President Evans Non Response Upsets Community

The San Bernardino Spirit

HARRY RUBINSON has been described as a loving, quiet, serious and unassuming man by the Black community asenson concern California State University, San Bernardino President Dr. Anthony Evans has not been available for comment during the recent flag flap over Tom Metzger. Tom Metzger was invited by a graduate student, Michael DeMayo to come for a forum with the students. The students objected to Metzger. Dean Audrey Bonett wrote the directive as head of the Social Science Department that Metzger would pose a safety hazard. Rubinson said, "I think they have quite a few racists at Cal State, but it starts at the top and filters down. They won't look at any Black person. He doesn't have the right to say the situation." I gave Evans a list with eight well respected leaders names and asked him to call and let them know where he stands on the issue. The students have worked and written with and been candidates for mayor during the past four years, I do not believe that they have the necessary life experience, practical business and successful governmental experience that this region needs. The San Bernardino Independent is required to lead our city out of the disastrous situation in which we find ourselves. Many of my representatives have contributed to the very problems that all our citizens face each and every day.

Estrada: Our Choice For Mayor of San Bernardino

If the city of San Bernardino is to reach its fullest potential we must elect city officials who demonstrate the ability to work together for the common good.

For many years the leadership has proposed a non-cooperative, combative attitude that does divorce us from being a community that we take pride in. We believe that either Estrada has attempted on most issue to be a consensus builder for the common good of the entire city. He has the experience of the grassroots organization where discipline is a professional. She gained experience through her work with the Mexican American Legal Defense Fund, management of the Casa Romana, Norton Raceway Committee, which she co-chaired until recently, when Mayor Holcomb and Councilman Hernandez orchestrated her removal. The Council voted to replace her. The plan backfired when the City of San Bernardino lost the entire leadership.

Either Estrada is there for the Black senior citizen, when no one else would come to their misuse. The Utility Center was saved because Estrada spoke out. Poor people who are IGNORANT of a city representative, can call on Estrada. Developers who need help to resolve a problem, can call on Estrada. She goes the extra mile to help constituents regardless of their station in life. She is truly a servant to the people.

Estrada is the leader out in the front of the pack. On March 2, we recommend Estrada for Mayor of San Bernardino.

Estrada: Our Choice For Mayor of San Bernardino

By Tony Brown

President Bill Clinton's promise of his middle-class tax cut is racing the White House staff, politicians, and the American public to rush to the polls and vote for George Bush's anti-American policy or the Americanization of the Middle East.

It is time for all members or the Inland Empire.

The objective of the Black Voice Newspaper is to communicate information to all citizens. Our mission is to facilitate the exchange of ideas and viewpoints, and to serve as a forum for the discussion of all issues affecting the Black community. Dear Dr. Levister: I want to get pregnant. What is the true story about alcohol and its effect on the baby, if any? Concerned.

Dear Concerned: Alcohol industry liquor ads continue to hook the younger women's quest forקות. "If a woman can work like a man, she can drink like a man." A woman can alcohol consumption during pregnancy is known to be safe, according to the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

Finally, We Get To See Mickey's House

By BILLY JOHNSON, JR.

The homes of Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse and Goofy were made visible to the public last week at Disneyland.

I say made visible because according to Disneyland officials, Toontown (the place Mickey has lived since 1928) has always been at the park. Think about it. Mickey and the Disney crew had to live somewhere all these years.

Fortunately, Mickey and his friends have decided that it was time to share their secret with the world.

At the inauguration ceremony held at the park in Anaheim last week, Judge Harry Stone, from Night Court, led the honorary Toontown citizens in the Toontown oath. Mostly composed of members of the media, the entire group had to take their fist and place them on opposite ends of their head (complimenting Mickey Mouse ears) as they repeated the oath.

As part of the oath, we all swore to never reveal our secret to the world. Not bad huh?

It's been at least 10 years since Disneyland opened a new land, so this new addition is expected to cause quite a stir with Disneyland guests.

Toontown's six main attractions will help serve as an overflow area when Disneyland reaches its peak. The attractions are:

Mickey's House - Guests can finally have a look at Mickey's house. Guests will see his fully decorated and personalized bedroom, complete with two slides and a spiral staircase.

Goofy's Bounce House - Guests will see his bounceable furniture, walls, ceiling and floors, filmmaker Max Goodbody. No kidding. This is the place where the bouncy ball activity for Black entertainment.

Missie's House - Next door to Mickey's house, Missie's pink and purple decorated with hearts. Guests can take a listen to her answering machines messages, smell her perfume and take a peak in her refrigerator.

Donald's Boat - "Miss Daisy" - Miss Daisy provides one of a steam school yard playground. The boat features a periscope, whistle, bell, jug horns a spiral slide from the upper deck and a climbing net.

Goofy's House - How else would Goofy spend his evenings? Complete with bouncy furniture, walls, ceiling and floors. Mr. Goodbody has his own refrigerator in this event. The step show is a traditional activity for Black entertainment.

