Collective Bargainer Needed

The California State Student Association (CSSA), representing over 300,200 students in the California State University system, this week launched a drive to recruit individual students who will represent fees the University system's entire student population at upcoming contract negotiations between CSU management and labor organizations representing academic and student service personnel.

The Higher Education Employer-Employee Relations Act (HEERA), which covers public higher education employees, is unique in the nation, in providing management with an independent third-party role at the bargaining table.

"This will be the first round of negotiations for 3 of the bargaining units; students are currently allowed to participate in," stated CSSA's Collective Bargaining Director, Shari Mills, who is also a CSSCA alumnus. "Students have already participated in one set of negotiations between CSU and the Physicians, and were well received. The CSSA hopes for similar success in future negotiations."

Student representatives will be able to comment upon contract proposals submitted by labor and management during negotiations, and express concern for the students interests in jeopardy.

The CSSA is seeking students who are interested in collective bargaining and knowledgeable of student issues. Direction on policy will be given by the Association's collective bargaining committee, which will help representatives analyze contract proposals.

Although HEERA has been in effect since 1979, voting for exclusive representation did not occur until early 1982," Paul Knepprath, the CSSA collective bargaining chair, said. "The CSSA lobbied to ensure that HEERA included language guaranteeing student rights in the collective bargaining process. It is very exciting for students to finally be able to exercise their rights with respect to collective bargaining."

The student government at each of the University's nineteen campuses will choose one student nominee for collective bargaining representative. The actual reprentatives will be selected from among these nineteen by an ad hoc selection committee. Only four student representatives will be selected during the upcoming selection process.

The positions will be unpaid, but the students will receive special training and travel expenses for attending negotiation sessions.

Students wishing more information on CSU collective bargaining or an application can contact Elise Traynum, A.S. President and collective bargaining committee member, in the A.S. office or by calling her at 887-7494. The application deadline is November 5, 1982.

Student Aid Down

Costs at both independent and public California colleges and universities have climbed beyond the reach of State student aid programs.

This fall, for the first time in 26 years, the California Student Aid Commission will be unable to pay full fees for its neediest Cal Grant recipients at either the University of California or the California State University systems, according to Arthur S. Marmaduke, Commission Director.

However, because of the substantial increase in UC and CSU fees, the State Legislature gave the Student Aid Commission an additional $1.4 million to assist students at these two institutions.

The Student Aid Commission's budget for Cal Grants, with the $1.4 million added for UC and CSU students, is $84,536,000 for 1981-82 as opposed to $85,157,000 for 1981-82. With federal funding of State student grants holding steady this year at $11 million, the overall budget reduction for the agency is four percent.

The Student Aid Commission annually awards 62,462 Cal Grants (new and renewal) for student financial assistance. Students must attend a college or university within the state. Last year 105,337 students applied for these grants.

The Commission directs the State's financial assistance programs for college and postsecondary vocational school students. These programs include Cal Grants, State Graduate Fellowships, Bilingual Teacher Grants, and the California Guaranteed Student Loan Program.
Does the Draft Waste Money?

The Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors (CCCO), the nation's largest draft counseling agency, charged Selective Service with wasting taxpayer's money by planning to mail a quarter of a million letters to suspected non-registrants in an effort to enforce a non-enforceable registration.

"The federal courts handle about 30,000 cases a year at this time," stated Jim Feldman, attorney at CCCO. "So far, only eight of these cases have involved non-registrants. There is no way the courts can handle hundreds of thousands of new cases."

The names of these suspected draft resisters are obtained by matching Selective Service registration lists with Social Security Administration files. IRS then mails the letters. The first mailing has been sent to 33,000 men. Roscoe L. Egger, Jr., Commissioner of IRS, has said IRS only plans to turn over 200 addresses to Selective Service out of those who don't respond to the warning letter because it seems unlikely the Justice Department would prosecute more than that number.

