Ruben Gonzales of Ontario has been appointed Affirmative Action Officer for the San Bernardino County government, it was announced today. James J. Hlawek, Assistant Administrative Officer for Human Resources, made the announcement recently at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors. Gonzales assumed his duties today as the department's first Affirmative Action Officer. Gonzales was formerly Affirmative Action Officer for the California Department of Transportation and has been with the California Department of Transportation, the San Bernardino and Equal Employment Opportunity Manager for the Southern California Rapid Transit District in Los Angeles County. 46, is a Colton native and a lifelong resident of the Inland Empire.

Civl rights attorneys have won a landmark employment discrimination settlement for African American, Latino and Asian American police officers who were discriminated against by the troubled Los Angeles Police Department with a $9 million agreement approved by the Los Angeles City Council today. The settlement more than doubles the amount of the qualified African American, Latino and Asian American police officers who will be permitted to apply for the top ranks of detective, sergeant and patrol commander. As a result of the settlement, all Los Angeles police officers will be graded based solely on a promotion index that includes an array of factors, including education and experience that will be made available to all qualified officers. In addition, the settlement will require LAPD to begin using objective and merit-based promotion standards.

Foremost, higher numbers of qualified minority officers into LAPD's upper ranks is an important way for LAPD to address the Christopher Commission's finding that LAPD's system for protecting minority communities is broken.

To expedite things, management proceeded to sue the same day. It sent me to the opposing attorney's office to inform him of charges. First of all, I'm an African-American, the charge I'm making is not my form. The opposing attorney asked for what. When I served him, my boss advised me tomosaic certain forms and statements from their files. Of course, I refused as I found it dishonest. Ways To Help You Body Fight AIDS

by Tony Brown

My earlier column, Magic,See Dr. Duesberg's warning that "all growing cells are killed" by AZT, was not the so-called "treatment" for AIDS.

A leading virologist, Dr. Duesberg also maintains that there is no evidence that HIV, the so-called AIDS virus causes the disease called AIDS.

Chemotherapy targets growing cells. AZT was developed to kill cancer cells, but all normal cells growing at the same time will also be killed, Dr. Duesberg explained.

That's why John Lauritsen, author of "Poison By Prescription" (26 St. Mark's Place, NY, 10003), says that most of the AIDS fatalities are caused by chemotherapy. AZT is the key to keeping your health or restoring your health if you lose it. Dr. Root-Bernstein's advice to Martin Johnson and others with HIV infections who have not developed AIDS is to get vaccinated against any infectious diseases - such as pneumonia, still healthy.

If you have a herpes virus, get treatment (Foscarnet or Ganciclovir). "Herpes viruses can trigger HIV," says Dr. Root-Bernstein.

Get off and stay off of any drug, intravenous use or "recreational" use. Drugs themselves suppress your immune system and can trigger HIV.

And, in using condoms, the professor strongly urges the use of vitamins and minerals that "are essential to peak immune function.

Ron and Lexie Whitfield (404/455-0144) have been preaching the gospel of good health through a strong immune system as preventive medicine for years.

Their self-help business will be one of 500 listed when the Yellow Pages were published. In the meantime, they promote their "Diamite" line of health products from their home in Atlanta. Although my immune system was in good shape the last time I checked, I used several products that I get from Ron and Lexie to keep it that way.

One is a herbal drink called Aloe Vera Plus that combines Aloe Vera, the medicinal plant suggested for everything from allergies to AIDS, and Ginseng (see it has curative and restorative effects). The chamomile and passion flower herbs that are added give it a fruit-juice taste.

I use their fiber tablets and Night Trimming system (amin acid supplement) that promise that you lose weight while you sleep because the fat cells shrink in size.

I can't prove that, but I can prove that the state of health in this country is in a sad state and strengthening the body's ability to fight back is the only defense we have. And, for God's sake, don't use drugs.

