ROTC Program Now Offered At Cal State

Seven months after negotiations first began, a U.S. Army and Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) regional extension center has been established on the Cal State campus. In a split majority vote, the CSCS Faculty Senate decided April 14 that a new (ROTC) Military Science program could begin in the fall.

The program, which is headed by Major John Shirley and SrFC Charley Bolen, is open to any student wishing to become an active Army officer or a commissioned Reserve officer with civilian status. Students participating in ROTC may pursue any academic major. Past and present ROTC participants have had to travel to Claremont College to take the upper division Military Science course. Because of this, Shirley is optimistic that the new program will draw more students to Cal State.

The issue of locating the ROTC on campus was brought before the CSCS Faculty Senate in the Fall of 1980. Ward McAfee, Dean of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences—under which the ROTC program is housed—said “things went very quickly from there.”

The Military Science courses, History of the World Wars, Civil Military Relations, and Small Unit Operations will be offered here in the fall and are open to all CSCS students.

Major Shirley is encouraging all Cal State sophomores who are interested in attending this summer’s ROTC Basic Camp to contact him as soon as possible. Basic Camp is a six-week training program held at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Participants are not obligated for further military service.

Any questions about the ROTC program should be directed to the ROTC office located on campus in LC 522 or by phoning 687-7023 or 687-7211.

Westerly Withdraws, Bynum New Treasurer

by Brad Johnson

“I couldn’t believe it,” it was 12:00 in the morning and Gregg Bynum was awakened by a knock on the door. Outside waited Cheryl Callabas, the A.S. Elections Chair. “You won! Congratulations.” Bynum was suddenly an A.S. Treasurer-elect, eight hours before the polls were scheduled to open. In the run-off race between him and Marlonn Westerly, “I was a little dazed,” he said.

It was true; however, Westerly had withdrawn from the race leaving Bynum the undisputed winner in what proved to be this year’s most hotly contested bid for office. “I’m glad it’s over, though,” said Bynum, “It was a challenging time consuming hard fought race.”

Although he drew more votes than Westerly in the primaries, Bynum remained on active campaign—even after he was unofficially declared the winner.

Early Wednesday morning, just prior to the scheduled opening of the polls, Bynum conferred with Richard Bennecke, the Elections Advisor, about what had taken place the previous night. Bennecke verified that Westerly had dropped out of the race Tuesday, April 28, but Bynum wasn’t taking any chances. “I wanted to see it in writing,” he said. It was not until he was assured that the polls would not even be set up that the full impact finally sunk in. “I was scared,” he claimed, “but very, very relieved.”

Westerly in a statement issued after her withdrawal, claimed that she felt her “experience and energies can be used to work for the students in other endeavors next year.” Both Westerly and Bynum wished to thank their supporters for helping each of them in their respective campaigns.

Andy Rooney To Speak May 14

Andy Rooney, the resident pundit for CBS’ 60 Minutes, will speak at Cal State Thursday evening, May 14. Tickets for the 7 p.m. talk will go on sale Monday in the Music/Theatre arts Office. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1 for students with identification. Seating is limited and tickets should be paid and picked up in person as quickly as possible.

Rooney, who holds the official title of CBS news writer-producer, has been described by Time magazine as “the most prolific writer in television.” He has won the Writers guild Award for Best Script of the Year six times, more than any other writer in the history of the medium.

He wrote the first of what has become his specialty, the television essay, a personal format illuminating subjects most people take for granted, with his “Essay on Dogs.”

The living room of Watermon House, the Cal State dorm that was burned by a suspected arsonist Tuesday, April 28. The blaze is still under investigation by campus officials as well as arson investigators from the San Bernardino Fire Department. Watermon will be closed for the remainder of the year pending repairs.
Spring Festival Planned for May 13

by Terry Szafl

On Wednesday, May 13th, there will be a spring festival at Cal State, featuring an archery competition, a ride-n-scot relay, and a pet show. Sponsored by the Intramural Department, the festival will begin at 11:00 a.m. on the grounds by the Student Union.

The archery competition, entitled "Robin Hood's Archev," will last from 11:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. Competitors will shoot six arrows for practice, then shoot two sets of six arrows apiece in actual competition, with the best single set being declared the winner. Last year's winners were John Baraga and Jennifer Maskowitz. Winners receive a shirt.

The ride-n-scot relay is a new event this year, featuring a ride with competitors riding back and forth on a wheelchair and a flat-square with wheels underneath. Winners receive a t-shirt. The event is scheduled to begin at noon.

The final event is a pet show: contests may enter any kind of animal, real or imagined. There will be six categories in which pets will be judged, including "ugliest," "best dressed," "best performance," "best personality," and "most unique." There will be an over-all winner, the "Grand Champion." Ribbons will be passed out to all winners, including 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place, in all of the categories. All who enter get intramural credit. Last year's winner was a dog named Mona, entered by William Knlosside.

New Summer School

GI Bill Change

A recent change in GI Bill payment procedures should alleviate potential problems for certain veterans enrolled in summer school, according to VA Regional Office Director H.H. Villalobos.

Originally, students enrolled in summer classes were prohibited from receiving GI benefits during the period between school terms exceeded one full calendar month. Villalobos states, for example, if a school's summer term ends on August 26th and the fall term begins on September 28th, this interval would exceed the old thirty-day limit. Under the new provisions, it would not exceed the full calendar month credits and education payments would be made.

The only requirement is that the veteran must be enrolled for a total of at least eight weeks of summer school.

Further information about this change is available at the Veterans Administration Regional Office at 11000 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, 90025. The telephone service is also available by calling 1-800-352-4902.

