DEAN APPOINTMENTS

NATHAN KRAVETZ TO HEAD SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Dr. Nathan Kravetz has been appointed Dean of the School of Education, beginning in September, President John M. Pfau announced.

Currently Chairman of the Department of Early Childhood and Elementary Education at Herbert H. Lehman College (formerly Hunter College) in New York City, Dr. Kravetz's long and distinguished career includes positions as elementary school teacher, principal in the Los Angeles City Schools and faculty member at San Diego and Los Angeles State Universities.

Dr. Kravetz has had outstanding experience in comparative and international education and is a recognized authority in this field. He served for three years as a senior staff officer with UNESCO in Paris, has directed Peace Corps and U.S. AID missions in Peru, and has acted as a consultant and educational planner in Pakistan, Indonesia, Colombia, Venezuela and Chile for governmental agencies and the Ford Foundation.

The author of several books, monographs and articles, including a well-known children's book, The Way of the Condor, Dr. Kravetz has also lectured and consulted widely on educational planning and administration.

WARD MC AFEE TO CONTINUE AS SOCIAL SCIENCES DEAN

President Pfau announced the appointment of Dr. Ward McAfee, Professor of History and acting dean, as Dean of the School of Social Sciences, it was learned recently. Effective September 1, 1976, the appointment is for a three-year term.

Dean McAfee received his B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in history from Stanford University. He joined the faculty of CSCSB in 1965 as Assistant Professor of History and in 1971, at age 31, was appointed the first dean of the newly-designated School of Social Sciences. He resigned at the end of a three-year term to return to teaching and writing but was recalled as acting dean in September, 1975.

Dean McAfee is the author of California Railroad Era and other publications dealing principally with the history of California. He and his wife and three children make their home in Wrightwood.

CHILD CARE CENTER OPENS NEXT MONDAY

The College's child care center opens at Kendall Elementary School with the start of the Spring Quarter, next Monday.

Primarily for pre-schoolers, ages 2 to 6, some 7 to 12-year-olds may be enrolled if openings are available. Although student parents have first priority, faculty and staff of the College may register their children on a space-available basis.

PAYDAY IS WEDNESDAY, MARCH 31.

CHILD CARE CENTER

Keyed to the CSCSB class schedule, the center will be open from 7:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m., Monday through Thursday, closing at 12:15 p.m. on Fridays.

Interested parents may register their children today and all next week at Room K-1 at the Kendall School, where they will meet the center's new director, July Calkins.

Fees will be charged on a sliding scale for parents who qualify. Others will pay the full fee, yet to be established, but estimated at around 85¢ per hour. Preference will be given to low-income, qualified families.

The staff of the center will include the director and a teacher, assisted by four students in the work-study program. Between 60 and 90 children are expected to enroll. The facility will occupy one classroom and an adjoining fenced play yard.

The care program will be educational in nature, with academic departments of the College assisting with planning of the activities to facilitate the development of each child. Nutritional snacks will be planned by the Health Sciences Department.

Information about the center may be obtained from Gaye Perry, Assistant Dean of Students, who is coordinator of the project.

REUNITED HARRIS STRING QUARTET
PERFORMS IN SUNDAY EVE CONCERT

Classical and romantic melodies of Haydn and Schubert and geometric patterns of Stravinsky will be heard in a concert Sunday, March 28, by the Leslie I. Harris String Quartet, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in PS-10. General admission is $1.50; children and students with I.D. cards admitted free of charge.

Haydn's "Quartet in E Flat Major, Opus 64, No. 6," Stravinsky's "Trois Pieces," and Schubert's "Death and the Maiden," comprise the program which reunites the permanent members of the College's quartet-in-residence. The return of cellist Catherine Graff from Paris, who last played with the musical group a year ago, brings the quartet together again. In addition to Miss Graff, the musicians are Armen Turadian, violin; Clyda Yedinak, violin and Victoria Shapiro, viola. The College's own Harris String Quartet was formed three years ago.

CSCSB RENAISSANCE FESTIVAL
RECREATES 1608 ITALIAN PARTY

Masked guests, costumed singers and dancers will recreate a party as it would have been in 1608 in Bologna, Italy at the College's annual Renaissance dinner Thursday and Friday evenings, April 1 and 2. The gala event will be a "Festino Bolognese."

A musical program enacted by the Chamber Singers and Instrumental Consort will be Adriano Banchieri's "Festino nella sera del Giovedì grasso avanti Cena." The 1608 madrigal comedy, a series of amusing vignettes, was meant to entertain guests at a banquet. The musical program will present scenes before and during the dinner. Guests will be considered celebrants and given half masks as they arrive.

The banquet is hosted by the Chamber Singers. Cost of the dinner is $8.50 per person. The Music Department is in charge of reservations and tickets.