26th Anniversary 13th Amendment
We Should Honor Our Ancestors

December 18, 1991, will mark the 126th Anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation, the 13th Amendment to the Constitution. This was the official end of slavery in our country, however people have been and still are under bondage.

The Emancipation Proclamation was only the beginning, in a trek that has taken us from total bondage, to the freedom of segregation, lynching, to the era of civil rights.

On December 18, Hillside High School in Durham, North Carolina will sponsor a program to honor former slaves. This struck us as and outstanding tribute. One of the most outstanding tributes we have heard of. Many African American parents have told us that just thought it cripples us. Why should we be ashamed of the ancestors who were stolen from their land; placed on crowded ships, for months in terrible conditions, sold on auction blocks to the highest bidders, families were separated, languages taken away, strange food, and brutal treatment. Only the strong survived! We are the ancestors of the great Kings and Queens, which is why we celebrate.

December 18, 1991, will mark the 126th Anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation, the 13th Amendment to the Constitution. We should honor our ancestors.

Coping With Racial Insults
by Charles Faulkner

E very word that we use, whether we know it or not, has some measurable effect upon us, good or bad, major or minor, hidden or obvious, conscious or subconscious. You don't always notice it, but, in fact, you have been brainwashed. The effect is deep in the psyche, deep in the subconscious.

For instance, if someone told you that the delicious pudding you had just eaten was actually made of cockroaches, you would probably get sick and want to vomit. But, if a second later they told you they were just joking, you would no longer get sick. You would feel foolish.

If someone behind you shouted, "Your article of Oct 3; 199 Lon," you would probably tremble with fear. But if someone behind you, you would say, "what?"

All words trigger certain kinds of behaviors, feelings and thoughts. Many of your reactions are so quick that you do not realize that you are reacting. But you are. Both the person who used the word and the listener are affected, to some degree. A person who calls you 'nigger' feels good, but you feel bad. You can feel confident, lose your confidence, feel good, bad, happy or sad.

American society has already placed deep psychological triggers in the subconscious of Black people, so that you are made to feel inferior, even when a person simply refuses to touch you or to speak to you.

Blacks did not initially name themselves 'niggers, coloreds, negroes,' or the other insulting terms created by their oppressors, to degrade them.

Black and people of any group, should react vehemently and quickly to any name that degrades them, whether by accident or intention. They should oppose such ugly names in newspapers, books radio or TV, in the movies and in insulting comedians in nightclubs.

You may think that you are not being injured but every time a degrading term is used in your presence, another chip is being sliced away from your feelings of self-respect. You have the personal responsibility, for your own mental health, to attack anyone who attacks you, verbally or otherwise. Psychological injury is often permanent.

Attack it now before it destroys you psychologically.

Study Finds Clear Evidence of Racially Disparate Mortgage Lending

The higher the proportion of white residents in any given area of Los Angeles, the more home loans that area receives, a University of Southern California study shows.

A study of mortgage lending patterns in Los Angeles, funded in part by the Department of Los Angeles on the Western Center for Research in Urban and Housing Policy, found evidence that the practice of racially disparate home lending is legal.

Hepatitis

Dear Dr. Lavister: What is viral hepatitis? What types of hepatitis are there? J.D.

Dear Dr. Lavister: Hepatitis is an inflammation of the liver. Acute viral hepatitis is caused by several viruses. In young children they may not be aware of infection. Some years on individuals who are infected with mononucleosis, fatigue, loss of appetite and low fever are more common.

Hepatitis A (formerly termed infectious hepatitis) is spread for 14 to 21 days before and 7 to 14 days after the individual becomes sick via the stool.

Hepatitis B (formerly termed serum hepatitis) is transmitted via contact with infected blood, body products, sex, and sexual relations.

Hepatitis C is the cause of most post blood transfusion hepatitis. The incidence is five to ten times greater in the number of transfusion recipients.

Hepatitis D (delta) occurs in combination with hepatitis B and is transmitted via needle sticks. Individuals with hepatitis B and D may carry a double viral infection.

