Dinkins Heads Largest City/Wilder First Black Governor

by Jean Dennis

New York City received its first Black Mayor on Tuesday, November 7, 1989, as Democrat David Dinkins won the mayoral race over Republican Rudolph Giuliani, in a city with 99 percent of the precincts reporting. Dinkins, who had 48,848 votes over 45 percent and Giuliani had 38,565 votes or 44 percent. Calling the election of Dinkins a historical event, Giuliani, a former prosecutor, was making his first bid for political office, called for everyone to unite behind the new mayor of New York City.

Despite a long-term president ran as a man who could bring racial harmony to the city of New York. John Daniels, democrat, was also elected as the first Black mayor of New Haven, Connecticut, in a city that has become the first elected American governor of the United States.

Wild, the grandson of slaves, held on to a slender lead over Coleman and claimed victory in his second term as mayor.

Funeral Rites For Mildred Brown, Omaha Star Publisher

Funeral services for Mildred D. Brown, owner and publisher of The Omaha Star newspaper and a former top official of the National Association of Black Publishers, were held last Monday at St. Andrew's AME Church in Omaha, Nebraska. Mrs. Brown, labeled as one of the "darkest Civil Rights fighters" in the history of Omaha, died in her sleep November 6th, according to one of her top assistants.

"She had been ill, off and on, but not bedridden. We never expected her to die so suddenly," the assistant added.

A native of Birmingham, Alabama, Mrs. Brown moved to Omaha in 1936 and taught school two years before she founded the newspaper 51 years ago.

Educated at Miles College in Birmingham, Birmingham College in Sioux City and Drake University, both in Iowa, Mrs. Brown notices the lack of an adequate number of Black teachers in Omaha's school system and persuaded authorities to recruit African American faculty members from various southern Lyndon B. Poll Shows Most Smokers Believe They Are Addicted and Likely To Develop Lung Disease

Despite a nearly universal view among smokers that they will continue to smoke, most smokers believe they are addicted and are at risk for death due to smoking. A recent survey by the American Lung Association reveals that 9 in 10 smokers believe that they are addicted to smoking, and 8 in 10 believe they will continue to smoke, despite recommendations from health professionals and loved ones.

The National Council on Children's Health suggests adopting the following ten strategies as a good start:

2. Give your child daily chores.
3. Lead by example when necessary but don’t.
4. Don’t inflame mistakes over proportion to reality.
5. Teach your child you love them and why.
6. Spend time with your child.
7. Match your expectations with your child’s rate and ability.
8. Give up your habits which pose a poor self-esteem such as smoking, recreational drugs and excessive drinking.
9. Let your child’s friends with difficulties.

“Barbara Spears-Kidd Becomes Director Of Communications & Community Relations At The San Bernardino School District

Reception Sponsored By

The S.B. Superintendent Of Schools & Board

By Jean Denby

Barbara Spears-Kidd has been appointed the new director of Communications/Community Relations for the San Bernardino Unified School District by superintendent, Dr. E. Neal Roberts.

"We have the unanimous support of the Board of Education in selecting Mrs. Spears-Kidd for this assignment. She has almost twenty years of successful communications experience coupled with a reputation for having outstanding human relations skills," said Roberts in a recent press release.

Kidd said in a recent telephone interview that some of her duties as director of Communications and Community Relations will be to generate community support for school, do news releases and to enhance the district's already fine publication.

Kidd was born in Montgomery, Alabama and came to Riverside in 1963 after she had completed three years at Tuskegee Institute majoring in social sciences. She later graduated from University of California in Riverside (UCR) with a degree in liberal arts. She worked in Riverside County Community Development and held several other positions with Riverside County.

"Each position has given me something to help me in the next position." She said every job she's had involved writing. Her first writing job was at the Press Enterprise where she worked for 7½ years as reporter. She said she was working "as a proof reader when she got hired as a reporter. I was at the right place at the right time." Kidd is married to Stephen Kidd and has one son, Eric, who is a junior at the University of Nevada in Las Vegas majoring in pre-law. She said she was fortunate to have a great communications office and managerial staff including Dr. Roberts and the board of education. "It's a great staff!"

