ROTTC Program Now Offered At Cal State

Seven months after negotiations first began, a U.S. Army and Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) regional extension center has been established on the Cal State campus. In a split majority, the CSCSD Faculty Senate decided April 14 that a new (ROTC) Military Science program could begin in the fall. The program, which is headed by Maj. John Shirley and SFC Charley Dolen, is open to any student wishing to become an active Army officer or a commissioned Reserve officer with civilian status. Students participating in ROTC may pursue any academic major.

Past and present ROTC participants have had to travel to Claremont College to take the upper division Military Science courses. Because of this, Shirley is optimistic that the new program will draw more students to Cal State.

The issue of locating the ROTC on campus was brought before the CSCSD Faculty Senate in the fall of 1980. Ward McAfee, Dean of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences—under which the ROTC program is housed—said "things went very quickly from there."

The Military Science courses, History of the World Wars, Civil Military Relations, and Small Unit Operations will be offered here in the fall, and are open to all CSCSD students. Major Shirley is encouraging all Cal State sophomores who are interested in attending this summer's ROTC Basic Camp to contact him as soon as possible. Basic Camp is a six-week training program held at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Participants are not obligated for further military service.

Any questions about the ROTC program should be directed to the ROTC office located on campus in LC 522 or by phoning 687-7023 or 687-7221.

Andy Rooney To Speak May 14

Andy Rooney, the resident pundit for CBS' 60 Minutes, will speak at Cal State Thursday evening, May 14. Tickets for the 7 p.m. talk will go on sale Monday in the Music/Theatre arts Office. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1 for students with identification. Seating is limited and tickets should be paid and picked up in person as quickly as possible.

Rooney, who holds the official title of CBS news writer-producer, has been described by Time magazine as "the most felicitous writer in television." He has won the Witters guild Award for Best Script of the Year six times, more than any other writer in the history of the medium.

He wrote the first of what has become his specialty, the television essay, a personal form illuminating subjects most people take for granted, with his "Essay on Dogs." In 1964, Rooney, who holds the officio! of the Writers guild Award for Best Television Essay, orson Investigotors

Westerly With- draws, Bynum New Treasurer

by Brad Johnson

"I couldn't believe it," it was 12:00 in the morning and Gregg Bynum was awakened by a knock on the door. Outside waited Cheryl Chambliss, the A.S. Elections Chair. "You won! Congratulations," Bynum was suddenly the A.S. Treasurer-elect, eight hours before the polls were scheduled to open. In the run-off race between him and Marlania Westerly, "I was a little dazed," he said.

It was true, however, Bynum had withdrawn from the race leaving Bynum the undisputed winner. In what proved to be this year's most hotly contested bid for office, "I'm glad it's over, though," said Bynum. "It was a challenging time consuming hard fought race."

Although he drew more votes than Westerly in the primaries, Bynum remained an active campaigner— even after he was unofficially declared the winner.

Early Wednesday morning, just prior to the scheduled opening of the polls, Bynum conferred with Richard Beneke, the Elections Advisor, about what had taken place the previous night. Beneke verified that Westerly had dropped out of the race Tuesday, April 28, but Bynum wasn't taking any chances. "I wanted to see it in writing," he said. It was not until he was assured that the polls would not even be set up that the full impact finally sunk in. "I was ready," he claimed, "but very, very relieved."

Westerly in a statement issued after her withdrawal, claimed that she felt her "experience and energies can be used to work for the students in other endeavors next year." Both Westerly and Bynum wished to thank their supporters for helping each at them in their respective campaigns.
Spring Festival Planned for May 13

by Terry Seal

On Wednesday, May 13, there will be a spring festival at Cal State, featuring an archery competition, a ride-n-scoot relay, and a pet show. Sponsored by the Intramural Department, the festival will begin at 11:00 a.m. on the grounds by the Student Union.

The archery competition, entitled "Robin Hood's Archery," will last from 11:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. Competitors will shoot six arrows at a target in an actual competition, with the best single set being declared the winner. Last year's winner was John D. Bagge and Jennifer Markowitz. Winners receive a t-shirt. The ride-n-scoot competition is a new event this year, featuring a bike with competitors riding back and forth on a wheel chair and a flat square with wheels underneath. Winners receive a t-shirt. The event is scheduled to begin at noon.

