Dumke Delays Decisions

By Marianna Westerly

Thursday, January 29th, a conference for student reporters was held in the Chancellor's Office. California State University and Colleges (CSUC) presidents and the chancellor's office were represented. Cal State San Bernardino sent three representatives: Peggy Landell, a reporter, and Shari Mills and Marianna Westerly, co-chair of the Non-Tuition Committee.

In the conference, Dumke began the discussion by giving a list of his involvement with the CSUC system. While this information was interesting and somewhat helpful, it was nevertheless, information which most of those attending need not have travelled all the way to Long Beach to find out about. Throughout the rest of the conference, Dumke stated that he felt that student input on faculty evaluations was considered "normal and important," and that to ensure quality education, students should "watch faculty carefully," however, when pressed, he could recommend no specific actions which should be taken.

When asked what the specific budget cuts would be, Dumke hedged repeatedly, but categorically denied the following cuts being considered: faculty, (students/faculty ratio is presently approximately 17:1); the number of classes offered; building new facilities; smaller departments (such as Art, Music, etc.); or student access to higher education (by increasing admittance standards) so that continued on page three

State Student Leaders Analyze Budget/Tuition Situation

By Tim Hamre

February 5, 1981

An analysis of the state budget situation and of the prospect of tuition was presented to student leaders from throughout the state during a conference held in San Diego on January 24-26.

The conference was held in conjunction with the regular monthly meeting of the California State Student Association and the California Student Association of student leaders from the 19 campuses California State University and Colleges system.

The CSSA represents and lobbies on behalf of the 300,000 students of the CSUC. San Bernardino is represented by A.S. President Tim Hamre.

A.S. President Tim Hamre stated last week that the student position on tuition was one of absolute opposition. He referred to tuition as an "unbargainable issue." He said he would call upon all the students of CSSA to join in the tuition fight this spring. He said he will call a "fight for the life of the CSUC as we know it."

The budget tuition conference took up the entire day on Saturday and part of Sunday. The regular, monthly business meeting of the CSSA was held on Sunday and Monday.

Discussions on budget reductions or the imposition of tuition will often find students, faculty, and administrators advocating different groups. These underlying philosophies were briefly discussed by the student leaders.

In general terms, the student leaders discussed how to deal with the possible budget cuts. They did not, however, develop a specific "hit list" of budget cuts which, they could propose to the Legislature. The student leaders felt, however, that they must be prepared to present the student perspective on budget cuts in the upcoming legislative activities.

Finally, the student leaders got around to discussing tuition. Tuition could well be the easiest way for the CSUC to replace large sums of money cut out of its budget. Tuition could be implemented either through the CSUC Board of Trustees or through the Legislature. It was emphasized that the groundwork needed to be done now to prepare for the implementation of tuition.

Hamre stated last week that the student position on tuition was one of absolute opposition. He referred to tuition as an "unbargainable issue." He said he would call upon all the students of CSUSB to join in the tuition fight this spring. He said he will call a "fight for the life of the CSUC as we know it."

The budget tuition conference took up the entire day on Saturday and part of Sunday. The regular, monthly business meeting of the CSSA was held on Sunday and Monday.

The discussions led by CSSA Chair Nancy McFadden (San Jose State University), CSSA Legislative Director Steve Glazer, and CSSA Liaison to the Chancellor's Office June Robertson.

Attending the conference from San Bernardino in addition to A.S. President Hamre were A.S. Vice President James Lyne, A.S. President William Keane, A.S.

The Continuing Saga Of Tumbleweed Tech

This is the latest installment in The Continuing Saga of Tumbleweed Tech, a serial look at events involving the campus community.

Not long ago, a student was asked if he had ever seen a pantaloon. He had, but he had never seen one in his life.

"But why not?" the student asked. "It's just a pair of pants, isn't it?"

"Yes," the other student replied. "But it's a pair of pants that have been worn by a scholar in the past."

