statewide Academic Senate, there was no consultation during the preparation of this revision draft with the Academic Senate, or with local senates. They further maintain that this is not a long enough period of time to analyze the document, and they would like to consult with the faculty on the need for such a proposal.

The Chancellor agreed to postpone this matter as an action item until the January 27 board meeting.

The UPC and CFA seem to agree that this was a move by the Chancellor to get the CSUC professors salary schedule changed before the collective bargaining election which is supposed to take place in April or May of 1981.

The proposal would allow pay increases of 2.5%, 5%, or 7.5% pay raises annually.

The draft states that about 1/3 of the professors in the CSUC have already reached the top pay, and there is a need for pay increases to compensate for this.

There will be a meeting of the CSCSB Faculty Senate Tuesday, October 7 at 3 p.m. in LC 500 where this issue will be discussed.

Trusted Chair

September 26, 1980

Dr. Warren Kessler, President

Dear Dr. Kessler:

Your letter to me dated September 23, 1980, in which you participated with us in the meeting of the Board of Trustees, was received on September 29, and was referred to the Board of Trustees.

I considered this matter to have been an affront to the role of the Chairperson.

Your letter requests the replacement of the Chairperson.

The California State University and Colleges have requested, coming immediately following the Board's initial consideration of a proposal to provide for salary increases for professors, questions of merit, raises the question of motivation.

With regard to Chancellor Dumke, you may advise your membership that a Board of Trustees, meeting in Executive Session on September 23, took cognizance of the notice released. The Board expressed its fullest confidence in the Chancellor as the chief executive officer of The California State University and Colleges and reaffirmed its support of his leadership.

I intend to make the contents of this letter available to interested media.

Sincerely,

Clayton A. Hampton

Anti-Nuke the Foo-Birds

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON - The power of the presidency is the most potent force in American politics today. Here is how Jimmy Carter used this power a few days ago.

The Senate was about to reject the president's appeal to ship nuclear fuel to India. This would have been a personal defeat on the eve of the election and would have taken the most potent force in American politics.

So the president took out a few minutes from his campaign to telephone several senators from aboard Air Force One. He had impressed the need to stop the bill and to have him vote against the bill. But the president had made all the commitments in the country.

The man who now holds the job, Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, is said to be the most effective was voluntarily being eased out of this job, Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, is said to be the most effective. He was old enough to raise the ayatollah's eyebrows.

The Soviets have been reported making the most potent force in the United States. This should be a pretty good deal to deal with problems that could be overcome by simply swallowing one's own mistakes and wiping off what the Foo-Birds leave.

THE REagan RECORD

By JOE SPEAR

Republican presidential candidate Ronald Reagan has claimed that he has never called for military involvement in a foreign crisis. But our reporters researched the record and found that he has recommended the use of force on at least 19 occasions including the North Korean seizure of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo in 1968, the seizure of U.S. tuna boats by Ecuador in 1975, and the Cyprus crisis of 1973.

Reagan was once president of the Screen Actors Guild union. He is also the only presidential candidate to hold lifetime membership in the AFL-CIO. But at least 10 Reagan television advertisements have been produced by a non-union crew.

According to surveys, most businessmen enjoy their lunch to work, take about a half-hour to eat and rarely imbibe.

LONG BEACH -- Stringent conservation efforts by The California State University and Colleges resulted in a 10.9 percent energy consumption decrease in 1979-80, newly compiled figures showed today.

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke said the energy cutback far exceeded a 9.18 percent drop in electrical consumption during the year.

Cattle Step Up College FTE Drive

Three prospective students were spotted on campus last Friday night by the Mid-Watch in the Pub.

The entire campus community sprang into action in an effort to increase the FTE and enrollment figures.

Admissions and Records immediately rushed to enroll the cattle. However, the cattle did not have the required application fee so A&R turned the matter over to Financial Aids who were arguing with the Placement Office Personnel whether the new students would be on Work Study or employed as Student Assistants. Work Study won temporarily when it was found that one of the cattle had a BA and would be considered a graduate student and thereby immutably on the campus since they require higher wages.

Financial Aids prepared a fee waiver only to discover the required signatures could not be taken.

EOP heard of an entire family planning to enroll from an obscure minority and rushed to the scene only to leave upon discovering the Family came from Guernsey. Dorm officials expressed relief that they wouldn't have to find room in an already overcrowded dormitory. Signs of relief were also reported from the Dorm Maintenance and Cleaning Staffs.

Seventy groundskeepers were seen to wipe their foreheads with relief.

The Physical Plant did send a representative to require a mandatory ERO study be launched to determine the ecological impact in terms of waste disposal parameters operating within the ground water system.

AS Government officials ran to the scene and gave out gift packs and calendars.

Campus Police attempted to arrest the family for trespass, but the bull, whom graduates from Hastings argued and the Police decided his points were better than theirs. They then attempted to issue a parking citation but had to give that up also when they could not find a windshield wiper.

The Food Print interviewed the cattle and discovered they were on their way North to Stanford's Research Farm to visit relatives and apply for their writing fellowship.

Quality Homes For A Quality Life

Children's Home Society of California has recently been awarded a grant to recruit and certify 12 homes for Developmentally Disabled children. The purpose of the Grant is to assist in the development of homes which could provide a normalizing experience for developmentally disabled children with special needs and who have no other alternative than State hospitalization.

