Fighting Crime With The Ex-Chief

By Lucas Baker

The police chief's job is under daily scrutiny. That's why in Los Angeles the police chief has to have “just cause”. That is how he can get fired.

Richardson said, “There was a chief that was quite unpopular because of the way he had related to the community. He was later exoneraed. Now the chief is a beach bum” and “quite rebellious as a youngster”. That's why in Los Angeles the police chief's job is under “just cause”.

Richardson said, “I was a beach bum and I was a beach bum”. He was later exoneraed. Now the chief is a beach bum” and “quite rebellious as a youngster”.

Linford "Sonny" Richardson

Born in Riverside, California, Richardson spent his early years in San Diego. His family moved to Riverside in 1957.

“I was a beach bum and quite rebellious as a youngster” said ex-police chief Linford “Sonny” Richardson.

They Have A Dream

Commentary by Wavundu Changamire

The Black Voice was not invited. Speaker Willie Brown and his fellow Black officers were disrespectfully assorted and other Black officers were told to speak to the Governor.

Speaker of the Assembly, Willie Brown, Governor Pete Wilson was the guest of honor at an economic summit held by the City of Riverside, Economic Development and the Mission Inn in Riverside at the Mission Inn on Friday.

African-Americans were not only “not invited but we were treated as if we were in South Africa.”

WIDER COMPREHENSION CEREMONY TO BE HELD

In recognition of the 25 years that the former U.S. District Judge Innis Minor has served as the Honorary Mayor of Redlands, the Redlands Chamber of Commerce will be holding a Wider comprehension ceremony to honor him.

Bob Scoppett, director of street planning and ad firm BBDO Los Angeles, said that problem was one that could be compared with other disciplines, advertising doesn't attract as many minority applicants.

Bob Scoppett’s address is: BBDO, 1001 Wilshire Blvd, 16th Floor, Los Angeles CA 90003. Telephone: (213) 381-4172 - Editor

Benita Roberts Named First Black JUSD Superintendent

Mrs. Roberts received support from other management in the district and her former colleagues, such as Mayor Campbell and Stovin Edmonds—the other two assistant superintendents. Mrs. Roberts, position will be assumed by the district's current serving as the JUSD’s House of Education.

JUSD Board President, Sam Knight, said he was pleased with the selection of Mrs. Roberts as the new superintendent. "We won't miss a beat," he added, "I support the hiring of Mrs. Roberts."

Mrs. Roberts said she does not have any qualms about her abilities to run the 10,000- student, 1,300 employed staff district.

Mrs. Roberts lives with her husband Bernard Roberts, a former Lynn stock broker in Indian Hills. The couple have been married 32 years, a son, Edwin, and a daughter, Joa.
DEAR EDITOR:
Three-fourths of the people in the Simi Valley jury had relatives in the police department.
I was called for jury duty on another case and I was told they didn't want anyone attached to relatives in the police department. So why was I first (Rodney King) trial permitted? I don't believe it was to effect the destruction of last April in Los Angeles, but the jury just was not fair.

Name held by request.

DEAR MRS. BROWN:
Editor Prominent format Black American Association is grateful to you for your contribution of art and other materials donated to help make Martin Luther King's Day and Black History Month a success at our facility. This is the first event we have attempted to present, as we are a fairly new established group at Pomona. Thanks to you, the exhibit was a hit and KFFA received many commendations.

Again thanks for your appreciated contribution.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR (Black Voice News)

I am remotely saddened by the recent TV and newspaper pictures of armed imos in armored trucks petering for possiblly a new civil war. Looks to me like a battle for dollars. If those dollars were utilized to educate and provide jobs for those less fortunate, it would avoid the need for war. The other group is refused parole, interviewed by the news media, chauffeured in armored trucks, pictures of filled troops in armored trucks practicing for possible war against the country, we call America. So all this talk of the "with liberty and justice for all", that we recite in the Pledge of Allegiance, prevailed in our "equal justice under the law" systems, perhaps there would be no need for the armed preparations.

Residents of our neighborhoods (in every city) that we contrary to what we believe the "with liberty and justice for all", that my neighbor, that is, me, you, and the entire Black community is entitled to places in the cabinet. Under the interim plan, the White minority government of President de Klerk would have the ability of joining the South African National Party, which has majority rule in South Africa. The Black majority government of Mandela will be chosen by the White minority government of President de Klerk, according to the agreement, which takes the constitution out of the hands of the Black African American government and tossed it to the hands of a group of whites. We are promised to share power in a program Black America promised to have for the past 20 years, but not because of a program or the opinions or the publishers. The Black Voice newspaper is a weekly published on Thursday by Hardy Mandlakazi in Simi Valley, California.

 precios As You Are

Gerl's Corner

Fearing the unknown may allow the comfort of my arms, to be afraid of the cold and the nightmarish beast within.