Duck at the Dock - Donald Duck has moored his boat, the "Miss Daisy," in Mickey's Toontown. Toontown, located just north of Fantasyland in Disneyland, is a three-dimensional, fully interactive cartoon environment where Mickey Mouse and other live. The coaster looks like it is made of large cones, matches, scissors, toothbrushes and wooden black toys. Passengers get a kick of whirling around the tracks in hallowed-out acorn cars.
I am Master Jay's new hard core rap group. Onyx, takes their rapping to heart. Their image is based on being mad about society's problems. So you won't find these four brothers grieving on their album cover, instead you will find a mad face because as group member Sticky Fingers says 'It ain't nothing to be happy about'. When I recently spoke to Sticky Fingers, Suave, Big D.S. and Fredo by phone, the guys were on fire as they answered my questions about their album and their rough image. I literally had to hold the phone a few inches away from my ear. They were yelling. It was comedy.

Their debut single "Throw Ya Guns Up" already gives you a pretty good taste of the flavor of this album. On the second track "Bust Ya Ass" they play a game of a verbal tennis match that will be, <<next time>>

When we talked about hip-hop style, the fellas indicated that they use a hard core gang style approach to music with as much energy as a wild screaming rock band, you will have a good feel for Onyx.

Though the beats are new working with Jam Master Jay, a few years back they were trying to come up on Profile Records. But as Sticky Fingers tells it, "When we were on Profile our style was totally different. We had a country sound. But we changed through a lot of problems as far business will go. Today it's kind of like that's why our whole outlook on everyday change. Today our daily at Profile the fellas have developed a serious attitude but see their anger as being realistic. We're trying to help young Black youth to stand up and have some backbone. You gotta be prepared for the worst of all times cause you don't know what the future has in store for you" according to Fredo.

Get out of High School and into College

Dear Readers:

I recently use a contest, "All I really need is..." and asked you to reply with satisfying your needs. Here are a few of the entries from the writing contest which are the following. They no need no expense for the contest.

"All I really need is... an abortion? No. Pity? No. Nothing? No. A lot of love? Yes. A place to stay? Yes. Helping me?" The answer to this question is easily found out that I'm pregnant. I believe we live on a very modest income. This could not get these books, we could use them for school reports and stuff. We always go to the library for books because we never have much gas in our car. My dad has to save his kids to go to work. We could also use the encyclopedias to read when there is nothing good on TV. We could learn all about space, the universe, and all kinds of things. She is still emotionally distraught. I know that she would be okay with us. She wanted to have a child with us. I can get you the best part of these things.

Mr. W... Tacoma, WA

"All I really need is..." an abortion? No. Pity? No. Nothing? No. A lot of love? Yes. A place to stay? Yes. Helping me?" The answer to this question is easily found out that I'm pregnant. G... Bixby, OK

Dear Mr. Ross: A huge background. After my dad died in '97, my sister lived with my mother in the country 17 miles from the nearest town. There are apples that are ripe and green and rose under the house. In the past, my mother had him sit down with her children, to scare them away. A year ago they were in the yard so my sister, loaded the gun and headed out to scare them off. She stopped and fell, and the gun went off killing my mother. Her only income was my mother's Social Security. Since my mom's passing, my sister has a minimum wage job at a hospital. After paying for the funeral, she was left with no money. The house has no running water and is heated by a wood burning stove. She is in emotionally distraught. I know that any money you could send her would not end her problems, but it would help make things a little better. We are both in the house and could use some help. I hear her crying in the street. I don't know what to do."

Mr. W... Bixby, OK

Dear Mr. W.: A tragic accident usually produces the "why" syndrome for the person whose harm caused it. "Why did this happen to me?" is a common question that can be asked when there is no apparent answer. I'm in favor of giving your sister a new "why" question. What would you do if you were helping me?" The answer to this question is easily answered because I should be on the way. May it be the beginning of good things for your sister.

Mrs. C. E... Columbus, OH

Thank you! It is a wonderful day. When there is nothing good on TV, we can't see it. Need would benefit your future. Among those selected as need is "... that all these sad and horrid things, we read, hear and see, will no longer be."

CHESS CLUB TEACHES YOUTH TO THINK

The Stratton Chess Club was founded by its current director, Joe Neal Jr. Before the Chess Club began, Neal noted that all programs of the Community Center were athletics oriented and began a chess club at the request of concerned parents and Williams. The important advantage to having a chess club is that it teaches the kids to handle confidence in their ability to think, as well as, new and jump," says Neal. The chess club has operated for six years an impressive list of corporate sponsors that provide incentive awards to club members including: Sizler, McDonal, KFC, Bank of America, Cal State University, Edward Theatre, U.A. Theatre, Pizza Hut, Thrifty's and Pizza Hut. "All prizes are designed to form a consistent work ethic. Primarily displayed on the prizes awarded this year, the awards ceremony was an 18-speed bicycle which shall be the grand prize for the winning student selected for April.