Children's Home Society is looking for people who have experience, training, or are willing to receive training, which would provide them with the necessary skills to meet the needs of children with autism, multiple handicaps, and behavioral adjustment problems.

Children's Home Society is authorized to certify foster homes for children (0-21). The certification would be equivalent to a license allowing the foster home to become permanent.

Financial assistance is available through the grant to assist potential foster homes meeting specific licensing requirements.

Children's Home Society is working in cooperation with ICVES staff to fulfill the objectives of the grant. For more information please feel free to contact us (714) 686-7603.

Back To School Nutrition

"When students are off at college, they often find keeping their weight down is as hard as keeping their grades up," says Gary Bart, Area Director of WEIGHT WATCHERS in Orange, San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties.

"For many young adults this is their first opportunity to exercise freedom of choice in their eating. Left to their own devices, they deprive themselves of the well-balanced meals which were served at home. Breakfast is skipped. Lunch and dinner are taken on the run, favoring menus overloaded with fats and refined sugar. Further, their physical activity level is often curtailed as they give up spare time for study time.

"This can lead to what is commonly called 'freshman 10': the 10 extra pounds that pile on during that crucial first year.

"Simply giving up meals is not the answer," Bart continues. "It is vital for the college-bound to maintain good eating habits so that they can function at their full potential, both physically and mentally.

"Failure to eat properly can result in a self-made handicap affecting academic performance, and, perhaps, leading to health problems in later years. The answer is to learn to make intelligent food choices. There's no reason for students to avoid joining the crowd for an occasional bite at a favorite college eating spot, but if weight is a problem, then simple care over what is ordered can make all the difference.

"A hamburger or frankfurter broiled on a rack, a glass of milk and a salad are available at almost all 'fast-food' places now, and makes a good meal. Fruit for dessert satisfies both the need for sweets and the need for fibre, explains Bart. But fried foods, special sauces laden with fats, or beverages containing sugar will only provide an excess of empty calories-calories that contain little nutritional value."

"College should be a time for expanding one's horizons, not on's waistline. A sensible eating plan should help insure both."

With full residency in the dorm, come the unpleasant spectre of long lunch lines. To avoid frustration and to help keep the line moving, the Commons reminds people that Lunch lasts from 11:30 weekdays. Noon is the most crowded time. Come 15 minutes early or later for your own convenience.

Sherry Kiefer and Jerry Fay took second (2:11) and the team of Evelyn Garcia and Scott Burnett were a close third (2:12).

According to Joe Long, the campus intramural director, '16 teams participated in the event.'

A Smithsonian Institution exhibition, focusing on black women who have contributed to the development of this country, will be displayed in the Library until Nov 2.

Titled "Black Women: Achievements Against the Odds," the exhibit illustrates achievements and contributions of both known and little-recognized black women. It was researched and developed by the Anacostia Neighborhood Museum of the Smithsonian Institution.

 Included in the show are women such as Maggie Lena Walker, the first black woman to serve as president of a United States bank; Nikki Giovanni, writer of poetry and fiction; and Bille Holiday, noted blues singer.

Some of the events included in the exhibition are:

The exhibit is divided into major sections: literature, medicine, civil rights, education, law and the judiciary, business, industry and inventions, fine arts, performing arts, armed forces and government.

The lives and accomplishments of more than 150 women are included in the exhibit. Their stories unfold through biographical and historical text, photographs, and silk-screened illustrations.

The display will be on view in the Cal State Library during regular hours Monday, Tuesday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday, 1 to 9 p.m.

Serrano Village
First Annual Reunion

By: Billie Turk

One of the prime considerations a student has to make in trying to decide whether or not to move into the dorms is "will the dorms provide an atmosphere conducive to my studies?"

Is this for becoming a resident of the Village or just for being a resident in Serrano Village?

But, not until later, after moving into the dorms, will he realize that there was something else that deserved equal consideration, namely, "how will the experiences I have in the dorms influence my personal development?"

Anyone who has ever lived in The Village will attest to the fact that forming close-knit relationships with the other residents come naturally. On August 24, approximately 80 of former residents with the exception of Tim Hamre (currently completing his fourth year at Cal State) and me (currently beginning my sixth year) congregated at Sylven Park in Redlands as a thank you for coming.

The presence of former housing coordinator Dr. Therone Pace and resident director Loraine Turk, who was a personal friend of many of the residents, made the reunion complete.

English Equivalency Exam

The credit for the planning and organization of this festivity belongs to Cheryl and Pam Robson both former residents of the Village. Cheryl, who was the house resource (RA) person in Shandin during her last two years (1975 and 1976 academic school years), said that even though only about half of those invited came, the event was a huge success and that once other people heard about the reunion they would be eager to attend the second annual reunion next year.

I am anxious to look into the possibility of having someone (perhaps myself) coordinate his/her efforts with Cheryl to invite those residents from the 1977 through the 1980 academic school years to the reunion because this is an excellent and convenient means of restoring and/or maintaining interpersonal relationships.

English Equivalency Exam

This was the last turnout since the program was initiated in 1973. Students who demonstrate knowledge equal to that of university freshmen, who have completed first-year English courses, may participate. Six semester units of academic credit is awarded upon enrolling at a CSUC campus.

The results, updated this summer, showed 1,417 of the students qualified for credit in English, bringing to 9,017 the number who have successfully participated in the innovative testing program since the innovative testing program was started seven years ago.
