Health Center

by Denise R. Allen

Have you stopped by the Student Health Center lately? What? You didn't know that CSCSB had a Health Center? Well, greetings.

The Student Health Center is located in the new square building across from the Commons in the S.E. section of the campus. It is open from 8:00 to 5:00 Monday through Thursday and from 8:00 to 4:00 on Friday. The center offers a variety of free services all intended to maintain student health and well-being.

The Center functions as an outpatient clinic. This means the staff can and will treat most acute illnesses and injuries. The list of services includes: emergency care, gynecological care, venereal disease treatment and testing, T.B. skin tests, vision and hearing screening, allergy injections, minor surgery, laboratory services and family planning (birth control, abortion counseling, etc.).

The clinic cannot set broken bones, deliver babies, perform abortions, or provide any long-term (overnight) hospitalization. These services, and any other cases that are outside the clinic's treatment realm will be referred out. For this reason, the clinic staff recommends that all students carry some sort of health insurance plan. A voluntary insurance plan, through an independent carrier, is available. Insurance brochures can be obtained at the Health Center.

The Clinic is staffed by two physicians, Dr. Ross Ballard (medical director) and Dr. James Savage; a nurse practitioner, Vivian McEachern; a registered nurse, Lois Ljunggren; a pharmacist and three clerical persons. If you have any questions or would like to set-up an appointment to see a doctor, stop in or call 887-7641 during working hours. If you have an emergency you can walk in and someone will see you as quickly as possible. You must present your validated student I.D. card in order to be treated, so do not forget to bring it!

CSCSB Children's Center

by Sandra Frey

At the west edge of campus is a small world almost hidden from view, the CSCSB Children's Center. The concerns of its two to six year-old inhabitants are to them as serious as class deadlines and bills are to us. The children plunge into each day in an atmosphere that fosters learning through play, self-discovery and relationships with others.

A typical day includes instruction at various levels. The younger set receives help in motor skills. Sounds of our language are illustrated through the Letter of the Week. Last week was "S" Week. Emphasis was placed on the "Sky" and the "Spaghetti" served for lunch.

Nature's wonders are witnessed on a shelf by the window, where plants grow and caterpillars turn into butterflies. Instruction is given in spelling, language, and math is given the older children.

All teaching is done in an open setting. Classrooms are created as needed with movable partitions. At the Children's Center, organization is balanced with freedom, and discipline with imagination. Arts and crafts, music, physical exercise and occasional field trips are the creative play projects that offset study times.

This balance is part of a new image that director Pam Dortch has worked for since she took the post last April. Ms. Dortch has broadened the Center's horizons by including parents and the campus community in activities. She believes professionals can learn from the Children's Center and that it can be enhanced by using campus resources, and she keeps an open door. Parents are required to devote at least one hour a week to volunteering, and they receive gold stars if they do so.

If the CSCSB Children's Center sounds good to you and you are a student or staff parent, call 887-7724. But plan ahead -- there's a long wait!

Draft Registration Doesn't Work

Draft registration isn't working, according to some of the non-registrants undergoing or awaiting prosecution. "There is no proof that the registration forces a debate on foreign policy," said Martin. "I am not willing to withhold my protest...until the nuclear arms race has reached its logical conclusion in a nuclear holocaust...I am defending a view that wars, like poverty and prison, are neither necessary nor inevitable. They transgress the human spirit and ought to be abolished," he said.

In late August, an amendment sponsored by Sen. Hayakawa (R-CA) and Rep. Solomon (R-NY) to the Defense Authorization Bill had passed both houses of Congress, and went before President Reagan. The bill would require male college students applying for grants and loans through the Government to prove that they have registered for the draft.

CSSA Opposes

At the October CSSA meeting, to be held at CSU, Northridge this weekend (Oct. 15-17), Resolution 82/83-7 will be voted on. This resolution supports the CSSA's continuing opposition to peacetime registration.