"People who receive these letters, or have questions concerning non-registration clearly need more information which CCCO can give them," attorney Feldman said. CCCO has started a list of people interested in non-registration issues, to which the organization sends out regular bulletins on developments in the area of non-registration. According to the General Accounting Office, over 700,000 men haven't registered.

At this time the federal government has only indicted eight people for refusal to register. The government is currently only charging non-registrants who have turned themselves in, as the eight above. Warning letters from the Justice Department have been sent to some non-registrants turned in to the government by private individuals.

In addition to sending out periodic information on non-registrants, CCCO counsels individuals concerning their specific problems, and helps non-registrants find lawyers. CCCO also helps people in the military who are looking for discharges and does pre-enlistment counseling, telling people considering the military the other side of the story from that which is given in the recruitment ads.

For further information, please write to Carol McNeill, c/o CCCO, 2208 South St., Philadelphia, PA., 19146, or call her at (215) 345-4626.

The Facts on Proposition 15

Proposition 15 campaign leaders charged that out-of-state munitions makers are trying to protect their profits with massive contributions to oppose the California handgun initiative on November's ballot.

According to the opposition campaign's own figures, a total of $265,500 had been pumped into the effort to defeat Proposition 15 by a dozen gun and ammunition manufacturers. All but one are located outside California.

Apparently, the industry funneled more than half a million dollars into California in less than a month. On July 22, when Citizens Against the Gun Initiative reported to the Secretary of State a total of $666,000 in contributions, only $64,000 was identified as munitions money.

The latest figures are contained in a CAGI ad in the September issue of American Rifleman magazine, a publication of the National Rifle Association.

At news conferences in Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco, and Sacramento, Yes on 15 leaders accused the gun makers of cynically trying to buy the November election. "The people who profit from an unrestricted trade in handguns have an obvious economic interest in the election's outcome," stated State Chairman Victor H. Palmieri.

"They have little concern for the safety and well-being of Californians. What matters to them is profit."

Palmieri called attention to a recent statement by James L. Oberg, president of Smith & Wesson, which makes one out of every five handguns sold in this country.

"This is a clear indication of how the people who profit from an unrestricted trade in handguns have an obvious economic interest in the election's outcome," said State Chairman Victor H. Palmieri.

"They have little concern for the safety and well-being of Californians. What matters to them is profit."

"The people who profit from an unrestricted trade in handguns have an obvious economic interest in the election's outcome," said State Chairman Victor H. Palmieri.

Proposition 15 campaign leaders charged that out-of-state munitions makers are trying to protect their profits with massive contributions to oppose the California handgun initiative on November's ballot.

According to the opposition campaign's own figures, a total of $265,500 had been pumped into the effort to defeat Proposition 15 by a dozen gun and ammunition manufacturers. All but one are located outside California.

Apparently, the industry funneled more than half a million dollars into California in less than a month. On July 22, when Citizens Against the Gun Initiative reported to the Secretary of State a total of $666,000 in contributions, only $64,000 was identified as munitions money.

The latest figures are contained in a CAGI ad in the September issue of American Rifleman magazine, a publication of the National Rifle Association.

At news conferences in Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco, and Sacramento, Yes on 15 leaders accused the gun makers of cynically trying to buy the November election. "The people who profit from an unrestricted trade in handguns have an obvious economic interest in the election's outcome," stated State Chairman Victor H. Palmieri.

"They have little concern for the safety and well-being of Californians. What matters to them is profit."

Palmieri called attention to a recent statement by James L. Oberg, president of Smith & Wesson, which makes one out of every five handguns sold in this country.

"This is a clear indication of how the people who profit from an unrestricted trade in handguns have an obvious economic interest in the election's outcome," said State Chairman Victor H. Palmieri.

"They have little concern for the safety and well-being of Californians. What matters to them is profit."