Gaze into my eyes, seeking to understand a woman willing.

To my called heart, I miss my gently Precious one.

Precious as you are, I will always love you, feeling it as precious gold, protecting it as if fragile crystal.

Sensing your fears, of losing the protection of self control, and the realization of the gate will be a time to let our blisses become.

Take your time to know the truth, share your feelings, our true identities, and first to true ourselves.

I understand your Preciousness, if not what you need. Wanting to set you free.

But when an "integrated" opportunity were open, the middle-class, benefiting to prefer to move in with African American communities.

What is the state of Black America today? "Which one?" I thought to myself, the one we meet about everyday, being devoured by crime and drugs and everything else, the so-called underclass? Or, was there any "middle-class" middle class that lives and works mostly in the White world and has invested in their own capital to grow the inhabitants of the Black minority world with one foot in the country and the other in the White minority world.

Oh, or perhaps, the one who made up the word Black American when the old Black American of the civil rights era when all Black economic groups bonded not the White America against an apparent evil and vowed that we would not rest until our brother's and sister's keeper. It was indeed a time when I thought the Black American was going to the White America and we would get what we wanted.

I was wrong.

According to my research, England who graduated from college and earned high wages, who could write in the French language, who became a slave, were encouraged to go back where they came from, and they did.

It is precisely what happened to Black America when her most skilled workers, her social institutions and her human capital and its non-Black institutions and capabilities. Technology is not the only thing that left poor Black behind.

However, of those who were educated, thanks to Black American who expressed their community, who served their community, who offered their services and their years without pay, they are now the people who have made the South American of today.

The Thinning Line Between Right And Wrong

By Jennifer Talley, Student at California Baptist College in Riverside

Comically the line between good, proper behavior and wrong, destractive behavior in Black America and the world is not proscribed as anything, except as choices to be made by an individual. When you see the line like reality or not, it's a choice.

SCENT OF A WOMAN

Dear Dr. Levister: I have spent a fortune on perfumes, powders and anti-perspirants aimed at keeping away body odor. My husband says I am an odor. Is there more that is simple to prepare to handle body odor? L.C.

Dear L.C.: Americans can really wrangle up the federal deficit with the billions we spend on products to mask body odor. Too often we choose to spend $50.00 on a bottle of Chanel when a $2.00 bottle of soap will do the job. It seems that we have an "obsession" with getting rid of what are known as "normal" body odors. Europeans do not take in many baths or showers as Americans. This is the reason the European and American methods in the production of perfumes differ.

The accumulation of perspiration and bacteria cause body odor. Ordinary deodorant or plain old glycerine soap usually work. Some people who have an over active body chemistry, you may need antiseptic soaps to knock out the bacteria that drive on sweat. The areas of greatest concern are the armpits and crotch.

Next to your body, you clothes are the worst offenders, particularly in warm weather. Do your laundry carefully and use a good quality detergent which can repel the bacteria but also allows your body to breathe or the sweat to evaporate more easily.

If you put your body in an atmosphere as important as what you put on it. Some people with chronically strong body odor may love garlic, onions, curry and spicy dishes.

Oils from these foods may linger for hours and produce offensive odors when your body sweats them out. If you reach for commercial odor control products to fight body odor, consider anti-perspirants. Deodorants alone just mask the odor, without necessarily fighting the bacteria that causes it. Most commercially anti-perspirants have deodorants in them, but they also reduce the amount of perfume produced by the body.

Then there are the old fashioned methods that our grandmothers found just as effective. Try dusting yourself with a mixture of sand or pumice sand. Two parts cornstarch following your bath. A light sprinkle under the arms and in the creases with baking soda make an effective dusting agent. Do not develop microscopic slits, particularly in the crotch. Consult your doctor for advice.

Dwayne, I have been using a bottle of simple good glycerine soap and can not smell any bad odor. You are right, the body needs "normal" odor. Most deodorants can not provide the many of their users. Dr. Levister believes that deodorants should "dust" the body with a mist of the scent of a woman." Do you cook often? Cover the kitchen, confidence. - Eunice Williamson

A COMFORTABLE KITCHEN

The kitchen has long been the center of the home, where we would go to get warm - inside or out. Many have memories of someone - mother or Father's baking, drawing us to the kitchen. Maybe, we remember standing around the stove watching her work magic. Perhaps for this reason, when entertaining, guests seem to linger in the kitchen.

Consider placing a love seat or two in the kitchen. Eunice is limited, perhaps just an occasional chair. Before your guests arrive, place a few bars of scented cold cloth rag on the table and you are set to entertain.

