Riverside Film Festival Presents Daughters Of The Dust

A hauntingly beautiful tale set at the turn of the century in a sea island off Georgia, it explores changing values and attitudes between several generations of African Americans. As Southern family struggles with the consequences of racism and move North, memories of their African roots come rising to the surface.

As we enter the holiday season, I am mindful of our great victories in the presidential election and of the hopes and challenges it exemplifies. At Tipper, Hillary and I thank you for your support.

We won an opportunity to rebuild America by putting all the people first. Now the real hard work begins. Together, let us do whatever we promised and change this nation for the better.

Sincerely,
Bill Clinton
President Elect United States of America.

With cold weather just around the corner, it is time for all pet owners to make the appropriate adjustments to protect their animals from the elements. Dr. Levister welcomes reader energy and is high on the opportunity to congratulate future pet owners on their decision to adopt a pet.

Judge Kennedy has been involved in the sickle cell research community by serving as the Board Chair for the Association of Gulf Coast America, which is a member of the National Association for Sickle Cell Disease. He has been Chairman of the Advisory Board of Sickle Cell Disease; and, he has many countries, is widely considered for his religious and moral beliefs. A man is not necessarily bisexual of homosexual behavior if he wants to participate in anal intercourse. The experts say that men sometimes practice such a sexual practice because the anus is so much more sensitive. And, the area produces more friction. Sexual orientation, however, though many find it a painful and undesirable outcome. According to the 1970 report: "All around the world, the majority of the general public surveyed were opposed to what they considered abnormal or immoral behavior." Sexual orientation refers to the area of the anus (rectum) for sexual intercourse. Your reference to the unsanitity of sex is meted in Judeo-Christian, and secular faith, but practiced in moderation and in moderation we should not test whether they have their own residence or not.

A question can help me understand the different forms of sugar?

Sugar includes both sugars and polysaccharides. Glucose, fructose, and sucrose are the most common forms of sugar.

The NASCk recently celebrated 31 years in service, providing screening, research, educational materials and patient services throughout the United States. Lynda K. Anderson, the Executive Director of the National Association For Sickle Cell Inc. commented on Judge Kennedy’s new role with the organization by saying: “We have chosen the right person for the right time. I have confidence that Judge Kennedy will bring the same progressive and innovative leader who will assist the National Board and staff in moving toward the 21st century with new ideas, new materials and new research in hope of finding a cure for sickle cell disease. We will work cooperatively, as a family, to increase community awareness about the facts of this disease and to increase funding to make a difference.”

I t was recently announced by District Elder, Dr. Roy S. Petti, that the University of California, San Diego, will house the departments of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science -- all academic programs that give the University of California, San Diego, the ability to meet the needs of the science and technology industries.

The building design gives us the ability to meet the needs of the science and technology industries. The building will house the Visualizing and Intelligent Systems Laboratory, engineering college's computer graphics lab that helps solve applied problems in industry and science as well as visualization technology.

Moring Appointed To CAARP Advisory Committee

Center for Human Resources. Moring, an 18-year industry veteran and a second generation African-American insurance broker, will be actively involved with the California Automobile Assigned Risk Plan, setting policy and determining rate procedures for California consumer's auto insurance market.

CAARP was established by the California Legislature in 1947 as a mechanism to provide insurance for those unable to obtain coverage in the voluntary market. Acting as a processing center, CAARP assigns those who are unable to find insurance to companies that are able to provide the mandatory coverage required by the state's financial responsibility law.

I am truly honored to have been appointed to this prestigious statewide advisory committee, and I look forward to helping obtain optimal level of insurance protection for California consumers," noted Moring.

It is time to review your home improvements, consider the FHA Title I Home Improvement Loan offered by Redlands Federal. You can borrow any amount up to $35,000 without an appraisal, regardless of the amount of equity in your home. If the improvements protect or improve the habitability of your property for you, use it to remodel a kitchen or bathroom, paint or add new lighting. Repay the loan in six months or 15 years, or any time in between. Talk to your FHA Title I Loan, and today.

