Local Blood Bank Urgently Needs Type "O" Blood Donors

Donors of type "O" blood are needed. Blood Donors United is requesting that donors attend this event to make a donation as soon as possible. Additional information can be obtained at San Bernardino and Riverside county line.

"Our current inventory level of type "O" blood is approximately 10 percent," noted a blood bank spokesperson, "and blood donors are encouraged to donate blood supplies continuously. Donors are currently needed in San Bernardino and Riverside county communities.

"We are asking for your help in ensuring adequate blood supplies are available in the community," the spokesperson continued.

"Local blood banks are experiencing a significant shortage of type "O" blood," the spokesperson explained. "Those donors who have given type "O" blood in the past are strongly encouraged to come and donate. We are in desperate need of type "O" blood donors.

Furthermore, type "O" blood is the only blood type that can be transfused to anyone in an emergency. Donors are needed now to help meet the critical need for type "O" blood.

Donors can make an appointment to donate blood by contacting the San Bernardino Blood Donors United at (714) 351-3170 ext. 1450 or by visiting the website at http://www.bloodbank.org.

Visit the Blood Donors United website for more information and additional information.

TEACHERS FOR AFRICA PROGRAM LAUNCHED

Rev. Leon H. Sullivan, the first group of African American teachers selected for his Teachers for Africa Program during a 16-day orientation session recently returned from South Africa. Rev. Sullivan was accompanied by a group of students and teachers from the Tri-County Disadvantaged Program (TCDP).

The Teachers for Africa Program is a joint initiative of the National Education Association (NEA) and the South African government. The program aims to support African American teachers in their efforts to improve education in South Africa. Teachers selected for the program undergo intensive training and gain valuable teaching experience.

"This program is an important step in our ongoing efforts to address the educational needs of African American students," said Rev. Sullivan. "By providing our teachers with the skills and resources they need, we hope to improve the quality of education in South Africa and to help create a brighter future for our students."

Letters To The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

On behalf of the Mt. Baldy United Way, want to thank the 150 volumes from the inland valley who recently participated in the 1992 Clinton campaign. I want to thank all the volunteers from the nine communities.

This year's review volunteers worked a total of 4,500 hours to create a comprehensive package of information about being a volunteer and the important work health and human services. The agencies were reviewed on prospective performance, their financial plans and objectives, governance and personnel practices.

Recommendations made at the review will affect 1992/93 agency funding levels.

We also want to thank the employers—private/corporate schools, universities, government agencies, unions and others—that contributed the time for their employees to partake in this very important process.

In addition, I want to thank the 44 volunteers who serve on the Agency Relations Advisory Committee, providing year-long guidance and oversight for the distribution of United Way funds in our communities.

During the coming year, thousands of people will benefit from the combined efforts of all of the United Way donors, volunteers and funded agencies.

Sincerely,

Verna Tucker

DEAR EDITOR:

After more than a decade, and especially in view of recent history, it is now extremely clear that it is time to give all the conservative Republicans in Congress, and perhaps even the entire right-wing their policies are gradually killing this country like a slow poison. The social disasters as the fools that voted conservative. The bottom line is that he has been a part of or account for all the accomplishments and failures of this nation since 1980. It is upon this backgroun that their party's present once again that multi-ethnic combination candidate for President of the...

Beware Of Meningitis Risk In Hot Springs Warns Experts

Keep your head above water when swimming in hot springs or warm fresh water lakes to avoid a microscopic parasite which can cause potentially deadly meningitis, warn officials of disease specialists from Stanford University and medical centers.

Dr. Stanley Dersinski, clinical professor of medicine, says that the single-cell amoeba Naegleria fowleri, which has been found in scattered warm lakes in hot springs and in hot springs in nearly all areas of the world, enters the body through the nose, causing meningitis, a serious disease of the central nervous system.

