Due for a research project we are conducting, we wish to contact divorced or separated fathers who have custody of their children. The purpose of this research is to assess the meaning of the father's role as the primary parent. Fathers who ultimately decide to divorce typically experience a period of role conflict, ambiguity, and conflictuality. If you are interested in learning more, please contact us...

The Department of Education of Michael Williams, who is second with just about 2.5% of the votes, is second with just about 2.5%

Bush told Williams, a Negro right-wing zealot, to clean up the mess he and his White House and Department of Education administration. White cohorts had created. The revised copy of this turned retreat turned out to be as bad as the original assault on Black people. At a press conference, Williams bristled at charges that he was a Negro "sickie" being manipulated by racists. He did what he did, he added, because he believes that financial aid disadvantaged for Blacks in illegal because it discriminates against Whites. But, it's OK to use private money to discriminate against Whites, his conclusion explained. And although he presents the system of giving aid to Blacks he has no idea how many Blacks are depopulating Whites of scholarship money.

Yet the feels him is an urgent need to protect Whites from this ubiquitous mess of money designed to help Blacks sustain college. There is not enough spoils to lineic Williams legal and logistical inconsistencies. However, some insight can be gained into the psyche of a man who emotional needs have apparently gone into overdrive and enabled his logical powers.

During Williams' confirmation hearings, Sen. Paul Simon asked him why he had never joined the NAACP or the Urban League, champions of civil rights, since he was applying for the position of chief civil rights officer of the Department of Education. The answer was no chapters in his hometown of Midwest, Texas, he replied. I suppose that means that one has ever belonged to the NAACP or the Urban League from Midwest, Texas. Of course, he lived in California and I know for a fact that both organizations have branches in that state. We all know what Williams is really saying, and it doesn't have to be spelled out in this Blacks. Blacks have historically been taught the lesson that having a dark skin doesn't make one like it—or even other people who look like you with whom you have suffered so you can practice ignorance for the Bush administration. The Williams of this world might even quote Martin Luther King to "prove" that their distorted vision of a "colorblind" society is just as said earlier, Bush will never recover politically — because Williams has polarized the House and Department of never joined the NAACP or the Republican Party. Racism has never celebrated a final victory and it never will, and this attempt to politicize the education of young Blacks and as a hedge to drive Whites out of the Democratic Party will be no exception. In the meantime, call President Bush (225/245-1414; ask for Black Press Editor Michael Brown). Who can be a fire the rogue assistant secretary for civil rights in the White House? Tony Brown. OUR BODIES by Ernest C. Levier, Jr., M.D., F.A.C.P.

1991 is around the corner, an opportunity to take stock of the past year and to make those New Year's Resolutions. DON'T NEGLECT YOUR BODY. Protect the environment for yourself and your children's future. Protect your air, breathe deeply. Protect the water you drink, remember water and don't allow pollution. Protect the food chain in terms of toxic chemicals. Traffic is stressful and polluted. Take your head out of the sand, protect your rights and demand that city, county, state and federal government deal with traffic time.

AIDS remains an inevitable cancer threat. It is a disease of lifestyles, mainly affecting TV and film stars and homosexuals but is spilling over into the heterosexual sexual population. Prevention is key, a monogamous, monogamous relationship and stop sex.

Speaking of drug use, illegal drugs, PCP, etc., is a growing problem, running rampant in our community and destroying youth and potential. If you haven't started, don't. If you are using drugs, get help and stop now. Alcohol is a legal drug but takes the same death and disease. Curb your intake. The Merchants of Death are still targeting those cigarette ads for you, the blue-collar worker, minorities and females. If you have problems about your self, care about the people who breathe in your smoke and stop killing them.

I urge each of you to communicate your wishes to your Congressional representatives.

The Bush administration has realized its intent to make the "quota" issue against civil rights a national issue, which will further roll back gains by minorities. Your voice needs to be heard. My top priority has been education of our nation's children, it is continuing to be as I move on to my new career, leading the Hawkins Foundation.

Health & Human Services Commits to Minority Health

by Deanne Diana III, US Department of Health & Human Services

A major priority of the Department of Health and Human Services under the leadership of Secretary Louis W. Sullivan, M.D. is improving access to health care. To help meet this goal, the secretary has proposed a $3.5 billion dollar appropriations bill for Head Start for minority children for the fiscal year, from $3.1 billion last year. We are spending more federal funds to reduce infant mortality, funding would grow to $3.5 billion this year, from $3.1 billion last year.