No one is more qualified to help you qualify than Redlands Federal Bank.

AKA's Host Sepia Fashion Review

ta Nu Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Riverside-San Bernadino area, is sponsoring its annual Sepia Fashion Revue featuring the Vogue-Quirky Thrift Stores.

The presentation will be held on Sunday, December 13, 7:00 p.m., at the California Theatre for the Performing Arts located at 364 W. 4th Street in San Bernardino. The 34th Annual Fashion Extravaganza has for this theme "HIGH VOLTAGE" and features both female and male models who will leave fashion-minded patrons breathless as they reflect the present mood of American and European designers.

Bold, bright colors and mixtures, as well as intricate mixing of casual and glamorous fashions, highlight this season's message of "Fit and Fine." Fashion services will be seen throughout this year's show, with more structured silhouettes, sportswear, does but lady like lengths, and pants gaiter. These are the needs that the Katnily will see at "HIGH VOLTAGE '92."

Leather, fur and feathers along with knock-out black and out jewelry will play an important role in enhancing this year's fashion creation.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., is the first sorority established internationally for Black women.

The proceeds from this fashion show are designated for the Alpha Kappa Alpha Community Services which include educational scholarships for local youth, health care, the family, economics, arts and the world community.

Tickets which are $20/adult and $10/children under 18 years of age may be obtained by calling (714) 878-378, 422-0181, 642-0366 or 242-339.

KGGI And Alpha Beta Collect 4 1/2 Tons

Breakfast Club members Deanne and Daniels food from one of the programs many contributors.

After spending 65 hours living at the alpha house on the campus of Baseline and Medical Center Drive in San Bernardino, KGGI (99.1 FM) morning personalities Jeff Deas and Jim Daniels collected 4 1/2 tons of food from members of the community who dropped off food for the "Sing the Dream," a program that serves as a part of the Martin Luther King, Jr. weekend honoring the civil rights leader to be held west of Reno.

The celebration kicks off with a community awards and championship boxing event held Jan. 15-16 in Reno, Nevada. The weekend features fun and games, with activities for all ages, including sports, membership in the Black PowerPoint and gospel concerts, MLK Weekend In Reno.

MORENO VALLEY NEWS

PART I

American children today are suffering from widespread parental failure. By their words and actions many fathers and mothers make it clear that they are almost paralyzed by uncertainty. Old standards of behavior no longer seem to apply. Many parents are in conflict as to what their own values are. Others think they know, but lack the confidence to impose discipline in behalf of their values. Worst of all are those parents who doubt their right to structure a child's attitude, beliefs, and conduct.

Ironically, these difficulties have developed during decades when more reliable information has been acquired about children and the formation of character, than at any other time in history. What is lacking is information, not conviction.

How a child develops into an adult depends in part, of course, on heredity. But in greater part it depends upon whether parents care enough about their children to assure and defend the necessary values. It also means putting home responsibilities first. Rearing our children is by far the most important task that most of us will ever undertake.

To accomplish it successfully requires placing it above one's career. Fathers as well as mothers have to be homemakers.

A successful home is a school for love. If children are not loved from infancy through their growing years, they cannot learn to love others and to become happy adults.

But love is not enough. Children need discipline if they are to develop competent, self-confident, personalities. In the imposition of discipline, only a humorless marionette would fail to have occasional doubts about the right course. But doubt is paralyzing and adjudication is another. Those parents who do not persevere in rearing their children according to their own convictions are not leaving them "to develop on their own.

Instead, they are letting other children and the media, principal television and the movies, do the job.

On basic issues of right and wrong the essential values are what they have always been. Nothing has invalidated the hard-earned moral wisdom that mankind has accumulated since Biblical times. To kill, to steal, to lie, or to cover another person's possessions still leads to varying degrees of misery for the victim and the perpetrator.

The twentieth century has not found a way to repeal the Ten Commandments.

