$12,388 GRANT AWARDED FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF DESERT STUDIES CENTER

A $12,388 grant has been awarded to the College to establish a Desert Studies Center for the California State University and Colleges, President John M. Pfau announced.

Dalton Harrington, Chairman and Associate Professor of Biology, in coordination with others on campus, worked with various agencies in securing the grant. He will serve as project director. A consortium of seven CSUC campuses in Southern California will operate the Center.

Located in the Mojave Desert at Soda Springs, about 13 miles southwest of Baker, the center is the site of a former health farm. Existing buildings, some 35 years old, will be utilized during field trips to provide overnight lodging, once they have been made suitable for occupancy. Funds from the grant will be used to develop the programs planned for the center and prepare the facilities for use.

The 40-acre site boasts a natural spring and pond, which is inhabited by the rare Mojave Chub Fish. The pond is the last remaining location where the fish can be found in their native habitat. Another endangered species in the pond is the fabled desert Pup Fish.

The Chancellor's Division of New Program Development and Evaluation awarded the grant and the U.S. Bureau of Land Management gave approval for the College to enter into negotiation for use of the site, which reverted to public land in 1974.

A number of different kinds of study programs are anticipated for the desert field station's use, including biology, anthropology, geology, engineering, geography, and archeology.

It is hoped that the center will be readied in time to accommodate its first field trip participants by September, 1976.

FACULTY WIVES TO AWARD
1975-76 SCHOLARSHIP IN HONOR OF MARY ALYCE SMITH

The Cal State Faculty Wives Club will honor the memory of Mary Alyce Smith, former member who died January 17, 1976, by awarding the Cal State Faculty Wives Scholarship of 1975-76 in her name.

The organization raised an estimated $600 in the 1975-76 holiday scholarship drive, which will be added to the existing $2,000 self-perpetuating fund this year, resulting in increasing the current annual $200 scholarship to a $300 scholarship which will be granted to a CSCSB student in Spring, 1976 and subsequent years. This marks the first time that the scholarship has been awarded in memoriam.

Mrs. Smith came to San Bernardino in 1965 with her husband, Robert A. Smith, one of the original members of the History Department. She was a founding member of the Faculty Wives organization and was active in the programs and projects of that group, including the annual scholarship fund. Among her community activities were service as a member of the Board of Directors of the YWCA, volunteer work at the Community Hospital and a worker for the Arrowhead United Fund. In addition to her community and College activities she worked for the past five years as executive secretary for Huntley Properties.

In recognition of her contributions to the College and community and in memory of her friendship and devotion to all who knew her, the Faculty Wives will dedicate the 1975-76 scholarship to the memory of Mary Alyce Smith.