Dersinski cautions people to avoid the amoeba to watch for early signs of meningitis. The disease is easiest to treat in its early stages, when headache, fever and stiff neck, the most common signs, are diagnosed.

"Generally the warmer the lake, the higher the risk," the doctor says.

Reports of meningitis involving in lakes in recent years have been rare, "would be difficult to identify in advance which bodies of fresh water are risky and which aren't," Dersinski says.

Dersinski says that cases are most common in warm climates, including Asia, Africa and South America, but cases have been heard from California hot springs and from sources in the United States. The disease is "most common in warm climates, including Asia, Africa and South America, but cases have been heard from California hot springs and from sources in the United States."

From National Meningitis Association, "The "1991 Gestational Meningitis Report," which includes a state-by-state analysis of meningitis cases, pegs the number of meningitis cases in 1991 at 4,879, 1,000 more than the previous year. The total represents a 30 percent increase in the number of meningitis cases reported in 1991, with the greatest increases among high-risk groups, which include: children under 5, and those with chronic health conditions.

PAL Center Graduates Honored

The Provisional Accelerated Learning (PAL) Center honored fifteen graduates of its Greater Anacostia Independent (GAI) program recently. Five graduates received Adult High School Diplomas (GED) and ten students received Adult Basic Education (ABE) Certificates. GAI was established as a result of the Family Support Act of 1988 which provided support services for the mandatory work requirements imposed on AFDC recipients. The program has received national recognition, serving as a welfare reform model, and was one of the programs from which the federal government modeled its JOBS project. Funded by the San Bernardino, County Private Industry Council and the Department of Jobs and Employment Services, the GA-

PAL Center program has operated since 1989.
The keynote speaker for the graduation ceremony was Mr. Jeff Parson, a former GAI participant who recently received his Masters Degree in Social Work from California State University at San Bernardino in June, 1992. Parson shared the personal experiences of becoming a single parent with three children, and having to make very difficult and prioritized decisions. He became very active in welfare rights groups as a result of the many barriers he had to overcome to become a productive citizen. The speaker encouraged the graduates to set realistic goals for themselves, and achieve those goals. Special personal testimony was given by Rosalie Aguilar, 29 year old mother of two who said, "GAI didn't give me a hand by making me attend classes, if I wouldn't have gone to school. The program pushed me to my GED and increased my self-esteem. I felt "dumb" when return- ing to school, but I'm glad I did." "I decided that if I wanted life harder for my kids, then I need to be a role model for my children by get- ting an education." The teacher told me that an education was important and now we'll do it.

All PAL Center student were exposed to numerous careers that will provide competitive life skills and employment. This is an overall networking on the part of private, public and community agencies that will continue to make positive contributions to at-risk populations.

Today's struggling economy makes such programs as GAI and other services at the PAL Center critical to the positive behaviors and survival of many individuals.

Additional information about PAL Center services may be received by calling (714) 461-7002.

Bill Requires Public Hearings On Waste Management Fees

Legislation responding to complaints of homeowners that solid waste management fees were excessive was signed into law by the Governor this week. The legislation, Assembly Bill 2567, was authored by Assemblywoman Gwen Moore (D-Los Angeles).

"AB 2567 will insure that residents have an opportunity to review and comment on fee proposals," Moore said. "Further, under this bill, if rev- enues from the fees exceed costs of preparing and imple- menting the local integrated waste management plan, they must be used to reduce the fees or charges," she added. Blat law requires local governments to implement plans to decrease solid waste sent to landfills through reducing, recycling or com- posing solid waste, and per- mits them to sell the reduc- tion.

AB 2567 places waste management plans in exist- ing statutes requiring public notice and hearing on other types of fees proposed to be levied or changed. AB 2567 also makes the fees subject to audit and provisions of law requiring reduction of fees to offset excess revenues.