THE FACTS on Proposition 15

It will:

—Strengthen existing laws regarding the registration of handguns.
—Require registration of all handguns with the Attorney General by November 2, 1983.
—Make registration information confidential.
—Enable law enforcement officers to track down the owner of a handgun used in a crime.
—Provide that after April 30, 1983, only registered handgun will be eligible for resale, and thereby limits the number to those in circulation on that date.
—Prohibit importation of handguns, except by law enforcement personnel and other exempted categories, after November 2, 1982.
—Impose a mandatory prison sentence of one year for engaging in the sale of blackmarket handguns.
—Establish civil liability for anyone who knowingly violates the registration requirement in transferring a handgun that is then used for wrongfully or negligently kill or injure someone else.
—Prohibit the Legislature from placing additional restrictions on the ownership of rifles and shotguns.
—Prohibit the Legislature from banning ownership of handguns without a prior vote of the people.

It won't:

—Take handguns away from law-abiding citizens.
—Prohibit a person who does not own a handgun from buying one at any time.
—Require registration of rifles and shotguns or affect the possession of them in any way.
—Prevent an organization with a legitimate need for handguns from acquiring all the new ones they need (law enforcement personnel, security guards, target ranges, and so forth).
—Prevent a law-abiding citizen with a used handgun from exchanging it at any time.
—Restrict the number of handguns a person may possess legally.
—Require the registration of antique pistols, curios, or relics.
—Cost the taxpayers anything, since a one-time registration fee of under $10 will cover all administrative expenses.
Knott's "Scary" Farm

For eleven months out of the year witches, ghouls and goblins remain hidden in the recesses and dark corners of Ghost Town, but once every year they emerge in the thousands to stalk the streets during the "World's Largest Halloween Party" at Knott's Scary Farm. And during this year's event the monsters and beasts will be at their frightful best with Elvira, the TV personality who sets the airwaves on fire, who will be Knott's Halloween headliner. In addition Knott's is building two new haunted mazes in Ghost Town, bizarre side show acts will be staged throughout the park and the rides will be rethemed into dark and scary experiences at Knott's 10th Annual Halloween Haunt on Friday and Saturday, October 22-23 and Friday through Sunday, October 29-31, from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. nightly.

KJH-TV's "Mistress of the Dark," Elvira will star in nighttime performances of Knott's "Ghoul Review" in the 2100-seat Good Time Theatre. The sultry hostess of Movie Macabre will appear in her own show highlighted by a gruesome collection of ghosts, assorted ghouls plus songs and dances. All "guests" at Knott's Haunt will also have the opportunity to experience new haunted mazes. Both "The Terrifying Trail of Jack the Ripper" and "The Mysterious Corridors" will have shocking effects, ghoulish sounds and assorted special effects.

Additional Halloween entertainment will be provided by a large number of the weirdest side show acts ever witnessed, while ghoulish rock bands play continuous music throughout the night. Countless mummies, werewolves, vampires and other things that go bump in the night will also roam the park and many of the rides will be rethemed with ghoulish surprises for the Halloween season.

Tickets for this event that traditionally sells out every year, are now available for the discounted $11 advance sale price. They will also be on sale at $12.50 on the day of the Haunt. Price includes admission, all Halloween entertainment and unlimited use of Knott's 135 rides, shows and attractions. Tickets are now on sale at all Ticketeron outlets and Knott's Exchange Window.

Knott's "Scary" Farm is located at 8039 Beach Blvd., Buena Park. For additional park information call (714) 952-9400.

Annual Professor Awards

All students are cordially invited to participate in the nomination of full-time faculty members for the 82-83 Outstanding Professor Awards. In making nominations, major attention should be given to teaching excellence. In addition, the Outstanding Professor Selection Committee will consider significant achievements in creative production and service to the campus and community.

If you want to see a faculty member nominated for the award, you may obtain the official petition form at any department office, at the student union Information Desk, at the Library Circulation Desk, at the Associated Students Board of Directors, Office, or at the Alumni Office.

The deadline for submission of completed nomination forms is 4:30 p.m., November 1, 1982.

