Cesar Chavez is shown here at his prime. At a news conference in Miami, Florida, in 1973, Chavez also launches the first contract labor for migrant workers in Florida's his- toric citrus industry. Chavez was launched with the support of the United Farm Workers, which he founded after a strike against the California packing houses in 1965.

- Wednesday, May 5: A Native American Recognition Banquet will be held at Raincross Square.

The lower part of his body was covered by a UW flag - a single flag on the ground. The flag also bore the words, "Our mission is a safe and just food supply.

Meanwhile, Richard Chavez led a crew that was constructing the cement pad for the plain coffins that will be used for the burial of his brother. The UW president had asked that if he died, he wanted his brother to make the coffin because Richard Chavez was a journeyman carpenter before joining the union, said spokesman Marc Grossman.

A blue rosemary and a single red rose from his widow, Helen, were rested in Chavez' crossed hands.

A misfire will be recycled on Wednesday, noon.

Cesar Chavez Dies

In 1993, Cesar Chavez, the labor leader and founder of the United Farm Workers, passed away. He was 66 years old. Chavez was a key figure in the fight for workers' rights and was a strong advocate for farm workers throughout his life. He was a symbol of the power of collective action and a champion of social justice.

The United Farm Workers (UFW) was a labor union formed in California in 1962 by Cesar Chavez and Dolores Huerta. The union aimed to organize farm workers and improve their working conditions, wages, and benefits. Chavez and Huerta led a series of food boycotts and farmworker strikes, which gained widespread support and media attention. Their efforts led to the passage of laws that improved working conditions for farm workers.

Chavez and Huerta were leaders in the UFW's efforts to organize farmworkers and establish better working conditions. The UFW played a key role in the passage of the Agricultural Labor Relations Act in 1975, which granted farmworkers the right to organize and bargain collectively for higher wages and better working conditions.

Cesar Chavez was a tireless advocate for workers' rights and continues to inspire millions around the world. His legacy lives on through the United Farm Workers and their ongoing fight for justice and equality for all workers.

They get record, including those who actively opposed him, didn’t tell him the hit. For the information of Minor and others who think like him, according to the Census, in 1940, 12.3% of Blacks finished high school; Whites were higher with 41.2%. completing high school; this number continued to rise while Whites were at 85.9%. Look how far we have come. There is virtually no difference; however, in the pay there is still a difference. They say the gap is in an amount equal to $1,816,614 mostly. In 1988 this was prominently displayed, causing her much personal concern. Such criticism, however, has profoundly sensitized, indirectly and personally those acts of omission and The Chess Club and the San Bernardino Chapter of the National Rifle Club have been very active. Every time we face such issues forthrightly, we increase the knowledge and understanding of the public.
In addition to presenting many of the best and most popular restaurants in the area, Taste of the Island Empire 1993 will also serve up a first-rate concert event according to concert organizer Dennis Watson.

Taste "93 will feature four separate musical segments: reggae, country, rock, and jazz/R&B," said Watson. "We want to appeal to musicians as well as food and drink connoisseurs."

The reggae/street drum concert will feature Calypso Cypress and will run from 6-1:30 PM. The country concert will feature local feather artist Heather Sax, who has a CD out called Just Like Old Times. Heather Mykle will perform from 2:30-5:30 PM. A double-brassed barbell segment at 4 PM will kick off the rest of the music with a local group, The Hardway Band. Singing, Bob Demetriou on bass and vocals, Robert Menus on guitar and vocals, David Thomas on drums, and Mark Eckhart on drums. The Hardway Band plays a variety of blues styles from Big King to Robert Cray and can be seen heard at John Hill. The Magic John Band performed last year's Taste to an enthusiastic audience and will bring a surfeit of passion and bluesy sound to the event.

At last year's Taste of the Island Empire will present with great strength the John Novello Group, featuring John Novello on keyboards and vocalist Gloria Nash. Novello set the tone for last year's Taste with a mellow upbeat professionalism that earned the highest praise from last year's Taste-goers.

Restaurants featured at Taste '93 include Callah's, Woodward's, Panda Inn, Centr-West, Mel's Inn (Cafe/Center), Riverside, PlacWestern/Sea, Place/Riverside, La Chine/Ontario, Bengal, Kitchen/Riverside, The Olive Dog/Dimora, Mrs. Moses/Spencer, Pacific Grill/Airport Marlini, Rosa/Ontario, Spoon's/Spencer, Las Casas/Spencer, Black Angus/Ontario, Brazil/Riverside, Black Tie BBQ/Ontario, Taste of New Orleans/Riverside, and many more.