Some modern parents are already so definitive on sexual issues that they are having their 14-year-old daughters fitted with diaphragms or given a prescription for the pill. But the powerful emotions surrounding the sexual act cannot be screened out as easily as the sperm. There are those who argue sex can be completely pleasurable even if one bares it, or uses it, or practices it, or.Marries anyone.

In sexual relations as in other issues that most young people are not castoff when a child is half that age.

A distinction has to be made between the distinct for the materialism and the necessity of a work ethic.

No children in the history of the world have been so inundated with junk or have become so accustomed to the idea that a high level of material goods is essential. This breeds an unattractive materialism. It demands the child have his or her own car and the formation of character, than at any other time in history. What is lacking is information, not conviction.

But in greater part it depends upon whether parents care enough about their children to assure and defend the necessary values. It also means putting home responsibilities first. Rearing our children is by far the most important task that most of us will ever undertake.

To accomplish it successfully requires placing it above one's career. Fathers as well as mothers have to be homemakers.

A successful home is a school for love. If children are not loved from infancy through their growing years, they cannot learn to love others and to become happy adults.

But love is not enough. Children need discipline if they are to develop competent, self-confident, personalities. In the imposition of discipline, only a humorless marionette would fail to have occasional doubts about the right course. But doubt is paralyzing and adjudication is another. Those parents who do not persevere in rearing their children according to their own convictions are not leaving them "to develop on their own.

Instead, they are letting other children and the media, principal television and the movies, do the job.

On basic issues of right and wrong the essential values are what they have always been. Nothing has invalidated the hard-earned moral wisdom that mankind has accumulated since Biblical times. To kill, to steal, to lie, or to cover another person's possessions still leads to varying degrees of misery for the victim and the perpetrator.

The twentieth century has not found a way to repeal the Ten Commandments.

Some modern parents are already so definitive on sexual issues that they are having their 14-year-old daughters fitted with diaphragms or given a prescription for the pill. But the powerful emotions surrounding the sexual act cannot be screened out as easily as the sperm. There are those who argue sex can be completely pleasurable even if one bares it, or uses it, or practices it, or.Marries anyone.

In sexual relations as in other issues that most young people are not castoff when a child is half that age.

A distinction has to be made between the distinct for the materialism and the necessity of a work ethic.

No children in the history of the world have been so inundated with junk or have become so accustomed to the idea that a high level of material goods is essential. This breeds an unattractive materialism. It demands the child have his or her own car and Yo-Yo Visits Girls' Center In L.A.

Yo-Yo met with Mikale and discussed sexual abuse she experienced as a child. The conversation was extensive throughout Africa, and is sponsored by UCR's Europe, Asia and the American Directors and Technical Directors and Technical Directors for the Riverside Community Players. RCP is devoted to eliminating abuse against women and children. Yo-Yo was not only the focus of Yo-Yo's har. In front of a few hundred girls talking about the IBWC, her organization to uplift intelligent young Black Women. Then after she finishes her lecture, maybe she will perform a few songs from her very positive and hype album, Black Pearl. Yo-Yo: First of all, I like to get out to meet people period, especially group homes because (residents) have low self-esteem. One of the girls asked me when I first came "Was life hard for you?" I think they think it's (being a celebrity) a easy route now. So when you communicate with them face to face, it gives them a sense of direction to say 'she's just like us - regular. She's just an entertainer. It makes them feel comfortable and sure of themselves.

Yo-Yo: What was your response to that? Yo-Yo: I said yeah! Of course! It was hard for me. By: So you think you being successful give them a lot of encouragement? Yo-Yo: Yeah! By: What kinds of things do you do with the IBWC? Yo-Yo: We do a lot of workshops, such as this (her visit to the center). Some of the IBWC also tour with me. By: I heard some of them on your first album. Yo-Yo: Right. We'll be doing that again on our next album which will be coming out soon. Yo-Yo: Surprised? Yes we're still growing in this album. Why are you going to put out another album so soon? Yo-Yo: Well, I have Black Pearl out. By: I know. The remix is phat. Yo-Yo: Thanks. I have Black Pearl out but in, January, I’m admitting a new album.