The final event is a pet show: entries may contain any kind of animal, real or imagined. There will be six categories in which pets will be judged including "cutest," "ugliest," "best dressed," "best performance," "best personality," and "most unique." There will be an over-all winner; the "Grand Champion." Ribbons will be passed out to all winners, including 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place. In all of the classifications, all who enter get intramural credit. Last year's winner was a dog named Mona, entered by William Knorrheide.

11 to Study Abroad

by Sandy del George

Eleven Cal State students now have the opportunity to study abroad during the 1981-82 school year, maintaining their registration at this campus while receiving full credit for overseas courses.

These eleven chosen by the Chancellor's Office International Program Division are: Shari Miller, Robert Judge, Ronald Levy, Patrick Fitzpatrick, Tim Brunon, Deborah Thompson, Ken Whiten, Pamela Farwell, Veronica Radmore, Donald Roberts, and Nancy Feretti. A reception in honor of their successful candidacy is planned, date and time to be announced soon.

Purposes of the International Program, according to the Chancellor's Office, are to promote international good will and to give students the advantage of a broader world experience. These students can sample courses in a variety of countries, and share what they've learned when they come back. In the International Program "specializations are wide open," said Cal State's Dr. Mireille Rydell.

New Summer School GI Bill Change

A recent change in GI Bill payment procedure should alleviate potential problems for certain veterans enrolled in summer school, according to VA Regional Office Director H.H. Villalobos.

Originally, students enrolled in summer classes were prohibited from receiving GI Bill payments during the period between school terms exceeding one full calendar month. Villalobos stated, for example, if a school's summer term ends on August 5th and the fall term begins on September 28th, this interval would exceed the old thirty-day limit. Under the new provisions, it would not exceed the full calendar month and education payments would be made.

The only requirement is that the veteran must be enrolled for a total of at least eight weeks of summer school.

Further information about this change, available at Veterans Administration Regional Office at 11000 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, VA, 90025. The telephone service is also available by calling 1-800-377-6592.

Agent Orange Program Offered To Veterans Counselors

On May 8, 1981, the Veterans Affairs Office at California State College, San Bernardino, will present an informational program for Veterans counselors from the San Bernardino-Jacobs, Los Angeles, Orange. The program will begin at 9:00 a.m. and will end at 4:00 p.m. The meeting will take place on the 5th floor of the Library.

Among the invited guests are professional members of the legal and scientific communities.

Current information about the herbicide will be presented at this meeting. The audience will be invited to participate. Since this program is being sponsored primarily for veterans counselors, pre-registration is required. However, for the purpose of estimating room space requirements, Veterans Affairs Coordinator Raymond Mack would appreciate a call on 805-887-7398 in order to get an estimate of how many persons will be attending.

"When we left the mountain it looked unchanged. No difference. None of us could say the same about ourselves.

At Outward Bound® it's not just what you do, but how you get it. It's backwards that counts.

Our courses are tough--they're meant to be that and beyond the reach of anyone who tries. They're fun. And safe as human ingenuity and experience can make them.

At Outward Bound we teach you outdoor skills. From rock-climbing to canoeing. But we're most interested in teaching you something about yourself. About self-reliance (a course in self-reliance without the 3 words you also have to learn to trust the group). Outward Bound will teach you to be a man. Nearly half the students are women. Few are really athletes. Lots are over twenty. What you need is a bit of luck and the yen to spend some time in some of the most spectacular settings. Everyone brings something different to Outward Bound and no one gets left behind. But whatever your experience takes something different away.

“Creation” to be Performed Tonight by Concert Choir

The Creation, an oratorio by Joseph Haydn, will be sung at Cal State, San Bernardino, Wednesday evening at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

The oratorio, originated about 600, is a musical composition for soloists, chorus and orchestra. It combines parts of texts and Milton’s Paradise Lost.

Soprano Julie Oreoson, Riverside, will sing the part of Eve. Thomas Anderson and Paul Chartfield, both from Riverside, will share in singing the bass aria for the characters Adam and Raphael.

Dr. Loren Fibeck, associate professor of music at Cal State, Tom Miller of the Victor Valley Community choir, and Leopoldo Cachoci of the High Desert Symphony will direct.

“The Creation” will be performed at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

For the Cal State performance, general admission is $2. There is no charge for students with identification. Children are admitted free.

Musical Ensemble To Perform

Music of the 1920s will be presented by the Cal State, San Bernardino Wind Ensemble Sunday, May 10 in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

Selections for the 8:15 p.m. concert will include music by Edward Verree, George Gershwin, Ernest Toch and John Philip Sousa. These pieces represent the diverse styles of music popular at the time.

General admission tickets are $2 per person. Children and students with identification are admitted free.

