In Memoriam
Dr. Alfred S. Egge
1933-1982

by Sandra Frey

A cloud of sadness lingers throughout Cal State, San Bernardino following the death of Dr. Alfred Egge. On October 17, 1982, he was taken from the life and people he so loved, ironically by a disease he had studied so thoroughly.

Dr. Egge had no better knowledge of when life would end than any of us have, but he knew instinctively what most people take a lifetime to learn: Live life to the fullest. His life could not have been any fuller. His fascination with medical science led him through a Masters in Zoology, a Doctorate in Zoology and Biochemistry, and physiology research at the highly acclaimed UC San Francisco Medical Center. In 1966, he made his home here at CSCSB in a teaching position that brought him a challenge and satisfaction. He taught most recently in the areas of Biology, Nursing, and Neuro-physiology.

Recognized as an outstanding professional by colleagues, students, and in "Who’s Who," he was a leader not only in the Biology Department but in campus and community affairs. He wrote articles on topics in his field for professional journals and belonged to several national science societies.

But a list of accomplishments, however long, does not make a man. Those who spoke about Dr. Egge—despite their grief tell of his unfaltering dedication and concern for those around him, his happiness, and his continual lesson in living.

When two inoperable tumors were found in his brain and he was given a month to live, his concern for others did not end. As consistent in dying as he was in living, Dr. Egge thought foremost of his responsibility to his family and students. Although he held on in hope for improvement by undergoing experimental treatment at the Anderson Cancer Clinic in Houston, he refused artificial life support so as not to burden his family. When death was undeniably close, he urged his family to "stop fighting it."

In lieu of flowers, the Biology Department will be accepting donations to a perpetual "Al Egge Memorial Fund." He wished to establish this fund for his grandchildren in their pursuit of what he considered most valuable—education.

Thank you Dr. Al Egge, for all you have taught us.

Memorial Fund Established

A memorial fund has been established to accept contributions for the education of the children and heirs of Dr. Alfred S. Egge, professor of Biology, who died Sunday, Oct. 17, at the age of 49. Colleagues and friends wishing to contribute may make checks payable to his widow, Jan Egge, or to the Al Egge Memorial Fund. Contributions may be sent to Mrs. Egge at the family home, 14808 Choco Road, Apple Valley, 92307, or may be taken to the President's Office, AD 100.

Memorial services for Dr. Egge were held Friday, Oct. 22, at 2 p.m. today in the Church of the Valley in Apple Valley. In addition to his widow, Dr. Egge is survived by three children and five grandchildren. His son, Eric, lives in Visalia, and older daughter, Dana, in Wyoming. His youngest daughter, Erin, who graduated from high school last spring, lives at home.

Dr. Egge’s Memory Lives On by Celeste Mabra

My first contact with Dr. Egge was as his student. He was instructing Endocrinology and Animal Physiology. Little did I know what I was in for. The material in both courses was difficult, but Dr. Egge was an excellent teacher and a trusting friend. I am pleased to have had a chance to know him.

Anyone who had the pleasure of being in Dr. Egge’s company would have seen the various aspects of his personality that made him so popular. Dr. Egge the Biology Professor was knowledgeable in his subject matter and a reasonable teacher; Al Egge the friend loved to be with people, telling jokes and conversing with them; and Al Egge the Christian, was a humble man and knew that his life was in God’s hands. He accomplished more in his lifetime than most people do because Al Egge made every day of his life count.

It is very difficult to accept the fact that we lost such a man. Cal State, San Bernardino now has a void that cannot be filled. While his former students are saddened by his passing, Dr. Egge should serve as an inspiration to all of us. Everything he did was done with a positive attitude.

The death of Dr. Egge points out how important it is to tell people while they are alive how much they are loved and appreciated. I have always wanted to extend personal thanks to all of the faculty and staff of the Biology Department. I thank you all for helping me to find my hidden potential. Never again will I encounter such an excellent group of people who are dedicated to helping students. You all have made Cal State, San Bernardino a haven for me. I love you all and may God bless you forever.
Yes on Props. 11 & 13

by Bernard Zaleha

On the November 2 ballot will be two propositions which, if passed, will improve the quality of life in California. Proposition 11 would require a returnable deposit on all beer and soft drink containers. This container system is currently in practice in Oregon, Michigan, Iowa, Maine, Connecticut and Vermont. It has recently been enacted in New York, Delaware and Massachusetts. The states which have deposit laws have experienced an 85% or greater reduction in litter. For example, a few states tax dollars which previously went to litter clean-up, an increase in jobs, and a considerable savings in energy and natural resources. Proposition 11 would require a returnable deposit on all beer and soft drink containers.