Hepatitis E is a cause of outbreaks of hepatitis in developing countries.

There is no direct treatment for hepatitis.

Individuals exposed to hepatitis should be given gammaglobulin (passive immunity) to help ward off post hepatitis.

Active immunization is available with vaccine for hepatitis B versus a series of injections which is recommended for health care professionals.

Acute immunization is available for six to twelve months has been ineffective.

Chronic hepatitis has been divided into chronic active, chronic inactive, and cirrhosis of the liver and herpes of liver failure.

Chronic hepatitis can have chronic persistent hepatitis which is characterized by continued low-grade liver cell death occurs for 6 months to 2 years.

Chronic hepatitis is characterized by chronic viral hepatitis can develop liver cancer.

Brown's Books Celebrates 1st Year Anniversary

The bookstore located at 1355 West Baseline was started by Paulette Brown a graduate student in English at the University of California, Riverside.

Brown said she had heard her mother talk about owning a bookstore for many years, but it wasn't until an event held a Cal State University in San Bernardino that she realized the dream.

A bookstore came in from Los Angeles and she and other Blacks quickly cleaned the supply out. She saw a void and filled it. She began to study where bookstores on Afrocentric literature were located. She became one of about five bookstores of that kind in Southern California, and the first in the Inland Empire. No longer did residents have to travel to Los Angeles to buy their books. Brown's Books has in stock many top selling titles and in just a couple of days those not in stock can be ordered.

Recently Brown has ordered and stocked many children's books. Her turn over is so great she has to reorder often.

A few of her titles in stock ready to purchase are Alice Walker's The Temple of My Familiar and Color Purple, Bill Cosby's Love and Marriage, The Blacker The Berry, Wallace Thurman, Malcolm Speaks, and Malcom X's Autobiography.

Rev. Burton visits bookstore, selected speeches: Up From Slavery, Booker T. Washington's Autobiography, Toni Morrison's, Sula, Fala McClay's God I Listened, The Hare Plan,带来的The Black Boy To Malthus, The Collected Poems of Langston Hughes, The Truth About The Big Lie, Dwight Pridgen's Dacey, David Higgens, Over ALL This and many more of the latest works by local, national and international writers. Children's books of all kinds, Kwaziuz books and cards.

In her first year she held a Talk That Talk reading children's stories and a Booksigning for Dr. Sterling Dudley, the world's foremost expert on Slavery.

Douglas Miller Singing To God's Glory

Douglas Miller brought the house down at Valley Fellowship Seventh Day Adventist Church recently as a small but gifted filled crowd was ministered in song. Better known in our area for his soul-stirring spirited vocals, he also sang Nobody Can Love You Like Jesus, Do Not Pass Me By, and Send It On. Not a Friend Like Jesus. Thank The Lord For One More Day and more.

During his ministration he said, “there should be a difference in Gospel music and the other, it should be uncompromising.”

“They say people like M.C. Hammer can sing Pass Me By but we are not living in one thing and living it is another. It is impossible to sing gospel without being involved.”

The concert was sponsored by the San Bernardino Christian Center. Rev. Rodney Pearson, pastor, who in addition to presenting the concert also presented an award to Rev. LeRol Lacey of the Highway To Heaven Ministry, who brings Gospel music to the Inland Empire everyday, on radio station KPRG, Riverside. Pastor Pearson said sometimes it is lovingly done the Lord’s will, but Rev. Lacey perseveres. He has been on the air 32 hours a week for five years. He has brought Gospel music to his area. He has brought Gospel music to the Inland Empire. The San Bernardino Christian Center just wanted to recognize his service to the Lord.

Douglas Miller says, “To the glory of God.”

With support from several local businesses, Ron Williams was able to persuade Grambling and Mississippi Valley to stay in the inaugural contest. The game drew 40,000 fans.

The very first "Classic" matchup in 1968 featured Grambling against Alcorn at the Los Angeles Coliseum. This year, there will be 37 Classics played around the country, a number prepared to grow even farther.