Briefly stated, Resolution 82/83-7 states, "...that the CSSA reaffirms its commitment of opposition to the draft and registration for the draft and affirms the support of an adequately paid all-volunteer armed force, thereby promoting the efficiency and dignity of our armed services and allowing every American to determine his own life in accordance with his own values."

Persons wishing to voice their opinions for or against Resolution 82/83-7 are invited to attend the meeting. Remember, the CSSA is your voice in state government!
Placement Center Registration

Students who have obtained senior status and have not registered with the Career Planning and Placement Center are encouraged to do so as soon as possible. No charge is assessed for registering, and the process itself is not time consuming. The Placement Center is located in the Student Services Building, Room 116. Please schedule an appointment to register with Ms. Becky Westbrook, secretary, or phone (887-7551). A variety of services are available to students and Alumni through the Placement Center. The vast majority of services are available to all students, regardless of major or class level. Several of the major services include: job announcement postings (located on our Career Employment Opportunities Board just outside the Placement Center), assistance in resume writing, advice on interview job interview techniques, career counseling and vocational testing, placement file service, and School Graduate Reference service. In addition, two vacancy newsletters-Job News (listing vacancies in Business, Industry, Government, Higher Education and Counseling), and the Employment Newsletter (listing vacancies in the teaching profession) are available. Two separate telephone tapes are also available to place track registrants—one for Business, Industry, Government registrants, and one for educational placement registrants.

The Placement Center also makes arrangements for employers to visit our campus to conduct job interviews. Interviews times are available only to students who are registered with the Placement Center and have a final resume on file. Please sign up for an interview time in SS 116 at least two days in advance of the scheduled campus visit. All students may visit with those recruiters not requiring individual appointments. Changes in the calendar will be posted as soon as new appointments are confirmed. The recruiting calendar for the Fall Quarter is as follows:

Career Planning and Placement Center

Encourage to do so as soon as possible.
The Association of College and University Housing Officers (ACUHO) is initiating the first Annual Alcohol Education Week, October 10 thru 16, 1982.

The focus of this week cannot and should not address itself to the issue of whether or not to drink. Rather, the goal and direction of a college level program should be to encourage responsible drinking behavior. This concept of responsible drinking is non-judgmental and non-moralistic.

Responsible drinking entails a decision-making process which is characterized by an understanding of the reasons and motivations of drinking and the cocscious decision making process which is made out of a respect for oneself and others.

The social situation can either help or hinder responsible decisions about alcohol. Consuming alcohol is not the be-all and end-all of an event. It is to add pleasure to an event. Below are some ways of serving alcohol responsibly:
- Providing other activities as a primary focus when alcohol is served
- Recognizing that drunkenness is neither healthy nor safe
- Providing food when alcohol is served

Responsible decision-making requires that the individual understand implications alcohol has for personal health. The following guidelines are suggested:
- Avoiding riding with a driver who is under the influence of alcohol, and discouraging him or her from driving
- Recognizing that the host is just as responsible for preventing drunken driving as his or her guest
- Providing transportation or overnight accommodations for those unable to drive safely

Support your drinking buddy, not more than a buddy, you know how to do. As students you should enjoy partying with your friends, and often that means drinking together. Let’s say it’s 2 a.m., and you’ve been drinking with your friend Allen. But he’s had a few too many and now you have a drunk on your hands. Would you know how to handle him? The following are do’s and don’t for the immediate care of a drunk person.

IF ALLEN’S CONSCIOUS:
Stay calm. Don’t communicate your anxiety to him. Keep your distance. Before approaching or touching him, explain what you intend to do in a clear, firm, reassuring manner. Don’t ridicule, provoke, or threaten him. Keep him still and comfortable. DON’T LET HIM DRIVE!!

If he vomits, stay with him to prevent suffocation. Remember only time will sober a drunk so don’t walk him, don’t carry him, don’t administer food, drink, or medication (including coffee, aspirin or vitamins).

IF ALLEN’S UNCONSCIOUS:
Check his breathing and pulse. If there’s any sign of danger get medical help quickly. Be prepared to give artificial respiration. Don’t let him sleep on his back. The safest position is on his side. Place pillows or rolled up blankets behind his back, or prop him up against a wall.