And the Administration and Secretary Sullivan have won Head Start the biggest spending increase in its history. Spending for Head Start is up 26 percent to $2 billion this year. Two thirds of the young people it serves are minority Americans. The health component of Head Start includes medical, dental, mental health, and nutritional services for children, as well as health and nutrition education for parents and children.

These are only a few examples of what the government can, and must, do to improve the health of all Americans. But, for us in HHS, and undoubtedly for you, it is not enough. We are committed to providing real access to affordable quality care for all Americans. Our minority and low-income citizens should not have to choose between buying food or seeing a physician, between paying rent or getting medicines for their children. The needs of our impoverished and our minority citizens must become a top priority, and we must find unanticipated, coherent solutions that meet their needs.

Fortunately, there are some things that can be done without billions of dollars of federal monies. We in Health and Human Services encourage every segment of our society to join us in our efforts to improve the health of all citizens by taking action that emphasizes that the importance of our people — all of our people and the majority alike — will come from a renewed emphasis on the personal responsibility each of us has to protect our own good health.

This renewed emphasis on personal responsibility has led Secretary Sullivan to support communities that oppose the marketing of new cigarettes that target minorities. He is marketing a more nutritious labeling on the foods we eat. It will let us choose to get better control of our diet, and he has proposed new guidelines proposed on real calorie intake, food groups, and weights.

We must also remember the responsibility of the private sector in improving the health of our people. The range of opportunities is broad, from offering insurance coverages for smoking cessation programs, to encouraging employers to make regular exercise part of their lives, to promoting low fat diets in the company cafeteria.

We in Health and Human Services encourage every segment of our society to join us in our efforts to improve the health of all citizens by taking action that emphasizes that the importance of our people — all of our people and the majority alike — will come from a renewed emphasis on the personal responsibility each of us has to protect our own good health.

There's danger in the air when metallic balloons come in contact with Edison power lines. Because one balloon can cause the line to short, resulting in power outages that can affect thousands of customers. A downed line can also threaten life and property. So here are some common sense tips, to help make for a safer ballooning experience.

Keep metallic balloons indoors, and hold onto them with both hands when outdoors. Don't remove the government required string weight. Don't bundle metallic balloons. Never release them outdoors. If a balloon becomes tangled in a power line, do not attempt to retrieve it. And never use metallic string.

Keep these safety precautions in mind. Because the dangers involved with metallic balloons are not just full of hot air.

New Joy Shares Christmas
Saturday December 22, 1990 from 10:00 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. ladies from the missionary Society and the Hospitality committee of New Joy once again expressed a sense of warmth, love, and a beautiful fellowship as they cheerfully packed 21 large Christmas baskets for less fortunate families. Though the wind was brisk and full of chill, Mrs. Thelma Woods, Pastor and Mrs. Morris A. Buchanan, Pastor of New Joy, and Pastor Rev. Clarence E. Harris of Harambee Publication, is a new monthly publication. "Triumph" Magazine will be distributed to the elderly, handicapped, homeles people, family workers, and others in need of public support high, but they are significantly more so. Support for a similar statewide poll in 1988 and 1990 was not identical, the level of public support for the homeless appears to have remained consistently high.

The average support of 48% who said they strongly favored Prop 145 poll with a margin of error of 4%. Of those polled, 77% said it was important for the state to provide financial assistance to the elderly and handicapped, and 74% said it was important to provide financial assistance to the elderly. Support for the homeless appears to have remained consistently high.

In early October supporters of Prop 145 commissioned a poll to assess public support for state housing assistance. The poll found a remarkably high level of public support for housing assistance in the elderly, handicapped, homeles people, family workers, and others in need of public support high, but they are significantly more so. Support for a similar statewide poll in 1988 and 1990 was not identical, the level of public support for the homeless appears to have remained consistently high.

In 1988, by comparison, 69% said the homeless problem was very serious, and 68% said they strongly favored housing, education and job training programs for homeless people. Although an exact comparison is impossible because the questions in 1988 and 1990 were not identical, the level of public support for the homeless appears to have remained consistently high.

The majority, 61% of those polled in 1988 and 1990 who strongly favored Prop 145 poll with a margin of error of 4%. Of those polled, 77% said it was important for the state to provide financial assistance to the elderly and handicapped, and 74% said it was important to provide financial assistance to the elderly. Support for the homeless appears to have remained consistently high.

Not only were the ladies involved in this worthy mission, but the men of New Joy are also recommended for their willing and steady service.