Mr. Casem attributes the success of the Bayou Classic and its sister classics not just to fan interest but also to corporate sponsorships. "There’s never been a doubt. ... You just have to convince others."

Students Honored At King Middle School

Faculty and staff members at Martin Luther King, Jr. Middle School held their Pennie Student Award Breakfasts recently. During the breakfasts, which are held on two separate days to accommodate the large number of students involved, students in grades six, seven and eight were honored for academic achievement and perfect attendance.

According to Edwin Dean, King principal, who started the breakfasts, they are held quarterly to honor students who earn a high grade point average. "We give certificates to the students with a 3.0 average or better, and at the sometime break we give recognition pins to the 4.0 students. Parents also receive Certificates of Merit for their support of the children and our academic programs," he says. Vice Principal Jimmi Skiver, who coordinated the breakfast, says, "The Student Government members served as the sponsors and we had about 150 students and parents turn out so we were very pleased."

One of the most trying aspects of being a parent is encouraging your child to make the right choices—not just to follow along. Today's complex society, growing up involves more pressures and choices than ever before. Studies show that young people do things because their friends do. Smoking is one of those things.

We don't want children and teenagers to smoke.

That's why the tobacco industry is offering a booklet aimed at helping parents meet the challenge of providing their children with the tools to resist peer influence. The booklet, "Tobacco: Helping Youth Say No!" is designed to keep parents and children communicating about important issues like smoking.

To continue its longstanding commitment that smoking is not for young people, the tobacco industry also has strengthened its marketing code and is supporting state legislation to make it tougher for young people to buy cigarettes. We are also working with retailers for strict compliance with state laws prohibiting sales of cigarettes to minors.

"THE BLACK FAMILY REUNION COOKBOOK is a powerful statement about a simple ritual that binds us together on so many levels," states Dr. Dorothy I. Height, President of the National Council of Negro Women. Check with NCNW Chapter member for a cookbook.

Make A Squash Pie For The Holidays

Perhaps one reason why the former Miss America, Marjorie Vincent, is able to withstand the rigors of travel so well, is that she's very conscious of her diet and what good food is all about. Marjorie exercises as often as possible, using her spare time, walking wherever possible and taking riding if time permits. Marjorie developed a love of good food at home where her mother, Florence, enjoys cooking for her family. A native of Haiti, Florence Vincent never had a cooking lesson before her marriage. When she and her husband moved to the United States three months after their marriage, the 21 year old bride was forced to learn quickly. Today she'll tell you that her husband Lucien encouraged her efforts from the beginning, even though he did admit that his former college student wife surprised him with her new found knowledge.

The Vincents settled in Oak Park, Illinois, outside of Chicago, and Florence continued to polish her talents. Eventually she became a professional caterer. She emphasizes the use of quality ingredients in flavoring and relies on Haitian vanilla and rum in making many of the desserts that are enjoyed by all the Vincent family.

On a recent visit home, Marjorie joined her mother in the kitchen while her mother prepared a delicious squash pie. Like all of us, Mrs. Vincent looks for ways to maximize her efficiency in the kitchen and for this recipe she chose a ready made graham cracker crust which nicely complemented the smooth flavor of the squash.

CARIBBEAN SQUASH PIE

1. 12 oz. box of frozen yellow squash
2. 1 egg
3. 1 Tbls. butter or margarine
4. 1 Tbls. cornstarch
5. 2 Tbls. vanilla extract
6/1. 1/2 cup sugar
7. 1 tsp. cinnamon
8. 1 tsp. ginger
9. 1 tsp. nutmeg
10. 1/2 can of evaporated milk
11. Ready Crust Graham Cracker pie crust

Thaw squash to room temperature. Mix ingredients with hand beater or whisk, 2 - 3 minutes. Mix ingredients with squash over low fire, stirring constantly until the mixture becomes very thick and is smooth. Pour into pie crust and refrigerate overnight. Garnish with whipped cream and a slice of fresh fruit.