"Oh," the student said. "I see."

The Black Student Union is planning a Valentine's Day Dance and Fashion Show on Saturday, February 14th. The event is to take place in the Student Union Multipurpose Room and will begin at 6 p.m. The Fashion Show will begin at 7 p.m. with the dance to follow after about 30 minutes of fashion clothing from local stores. DJ Herbie will emcee the dance and a belly dancer will give a performance during the intermission.

The Valentine's Day Dance and Fashion Show is a fundraiser for events to take place during the Black History Week observance scheduled to take place Feb. 15-23 and promises to draw crowds and be highly entertaining. Don't miss this one. Tickets are $3.00 per couple and $3.00 for singles. Contact Mel Hawkins of the B.S.U.

the current student/faculty ratio would be maintained by decreasing the "number" of students in proportion to the number of faculty. A seeming alternative is to reduce the faculty, a factor which Dumke claimed he could not recommend. Dumke was repeatedly asked by Waverly if actions were being taken to pursue endowment funds; and while he stated a willingness to consider this, it soon became obvious that such funds are not actively being sought. When something has to give somewhere, and the Chancellor of the CSUC system is unwilling to level with us, the students, then we have every right to wonder about what it is that we are not being told. And you can bet that while Dumke will be cutting back on various services to students in the months ahead, he's not going to be cutting down on administration.

Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Extended

Recent changes in federal law make it possible for students to receive more than four years of Basic Educational Opportunity Grant. Under the new rules, students may be eligible to receive the BEOG as long as the student has not received a bachelor's degree. Students who did not reapply for BEOG because they had already used four years of eligibility should go to the Financial Aid office in Student Services 145 for application forms, which are available and it is still possible to receive a grant for the 1980-81 school year. The last chance for BEOG applications for the 1980-81 year will be accepted in March 15, 1981.

All students are advised to apply as early as possible for all financial aid programs for the 1981-82 school year. The priority filing date is March 1, 1981.

FIRE VICTIMS RECEIVE FINAL FUND PAYMENTS

Members of the campus community who lost their homes in November's fire received additional money last week from the fire victim fund established by the college. An extra $478.68, which had accumulated after the first checks were written, was distributed to the 13 faculty, staff and students on the official victim list. This payment depletes the fund completely and, unlike additional donations received, there are no plans for further distribution of money.

Audiology Audimetry Courses Approved

Dr. El-Ahrafi, Chairman of the Department of Health Science and Human Ecology has announced that the 1981 list of approved courses in audiology and audiometry include the College's Health Science 374, Basic Audimetry and Hearing Problems and 474, Advanced Audimetry. These courses satisfy all training requirements for registration of School Audimetrists pursuant to Section 2950, California Administrative Code, Title 17, interested in Audimetry.

The college has received a $3,000 grant from the Chancellor's office to expand the Adult College Opportunity Program to assist adult students, with the stress of working, college careers and family responsibilities and in many instances, career modifications or mid-life career changes.

The program includes career change workshops, a peer counseling, discussion and study groups and other support/assistance programs as well as special advising for adult students on academic probation.

The college currently operates the ACOP on a small scale, serving about a dozen students. The initial program was created by Dr. Lorna MacPike (English) two years ago. With the new money, project co-directors Dr. Irving Buchen (Humanities) and Dr. MacPike plan to substantially expand the number of students who can be served.

Tours Culligan Water

The Business Management Club took a tour of the Culligan Water plant located at the corner of Cajon Blvd. and State College Blvd. Their excursion took place on Friday, Jan. 23, 1981 from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

The students were given a brief history of Culligan, the products they produce, and a tour of the plant itself. They were also shown the inside of the plant. In general, all the students found it to be very interesting and educational as well as an enjoyable event.

Culligan Water is a subsidiary of Beatrice Foods, which produces many other diversified products. Their local plant manufactures water softening hardware, Humi-sorb (Silicen-gel), and Zeolite.