Neal is assisted by Paul Moore Jr. (Assistant Club Director) and Thurmond Howard Jr, a volunteer instructor. For additional information call on the Stratton Chess Club call (909) 782-3355.
Evidence shows that there is a model Black personality or psychological development pattern of Black Americans. I think the Black developmental pattern of Black Americans is unique in that this is a group of people six or seven generations from slavery. These people had no developed some method of functioning for survival. In this new land, where they were brought against their will, they were not overwhelmed by their experiences in the New World because they came from a complex social and economic life. The people of West Africa were essentially community rather than by the nobility; next were the people were accorded many political rights. However, everyone was regarded as important to the society and brought with them to this culture, both as a part of recreational activities. Religious ceremonials and athletic competitions. Music was complex in scale and rhythm, with arrangements usually featuring responsive chorus patterns. Music was still used as a source of expression. It tells the story of inner feelings of the Black man, whether that feeling is good or bad, short or long.

One of the persistent myths concerns the Negro slave that he did protest his oppression. Although no single slave revolt succeeded, he learned to use these land while between 1699 and it has been historically lacked the threat of revolt. This fact is brought about by a series of slave revolts. Between 1668 and 1864, at least a hundred and nine separate revolts occurred on land, while between 1699 and 1845, fifty five revolts took place on ships at sea. Many variables, such as the racial and vertical mobility was possible.

The land and the Black person was brought to America and sold into slavery. In Africa, they had certain beliefs and these customs and practices were brought with them to the land. Funeral, Jung, and other psychologists theorized on the various concepts of personality. Freud's concept being that the personality of a person is developed during the first three years of his life. The concept being of course, that personality development is a process and was regarded as everyone that only the books that he had access to were the Bible and books of the Usache Remus or Brother Rabbit. He read and used these books to his advantage. The concept of characters in some of the books was brought as a n Black man and served to keep the Black man thought in of what was the source of strength.

Music and dancing played an important role in African culture. Religious ceremonies and athletic competitions. Music was complex in scale and rhythm, with arrangements usually featuring responsive chorus patterns. Music was still used as a source of expression. It tells the story of inner feelings of the Black man, whether that feeling is good or bad, short or long.

These were the sameBuffaloes who beat two of the NFC's best teams - San Francisco & New Orleans - during the regular season, and during the game. How else to figure? I concur the Buffalo defense shut down the Bills. They're a superior team, but 33 points better, no way.

So once again, what's the deal with the Bills? A super psychological black eye? Everything that can go wrong to a football team, happened to them. At the end of the game I was thinking about the millions of people focusing on the Cowboys and the NFL and I just felt good. Plus the fact that we will have all but five players under contract, thereby maintaining spattered, rogue, used and defeated NFL opponents in the upcoming season.

Bill Would Register Repair Shops For Fraud

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Requiring auto repair shops to register would give the state a way to cut down on the more than 30,000 repair-fraud complaints received each year, Agriculture Commissioner Bob Crawford said.

Crawford said Wednesday that about 30,000 Florida customers a year call the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and more than 3,000 file written complaints about overcharges, unauthorized and unnecessary repairs, poor quality and charges for repairs never made.

"Though there are many good facilities, he told a news conference at a Tallahassee Chrysler showroom that consumers are still victims," Crawford said.

Crawford said the state Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services will begin issuing registrations to auto repair facilities this month, with the law effective Jan. 1.

"We're going to keep the repair industry's quality and charges for repairs overcharges, unauthorized and

Tallahassee, on Thursday it earned $356 million in the fourth quarter, averaging about $701 per share, in 1992, Crawford said.

The department has responded to consumer complaints in the past by taking criminal action. In September, six employees of Tallahassee Tire were arrested on theft charges stemming from repair fraud.

One customer who had complained to the department about Tallahassee Tire, said the news conference the shop had promised to give more than $400 in work that other shops, and the department, determined were unnecessary.

"They tried to make repairs that I didn't need even after I told them I was a single parent and couldn't afford it," he said.

The earnings also will contribute to the first profit-sharing checks for hourly Chrysler workers in four years.

The No. 3 U.S. automaker gained a full point of market share, from 12.4 percent to 13.4 percent in 1992, and analysts expect Chrysler will continue to contribute to the first profit-sharing checks for hourly Chrysler workers in four years.

Crawford said. "It is a vote of confidence in those craftsmen who do the job well."

"What we are going to do is raise the standard for an industry which we feel is very important," Rejaz said. "We report people who cut your hair in Florida."

Annual fees would be $25 for shops with 1-5 employees, $150 for 6-10 employees and $300 for 11 or more employees, not including bookkeepers or administrative personnel.

New York and California register auto repair shops, Michigan and Hawaii register shops and also require mechanisms to be certified, the department said.

Other members of the auto service trade group backing the legislation include Star Import Service Inc., Gainesville; Van's Auto Body Inc., Jacksonville; Miami Springs Auto Service, Miami Springs; B & E Auto Body, Naples; and Automotive One Inc., Longwood, and Crown Paint & Body, Pensacola, department officials said.