Marjorie Vincent, former Miss America, and mother, Florence Vincent, make holiday Caribbean Squash Pie.

French Foundation Raises Funds For Alzheimer Research

Los Angeles- The French Foundation for Alzheimer Research won "across the board" with its fourth annual "A Day at the Races" held recently at Hollywood Park.

Event chair Janet Lindstrom-Atchley reported that the Foundation netted $18,000 from the benefit. She noted that all proceeds will be used for research into the detection, prevention and treatment of Alzheimer's disease.

Opera diva and foundation founder Dorothy Kirsten French and comedian Milton Berle co-hosted the fun-filled day. More than 200 people attended "A Day at the Races" and enjoyed a sumptuous buffet in the Turf Club.

The seventh race honored the French Foundation. In a special ceremony following the race, Mrs. French and Berle presented a bouquet of white roses to jockey Eddie Delahoussaye, who won the race aboard Thirty Slews.

In 1988, Mrs. French founded the French Foundation for Alzheimer Research, named after her late husband John Douglas French, M.D., the worldrenowned brain surgeon who co-founded the UCLA Brain Institute. The foundation seeks to advance scientific and medical research and to provide model methods for caring for Alzheimer's patients.

French Foundation Founding Associates president Elaine Smoots indicates that since its inception the foundation has raised more than $3 million to fund vital research projects worldwide and is dedicated to producing a cure for Alzheimer's disease.

In 1987, National Medical Enterprises, Inc., one of the nation's largest health care service companies, opened the John Douglas French Center for Alzheimer's Disease in Los Alamitos, Calif. -- the first freestanding facility devoted exclusively to the care of Alzheimer's patients.

Brown Calls For Control Over Whitefly Infestation

Rep. George E. Brown (D-Ontario, San Bernardino, Riverside), called on Agriculture Secretary Edward Madigan to establish a comprehensive program to control the poinsettia whitefly infestation that has devastated crops in Riverside and Imperial Counties.

In a letter cosigned by over 40 Members of the California Congressional delegation, Brown urged the Secretary to approve Governor Wilson's request for federal disaster assistance, and establish a "multi-pronged interstate and international" effort to control the insect.

The poinsettia whitefly infestation has crippled the economies of the region. Crop loss estimates currently exceed $90 million, and agricultural officials predict that crop losses will mount to $200 million in Imperial County alone. With 90 percent of Imperial County's economy dependent upon agriculture, retail and other businesses are also feeling the effects of the whitefly infestation.

Currently there are no known pesticides or biological control agents to combat the insect.

The letter called on Madigan to "move quickly and decisively to assist the growers and the communities affected by this infestation. While immediate financial assistance for the affected communities is clearly necessary, a comprehensive, adequately funded research effort to control this insect is equally important. Only $1 million has been appropriated in FY 1992 for whitefly research. Additional research funds are vital if we are to avoid a similar situation in the next fiscal year and beyond."

In addition to destroying most of the crops in Imperial Valley, the poinsettia whitefly has invaded other areas of the state, including the San Joaquin Valley. The states of Texas and Florida have reported poinsettia whitefly infestations, as has Mexico. Due to unusually warm and humid weather in Imperial Valley, however, this region of the country is the only one facing massive crop losses.

Brown added, "If the poinsettia whitefly becomes established in greater regions of California, in other regions of the country, or in Mexico, we would be faced with a far more serious situation. The time is now to move forward decisively with a program that effectively controls this pest."

Researchers at the University of California, Riverside (UCR) were successful in developing a biological control program for the ash whitefly, a related strain of the insective to the Mediterranean Region and the Near East that was imported into California prior to 1988. UCR researchers have already developed a five-year research plan to develop a biological control program for the poinsettia whitefly.
ISSUES & OPINIONS

Raise the Corporate Average Fuel Economy Standard?

U.S. Sen. Dale Bumpers (D-Ark.) is a member of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee and a cosponsor of the Motor Vehicle Fuel Efficiency Act.