Proposition 13 would mandate the California’s water resources be used more efficiently and wisely and would provide the economic incentives for currently available water conservation techniques to be implemented. Eighty-five percent of California’s developed water resources are used in agriculture. Fifty to 90% of this water could be saved depending on the type of agriculture. Fifty to 90% of this water could be saved depending on the type of agriculture. Agribusiness, however, prefers to apply political pressure for development of expensive water projects at public expense rather than conserving the water they have by investing in water conservation. The same powerful corporations which tried unsuccessfully to have the peripheral canal built at the expense of the California taxpayer are trying to defeat Proposition 13. They wish to continue wasting public water and continue business as usual. Proposition 13 sets up a much needed framework to provide for our future water needs while safeguarding the quality of our environment.

The Environmental Action Council here at CSCSB urges you not to be swayed by the distortions of the opponents of Props. 11 & 13. Vote yes on propositions 11 & 13.
NOW THAT THE MORTGAGE RATES HAVE COME DOWN, HE SAYS HE CAN AFFORD TO BUY A HOME!

Pomp and Circumstance

by Philip Buford

John Colby, Dean of Fibber U., stood in front of the school's library watching as workmen remove his son's maserati from the front wall. It was a miracle that Jeff, his son, had escaped unharmed. John went to his office where Jeff and his wife, Julia, waited. John loved Jeff and tried to be patient but this was the limit. He told Jeff that he was cutting off his sizable weekly allowance until he could show some improvement in his behavior. Jeff decided to tow the line for now.

Anne's first day at "The Fibber Weekly" was totally eventless. Nick introduced her to Biff Lang, the papers editor, then sent her for coffee. When she returned, he had sharpened 12 pencils and made a few photo copies. It was frustrating but Anne was not about to give in.

Meanwhile, with both of her roommates gone for the day, Millissa invited Matt over for an afternoon tête-à-tête. Matt and Millissa were truly in love. Nothing seemed to matter except the love they shared. Matt took Millissa's hand and softly asked her to marry him. Before Millissa could answer there was a knock at the door. Millissa answered it and was shocked to find her father, Baxter Moore, standing before her. Baxter, a staunchy, white-haired man was appalled when he realized his daughter was entertaining a man in her room.

Back at The Fibber Weekly, Anne made a rather curious discovery. While looking for an eraser in Biff Lang's desk drawer, she found a half eaten whale blubber sandwich. Anne asked Biff about it and he quickly told her it was part of a new diet he was on.

Biff however, was covering up a secret. That night he went to a meeting under the bleachers on the football field. It was a meeting of the E.S.S. (the Eskimo Super­macy Society) Biff's real name was Nanuk Takl and was the leader of E.S.S. They wanted to purify Fibber University, and to start they planned on blowing up the library.

The event was planned by Debbie Weissel, R.A. of Waterman, and Susan Flores, an Arrowhead resident Joe Long, CSCSB's Intramural Director, donated an Intramural t-shirt to present to Mr. Simmons. The evening was charged with energy. Actor-singer Frankie Avalon and Actress Denise Pence (who plays Katie Parker on the popular daytime soap The Guiding Light) were the guest stars.

The two shows taped will be aired on Nov. 16th and 23rd at 3:00 p.m. Residents are hoping to video tape the shows for future viewing.

Chamber Music Tonight

Nine student music ensembles at Cal State. San Bernardino will be on stage during the annual Prism Concert at 8:15 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 24, at the college.

The stage in the Recital Hall will resemble a prism, with lights illuminating each group individually during its performance, then fading to quickly spotlight the next ensemble.

A spectrum of music is planned, ranging from the Jazz Ensemble's production to 16th century chamber music sung by the Chamber Singers. The Chamber Players will present Brandenburg Concerto No. 4 by J.S. Bach; the Concert Choir will sing "And the Glory of the Lord" from Handel's Messiah; and the Wind Ensemble will perform "Incantation and Dance" by John Barnes Chance.

Other groups on stage will be a saxophone quartet, two brass quintets and a windwood quintet.

Dr. Loren Filbeck, professor of music and chair of department, will direct the Chamber Singers and Concert Choir; Dr. Richard Saylor, professor of music, the Chamber Players; Keating Johnson, assistant professor of music, the chamber ensembles; and Roger E. Rickson, instructor of music at Cal State and Riverside City College, the Jazz Ensemble.

Admission to the concert is $3 general, $1.50 students, payable at the door.

Musical Offering

Musical Offering, a chamber ensemble specializing in baroque and classical masterpieces, will perform Wednesday, Oct. 27, at Cal State, San Bernardino.

Part of the Music at Cal State series, the ensemble will begin its concert at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

Soprano Maurita Thornsburgh will join the ensemble of five arias by Bach and six songs by Henry Purcell.

Musical Offering, named after one of Bach's final compositions, includes Kathleen Lenski, violin; Allan Vogel, oboe; Frederick Seykora, cello; Owen Burdick, harpsichord; and Kenneth Munday, bassoon.

The musicians are artists-in-residence at the California Institute of the Arts. They have toured as soloists in recital and with orchestras nationwide. Vogel and Munday are principal musicians with the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra.

Tickets are $5 general, $2.50 students, and will be available at the door. Information on season tickets can be obtained by calling the Music Department, 887-7454.

Halloween by Jeff Ritchett

The sun sets oh so quickly,
On this night once a year,
When evil stalks on every street,
And security turns to fear.

