The Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) visitation team is visiting the campus in connection with the accreditation of the School of Social Sciences, Audio-Visual Services and Learning Center. The six-member team arrived on campus yesterday to begin its review.

The visitation team is chaired by President Leonard W. Rice, President of the Oregon Colleges of Education, and includes members from Mills College, Cal State Dominguez Hills, University of the Pacific, University of Southern California, and University of Washington, as well as members from the Chancellor's Office.

Prior to their arrival on campus the visitors had examined the self-study report prepared by a team coordinated by Dr. Otis Starkey, Geography. Dean Ralph Petrucci provided overall coordination and editorial direction of the report and developed the College-wide introductory portions.

Members of the faculty and staff, where appropriate, are asked to remain available to meet the visitors and furnish whatever information may be needed.

Four three-dimensional installation pieces created by Los Angeles artist Gary Beydler especially for the CSCSB Art Gallery, are on display.

In creating the illusionary, the artist worked with string dipped into white paint, then held diagonally against a black wall and snapped so that it leaves a line on the wall. The string is then attached to the lower end of the line on the wall and secured to the floor at a point three feet away.

The Gallery walls were painted black especially to accommodate the exhibit, and provide a necessary function for the unusual illusion created by the pieces, 20 feet wide by six feet high.

The Beydler exhibit continues through April 30.

A first book by Bruce Golden, Associate Professor of English, is scheduled for publication April 15.

"The Beach Boys, Southern California Pastoral," captures in print the spirit of the rock group which pioneered and developed surfing music in the early 60's in California, and which epitomizes the California lifestyle.

Dr. Golden, an expert on the rock and roll era who teaches a class on the culture of the rock generation, believes that "The Beach Boys are one of the most accomplished and under-valued groups working in Rock Music today. Their distinctive sound and outlook, which began as smooth, polished, suburban high-school Southern California surfing music in the early 1960s has now grown to the point where, in their hit LP of 1973, 'The Beach Boys Holland,' the 'California Saga' combines the melodious poetry of Robinson Jeffers with the lilting music of Mike Love and Al Jardine. They were a major factor in turning Southern California from just another place into a cultural lifestyle that typified what is now called 'youth culture.'"

An autograph party for the new author is planned for Saturday, April 24 at D.J. Paperback Bookstore, 126 E. Highland Ave., San Bernardino. From 1 to 3 p.m. Dr. Golden will autograph copies of the Newcastle/Borgo Press publication.

Spanish Table

Have lunch in Spanish beginning Monday, April 12 in Room 125 of the Lower Commons, 11:30-1:30. All students, faculty and staff interested in an informal weekly Spanish conversation hour are invited to bring their lunch and join the campus hispanophiles.

Mini-Computer Workshop for Faculty Development Center Next Tuesday

A computer workshop dealing exclusively with the mini-computer will be offered as the first Faculty Development Center event of the Spring Quarter. Faculty can learn how to operate the computer and will be able to interact with it themselves. The workshop is set for Tuesday, April 13, 2:30-3:30, in LC-17.

CSCSB Students Attend Model U.N.

Nine CSCSB students and their advisor are participating in the Model U.N. of the Far West this week in Oakland. This year the Cal State delegation will represent Denmark. Students Paul Alberts, Lillice Cohn, Valerie Lenz, Ray Alves, Jerry Johnson, Ernie Vincent, Cecille Fego, Asaye Tsegga and Berhanou Teklehaimanot were accompanied by Brij Khare, Professor of Political Science.

Subjects of world-wide interest will be discussed and voted on, such as Korea, peaceful cooperation in outer space, integration of women, human rights in armed conflict, international waterways, and human rights in science and technology.

The delegation was sponsored by the International Club, with participants selected on the basis of academic record and a presentation on why they wanted to participate in the Model U.N.

Personals

Dr. and Mrs. Peter Graves (Administration) welcomed their fourth child, a son, Paul Michael Graves, on April 6, 1976. Baby Graves weighed nine pounds, 10 ounces.
CSEA TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Members of the local campus chapter of CSEA have received ballots for election of officers for the 1976-77 year.