Continue to check his breathing and pulse for at least two hours until you’re sure he’s out of danger. If you have any doubts about his safety, call the Campus Police: 887-7555.

Many college campuses today are offering alcohol awareness programs, many of which promote responsible drinking through student-run task forces. One of the most visible and successful programs today is offered under the auspices of a national, non-profit organization called BACCHUS.

BACCHUS is an acronym for ‘Boost Alcohol Consciousness Concerning, the Health of University Students’.

BACCHUS takes a common sense approach. The program encourages moderation in the use of alcohol among students who drink and respect for the choice of students who do not.

BACCHUS’s chapters are organized by students, with the aid of a faculty administrator who acts as advisor. The chapters are semi-autonomous, planning their own policies.

The key ingredient to this type of project is student participation. When the project’s message comes from students; any misperception of its purpose is broken down more quickly.

There are many student alcohol awareness task forces such as BACCHUS in the United States and Canada. If there is any student, faculty or staff interest on this campus to establish an Alcohol Awareness Task force please contact Sherri Deutchman, Assistant Director of Housing in the Housing Office: 887-7405.

Exchange Students Arrive

Beginning Oct. 4, students from several countries started to arrive at Cal State, San Bernardino to study English. During their 20 week stay, they will be taking intensive courses in reading, writing, and speaking the English language.

The students will be living in Serrano Village in Tokay, Waterman, and Badger houses.

Bill Becker was named the International Student assistant, a position established especially for this program. Becker will be helping the students adjust to dorm life and act as a liaison between other residents and their new visitors.

These students come from Jordan, Korea, Malaysia, and Saudi Arabia. They are here to study our culture and language, but it is also a chance for us to learn about their ways of life. If you happen to run into one of these students on campus, please introduce yourself. You'll be helping them as well as yourself.

Village Council

The first Village Council meeting was held Wednesday, Oct. 6 to elect new officers. The meeting was very productive, with a large attendance and positive attitudes. We hope this continues throughout the year.

The elected officers are: President-Terry Ayers; Co-Vice President-Jackie Leed and Tina Hornbeck; Treasurer-Al Katemopoulos; Secretary-Keller Luppenlatz.

Study Group Seminar

The Learning Center and Housing Office are offering a presentation for dorm students on Wednesday, October 13, in Badger Dormitory concerning "How to Set-up Student Study Groups" and information on support services. Many students in the past have used the study group technique to prepare themselves for specific courses. This has proven to be very successful when used correctly. If you are interested, please come to the demonstration.

If you have any questions, call Sherrin Deutchman (887-7739) or Diana Pelletier (887-7512).

A.P.C. in Action

Phil Buford and Judy Brash, the Village Activity Program Coordinators, are working hard to plan events for everyone's enjoyment. Here are just a few of the things they are working on: Halloween dinner and carnival; R.A. pizza night; a special Thanksgiving dinner; bowling night; dorm videos; Central City movies; Dorm Feast; and a brand new project called The Village Entertainer which will showcase village talent in a coffee house atmosphere.

They also plan to continue with educational programming such as the Student Safety Expo, Rape Prevention, Alcohol Awareness plus much more. Check the dorm exit and entrance doors for upcoming events.

Yearbook begins

Those students who remember last year's Cal State year book will be pleased to know that plans for an 82-83 yearbook are already underway. It is our hope to make this year's annual better on all counts with new innovative features as well as repeating favorite features from the 81-82 book such as: Village wisds, dorm pictures, Cal State plays, Halloween festivities and intramurals. We also plan to include more of the Cal State campus to make the annual well-rounded. Those interested in working on the yearbook staff should see the Village Activity Program Coordinators, Judy Brash and Phil Buford.

The Body Electric

A movement class offered for all Serrano Village residents last year, Becker was named the Community Director of the College Department of Physical Education. The Body Electric incorporates jazz dance exercise, body awareness and stress reducing techniques. This is the first part of a continuing program designed to improve the health and fitness of the Serrano Village community.