NEW YORK — "Mr. JUSTICE WINS AWARD!" — Marc Lipisitz, center, Vice President and Producer, Radio America, noted the prestigious Silver Medal Award, presented recently by the 1992 International Radio Festival of New York, for the Philip Morris sponsored radio documentaries. "Mr. Justice," Thurgood Marshall and the Struggle to End Legal Segregation," were honored at the award presentation.

Mr. Justice," a series of six, half-hour radio programs broadcast on almost 400 stations nationwide during Black History Month, February, 1992. The series tells the story of the pioneering work and crucial leadership provided by Marshall in defeating segregation in the U.S. Supreme Court. The three earlier articles in the series included: "Aging Americans and the American Mosaic." The four radio documentaries have won five awards.

Can You Find 20 Bible Books In This Paragraph?

*Somedone showed me this story and remarked that there are twenty books of the Bible hidden here. Still this things with a bell, kept me looking so hard for it. Some of you will get bogged down with facts, often are hit by them like they were some kind of revelation of something. I can give you a hard time if you are not always looking. Became it makes me pay attention to things in which I am interested and that is not uncommon for them to be loud lamentations which are pointed out. One lady says that when she is confronted with hardship, she herself she breezes a cup of tea to help her through it, but then this girl a real good face. Verbs, a word of the week and real thing. See how well you can compete. Relax! There may really be twenty names of Bible books in this story. If you fail to find them there's a penalty. You have to have a fly at kite, sit in a banana, or help the republic of the house or a dog (a real one). The first person to correctly name each of the 20 Bible books in this paragraph in the correct order will receive a winner, weekend pass to the best of a host. (Call (714) 882-0770.)

Rap Show Tapes At Club Attitudes

PHOTOS

MIDDLE RIGHT: Rock Barzy and Teddy Bear show off the pop-up of the Rhode Island Art Fair.
MIDDLE LEFT: Attitude crowds jam to House of Pain's "Jump Around".
BOTTOM: A couple of Attitude patrons take a break from dancing.

I can't speak for other nights, but club Attitude's labor day weekend jam was on.

Honored by KUCR-airplay of rap video show "Xtra Large Rap Up," the party attracted hundreds of listeners who came out to wreck shop hoping to get their "spindys" faces picked up by the Concom cameras. The footage should air in Riverside Wednesday, September 25 at 8 p.m. on channel 40.

The Black Voice did not enter the house until midnight and the floors were still pecked. The club is at least, the size of a hotel banquet room (not to mention an upstairs game room). Still, 80 percent of the very hyped-up team made their star turn on the dance floor.

Though Rock Barzy (Barry Benson), Raycito (Raymond Griffin), Simply Shelly (Shelbi Williams) and Teddy Bear (Carlos Wofford) are dee jays on KUCR 88.1's Soul On Sunday crew, they let the dee jays up to a couple other dee jays while they kept the partygoers hyped, at an easy job when considering the dope music. And when House of Pain's "Jump Around" and Luther Campbell's "Doo Doo Brown" (it surprised me too) came on, the crowd got hyped. So when the filming started, the "Xtra Large Rap Up" cameramen could hardly keep decent footage of "Jump Around" and Raycito amongst the party people. The crowd swayed him from lead to rhythm. Afterwards, KUCR veteran of six years, Barry Benson explained more about the "Xtra Large Rap Up" and KUCR.

Benson said Raymond Griffin, KUCR program director, has been in contact with Concom to approach Concom with the idea of a rap video show. "...we've been invited to produce a film class for the cable company. They have also made proposals to cable companies in other cities. Concom was willing to give it a try with full backing. Benson then happily noted the extent of Concom's support. He said, "We have not had to pay a cent. Concom takes care of it front of producing the show."

And so far, Benson is pleased with the show and says "Xtra Large Rap Up" is the only cable produced rap video tape in Southern California with the exception of one in Compton. Still, people are tuning in to the show.

The show is becoming so "Xtra Large" that it has plans on expanding to Orange County and in three to four months should be reached in Compton. Though Benson is used to speaking in 20 to 30 thousand KUCR weekly listeners as a dee jay, he said the transition to visual was easy, and people recognized it. "I have to work a little bit different," he admits.