Dear Dr. Leviser: Is it true that 20 years post vasectomy men have an 80% increased risk of developing prostatic cancer? Vasectomy users are more malignant in the Black Tie tie and down.

Dear Vasectomized: 15 percent of all American men between the ages of 40 have had a vasectomy (the severing of the tube via which semen is transported from the testes to the penis). This is probably the safest and most effective means of contraception. Outside of condom use it is the only available method of male contraception.

Two Harvard studies recently published showed that men who are 20 plus years post-vasectomy have a higher risk of developing prostate cancer. This was large, well designed and well reported studies. One should note that the main risk factors for prostate cancer are age and family history. The disease appears to be genetic, particularly in the male.

There are several reasons why a fear of prostate cancer based on these two studies should not cause you to avoid vasectomy and certainly should not lead you to seek to reverse it: (1) All the studies that looked at the risk of prostate cancer post vasectomy have inconclusive results. (2) There is no plausible explanation for a vasectomy-cancer link. (3) Over the association between vasectomy and prostate cancer in the two studies was statistically significant, only in men who had a vasectomy post 40 years old. This may be that men who choose vasectomy are more health conscious.

The answers are not an answer, perhaps the plan for other studies will help.

State Treasurer Comes To Town

Recently, Kathleen Brown, State Treasurer, came to town to announce a new bond release. "The Bond will allow working people to save for their children's education," she said. The Thursday Morning Group and their guests, at Pedrito's Restaurant. She was introduced by Attorney Jane Canary. Canney said this event was not a fund-raiser, and was called to introduce the community to Brown. Canney called her the "most exciting person in public life in the State of California.

Brown, who will probably be the first female Governor, also said she has gone up and down the state with an unofficial survey asking what makes our State unique. "I asked Publisher Brown, the question and she said the diversity of the people, is what makes it unique." Brown continued, "We must address these strengths and build upon them.

Brown sounded as though she was concerned about the survival of our State and had more concern for all the people than any Governor we've had for several years. She will be even more compassionate than her brother.

She privately told Black Voice News she will be running for the State's top post.

Brown will be the first female Governor, we've ever had. Her experience is wide. She is responsible for managing the state's $20 Billion investment portfolio.

She will also be attending the Women and Business Expo, May 27, at Raincross, co-sponsored by Black Voice.

Attorney Elise Traynum welcomes Brown.

Human Relations Commissioner Ben Johnson gives her card to Brown.

The Great Minivan Search: Ford Wrap Up

By Carl Dameron

Last week we ran out of space as we discussed the attributes of the Ford Aerostar. For those that missed the beginning of the article we will rehash the entire story of the Aerostar.

Carol, (my girlfriend who is limited to give me 13 children. That’s a joke. More, I present) present child Kelsey (a four-year-old that looks like he is eight or ten). I hope will be a seven footer with a great three point shot and our usual dealership shuffle beginning with Riverside Chrysler Plymouth (see last issue for the details).

The next stop was Pete Ford in Riverside. They have Hispanics, and African Americans openly working at the dealership.

Our first sales representative was Hispanic, but he had to help another customer. Our next guy was a Jim Sylvain. A man, but frightened European-American. The Aerostar is a nice minivan. Here are the good points.

The interior is decent, the seats are comfortable, and the ride is decent.

There is a nice sound system with available AM/FM cassette or CD. The middle passenger seat has the child seats and fold-down like the Voyager.

The Aerostar is available with a 4.0 liter V-6 multi-point fuel injected engine.

The Aerostar has rear wheel drive, which makes it a perfect vehicle for towing anything up to 6,000 lbs. Say a boat or camper. This is greater towing capacity than any other Minivan. There is also a four-wheel drive model available.

The comfort features are all there: electric mirrors, power door locks, rear window wipers, eight-way power seats, rear radio control with head phones for the rear passengers, and air conditioning vents. The seats easily move out of the way for rear storage and the middle seat is easily removable.

The bad points - it has a boxy unattractive shape and if only has rear anti-lock brakes, not front and rear. The heater has ton of cheap looking plastic. There are middle seat air and head vents in the high and Eddie Bauer model only.