Should the CAFE standard — the minimum fuel efficiency standard that all new motor vehicles must meet — be raised from a 27.5 mpg average to about 40 mpg?

Yes. The recent crisis in the Persian Gulf clearly showed that America needs a comprehensive energy strategy to reduce our reliance on foreign oil. Since transportation consumes 60 percent of all the oil we use, this tougher standard is badly needed. Imported oil also represents about 64 percent of our annual trade deficit.

What would be the effect of such an increase?

First, it would save 2.6 million barrels of oil a day, a significant savings since we now import about half of the oil we use. It’s important to remember that we’re now more dependent on foreign oil than we were at the time of the OPEC embargo in 1973, so anything we can do to become self-sufficient helps. In addition, American families would save money by buying less gasoline, and we’d all breathe cleaner air. Every gallon of gasoline consumed results in the emission of 19.7 pounds of carbon dioxide, which pollutes the atmosphere and contributes to the “greenhouse” effect. Fully one-fourth of all U.S. carbon dioxide emissions come from motor vehicles.

What are the alternatives to raising the CAFE standard to about 40 mpg?

New fuel efficiency standards ought to take into consideration the problems of our troubled automobile industry, and one option is to set lower, compromise standards. But if you oppose increased fuel efficiency, the only alternatives are increased reliance on imported oil, which nobody wants, or higher gasoline taxes to cut consumption, which are even more unpopular. In contrast, polls show that the vast majority of Americans are willing to pay more for a car that would get 40 mpg. At the rate we’re going, the number of cars on the planet will double from 500 million to one billion early in the next century. It’s time to act.

Fuel efficiency requirements have tremendous societal benefits with very little inconvenience.

Should the CAFE standard — the minimum fuel efficiency standard that all new motor vehicles must meet — be raised from a 27.5 mpg average to about 40 mpg?

Absolutely not. A drastic CAFE increase would impose a heavy price on American consumers and the economy. The real debate here is not energy conservation, but the trade-offs in terms of safety, consumer choice and auto-related jobs.

What would be the effect of such an increase?

Consumers would be left with fewer choices (and higher prices!) for full-size cars, vans and pickups. Farmers, ranchers, car-pool commuters, senior citizens and others will suffer if the government interferes with their ability to choose.

Deaths and injuries in traffic crashes will rise because small cars provide less protection than larger vehicles. Researchers already have shown that the downsizing of the late 1970s has led to nearly 2,000 deaths and 20,000 serious injuries every year. Dramatic CAFE increases will mean still more downsizing, and even more deaths and injuries — undermining U.S. progress in other areas of highway safety.

Hundreds of thousands of American jobs will be at risk. If a higher CAFE standard prevents automakers from selling mid-size and full-size vehicles, many consumers will hold on to their older, less fuel-efficient vehicles. Thus, workers in the U.S. auto, steel, glass, rubber, rail and other industries will be hit hard.

What are the alternatives to raising the CAFE standard to about 40 mpg?

A higher CAFE standard is a very ineffective way to meet energy and environmental goals. After all, new car fuel economy has doubled since 1975, and our percentage of oil imports has increased. If the United States really wants to reduce gas consumption and imported oil, we need a program that works. Steps that would be far more effective include more use of alternative fuels for vehicles, greater use of car pools and mass transit, and alternatives for non-highway users of oil (such as utilities).

The Man Who Touches The Stars

Kent Cullers, blind since birth, is one of America's leading scientists in the search for life in outer space.

Cullers is one of the most valued scientists at NASA's Ames Research Center in Mountain View, Calif. He plays piano and guitar, is a skilled chess player and an avid ham radio operator, reports the December 1991 Reader's Digest.

Inside the Life Sciences Research Laboratory at Ames, Cullers effortlessly navigates the familiar long corridors where he has made a name for himself as an uncannily talented researcher. His specialty is "looking" at the heavens electronically.