Other employees have also come forward and accused Schott of saying, "I would never hire another nigger. I'd rather have a trained monkey working for me than a nigger." She also is being charged with referring to former Reds stars Eric Davis and Dave Parker as "million­dollar niggers."

It appears from her deposition that Marge Schott's brain has been left in the lurch and/or she is completely ignorant to different races' feelings. Either way it will be hard to let her maintain her baseball ownership or role as community leader that naively comes with her position. Baseball's leaders must act firmly, because the opera (uproar) ain't ever till the fat lady sings (negate charges) or capitulate until the fat lady sings (negate charges) or capitulate until the fat lady sings (negate charges) or capitulate until the fat lady sings until the fat lady sings (negate charges) or capitulate.

These Arizona business leaders feared the power of the sports community after they contin­u­ously voted down Martin Luther King Jr.'s Day as a holiday. The NFL responded, amid an outcry from the Black leadership around the U.S., by moving the 1993 Super Bowl to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. This action cost Arizona's business commu­nity millions of dollars in lost revenue.

Poorer but wiser the Arizona voters approved a paid state hol­iday honoring Martin Luther King Jr., ending a long conten­versy that has made the sports com­munity there sadder but wiser. Arizona voters rejected two similar holiday ballot mea­sures in 1990, causing a back­lash that reverberated across the nation and hurt the state's econ­omy through boycotts.

Arizona's business and community leaders are hoping the NFL "gives pause" and rewards the "96 game to Tempe, as owners' meetings in March. For Arizona's leaders the call of the day is better late than never. I wonder if the change in the voters happened because of their belief in Martin Luther King and everything he died for or the Continued on B-8

Last week we printed the wrong name for Avery Anderson, freshman football player at UCLA. Please notice the correction below. - Black Voice Editor

HATS OFF TO ANDERSON FAMILY - Brothers Aaron Anderson, Sophomore, and Avery Anderson, freshman, celebrate UCLA victory over USC. The brothers starred at Riverside High. We would like to recognize their mother, Ma. Anderson because it is rare that a family is able to send two academically and athletically inclined students to UCLA.

Salvaged Heaps Used To Make Cars

Some consumers who believe they are buying a used car or truck are actually getting a vehicle salvaged from a scrap heap that may be hazardous to drive, authorities said.

The vehicles are sold at salvage auctions and then reconstructed but many still have inherent problems such as poor seating or tires, according to authorities who said some cars could actually break apart on the road or during a collision.

Ford Creates Truck For Women

Ford Motor Co. plans a new version of its Explorer sport utility truck aimed at women, according to a trade journal. The new version of the Explorer, the four-door Explorer Limited, will sell for $25,000 to $27,000, about the same as the top-of-the-line Grand Cherokee.

Production of the vehicle will begin in February with introduction around midyear 1995, Automotive News said. Explorer is the segment leader among small sport utility vehicles. Through the first 10 months of the year, Ford sold 256,563 Explorers compared with 168,417 Jeep Grand Cherokee and 155,802 Chevrolet S-10 Blazers and GMC S-15 Jimmys.

Finder's fee, 39 percent of the buyers of Grand Cherokees and Grand Chryslers are women compared with roughly 30 percent to 32 percent for General Motors Corp. and Ford, according to Automotive News.

Ford is hoping that 50 percent of Limited buyers are women with a median annual income of $75,000. The median income for the sport utility segment is $56,000.

Ford spokesman Mike Moran declined comments on the Automotive News report.

Salvaged vehicles are likely to have been dumped by salvage-car rebuilders in Arizona because it's largely an unreported crime.

Although a consumer may not know whether a collision-damaged vehicle has been repaired properly, the law in Arizona is designed to alert a buyer whenever a vehicle has been rebuilt from salvage.

In Arizona, a rebuilt salvage vehicle requires a notation on its title, and a special inspection by the Motor Vehicle Division is required before the title is issued.