Reading Seminars Available For Students

On Tuesday, May 5, the Adult College Opportunity Program will offer a workshop on Mid-Life Career Planning and Career Change. The workshop will deal with the subject of age discrimination in hiring and suggest ways to counter such discrimination. Ed Schneidberg from the Career Counseling and Placement Office will conduct the workshop. Both will be held in LC 204 from 12:00 to 1:00. All students are welcome.

Bike-A-Thon For Children's Hospital, May 23

Riders are needed to call on their friends and neighbors to obtain sponsors, and ride in the San Bernardino St. Jude Children's Life Bike-a-thon on Saturday, May 23, 1981. St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the world's largest children's cancer research center. Its research findings help children live everywhere. Please pick up sponsor sheets at San Bernardino's two Firestone tire stores, Shoodle's Pizza House, Wendy's Snow Hat Pizza, The Bike Way, Inland Bicycle Center, Harry's Schwinn Center, all area high school administrative offices, SBVC school newspaper office, the PawPrint office or call Ron Cannon at 867-6305 ext. 216 to help. All riders turning in $25.00 will receive a St. Jude T-shirt, riders turning in $75.00 will receive a St. Jude bike back pack, prizes for other riders also available.

Adult College Opportunity Program Scheduled

Help for students who have reading problems is being provided this spring through a series of reading seminars developed by Student Assistance in Learning (SAL).

Three seminars for each skill in reading will be taught. The focus each week is on a different problem area. The first sessions, devoted to helping students learn and implement the SQ3R technique of textbook reading, will meet on Wednesday, April 29, Thursday, April 30, and Tuesday, May 5 or 2:00 p.m. The Wednesday session will meet in LC 53 and the Thursday and Tuesday sessions will meet in LC 204.

Faculty may refer students with reading problems to attend these sessions. Students may attend any or all of the sessions. Further information is available from the SAL office. (Ext. 2723) at Extension 2723.

Job Fair For Disabled

On May 21 and 22 the Los Angeles Convention Center will host a Job Fair billed as the biggest single effort to employ the disabled in the United States. The Rion Honda Branch of the Handicapped is sponsoring this event.

Isabelle Gonthier, a member of the Mayor's Committee, said they expect several hundred employers to attend, with many of the companies having pledged to hire disabled persons at the event.

Further information on the job fair may be obtained by calling the Mayor's Committee at (213) 864-6011, ext. 4581.

Susan Johnson, career counselor for the Services to Students with Disabilities, on the Cal State San Bernardino campus, urges all the disabled students on the campus to attend. This will be an excellent opportunity for these students to learn about the kinds of jobs that are available and the qualifications employers are looking for.

For those students who are unable to attend, Susan will be going, and she will be happy to speak with you and share the information she receives. All you need to do is make an appointment with her through the Disabled Student Office, phone number 887-7797.

Petrified Forest To Open May 14

The Petrified Forest, a play by Robert Sherwood, will be presented on May 14-16, and 19-23 by the Players of the Palm Garden, under the direction of William Storl.

The Petrified Forest is generally recognized as the vehicle that made Humphrey Bogart famous. He starred in the movie version, other stars involved in the production have been Leslie Howard and Bette Davis. The story takes place in a filling station in Arizona near the Petrified Forest. The drama takes place when it is taken over by a trio of armed fugitives.

Says, Storl, "the forest is symbolic of mankind's dilemma. The idea at that time was that the intellectual was dead, that we were headed back to the open range. It means, 'What interested me in doing the play was the whole awareness of crime and violence and so on. It has a certain little statement in it of vigilante crime.'"

The principals in the play are Maria Wise as Gabby, Jeff Hubbard as the intellectual Alan Quayle, and Nan Gosso as Duke Monette. The play will be staged in the Theatre of the Creative Arts building, with curtain time at 8:15.
In this game of freestyle softball, players wore hats while conducting.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game

Softball warm-up activities included this fellow's parroted Duck Walk mating dance.

Sitting down proved to be a popular pastime. So too did passing out and throwing up.

Unidentified participant making a mad dash later caught and hanged.
It was an easy out as the pitcher caught this short pop fly bare-handed. Authorities are still looking for the player in the background (No. 27) who wandered out into the hills as this picture was being taken. He has not been heard from since.

Joe Long’s magical bat, which operates on the same principles as a witch’s broomstick, is seen here piling yet another unsuspecting player skyward. No amount of struggling could either restrain the bat or free the helpless batter.