United Way Campaign

A team of volunteers will be contacting employees throughout the month of October to solicit their contributions to this year's Arrowhead United Way Campaign. "Let's Take Care Of One Another" is this year's theme. The campus goal is two-fold: first, to raise the average contribution from $66 per year to $72; second, to increase the number of contributors from 134 (24 percent) to 190 (33 percent). If these two goals are met, Cal State, San Bernardino will be contributing $13,320 to the campaign effort. The AUW supports 50 area human service organizations, which sponsor more than 120 programs in the community.

Richard Bennecke (Dean of Students Office) is coordinating the campus effort.

Resume Workshop

Placement Center, SS 116, and participants will be encouraged to bring rough drafts of resumes to the workshop. The program is sponsored by the Career Planning and Placement Center.

The first in a series of monthly resume writing workshops will be held from 2 to 3:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 21, in SS 171. All aspects of resume writing and reproduction will be covered. Information packets will be available in advance in the Student Union Information Desk.
Who am I ??

this week's mystery resident

Hair: Blonde
Eyes: Blue
Height: 57
Favorite Sport: Football

Vending Vandal

by Julie Agnew

On October 10th, persons unknown vandalized the refreshment vending machine in Mojave Dorm. The machine was pushed forward, causing the springs to fall and food to drop out. The crime took place between 1:30 and 2:00 Sunday morning.

Vending Vandalism

by Philip Buford

This kind of reckless behavior jeopardizes the entire Village. We all live here together and should take pride in Serrano Village. After all, this is our home.

Serrano Village Council and the Housing Office will be sponsoring the first Village Entertainer on Sunday, November 7 from 7-8 p.m. in the Lower Commons. This is a program created to showcase resident talent in a coffee house atmosphere. The event is scheduled to appear once a month and will be hosted by a different dorm each time. The first hosts will be Mojave residents. They are looking forward to an entertaining evening for all.

Dynasty Night

Will Blake Carrington be rescued from the mountain? What will Alexis do now that Cecil is dead? And who kidnapped Jeff and Fallon’s newborn child? Find out these answers and many more on “Dynasty Night”, a

Apple Sale

Serrano Village Council will be sponsoring a candy and caramel apple sale in front of the library on Wednesday, October 20 between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Price to be announced. Everyone is encouraged to stop by!

Village Entertainer

The following is purely fictional. No actual persons, living or dead, should be inferred.

College Students: Young men and women embarking on a new beginning; learning, meeting new people and experiencing those things that prepare them for life. This is their story...

Anne Wheeler arrived on the campus of Fibber University young, independent and very ambitious. All her life she had dreamed of becoming a writer. This was where she intended to fulfill that dream.

Her first stop was at the school newspaper “The Fibber Weekly”, where she applied for a job as a reporter. There, Anne met Nick Rossi, the head of the English department and advisor to the newspaper. Nick was a handsome, outspoken man with a very low opinion of women. When Anne walked into his office with a kind of cocky confidence, he was instantly turned off. Despite reservations, he hired her to do small errands. Anne was glad to get the job and planned to move up soon.

As a college student, Anne and Nick began a relationship. With Matt and Millissa dating and headed for the altar, Nick was cast as a rival. Anne was content to focus on her writing, but Nick was not. Being jealous, he hired her to write for the newspaper. The first hosts will be Mojave residents. They are looking forward to an entertaining evening for all.

The Finest Sunset

by Jeff Fitchett

A sunset is the joy of life:
Golden streaks of light that peek
Over mountain tops,
Bright colors dancing on the horizon,
The steppin’ stone of a “Great” evening.

Always they are with us;
Falling under the edge of darkness.
Each one being unanswerable.
As love in the springtime,
Fall of beauty unequaled by any Human effort.

As the sun sinks ever slowly, I think
Tendly of the past.
Of my life and loves, the good times
There have been.

A fleeting glimpse of you comes before me.
Time stands still as the memory lives on.
Mixed emotions come about; pain first.
Then optimism.

For though I stand alone now,
This moment will one day be shared.
And when it comes to pass,
Our love shall become one with the sunset.

Poem

by Bruce Allen Jostick

Does being a man make me
Any less of a human being that
I could or should not cry?