Besides radiating light, every star, including our sun, radiates some radio noise. Cullers uses a special computer connected to radio telescopes to translate visual images into bumps on a fingernail-size pad. As a result, he says, "I can feel an image on my fingertips."

When words or mathematical data appear on the screen, another computer automatically translates the letters and numbers into audible English.

For silent communication, Cullers can turn off the electronic voice and rest his fingers on a row of 40 bars that resemble miniature dominoes. Small white pins poke up from the bars to form Braille characters, giving Cullers instant touch access to words and data. Sitting at this equipment, sorting through electronic information about an object in space, Cullers feels that he literally touches the stars.

Cullers's latest project is to use his unique talents to help the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in its Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence (SETI).

Next October 12, on the 500th anniversary of Columbus's discovery of America, the space agency plans to begin the biggest radio telescope search in history. In just the first 60 seconds, NASA will investigate more intensively than in all previous searches combined.

Cullers's job is to design equipment that will sift through the radio noise and seek out signs of intelligent communication from space. His machinery is so efficient that it will riffle through the equivalent of the entire Encyclopaedia Britannica once a second. From the radio waves emanating from space, it will make about 50 million tests per second, as it looks for possible intelligent transmissions.

"We will look for 'lines' in the radio spectrum," Cullers says, "special frequencies at which the power emitted is millions of times stronger than the sun's."

Such telltale lines, he explains are already made by electronic signs of our civilization: radio and TV transmissions, pulsing radars, even remote-control garage-door openers. "It's precisely that kind of evidence we're seeking as we look for E.T.,” he says.

THIS IS HOW A DESPERATE DRUG ADDICT SEES YOUR CHILD.

He doesn't see the energetic, young mind that's underneath the cassette recorder. He doesn't see the much-loved kid-on-the-block that's inside the leather jacket. All he sees is the cassette recorder, and the jacket, and how to get the money for his next fix.

But the drug addict's real blindness is that he'll never see the heartbreak he will cause when he leaves your child lying on the street.

You must fight back. You can make a difference. Start now by calling 1-800-WE PREVENT and we'll send you information on successful ways to join with others to protect your children from crime in your neighborhood.

In-N-Out Burger Awards $7,500 To Youth Service Center

At a recent Board of Director's meeting, In-N-Out Burger allocated $7,500 to the Youth Service Center for the prevention and treatment of child abuse. Through this Child Abuse Fund, In-N-Out Burger takes action on their belief in supporting "the communities in which we do business... to help them become better places to live." In-N-Out Burger reviewed numerous centers for the prevention and treatment of child abuse and felt that the Youth Service Center's programs appropriately reflect their philosophy. This is the fourth consecutive year of In-N-Out Burger support for the Center.

The Youth Service Center is a private, non-profit counseling agency specializing in the needs of children and families in the Riverside community. The agency provides a range of prevention, intervention, and treatment services addressing issues of child abuse, delinquency, divorce and other family related problems.

Of the $7,500 contributed, $1,503.82 was donated by In-N-Out Burger customers and friends in the Riverside County area during Child Abuse Prevention Month. In-N-Out Burger has matched these donations and contributed additional funds to the Child Abuse Fund.

In-N-Out Burger has clearly demonstrated their support to the Riverside Community and their active role in helping Riverside become a better place to live. This donation is a concrete example of the type of public-private partnerships that are crucial to the provision of human services within the Riverside community. This is particularly true now as the state continues to face the budget crisis which has resulted in cuts to the Youth Service Center and the community-based agencies.

Emancipation Proclamation Anniversary

"... All persons held as slaves within any state or designated part of a state, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then, thenceforward, and forever, free. ..."

These words are from one of the most important presidential proclamations in American history — the Emancipation Proclamation. Issued by President Abraham Lincoln on Jan. 1, 1863 — in the midst of the Civil War — the proclamation abolished slavery in the states that had seceded from the Union.

Although the Emancipation Proclamation only freed slaves in the states that had seceded, it was the precursor of the 13th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which on Dec. 18, 1865, outlawed slavery in every part of the United States.

