SALE OF BONDS CLEARS WAY FOR STUDENT UNION

After five years of planning, the last hurdle in the way of the $885,000 Student Union has been overcome. At a bid opening held August 4 in Sacramento, the Bank of America turned in a bid of 6.75% interest on the $500,000 bond issue. The bid was under the legal interest ceiling of 7%.

Funds derived from the revenue bond sale will be added to student union fees and interest which have been accumulating since the Spring Quarter of 1971, when students voted to assess themselves in order to establish a student union. The bonds will be paid off by future student union fees over a 20-year period.

Nick Pokrajac, Inc., the designated contractor for the Student Union Building, is being notified of the bond sale which clears the way for the contract documents to be executed. The company plans to start work immediately on preliminary grading for the new building.

In announcing the successful bond sale Vice President for Administration J. K. Thomas states "We are terribly pleased. Another hurdle has been successfully overcome, paving the way for the Student Union which will add immeasurably to the quality of student life on campus."

Dr. Thomas also reported progress on the Bookstore building. He and the architect, Harnish, Morgan and Causey, will take the drawings to the Board of Trustees in mid-September for a schematic planning presentation.

the credential. The other two are UCLA and Mendocino County.

Joseph Yabu, Assistant Professor of Education, is coordinator of the program and worked closely with the commission in developing the proposal. He recently met with it to discuss the process for coordinating the program with the State Department of Education, county offices, local school districts and the College.

The credential program is meant to serve those who wish to teach vocational subjects in secondary schools, ROC/P's and adult schools, and has been especially designed to meet the needs of the local education agencies serving Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

Those in technical, trade or vocational areas can now earn the credential from CSCSB in eight educational fields: adult, agricultural, business and office, distributive, health, home economics, technical, trade and industrial.

Both part-time and full-time credentials are offered.