I guess I have actually always
Been waiting for this moment
Of losing you? but I was just Hoping it wouldn’t come.

Like a child I stand here-
Clothed yet naked, crying yet
Shouting no tears…like a man.

Still I need the touch of your
Stand but all I feel is the wind
Which is only a whisper of what I need.

And as I gaze, feeling nothing
But air, hearing nothing but
Wind, a lonely tear falls.

See if you can guess who
this week’s mystery resident is from the facts given:

Height: 57
Eyes: Blue
Hair: Blonde
Favorite Sport: Football

Sex: Female
Favorite food: Candy
Major: Oral Communication
Hobbies: Guitar, hiking, backpacking
Pet peeves: Spitting and burping
Description: Hyperactive
Dorm: Mojave

Inventory

The Housing Office has increased its supply of equipment for resident use. The sports inventory includes tennis and baseball equipment, volleyballs, soccer balls, base balls, and foot balls plus much more.

Pomp and Circumstance

by Philip Buford

There is also an extensive supply of cooking materials and games. An inventory list will be posted in the dorms. Remember, to check out equipment you need to bring your student I.D. to the Housing Office.

The Housing Office has increased its supply of football plus much more.

Inventory

The Housing Office has increased its supply of football plus much more.

The Housing Office has increased its supply of cooking materials and games. An inventory list will be posted in the dorms. Remember, to check out equipment you need to bring your student I.D. to the Housing Office.

Pomp and Circumstance

by Philip Buford

There is also an extensive supply of cooking materials and games. An inventory list will be posted in the dorms. Remember, to check out equipment you need to bring your student I.D. to the Housing Office.

The Housing Office has increased its supply of football plus much more.

Inventory

The Housing Office has increased its supply of cooking materials and games. An inventory list will be posted in the dorms. Remember, to check out equipment you need to bring your student I.D. to the Housing Office.

Pomp and Circumstance

by Philip Buford

There is also an extensive supply of cooking materials and games. An inventory list will be posted in the dorms. Remember, to check out equipment you need to bring your student I.D. to the Housing Office.

The Housing Office has increased its supply of football plus much more.

Inventory

The Housing Office has increased its supply of cooking materials and games. An inventory list will be posted in the dorms. Remember, to check out equipment you need to bring your student I.D. to the Housing Office.
It has ever been, the reduction is more than $800.00 per year, $400.00 per semester. Thus, the costs are often much less than those of a semester in an American university.

Applications for spring and fall 1983 are now being received by the Academic Year Abroad, 17 Jansen Road, New Paltz, NY 12561. Students wishing a brochure and application should send two 20c stamps to the above address.

SAIL Announcement

Don't be surprised if you get a call from Student Assistance in Learning (SAIL) this term. Faculty will be referring names of students to the SAIL office in an effort to help students with various services the college provides—everything from tutoring to advising. You don't have to wait to be referred to SAIL if you are concerned with your academic progress—stop by, give us a call. The telephone number is 887-7673. The office is housed behind the Student Services building (the building where Admissions and Records is located).

Nobody plans an accident or illness, but you can plan for protection against them by enrolling in your student health policy.

Don't Delay
Enroll Today

application available at the Student Health Center

Underwritten by Illinois Interstate Insurance, Inc.
Escape to the Races

The Escape program has planned a trip to the Santa Anita horse races Sunday, Oct. 24. Registration should be made by Friday, Oct. 22 at the Student Union desk. The $7.50 fee includes admission and transportation. Registration is limited to 40 people.

Jazzercise

Because of the overwhelming interest in the Jazzercise class held Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, a second session is being added. The first class will be from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. and the second from 4:45 to 5:45 p.m. Elise Traynum, AS President has requested students and others who can come early to take the first session. Additional signups will be accepted at the classes next Tuesday. The program, sponsored by the Associated Students, drew more than 60 exercisers. Anna Hernandez, a certified Jazzercise teacher, will lead both classes.