Mr. Jim Burton, coordinator and lab manager, explained that the water supplied for the San Bernardino and Riverside communities is treated with the utmost in nutrients and vitamins. It is the most softened water treated through out the State of California, therefore allowing us to treat their bodies (both internal and external) with proper hygiene care.

He also mentioned that bottled waters such as Arrowhead and Sparklets are only sold because of good advertising and the fact that they are hard waters. Hard waters have no nutrients in comparison to soft water, therefore allowing them to taste different.

Kids got you down? All students, particularly those with children, are invited to drop by the recently opened Children’s Center to view the new facilities, and perhaps enroll their progeny in the Center’s Day Care Program.

Open every weekday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., the Center provides a “home away from home” for 54 youngsters, the offspring of students, faculty, staff, and even a few outsiders. CSCSB students have first priority for enrolling their children and now have the added benefit of having their kids close to them while both parents attend school.

The Children’s Center’s new location is three times larger than the old facilities. Kendall School, where it previously situated, provides a greater number of activities for those children it serves, since on-campus enrollment doubled.

For a minimal cost, parents may call the Center for more information.

Speed Bump

By Maggie Ongaro

On February 12, 1981 the parents who have children enrolled in the Children’s Center will have a Bake Sale to raise money for the Children’s Center. It will be set up in front of the library and the sidewalk intersection below the library. The sale will begin at 10:00 a.m. and last until all the goodies are sold. Everyone is invited to come by the Bake Sale and participate.

A speed bump and crosswalk has been installed in the access road by the Children’s Center. This is to advise all faculty, staff, and students to drive especially slow when in the area of the Children’s Center. There will always be children in this particular area either playing or being transported to or from the Center. The driveway in front of the Center is to be used by participating people enrolled in the Center; it is not a drive-through for other vehicles. Again, I urge everyone to use great caution when in the area of the Children’s Center.

All Events Will Take Place In The Student Union

I had to get up and get on the move. It was still sunny this morning and acacia blossoms and a blue jay's nest outside the poem's window. The poem had watched the new morning before and noticed how the nest moved in a seaworthy fashion while the branches around it broke and moved more vigorously.

The nest was built on the sheltered side of the lodge where the poem had its room. The poem had come here to be written. It had not come here like some poems, looking for a room in which to expire. Too many poems had lived by the wayside. Painted away along the seashore or just dropped in their tracks and were never seen again. The nest covered up leaves like that. And the wind, like a poem, had to set up and get on the move.

These so-called poems were not really friends of the poem, They had one or two things in common with it—like the need for nourishment and love and the need to be written. But they did not know that they had to move and grow and act like they could sing. The nest, even as Bennett's finger pointed for the first time, had little enough reason for itself. It had to sing and start. The poem laughed. It had to laugh. The poem had to fix and soar. The poem laughed.
Man learned at a very early age that good ideas have to be heard to be effective. So he devised his own method of getting those ideas across. Today, on the job, or in school, communication remains a vital part of our world.

Which is exactly what we'll be talking about in the upcoming issue of "Insider" — the free supplement to your college newspaper from Ford. We'll tell you how to improve your communication skills from writing term papers and doing oral presentations, to communicating with friends, parents and persons of authority. And whether you're looking for an internship or a full-time job, we've got loads of info to help you get there.

With tips on how to write a persuasive resume, handle an interview gracefully, and even hints on how to look your best, the "Insider" is a must-read for anyone who needs to sharpen his or her skills.

Man also learned that good ideas have to be shared. So let's move on to February 14 — when people send cards and get flowers from their loved ones. No, that's not just for Valentine's Day. It's true that February 14 is the perfect day for sharing your affections. And Ford has a special gift for you this year. It's a year-long gift of relaxation and romantic moments — a Ford ESCORT. It's the new car that's sure to please your Valentine. But hurry, there's only one year available.

Look for "Insider" — Ford's continuing series of college newspaper supplements.