Darkness is the essence,
As they came both large and small,
To claim these sweetened payments,
From mortals one and all.

A girl is sitting alone this night,
In a house of isolation,
Feeling safe with doors latched tight,
Free from his sole visitation.

The wind stands still for a moment,
The moon is shadowed low,
The beast comes upon her in quick descent,
Wielding his frightful blow.

Murder fills the house,
As another victim falls prey,
To the spirits already around,
On a crimson October day.

Life will be here at haybreak,
As Halloween ends with the light,
They leave behind in these gruesome books,
The toll of Halloween night.
NSF Fellowships

The National Research Council will again advise the National Science Foundation on the selection of candidates for the Foundation’s program of Minority Graduate Fellowships. Panels of eminent scientists and engineers appointed by the National Research Council will evaluate qualifications of applicants. Final selection of Fellows will be made by the Foundation, with awards to be announced in March 1983.

The NSF Minority Graduate Fellowship Program is open only to persons who are citizens or nationals of the United States at the time of application, and who are members of an ethnic minority group underrepresented in the advanced levels of the Nation’s science talent pool—American Indian, Native Alaskan (Eskimo or Aleut), Black, Mexican American/Chicano, Puerto Rican, or Native Pacific Islander (Polynesian or Micronesian).

Eligibility is limited to those individuals who, at the time of application, have not completed more than 20 semester hours/30 quarter hours, or equivalent, of study in any of the science and engineering fields listed below following completion of their first baccalaureate degree in science or engineering. Subject to the availability of funds, new fellowships awarded in the Spring of 1983 will be for periods of three years, the second and third years contingent on certification to the Foundation by the Fellowship institution of the student’s satisfactory progress toward an advanced degree in science or engineering.

These fellowships will be awarded for study or work leading to master’s or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science. Awards will not be made in clinical law, education, or business fields, or in history or social work, for work leading to medical, dental, or public health degrees, or for study in joint science-professional degree programs. Applicants will be judged on the basis of ability. The annual stipend for Minority Graduate Fellows will be $6,500 for a twelve-month tenured with no dependency allowances.

Applicants will be required to take the Graduate Record Examinations designed to test aptitude and scientific achievement. The examinations, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on December 11, 1982 at designated centers throughout the United States and in certain foreign countries.

The deadline date for the submission of applications for NSF Minority Graduate Fellowships is November 24, 1982. Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20418.

Law Conference

The 13th Annual Pacific Pre-Law Conference is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 10, 1982, in the James E. West Center at UCLA. Representatives from over 50 law schools throughout the country will speak with and interview promising law students from any Southern California college or university. Admission is free.

This event is being sponsored by the UCLA Placement and Career Planning Center and the UCLA Alumni Association.

Escape to See Tapings

Registration for the Escape program trip to see a taping session for television shows "Give Me a Break" and "One Day at a Time" is being taken at the Student Union desk through Nov. 18. The free event will be Friday, Nov. 19, in Burbank.

Family Performance

The Firebird Theatre Company, an acting troupe from Los Angeles, will present "The Fisherman and His Wife" by the Grimm Brothers at 7:15 p.m., Friday, Oct. 29, in the Recital Hall. For the first event in the Family Performance Series, the company will enact the well-known tale in a style based on the Japanese Kabuki Theatre, using masks and make-up.

Participation on the part of the audience is an important feature in the series, which includes eight programs especially for children. During the Firebird program, children will be invited to join in warm-up exercises with the actors, act, and piece together a new ending.

Tickets will be available at the door at $1 for children age 12 and under, $2 for adults. Season tickets can be obtained by calling the Service to Students with Disabilities Office, Ext. 7662. They are $35 for a family of up to five members. JoAnn Hartzog is coordinating the series.

Brown to Address CSCSB

On Thursday, Oct. 28, Congressman George E. Brown, Jr., representative from the 36th Congressional district, will speak on "The Environmental and Reagionomics" in the Student Union Multipurpose Room at 12 noon. Congressman Brown has a distinguished record of working on behalf of environmental issues throughout his career as an elected official, first as a city councilman in Monterey Park, then as a state assemblyman, and then in the U.S. House of Representatives for the last 18 years.

The Congressman’s talk will cover a wide range of environmental issues, including the ultimate environmental issue, the nuclear arms race. The Environmental Action Council and the Associated Students are co-sponsoring the Congressman’s appearance.

Enrollment Tops 5,000

For the first time in the 17-year history of the college, official census date figures show more than 5,000 students enrolled. The 5,071 students now enrolled, 101 more than last fall, is an approximate two percent increase. The 5,000 mark was topped at registration last fall, but dropped to 4,970 by the time the official count was taken.

The full-time equivalent figure this year is 3,797.4, compared with last year’s FTE of 3,654.5, a four percent increase.

Instead of hibernating in front of the T.V. this winter and emerging in the Spring overweight and flabby—stay fit! Be active! Join us for a six-session course on developing a personalized exercise program you can live with.