The other Aerostar models have rear air.

There are no rear cup holders, but lots of storage space in mesh covered side panels and the rear speaker grill still fall of the wall when Carol bumped it.

Next week the top five Aerostar models will be listed and finally number one mini-van in America will be named.

According to Ken Waddell, Sales Manager at Fritz Ford there are 15 Aerostar models.

The following base prices are for the five most popular:

The XL 400A regular length two wheel drive is $13,995. XL 400A extended length two wheel drive is $16,395.

The XL Plus 401A regular length two wheel drive is $15,423. The XL 401A extended length two wheel drive is $18,725.

The price for top of the line regular length two wheel drive Eddie Bauer 405A is $23,925. The extended length four wheel drive Eddie Bauer 405A is $25,795.

For the 4 wheel drive option on any model add about $3,000.

Overall, I thought the Ford Aerostar was a good product. It has a good, tough off road, and it had adequate power.

I do like the rear wheel drive. It would increase the handling characteristics of the Minivan in panic or crisis driving situations. Rear wheel drive also makes the Aerostar the vehicle of choice if you planned to tow anything big over a long distance.

The price of the XL Plus was $21,485. For that money I would by the $20,995.

Carol, at first surprisingly preferred the Ford Aerostar over the Mercury Villager.

Her rational is that the "Aerostar is an older model that has all the bags out of work." Carol is very frightened by buying the first model year of any vehicle. "I don't want to be the test male for any car company.

When I told Carol that the Mercury Villager is a Nissan, and is in its second year of production, she says OK, I'll take the Villager.

My vote. The overall winner is still the Mercury Villager.
Ice-T Invades Your Home With New Album And Label

Brief

ISBN SHOPPING BY BILL JOHNSON

EAST - WEST RECORDS

Everyone has been getting schooled since Ice Cube and his crew of South Central LA rappers started the Store Knowledge genre.

KAM, the most recently released, keeps the momentum going with his slammint' debut single "Peace Trump" that deals with afterwards of the L.A. rebellion including the newsmaking peace treaty of the Bloods and Crips. KAM deals with several other socially concerned issues in songs like the title descriptive "Sesame" which bops Biz Markie's beat from "Vapors"; little track "Neva Again" supports ideas that group Amrod Development discussed in their song "Fishin' 4 Religion". It tells people that change does not occur by being passive; and the favorite "Holiday Madness" that gives listeners some background on America's most popular holidays.

If you already have Cube, Yo, Yo, Da lock Mob and Del, you definitely don't want to sleep on KAM. Look out for the Boogie Men, another Store Knowledge crew in to hit the stores this summer.

CHRISTOPHER WILLIAMS

LIFETIME shff ICE MAKER CHANGED - I'll admit, I'm one of those fans who turn his channel when a Christopher Williams video comes on. I love to tease all the women in the room. But on a man-to-man level, I give Chris props for his latest LP, "Changes" that lyrically deals with a lot of spiritual and emotional changes the man has gone through during the past few years.

This time around, Williams tells us it's medically the real deal. He gave up all of the Bobby Brown using stuff like "Talk To Myself" (still a jam) from his successful "Adventures In Paradise" album. The man has a super slammint' remix of his current single "Every Little Thing You Do" as well as other sexy, put-you-in-the-mood slow. You'd think a man who's been succumbed to jumpin' but this is finally workin'.

Ice-T SYNDICATE RECORDS

HOME INVASION - Thank God Ice-T kicked Time Warner this old record label to the curb. You'd think a man who's been so influential in the evolution of gangsta rap, Ice T would have freedom of expression. Time Warner attempted to muzzle Ice-T's million Body Count.

But now, Ice-T has his own label Syndicate Records. The first release is Ice-T's new "Home Invasion" album. Let me break this down for you. The little track deals with the effects of the 1991 los Angeles riots. Ice-T worked, try playing a little Chris to set the mood. If it still doesn't work, you might get that body water's old jam and start looking for a new love.