Space Age Plastic Kitchen Tools

Make Cooking A Pleasure

What's cooking in America's kitchens? More homemakers are looking for ways to make meal preparation easier. One way, many have found, is using all plastic kitchen tools that will not melt, crack or discolor.

For the first time in the kitchen utensil industry, a plastic kitchen tool line comes with a 50-year guarantee. Called Ultratemp, the nine-piece line will withstand the stresses of heat, cold and dishwashers. It's dishwasher-safe and stain-resistant. Unlike other plastic kitchen tools, these keep their original appearance indefinably.

The utensils are from Robinson Knife, one of America's leading makers of kitchen utensils and cutlery. They're made from a high-performance industrial plastic that's never been used before for a consumer product. These tools complement popular Visiona cookware from Corning Works, yet work beautifully with all other fine cookware as well, especially non-stick surfaces.

Entertaining Idea: Add Fashionable Spanish Olives And Olive Oil To The Menu!

-from Spain should definitely be on the menu, gourmet cooks agree.

In the same way that a certain wine is selected for each dish, the best cooks now tend to select a certain kind of olive oil for each cooking preparation. The choicest olive oils, many agree, are those that come from Spain, the world's leading olive oil producer.

Spain grows more than 60 different varieties of table olives and its fine olive oils are wonderfully versatile. These include the mild, smooth and sweet oils from the Catalonia region, excellent for dressing salads, vegetables and boiled fish; and the aromatic, fruity oils from the Andalusia region, best for improving the taste of fried dishes, for preparing salsas, making marinades and much more.

If you're planning a dinner party for friends, family—or just a special treat for yourself—why not try this delightful, easy to make dish that's subtly, but nonetheless, enhanced with flavorful olives and olive oils from Spain?

Spice Muffins Boost Your Diet With Fiber

(DM)—Today, fiber is part of just about everyone's health vocabulary. Many people know they should increase their fiber intake but aren't sure about how much and what types to eat.

The National Cancer Institute recommends eating 20-30 grams of fiber a day. That's a lot more than the 11 grams of fiber currently in the average person's diet and may sound overwhelming. But more fiber doesn't mean eating only grains, vegetables and fruit. A simple way to increase your amount of fiber is adding whole grain cereal to favorite recipes.

Improve the fiber content and good taste of any diet with Wheatena® and the new Quick Cook Wheatena Light Toast and Quick Cook Wheatena with Raisins & Spice varieties. Prepared as a hot cereal, one serving contains four grams of dietary fiber, four times the fiber content of the leading hot wheat cereal. Wheatena also enhances nutritional value when added to muffins, quickbreads, stuffings, casseroles, etc.

The following recipe was created with healthy eating in mind. We've cut back on fat and added fiber with some very tasty results. For more delicious recipes call 1 (800) 726-4968 and ask for a copy of the free pamphlet, Wheatena Fit with Fiber.

SPICE MUFFINS

1 cup Wheatena with Raisins & Spice
1½ cups skim milk
All Natural PAM Cooking Spray
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup vegetable oil

In a large bowl combine Wheatena and milk; let stand 30 minutes.

Preheat oven to 400°F. Spray the bottoms only of 12 medium muffin pans with PAM Cooking Spray. Stir eggs and oil into Wheatena mixture. Sift flour, baking powder and cinnamon; stir in brown sugar. Add flour mixture to Wheatena mixture and stir until just moistened. Fold in apricots. Spoon batter into prepared muffin cups. Bake 18 to 20 minutes or until toothpick inserted into center comes out clean. Remove from pan and allow to cool on wire rack. Makes 1 dozen.

Has Cigarette Bashing Gone Too Far?

It seems lately, city after city across America is passing ordinances to segregate smokers from non-smokers. Many cities have banned smokers from public places altogether. Private businesses are being forced to create costly designated areas for smokers and non-smokers. Do you agree with all of this? It's time for the majority to speak up!