Why not make your decorating scheme reflect your personality. Are you a gourmet chef? Incorporate thosewithout judging others to the doors - wooden doors, spice grater, whisk, a few items can be placed in beautiful, color coordinated ceramic jars.

Other items can be hung on the walls for a two-fall expense - it will decorate your kitchen and it will also make the items more accessible.

Are you a home gardener? Is growing produce from your garden a hobby? If so, arrange your canning jars on a open self. Balance the color of the jars, green, brown, blue, etc. For a red wall home look, interpose your canning jars with kitchen utensils. Do you cook often? Cover your walls with posters, roll advertising for easy cleaning. Today's advertising comes in a wide range of colors and styles to fit any decorating scheme. Window treatments can range from mini blinds, pleated, verticals or shades for the most functional kind of treatment. Windows are capped off with simple valance or cornices. After all this preparation, go back, relax and enjoy your guests in the warmth of the hearth of your home - the kitchen.

The real cutting board can save your life

QUESTION: What advice can you provide to consumers on cutting boards?

ANSWER: Recent media reported an unpublished study by two Wisconsin researchers that indicated wooden cutting boards are safer than plastic. The researchers tested seven different species of wood and plastic boards and found that plastic boards needed to be rinsed two or three times in order to recover those bacteria alive. They tested boards made from seven different species of trees and four types of plastic.

Although this research has not yet been published in a peer-reviewed journal, it is consistent with another study done by two Wisconsin researchers published in a peer-reviewed journal. The researchers purposefully passed bacteria made of seven different species of wood and plastic through cutting boards, and then evaluated the extent of the bacteria that persisted. The researchers also compared the ability of different cutting boards to reduce bacteria, and whether the bacteria that did persist was killed or not. They found that wooden boards were more effective in reducing bacteria than plastic boards. Wooden boards also had a lower bacterial load than plastic boards. Wooden boards were also easier to clean than plastic boards.

Consumers should clean and sanitize all cutting boards. A little bit of water and a clean sponge can go a long way in keeping your kitchen free of bacteria.

Free shipping, $50.00 on a bottle of Chanel when a $2.00 bottle of soap will do the job.

The Miller Brewing Company hosted recently a celebration at the Southland Corporation's headquarters to commemorate the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and unveil the 1993 Miller "Gallery of Graces." Nobel civil rights attorney Fred D. Gray, and broadcast media executive Percy E. Sutton who are each featured in the Gallery of Greats exhibition, were on hand to assist in the unveiling of the 1993 Gallery.

"The individuals honored in this year's gallery exemplify the heroes of our community," said Noel Hankin, Miller's director corporate relations. "It is our hope that the Gallery will provide all people with a better understanding and appreciation for the contributions African-Americans have made to living and deceased, who have made significant contributions to American culture in business, education, politics and the performing arts. All the artists commissioned by Miller to do a corporate contribution to the portraits are African-Dallas-based Paul Quinn College.

In addition to the unveiling, Southland and Miller also made Sickle Cell Issues To Be Discussed On KUCR

This Sunday, KUCR's African-American Awareness talk show will focus on two very important health issues for the Black community: sickle cell disease and the need for minority bone marrow donors.

Sickle cell issue will be presented by Dr. David Cole of Loma Linda University Medical Center, and Joya Williams from the Sickle Cell Organization of the Intand Counties. The show airs live and listeners are encouraged to call in with their questions and comments on (909) 787-KUCR.

African Christians Fight Over Holy Sepulcher

BY KARIN LAUB

switching locks, burning deals - anything goes in the War between Ethiopian and Egyptian Copts over properties in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. One of Christendom's most sacred shrines.

Israel is stepping in to settle the centuries-old dispute over two stone chapels and a disputed rock tomb, but is moving cautiously to avoid sparking conflict between Egypt and Ethiopia.

In Lebanon, it may look like an undignified squabble over real estate, but the Copts and Ethiopians see it as a matter of survival in the Holy Land, where they are among the smallest of Christian communities.

"The two chapels were given to us by our ancestors. They are ours and we want them in Jerusalem."

The 4th century Holy Sepulcher in the walled Old City is built over the site where Christ was believed to have been crucified and buried. The holiness of the site is murky. "No one has any strong document," said Uri Meir, a charge of Christian matters in Israel's Religious Affairs Ministry.

The Ethiopians, who trace their roots to the Holy Land to the biblical Queen of Sheba, say they had dealt to the properties, but the Copts seized and burned the papers in 1833.

The Ethiopians struck back in 1970 where the Copts had the keys to St. Michael's Chapel of the Four Animals, which contains the chapel's classrooms and library, before a compromise can even be discussed.

Coptic Archbishop Aristide Abraham said the Ethiopians would give up the keys to the Deir el Sultan complex, which contains the chapel's classrooms and library, before a compromise can even be discussed.

