Reagan In Riverside

By Bob Gephart

On Monday, October 13, former California Governor Ronald Reagan visited the Inland Empire for the third time in a little more than a year on the campaign trail to the Presidency of the United States.

The event, in the Tyler Mall in Riverside, attracted twenty thousand people according to the Riverside City Police and included a number of CSCI students. His visit marked the first time in nearly fifteen years that a major political party candidate for the presidency visited Riverside County.

Efrem Zimblist Jr. acted as the Master of Ceremonies and introduced many local Reagan supporters including Congressman Bob Brown, San Bernardino Supervisorial candidate Sharon Brown and former boxing champion Archie Moore.

Reagan arrived by helicopter at 3:20 p.m. with three other press and television aircraft all emblazoned with the logo "Ron in '80". He stepped down from the helicopter amid cheers of "Ronnie!!" and headed for the airport parking lot.

In his relatively short forty minute appearance, Reagan criticized Carter's administration and characterized it as a failure of leadership. He spoke of Carter's failure to arrive at a course of action for inflation which has soared from 4.8% to 12.2% annually (Reagan's figures). -

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am amazed at the apathetic or uninformal nature of students when it comes to the issue of draft registration. This January 18 year old males will be told to register. To my understanding most of the 18-20 year old students feel that the draft will never go into effect.

But what if it does? There are no student deferments available (except currently enrolled or admitted medical or theological students). The armed forces are hungry for well educated people. I am afraid that a young man (women are still exempt) will find himself learning weapons training instead of academic training next year.

There are alternatives to the draft. It is up to the individual to seek out the alternative best suited for himself. He can find this information through several peace organizations such as The Alliance For Survival, Selective Service Law Panel, Central Committee For Conscientious Objection, or any qualified Draft Counsel. The time to act is before the draft becomes effective, action may be the best preventative measure that a young man can do for his life.

"The Club"

By Mike Heister

The Club, a one-act musical on-stage at the Hutchinson-Hartford theater through Nov. 2, has a thinline one joke, one message script which is totally inappropirate for modern audiences, but still manages to bring an occasional moment of delight.

The problem with the Eve Merriam script, billed as a "surprising musical," is that it loses its surprise within two minutes after the lights come on. The play is to singing together no less then 35 songs written during the gay nineties (in this case 1884-1900), three in a little put-down women humor, put seven female actresses in male roles in an all-male club of the period, and let them sing in high voices. Merriam uses the vehicle to criticize male chauvinism, albeit in a flaky manner. Then she wags her finger at us in the end, cutesily telling us male chauvinism is really dumb. The message is lost on a liberated American audience.

If anyone in the audience is ready to accept this thick pile of shaving cream, the play can provide moments of amusement, but disappointingly few for a play which is supposed to be a light-hearted musical.

Four gentlemen in a club, along with a pianist, bellhop and black assistant who defies the norm, bring an occasion moment of delight.

The most pleasing moment to my mind was the tap-dancing duet performed by the bellhop (C. Hartli) and black assistant (G. Hodes). The pair played off each other merrily without being too showy. Also standing out was the scene in which the gent put on a little show to amuse himself, playing both sides of the coin, women, music, all that whiskey.

Don't think that the same thing that happened after Vietnam we happen again.

Convenient Parking

For Disabled Students Available

Several reserved parking areas near classroom buildings are available for CSCSB students with physical impairments. If you have any kind of temporary or permanent physical disability, take advantage of this opportunity.

Save yourself time, irritation and fatigue. You can obtain a special medical parking sticker, which will allow you to use these reserved parking slots. If such a parking sticker would be of help to you, contact Therese Pace at Services to Students with Disabilities, Student Services Building, Room 117; Phone 887-7797. This office also provides many other services to disabled students. Please feel free to request assistance with any problem.

YOUR FUTURE

The Career Planning and Placement Center is presenting a display in the Library both today (October 14) and tomorrow (October 15) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The display will be just inside the south entrance of the Library on the first floor. Career Planning and Placement Center staff members will be available during these hours to discuss your future and how they can help you with career, selection and job placement. Please stop by and find out how they can help you.