Which Translation Of The Bible Is The Best

Dee Panos Woods, I recently got saved and I've started to read my bible that I was given as a child. It is a King James Verse Bible. I have heard of other editions, such as The Amplified Version and the NIV. I recommend that you use what you feel comfortable with and the differences, which one is the best?

S.L., Riverside, California

ANSWER: Let's first back track to the fact the Bible was written in different languages: Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek. There were the languages of the people during the time the Bible was written. What we have in the English is translated from the original language. The most popular English version of the Bible is the King James Version. This version was first published in 1611. That was 378 years ago. The English language has gone through various translations since that time. For example, normally we do not speak with "thou and thee" and "womb and heretofore!" In the attempt to modernize the Bible newer translations of the Bible have been published to help better understand the text of the original languages.

United Church President's Associate, Is First Woman, First African American

Clayton, Mo. — The Economically disadvantaged member United Church of Christ, meeting here, elected an official of the church's racial justice committee to be the first executive convenor to the denomination's new president. She is the first woman and the African American to hold that position.

Bernice F. Powell, New York City, was named as convenor of the New York Coalition of Churches’ racial justice commission's executive offices and as the council's racial justice committee chair. She was named at the annual meeting of church district executive boards, which was held here Thursday, Nov.

30, 1999, at the 1335 West 21st St. There will be a morning worship service at 11:00 in the church sanctuary followed by a fellowship dinner in the social hall.

According to the chairman, James Carter Jr., the purpose of the meeting was to provide the continued unquestioned leadership of the church, to provide funds for the property, taxes, and to provide food for those in need of these services.

Prepays College Plan A Viable Solution To Increasing Educational Costs

For Your Children

Jarvis Christian College announces a solution concern of families everywhere—to pay for a college education for their children and grandchildren. In the recent history of college education, the cost of higher education and fee increases are unanswerable reality if colleges and universities are to continue to provide the caliber of edducation students demand and deserve. Recognizing the problems this presents for families who are trying to plan for future college education, Jarvis Christian College has implemented a tuition prepay plan which would allow parents and grandparents to postpay education at today’s prices.

A prepay account can be opened for a future student of any age with as little as $1,000. Additional prepayments can be made at any time in amounts of 100 or more. There are no sales charges today, dollar prepaid purchases future education at current tuition and fees.

Prepays College Plan is Exclusively Yours. Should plans of need change, purchasers may change beneficiaries of schools at any time or withdraw all funds in their account at any time, for any reason, with out sales charges. Additionally, students may participate in a no-cost current college savings plan to help pay for their college education.

Because participation at Jarvis College from College City to Cleveland is easy, participants may pay for several years, and on numerous other campuses, including Jarvis, nearby smaller colleges and universities are to continue to provide the caliber of education students demand and deserve.

Hello America! There is something terribly wrong when JIM BARKER can be seen'm to a 45-year term and OLIVER NORTH can walk free. Of course, Barker committed some awful deeds, but what politicians or public figures hasn't. His TV followers obviously received enormous benefits from his ministerial services - no one put a gun to their heads to send money to support his numerous projects. I would like someone to produce one religion or organization that doesn't have a slightly corrupt aspect to it.

This point of view doesn't negate the fact that Barker should be penalized, he did break the law. But 45 years! Really, that's a bit much in the light that murderers receive 12 or 14 year sentencing. Something is extremely off center when this can happen.

Again, a judge to be given the opportunity to play God, and he has done it very convincing. Over-kill can never be accepted, even in this current tainted system.

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

CITED TO APPEAR

In the matter of the petition of Thomas Bennett Sweeney on behalf of the estate of

The people of the State of California, by and through the Superior Court of the State of California, County of Riverside, CA.

BECAUSE you are required to appear before the above-entitled court on December 15, 1989, at 1:30 p.m. at the above address, to show cause, if any you have, why Defendant Thomas Bennett Sweeney and/or his personal representative, if any, should not be discharged from your personal control according to the petition on file in the above-entitled action.

The address of the court is 118 Main Street, Riverside, CA.

For a failure without just cause to appear at the time and place fixed, you may lose the custody of the court over one or more of the persons, the estate of whom is a subject of a contest of court.

This cause is now set for hearing on December 15, 1989.

I, Alfredo M. Betancourt, Clerk of Court, Superior Court of the State of California, County of Riverside, CA.