MOJAZZ RECORDS

- Mothers of War introduced a new label called Mojazz. It's neat house and a late label, but actually Mowen reps say it will offer more than just jazz. Don't try to figure it out. Figure this: their first release is a young brotha named Norman Brown. You can say he has a jazz feel in his. Brown plays guitar and considers George Benson to be one of his influences. Brown recently performed as the Roxy in Hollywood as opening act for Elliot Brown. The packed house was groovy while Brown performed cuts from his album "It's On" and "I Ain't Nothin'". The album is the usual OG type stuff. As always, Ice-T has some funky music tracks, the grooves are nice. Also, he has no intention of jumping on any new jazz band to jumping on any new jazz band

Regular season comes to a close for the Lakers and Clippers. After covering the Los Angeles Clippers and Lakers all season, it’s safe to say their designs were full of ups and downs, as they both ended their regular seasons with wins: Clippers over Sacramento and Lakers over Portland and the Lakers advance past the first round of the playoffs. The Clippers have a better chance — on paper — to upset the Hot Rockes. Houston’s bench is thin. The loss of one of their main components, Maxwell, may be the formula for cooling down the leagues’ hottest five.

Loy Vaught, the Clipper hustler and power forward, said: “I think the mood of the team is great and that sets the tone for this team to play. As one point in the season, we were worried about problems, but we have put that behind us.”

The Lakers must man A.C. Green is ecstatic about being in the playoffs and about their chances. He said: “It is very exciting to play a team that will serve you to play at your best, and that’s what Phoenix will do. I know we can beat them. It’s a matter of doing it.”

If the Lakers are going to eclipse the Suns, they will have to find a way to stop the Charles. “No choice for NBA MVP,” Barkley from pouring beer over their heads. Earlier said they don’t.

The Clipper task might be even greater, as they will have to find a way to beat the Lakers. “No choice for NBA MVP,” O’Quinn, Hakeem, “The Dream,” has been absolutely fantastic this season.

After a 91-92 season and off seasons of offensive defensive populating, by “The Dream” and the ownership of the Rockes, they have kissed and made up and the Rockes have refiled and blazed to the upper echelon of the NBA elite.

David Robinson, Olympic and All-Star center of the San Antonio Spurs, had this to say after a 45 point torching at the hands of Hakeem: “No center has ever played as well against me. He was unstoppable.”

The Clippers and Stanley Roberts do a better job as Mr. Robinson did, or at least a quick sailing for the Clipper.

Whatever happens in the playoffs, the off season will be full of action for the Lakers and Rockes. It appears from all indications, there are going to be some major roster moves from both teams.

The Clippers and Lakers organizations have plenty of young players to build on. Let’s not write these teams off for the near future. With tie here and a tack there who knows what will happen?

Tricia Quiszon: Who did Michael Jordan tie with his 7th consecutive NBA scoring title?

Best NBA Rookie Group Ever? This group was down played during the draft, but they have surpassed or met almost all expectations.

Here is my rookie All-Stars by position:

In team: Forwards - Christian Laettner, Minnesota and Richard Dumas, Phoenix; Center - Shaquille O’Neal, Orlando; Guard - Larry Spruell, Golden State and Walt Williams, Sacramento.

2nd team: Forwards - Tom Gugliotta, Washington and LaPhonso Ellis, Denver; Center - Alonzo Mourning, Charlotte; Guard - Anthony Peeler, Lakers and Harold Minor, Miami.

Other rookies who showed they have the NBA stuff - Jim Jackson, Dallas; Clarence Weatherspoon, Philadelphia; Robert Hurry, Houston; Todd Day, Milwaukee; Oliver Miller, Phoenix.

Tricia Quiszon Answer: Will Chamberlain is the man.

Hakeem “the Dream” Olajuwon has put his heart into this season and the Rockes have rode him to the NBA Elite.

THE BIG DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A RENTER AND AN OWNER IS WHO GOES ON YOUR CHECK.

Every month millions of Americans put their hard earned money into their landlord’s pocket, instead of putting it toward their future. Why?

Because they didn’t know that for about what they’re paying in rent, they could buy a home of their own.

FOR ABOUT WHAT YOU’RE PAYING IN RENT, YOU CAN BUY THE HOME OF YOUR DREAMS.

Right now the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has lots of affordable homes available. Many require very low down payments, and are eligible for FHA-backed financing. HUD will even pay most, if not all, of your closing costs. And these homes are just waiting for you.

Call a local real estate agent for more details, today. Or for a free brochure on how to buy a HUD home, call 1-800-727-4HUD. And begin putting your check into a great investment, not your landlord’s pocket.