Freshman and Sophomores are especially encouraged to drop by as well as Juniors, Seniors and Grad students.

COMMUNITY COUNSELING CENTER
HAS NEW YEAR, NEW DIRECTOR

Following a break during the summer recess, the psychology department’s Community Counseling Center has received with a new director, Dr. Ed Teyber, assistant professor of psychology.

The center’s services are available to faculty, staff and students. It serves the dual purpose of giving graduate students in psychology clinical counseling experience and provides the community a place where anyone with a problem can go for counseling. The Counseling Center provides an opportunity for anyone facing such problems as loneliness, alienation, loss of a job, marriage breakup, or other dilemmas to get help.

Brown Speaks On Campus

Congressman George Brown spoke to members of the campus community Monday, October 13, in the Student Union Multi-Purpose Room (SUMP).

Brown, a member of one of Congress's energy committees, spoke at length regarding the role of the energy laden southwest in the future of the nation's search and development of alternative energy sources.

Congressman Brown is another speaker in a new series of lectures brought to the campus by a variety of the organizations on campus. These lectures aim at improving the understanding of the campus community members of the outside world in which the college exists. It further aims to create an atmosphere of understanding of the campus by the community.

Congressman Brown's talk Monday will be followed by a Thursday, October 16 presentation by State Senator Robert Presley. Senator Presley's presentation will also take place in the SUMP.
A drill team member practices saluting before Ronald Reagan's arrival in Riverside, Monday.

Reagan...

At one point in the speech, Reagan drew cheers when he said, "Recession is when your neighbor is out of work; depression is when you are out of work and recovery is when Carter is out of work." People in the crowd had slightly different ideas on why Reagan should be President as evidenced in their varied signs: "Because he's from California; He's what the country needs now; Because Carter is wishy-washy and we need someone who will take a stand."

Reagan's national image is still something he will have to contend with as he is seen as almost an arch conservative, an image played upon heavily by Carter, using such characterizations as "rascist" and "warmonger."

80 Presidential election promises to be exciting with more than a few surprises for everyone involved.

Anyone interested in getting involved with any of the campaigns should contact Paul Woodruff at 887-7498 or Tim Hamre at 887-7494.

A new program may be on the way to help the VA find those that need help

Last Friday, October 10, 18 representatives of federal, county, and city social services involved with veterans, met, on their own time, in the Student Union to discuss the possibility of creating a non-profit corporation to fill the current gaps in veterans support services.

The group was gathered together to talk over the possibility and desirability of creating a new group to fill the needs of the Vietnam veterans.

Ray Sayre, of the Veterans Affairs Office on campus, has been instrumental in creating new programs and educational seminars in the last few years to assist veterans. He has been planning this new organization for a year.

Tom Wulhbrecht, from the Veteran's Administration Hospital at Loma Linda, has been Sayre's principal colleague in the last three months. Both men have been instrumental in gaining a high level of interest and support from local government and business representatives.

Sayre and Wulhbrecht have coordinated and developed support for most of the programs they felt had to be overcome for the organization to get off the ground.

Arrangements for office space have been tentatively made with a local business in a central location.

Financial arrangements have been tentatively made, but no information was available for release.

The organization, tentatively titled the New Era Vets of the Inland Empire, will stress several areas of personal contact and involvement currently lacking in established support systems.

The VA emphasizes the need for a personal touch and encouragement from the Veterans in their readjustment problems.

The organization hopes to provide newly discharged veterans with conversion and acclimatization training to lessen culture shock. Job Placement service through the use of computers, Agent Orange Counseling, counseling referral service for drugs, alcohol, and related family problems, specific counseling for Delayed Stress Syndrome, educational advisement, limited vocational training, legal advisement in areas of concern and need to veterans, and the establishment of Outreach offices in the area.

Some discussion at the meeting argued that current programs were available and fear was voiced of a needless duplication. The consensus of the group after talking over the matter seemed to be that current programs did not meet the needs of the veterans and that the new group was needed to add a personal touch, tailored for a given area, would reach more of the Veterans.