Agent Orange Program

Offered To Veterans Counselors

On May 8, 1981, the Veterans Affairs Office at California State College, San Bernardino, will present an informational program for Veterans counselors from the San Bernardino-Jefferson, Orange. The program will begin at 9:00 a.m. and will end at 4:00 p.m. The meeting will take place on the 5th floor of the Library.

Among the invited guest are professional members of the legal and scientific communities. Current information about the herbicide will be presented at the meeting. The audience is invited to participate. Since this program is being sponsored primarily for veterans counselors, only pre-registration will be accepted.

However, for the purpose of estimating room seating requirements, Veterans Administration Coordinator Raymond Ing would appreciate a call at (805) 887-7398 in order to get a sense of how many people are planning on attending.

11 to Study Abroad

by Sandy del George

Eleven Cal State students now have the opportunity to study abroad during the 1981-82 school year, maintaining their registration at this campus while receiving full credit for overseas courses.

The eleven chosen by the Chancellor's Office International Program Division are: Shari Miller, Robert Judge, Ramon Levy, Patrick Fitzgerald, Tim Bruner, Deborah Thompson, Ken Whitson, Patrice Farwell, Veronica Rodolly, Boyd Roberts and Nancy Feretti. A reception in honor of their successful candidacy is planned, dinner and time to be announced soon.

Purposes of the International Program, according to the Chancellor's Office, are to promote international goodwill and to give students the advantage of a broader world experience. These students can sample courses in a variety of countries, and share what they've learned when they come back. In the International Program, "specializations are wide open," said Cal State's Dr. Mireille Rydell.
"Creation" to be Performed Tonight by Concert Choir

The Creation, an oratorio by Joseph Haydn, will be sung at Cal State San Bernardino Wednesday evening, May 6. This presentation is a joint endeavor by the Cal State Concert Choir, the Victor Valley Community choir and the High Desert Symphony. Performance will also be held in the gymnasium at Victor Valley College at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, May 3.

This oratorio, originated about 1800, is a musical composition on an extended religious setting for solos, chorus and orchestra. It combines parts of Moses and Milton's Paradise Lost, sung on extended religious setting. Thomas Anderson and Paul Charfield, both from Riverside, will share in singing the bass arias for the character Adam and Noah.

Dr. Loren Fifebrick, associate professor of music at Cal State, Tom Miller of the Victor Valley Community choir, and Leopold Cichoti of the High Desert Symphony will direct.

"The Creation" will be performed at 8:15 p.m., in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

For the Cal State performance, general admission is $2. There is no charge for students with identification. Children are admitted free.

Adult College Opportunity Program Scheduled

Help for students who have reading problems is being provided this spring through a series of reading seminars developed by Student Assistance in Learning (SAIL). Three seminars for each skill will be taught.

The focus each week is on a different problem area. The first sessions devoted to helping students learn and implement the SQ3R technique of textbook reading, will meet on Wednesday, April 29, Thursday, April 30, and Tuesday, May 5 or 6:00 p.m. The second session will meet in LC 53 Tuesday and Thursday sessions will meet in LC 204.

Faculty may refer students with reading problems to attend these sessions. Students may attend any or all of the sessions. Further information is available from the SAIL office (ext. 272-73) or from Ingrid K. Hansen (Ext. 7722, LC 204).

Job Fair For Disabled

On May 21 and 22 the Los Angeles convention Center will host a Job Fair billed as the biggest single effort to employ the disabled in the United States. The Rio Hondo Mayor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped is sponsoring the event. Isabelle Gontier, a member of the Mayor's Committee, said they expect some 300 potential employers to attend, with many of the companies having pledged to hire disabled persons at the event, looking for persons with educational backgrounds ranging from high school equivalent through college graduates, as well as graduates from vocational training schools and programs.

Further information on the Job Fair may be obtained by calling the Mayor's Committee at (213) 864-601 ext 4258.

Susan Johnson, career counselor for the Services to Students with Disabilities at the Cal State San Bernardino Campus, urges all the disabled students on the campus to attend. "This will be an excellent opportunity for these students to learn about the kind of jobs that are available and the qualities employers are looking for in individuals. For those students who are unable to attend, Susan will be going, and she will be happy to speak with you and share the information she receives. All you need to do is make an appointment with her through the Disabled Students Office, phone number 887-7797.

Petrified Forest To Open May 14

The Petrified forest, a play by Robert Sherwood, will be presented on May 14-16, and May 20-22 by the Players of the Poor Garden, under the direction of William Starr.

The Petrified Forest is generally recognized as the vehicle that made Humphrey Bogart famous. He starred in the movie version, other stars involved in the production have been Leslie Howard and Bette Davis. The story takes place in the restaurant of a filling station in Arizona near the Petrified Forest. The drama takes place when it is taken over by a trio of armed fugitives.

In this game of freestyle softball, players ran a 50-yard dash and performed a <!-- "Duck Walk" --> mating dance.

Sitting down proved to be a popular pastime, as did passing out and throwing up.

Unidentified participant making a mad dash later caught and hanged.
It was no easy task for Joe Long to pull the ball from the grip of the boulder. Authorities are still looking for the player in the background (No. 27), who wandered up into the hills as the picture was being taken. He has not been heard from since.

This is the 9th Recorded Sighting at the Dormitory Food Service of an Unidentified Frying Object.

WARNING!

On Thursday, May 7, Cal State will be visited by hundreds of creatures from other high schools. Do not become alarmed. Reports indicate that the beings are friendly unless provoked. Do not attempt to offer the creatures food or shelter, they have promised to leave at the end of Thursday’s Social Studies Field Day. Beam me up Scotty!