The Copts, one of the oldest Christian sects, have been farming in Israel since 1898, while the Ethiopians have about 300 church buildings in Jerusalem, but the Copts have never been invited to the site while the dispute is simmering.

A school board member who is also an employed by the Institute for Creation Research has asked a curriculum committee to confer with a biologist professor John Tuohy, who said that "If Creation and Populous Origins..." is a treat on creationism, it is a "false concept..."

"It's a thoughtful book that fairly challenges the evolution theory taught in science classes." Tuohy said Friday, after asking the district's Science Curriculum Development Committee to review the book. "If they come back and say they're teaching theology, then so be it." He said he wanted the book considered as a possible supplement to high school biology textbooks.

Thanks a Million
Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share it with others. He often writes letters in which he shares how he came about his wealth and how he dedicates his time to helping others.

Pictorial Review

The Birds, The Bees & Necessities

Dear Mr. Ross:
I've written you 4 times and all I've ever asked for was help with winter coats and clothing. Well, all except for the winter coats and clothing I asked for. We are a family of four. We have no money to buy the clothes we need.

Dear Mr. Ross:

Dear Mrs. H.: It's not often, but sometimes I regret having written this column. Your letter pictures just how inadequate my ability is to fund all who request assistance. I don't want any more than I'm entitled to, either. As you can see, I'm only trying to do a little good.

Dear Mr. Ross:

Chris Rock Makes Rap Comedy
"CB4" a rap comedy, is scheduled for release nationwide March 12. "CB4" is directed by Beverly A. Jackson, a long-time filmmaker, actress, and member of the National Association of Female Executives. She was proclaimed an International Thousand Notable American Professional of Philadelphia. Beverly is a listed biographer in Who's Who in American Women and a history-making African-American director to be over (5) Is Someone Stealing Your Heart, (6) Tell Me, and "Rap artists are a little larger than life," says George. “One of the challenges we faced in writing ‘CB4’ was to take something that’s already so big and comedy.” They played around with several working titles in the storyline. Chris Rock is in his first season as a cast member of “Saturday Night Live” and sometimes appears in numerous comedy specials on television. Last year he released his first comedy album, "Born Suspect." George never made a really good rap movie on opening day and come away disappointed.

When Chris Rock first approached Nelson George with the idea for the "CB4" several years ago, before "Saturday Night Live," and brought him into the spotlight. The first time Rock pitched the story, George initially kicked him out and told him to come back when he had more. "I was broke then," says Rock. "I had nothing to do, so I came back the next day with two pages of notes. This time I

The 1993 Lincoln Mark VIII Is World-Class

The 1993 Lincoln has been evident in Marks and continued to the Mark VIII. The Continental nameplate was part of the Mark series beginning with the Mark III and continued to the Mark VII. In the mid-1980s, the Mark cars became dissociated from the Continental nameplate to become a separate Lincoln car line. Americans definitely have been thinking about Ford and the Mark for over 30 years.

The original Mark appeared under the Lincoln Continental nameplate in 1939, and was labeled by Edsel Ford as the "best car in the world." With these words Ford has made history with a reputation for innovation and quality.

Today, were Edsel or Henry alive in this competitive motor environment, the buttons on their pin stripe 19"39, and was labeled by Edsel Ford as the "best car in the world." With these words Ford has made history with a reputation for innovation and quality.

The spacious five-passenger 1993 Lincoln Mark VIII Coupe is powered by an all-new aluminum 4.6-liter Ford V8 engine producing a road-commanding 300 horsepower surge. It thunders up to a sound 250 foot-pounds of torque at 4500 revolutions per minute (rpm) and houses the first all-aluminum V-8 engine mass produced by Ford. This powerplant is the culmination of more than 60 years of company experience in building V-8 engines.

The millions of African-Americans who are of the generation when the Mark II was introduced will find the Mark VIII still reflects a body of carbuilding knowledge and conviction that has flowed from one generation of Marks to the next. In the 1993 Mark, Black luxury car buyers now have the opportunity to be proud of American products again.

The Mark VIII follows the mandate of the Marks that many of us have built and most of whom drive now. The state-of-the-art technology of this eighth generation Mark should be experienced by those of us still seeking a rare and regal experience. Those of us who know and seek the best will see instantly that the new Mark enhances the envelope of technology while elevating the level of car luxury.

For ride, comfort, safety and from-the-pack design, African-American luxury car buyers would do well to check out this driver-oriented American product before they end up with something else that is probably less.

more successful than any other Police department with Project RAD, Riverside Against Drugs. The concept is that if police are considered as teachers, making them knowledgeable and responsive to the community, then successful results. Drugs dropped 17% in the last five years. The key is to have enough officers and they can be used to their full potential. Gangs are more entrepreneurial," said Richardson.