The group felt that a more personal touch, tailored for a given area, would reach more of the Veterans.

In a paper to the group, Sayre evaluated the current statistics on veterans in the Inland Empire area. The population is projected, currently, to increase at the rate of 11.7% per year based upon the average rate of increase over the last ten years. The rate of increase for San Bernardino County is 6.1% and the rate of increase for Riverside County is 7.6%.

The total veteran population for both counties in 1980 is 309,532. Of this figure, 154,768 are Vietnam Era veterans, or those assumed to have been in the Armed Forces between 1964 and 1978.

The majority of the area veterans are from the Air Force. According to national statistics, 15% of veterans are disabled, the Inland Empire area disabled veteran population 23,214. According to a Veteran Administration contract survey with Louis Harris Associates Inc. 52% to 56% of Vietnam Veterans used a portion of their Educational Benefits leaving about 75,000 Vietnam veterans who have not used their benefits. The new organization plans to concern with the strongest appeal in this group.

Additionally, the Inland Empire has four major military installations with an average one and fifty people returning to civilian status each month. This is another area of need whereby the new veteran counselor and helped through the readjustment process.

The group voted to organize steering committee to discuss and examine the parameters of creation of the group.

Sayre stated that the chances of the separate items need to create the group actually coming together were about in favor of success.
Career Exploration Group

What jobs can I get with my major? How should a freshman or sophomore begin deciding on a career? How do my personal values affect my career choice?

Beginning today, Wednesday, October 15, the Career Planning and Placement Center will sponsor a Career Explorations Group. This group will meet every Wednesday from 1:2 p.m. in the Student Union, Meeting Room B and is open to all students regardless of class standing. Areas covered will range from preliminary exploration of interests and values through actual interview and job search strategies.

This informal discussion group will be facilitated by Theran Pace and Ed Schneiderhan as well as guests from other campus and community resources. For further information call the Career Planning and Placement Center at 887-7551.

"Let's Get Acquainted" is intended to offer freshmen the opportunity to informally meet faculty members for a few hours of conversation and refreshments.

Invitations for "Let's Get Acquainted" have been mailed to all registered freshmen. However, any freshman who has not received and invitation should contact Freshman Services, Ext. 7407, to sign up.

"Let's Get Acquainted" is part of Cal State's continuing effort to assist freshmen with their adjustment to college life.

DARKROOM COURSE OFFERED

A seven week course designed to advance the darkroom capabilities of intermediate level photographers will start Thursday, Oct. 9 on campus.

The course will include group and individual instruction in processing, spotting, film/developer/paper combinations and production of quality prints worthy of hanging. Emphasis in negative analysis and printing will be on a zone system approach.

Students will be required to provide their own negatives, chemicals and paper for the course; the college photo lab will be available for independent work.

Two units of extension credit will be earned by students successfully completing the program.

The class will meet from 7:10 p.m. in Room 109 of the Visual Arts Building.

More information may be obtained from, and registration made through, the continuing education department, 887-7527.

Budweiser TASTEBUDS

"Linguistics Exercise"

WHY IS IT EVERYTIME HE THINKS ABOUT ASKING THIS CHICK FOR A DATE HE GETS TONGUE-TIED?

YEAH! AND EVERYTIME HE GETS US ALL TIED UP I GET AN ITCH IN MY NOSE!!

WHAT HE (NOT TO MENTION WE NEED RIGHT NOW) IS SOME ELOCUTION-LUBRICATION...

... BUD OF COURSE, BUT HOW?

THIS CALLS FOR MY FAMOUS HOUDINI TRICK!

WHO DUNNIT?!?

IF I CAN JUST... SLIP... OUT OF... THESE ROPE... LONG ENOUGH TO LET HIM SAY...

YEA!! OUTASIGHT!

IT WORKED! HE POPPED THE QUESTION OVER A BUD, AND SHE SAID OK!

I GUESS YOU COULD CALL IT A BUD-ING LOVE AFFAIR!

I'D CALL IT A BAD PUN!

WHY DO YOU THINK THEY CALL 'EM TASTEBUDS ANYWAY!