The competition is divided into graduate and undergraduate categories, and is open to students currently enrolled in any accredited college or university. Undergraduate students must work in groups of three or more, and graduate students in groups of two or more, both under the counsel of a faculty member or a recognized campus professional. The deadline is January 14, 1983.

For additional information, please contact the Competition Coordinator, Phil Morris Incorporated, 120 Park Avenue, New York, New York, 10017, (212) 679-1800.

Cover Your Assets

by Quentin Moses

The Department of Public Safety (Campus Police) welcomes all new and returning students, staff, and faculty. We are here to assist you and make your experience at Cal State, San Bernardino as pleasant as possible.

The College Department of Public Safety is staffed by State Peace Officers, Investigators, Parking Officers, Public Safety Dispatchers, and Community Service Aides. As a team, personnel from all classifications provide a wide range of protective and service functions to the college community. The Department is operational 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Since the new academic year began, the campus has experienced a high rate of vehicle hit and runs as well as book thefts.

California Vehicle Code Section 20002a requires the driver of any vehicle involved in an accident to report the damage to any property, including vehicles, to attempt to notify the owner. If the owner is not available, a note should be left in a conspicuous place. If you witness a hit and run on campus, note a description of the driver, of the automobile and the license number.

Then call 887-7555.

Book thefts can occur anywhere on campus. To help prevent theft of your books, mark your books with permanent ink; keep your books close to you—don’t leave them unattended; do not set books on top of your car and drive away; and keep a list of text books that you have purchased. If you should lose your books, check with our Lost and Found in Building HA-3, or by phone at 887-7555. Most books are an investment. Safeguard them as you would any other valuables.

Philip Morris Inc. Offers Competition

Philip Morris Incorporated has announced its Fourteenth Annual Marketing/Communications Competition for Students. The competition provides an opportunity for students, nationwide, to sharpen their marketing and communications skills.

A first place award of $2,000, a second place award of $1,000, and a third place award of $500 will be presented to the winning teams in both the graduate and undergraduate categories.

Students are invited to develop marketing/communications projects related to Philip Morris Incorporated or any of its non-tobacco products and operations. A competition judging panel of marketing/communications experts will judge selected entries.

The competition is designed to enhance the graduates' understanding of marketing and communications, and to expose the best students from across the country to the workings of a major corporation.
Tom Hauser's Missing

During the early 1970's, the United States pursued a three-year, multimillion dollar policy of undermining and destroying the existing regime in the South American nation of Chile. These efforts climaxed in the September 1973 right-wing military coup that toppled the Marxist rule of Salvador Allende Gossens, the world's first democratically elected Marxist president.

Missing is the real-life story of Charles Horman, a young American free-lance writer and resident of Santiago, Chile, who was caught up in the events of 1973. Six days after the takeover, Horman disappeared from his home in the Chilean capital, later to be found murdered. Author Thomas Hauser traces the search for Charles Horman by his father and wife and their frustrated attempts to discover the truth surrounding his disappearance and death. Not only did the United States play a key role in the coup itself, alleges Hauser, but also did nothing to locate the missing American citizen, or help his relatives in their desperate search for information. Most serious is Hauser's contention that the United States may have actually been responsible for the assassination of Charles Horman in order to cover up its involvement in the overthrow of Allende Gossens.

The release of the film version of Missing provoked an official statement from the U.S. State Department, a highly irregular action. The State Department objected to the film's allegation that the United States had any advanced notice of or complicity in the execution of Horman, as well as the overt impression left by the film that the U.S. played a large role in the Chilean coup of 1973. Hauser points out, however, that the statement avoids any reference to a central claim of both book and film—that the U.S. willfully withheld information concerning Charles Horman's death from his family.

Thomas Hauser is a lawyer-turned-author who had met Charles Horman and his wife two years prior to the Chilean incident at their home in Berkeley, California.