The show is taped on Saturdays for about two in a half hours and airs for 60 minutes. Due to Benson's work schedule, he has not appeared on the show in a couple of weeks and said other 8.1 P.M Soul On Sunday (SOS) dee jays have been sitting in. Especially after the travesty of TV MTV Raps airing at midnight and the loss of popular LA radio station KDWB which was very influential in keeping hip hop alive in Southern California, the "Xtra Large Rap Up" and Soul On Sunday programs make Black music available to the inland Empire.

Benson feels "Xtra Large Rap Up" and Soul On Sunday programs are so important because "they bring cutting edge music to the kids who listen." Their play lists are not based on hype, they are based on what they feel is truly good music.

Benson likes getting out in the public and meeting listeners. He says the station plans to move out of this as well as "other new and different things in terms of promotions and bringing more into the station."

Some of the "Xtra Large Rap Up" noted guests have been NWA's MC Ren, Penthouse Players Clepsy's Plays Hamb and several local artists on a special episode.

The Soul On Sunday crew has been around for at least 12 years and has definitely been a part of the evolution of rap to the inland Empire. The station's does have plans for boosting its wattage. Benson says they are in the process of building a new transmitter. Once this is done they will be able to reach West Covina and Morrow Valley.

In addition to being a dee jay at KUCR and a wee jay at Concom, Benson received his Bachelor's degree from USC in Political Science in 1989, works in radio promotions for Walt Disney's rap record label Hollywood Basic as well as contributions to music columns in numerous magazines "BRR," "Gavin Report" and "Hizz." If you have not already done so, check out his "Funky Dope Master" Sunday from 12 to 3 on KUCR 88.1 P.M.

The smart shopper's challenge is to make the most of a used car's advantages, and minimize the risks. With this in mind, the Council of Better Business Bureaus has updated and revised its pamphlet, "Tips On...Buying a Used Car," to assist those consumers who may be searching for a used car.

"Tips On...Buying a Used Car" offers consumers "pre-shopping" steps to take before searching for a used car, outlines various resources to consider when looking for a used car, and provides "the lot" and "road test" checklists to follow when evaluating a used automobile.

The Council of Better Business Bureaus, Inc. is a non-profit organization.

"TIPS ON...BUYING A USED CAR" is FREE (10 pages). A $1.00 fee is required for postage and handling.

The booklets and pamphlets published in the Council's Consumer Information and Business Advisory Series offer helpful tips on more than 90 topics of consumer and business interest.

For a single copy of "TIPS ON...BUYING A USED CAR," send your request and $1 postage and handling fee, along with a self-addressed enveloped, to the Council of Better Business Bureaus, Inc., Department 023, Washington, D.C. 20042-0023.

Bulk Orders are available. Call (703)347-9910 for details.

 drove by to identify her as not being the suspect. We took care to Mr. Howard and later had been mistaken as brown by the witness, we really had no idea who she was. We were only told that Lt. Russell hadn't missed catching the suspect. We took care to Mr. Howard and later also rendered an apology. You have to understand that we would have to do as we did in this our job and sometimes a witness may be slightly mistaken, and when we have skedgy information, it is our duty to the public to attempt to locate sus­pects as quickly as possible. In the light of those events where the Howard vehicle was seen on Frederick and was driven by a Black female and the car was similar to the one identified by the witness, we really had no other choice than to make the stop and to make sure that we hadn't missed catching the sus­pect. As then, we apologized as we do now to the Howard fami­ly for any problem that might be with her or them. We were only doing our job and I'd hope that our citizens including the Howard family understand that we have no intentions to harm innocent people, but rather to protect them even when we have made a mistake," stated Sgt. Tonnah.

The public should be aware that these are normal police pro­cedures designed to protect the public while apprehending sus­pects.