John Merrill
will sing and play guitar
In the Pub
9:00-11:00 p.m.
Wednesday, October 20

Daryl King
will sing and play guitar
In the Pub
9:00-11:00 p.m.
Wednesday, October 27

Marketing Club

Starting this year the Marketing Club is exciting and going places. The club's roster boasts knowledgeable speakers, social activities, and fund raisers. Most importantly, the Marketing Club is becoming a collegiate chapter of the American Marketing Association, a club for professional men and women in marketing. This is an excellent opportunity for business and non-business students to become involved with members of their chosen profession. Please come and help us make the Marketing Club an active, vital force on campus. Meetings are held on Thursdays at noon in Room A in the Student Union.

Halloween Festivities

"Carrie" - 8:00

"Invasion of the Body Snatchers" - 10:00

There will be many different types of booths and things to do.

7:30 - 1:00
Friday, October 29, 1982
In the Student Union
Host Families Sought

Youth Exchange Service (YES), a non-profit educational organization is inviting families in all 50 states of the Union, to open their homes and hearts to an international high school student from Europe, Japan, South and Central America, or Mexico. Host family applications are being accepted at this time for high school students 15 to 18 years old scheduled to arrive in January 1983 for the second semester.

The students are carefully selected, have excellent medical insurance and bring their own spending money. Host families responsibilities are to provide a bed and meals and to accept the student as a member of the family.

The YES program fosters goodwill and friendship between Americans and peoples of other nations through enriching experience of intercultural exchange.

For more information about hosting an international exchange student, please contact: Youth Exchange Service, F.O. Box 4020, San Clemente, California 92672, or phone (714) 492-7907.

Divorce Course Offered

Professionals from various community services will speak during a six-meeting program on "Marital Separation and Divorce" beginning November 2 at Cal State, San Bernardino.

Lead by Julie VanPutten, acting coordinator of family health education for the San Bernardino County Department of Public Health, this program will meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Tuesdays, Nov. 2 through Dec. 7. It is offered through the Cal State extension program.

The purpose of the class is to acquaint participants with the process of marital separation and divorce and the emotional impact of divorce and separation.

Later, Dr. Mary Molin, associate professor at Loma Linda University Graduate School, will discuss ways to help children cope. Dr. Ken Austin, family law specialist and clinical psychologist, will focus on avoiding legal and financial hassles.

Registration for this course, which is approved for two units of credit applicable toward nursing relicensure, should be made by Oct. 26 by calling the Office of Continuing Education at Cal State, 887-7527. The fee is $68.

Legislative Internship Program

Interested in Spending the Spring Semester Working for the Legislature in Sacramento?

Professor Jean Torcom, CSU, Sacramento, announced today that the Sacramento Semester Internship Program is now accepting applications for Spring 1983, from students enrolled at all 19 state university campuses.

The program is open to upper division students with grade point averages of 3.0 or higher, good writing skills, and a strong interest in politics.

Since the program began seven years ago, interns have been placed in offices representing nearly every aspect of state government. Many program alumni, who now number over 300, are now working in Sacramento as lobbyists, consultants, of legislative staffers.

Interested students should contact their home campus Political Science Department. Each campus has a member of the Political Science faculty serving as the local representative to the program. Information can also be obtained directly from Professor Torcom through the CSU, Sacramento Department of Government, 6000 Jay Street, Sacramento, California 95819. The application deadline is Monday, November 29, 1982.

For further information contact Jean Torcom: (916) 454-6937 or 454-6925.

Environmental Jobs

Need a Job? Want to help the environment?

If you answered yes to both questions you should contact the California Waste Management Board at (800) 952-5545. The board is seeking people to promote the 3rd Annual Great California Resource Rally, slated for April 18-24, 1983.

The board is looking for individuals with experience in community organizing and media relations. The rally is a statewide campaign designed to encourage participation in recycling, waste reduction, and litter control activities.

Deadline for filing applications is 5:00 p.m., Friday, November 12, 1982. For more information or an application form, call the board's toll-free number at (800) 952-5545.
PANCHO VILLA

Restaurant & Cantina

666 N. Kendall Drive    San Bernardino