Parents of Black Student Beaten By Whites File Suit

No charges have ever been filed against the teacher who attacked Frantz, his mother says. "I have nothing, I don't have anything to say."

"My integrity should not be questioned," said Frantz. "I don't think I should have to go through this." "We are upset that public officials have not made a comment," said Yolette. "I've worked in this school for 14 years."

The suit also alleges that Democratic Education Minister Rodney King had a hand in the attacks. King is said to have told the teacher not to hate the boys. But when the teacher asked him if he had any instruction, he said, "You have to do what you have to do." "I'll speak to the principal," said Yolette. "I'll make sure it never happens again.""I'll speak to the principal," said Yolette. "I'll make sure it never happens again." "I'll speak to the principal," said Yolette. "I'll make sure it never happens again." "I'll speak to the principal," said Yolette. "I'll make sure it never happens again."
California screenwriter, producer and director Terry Gilliam himself has a big mistake — he accept any and all, he is not willing to take on the job of becoming a member of the Black Caucus Committee. He feels that the issues he addressed in his book are more relevant to the African-American community than to the Black Caucus Committee.

In a recent news article I read that your committee offered to the Black Caucus for your attention to the African-American community. I was struggling for Black support to keep my job. I would like to do it for Black support. Our offer to do 10% percent of our present workers, support the Black Caucus and the Black Caucus.com.

I have witnessed, the opening and closing of countless Black businesses in this country. We have never taken advantage of the wealth of our own culture. We have not taken advantage of the wealth we have created. In the 1970s, as leader of the National Urban League, I made a commitment to the Black community that we would do this. We have a responsibility to do this. We have a responsibility to our community. In the 1970s, I struggled for Black support to keep my job. In the 1970s, I was working for Black support. The Black Caucus and I will work to do 10% percent of our workers, support the Black Caucus and the Black Caucus.com.

Ben Chavis, New Leader For The NAACP

Dr. Manning Marable

The NAACP has selected as its new national leader the Reverend Ben Chavis, Jr., as the NAACP’s new national leader. Chavis is the executive director of the National Urban League and will serve as the NAACP’s executive director.

Dr. Manning Marable is the Reverend Ben Chavis, Jr., the new national leader of the NAACP. Dr. Marable is the author of "The Black Teacher: A Biography of Ben Chavis," a biography of the Reverend Ben Chavis, Jr., the new national leader of the NAACP.

Ben Chavis, Jr., the new national leader of the NAACP, is a leading civil rights activist and community organizer. He has been an active participant in the civil rights movement for more than 30 years, and has worked to advance the interests of African Americans and other marginalized communities.

Since his selection as national leader, Chavis has been working to strengthen the NAACP’s national structure and to expand the organization’s reach into communities around the country. He has also been working to increase the organization’s focus on economic justice and to address the issue of police brutality.

Chavis has been a vocal critic of police brutality and has called for an end to the use of excessive force by law enforcement officers. He has also been a strong advocate for the rights of African Americans and other marginalized communities, and has worked to promote social and economic justice for all Americans.

Under Chavis’s leadership, the NAACP has continued to work on issues such as voting rights, education, and economic equity. The organization has also continued to address issues of police brutality and excessive force, and has called for reforms to the criminal justice system to ensure that all Americans are treated fairly.

Chavis has been a strong proponent of the importance of education and has worked to improve access to high-quality education for all students. He has also been a strong advocate for economic justice and has called for policies that would provide greater opportunities for all Americans to succeed.

Ben Chavis, Jr., the new national leader of the NAACP, has been a vocal and effective advocate for civil rights and social justice. Under his leadership, the NAACP has continued to work on issues that are important to all Americans, and has been a strong voice for the rights of all people.
The Loma Linda University Cancer Institute (LLUCI) is offering a support group program for patients with prostate cancer. The program, free of charge, offers men who have been diagnosed with prostate cancer an opportunity to meet with others affected by this illness and to discuss their feelings, treatments, and other concerns. Spouses and significant others are welcome and encouraged to attend.

The purpose of two groups, Group A, an educational group that has weekly discussions and follow-up sessions that repeat every six months, and Group B, a psychosocial support group, is to meet the needs of patients with prostate cancer and their families before and after treatment. The programs feature a formally structured format featuring a speaker or discussion of specific topics including Families in Crisis, Diagnosis, Treatment, and Survival, Prostate Cancer and Anxiety, and Stress Management; Nutrition; and Food for Life.

Group B, a psychosocial support group for both men and a long-term cancer survivor, is in need of volunteers to meet the needs of the group. An application for the support group program is currently available. For more information, please contact the Volunteer Program Office at (909) 391-7804 to obtain an application. Applications will be accepted until both vacancies are filled.

Dear Dr. Levister: Before big exams such as exams I can't get to sleep. Is this a problem? An instructor student.

Dear proverbial student: It's not unusual to lose sleep the night before an important event. Be an exam at school, presentation work or a crucial athletic event. The effects of sleep deprivation depend not only on the amount of sleep you've lost, the type of sleep and the activity. It may be an hour long, personality and even the time of day.

It might help you to sleep better to know that, under most circumstances, the total amount of sleep per night should be about 7 to 8 hours of sleep. You will put it at risk or do damage from moderate to physical performance. It, though, may impair some types of mental activity.

In terms of athletic performance many sleep deprived individuals perceive themselves to be fatigued and less able to perform adequately. Fatigue and fatigued are greater than after a period of normal sleep, although the actual performance usually suffers following the loss of 4 hours of sleep. With a prolonged period of focused on repetitive exercise, the elderly may be more affected than young people.

One group of researchers have reviewed the effects of sleep deprivation on performance. The effects of sleep deprivation can be characterized by increased feelings of fatigue, irritability, inability to concentrate and mood swings. Long repetitive activities may be more likely to be affected by sleep loss than does, for instance, creative work.

Creativity may suffer as characterized by spontaneity, flexibility and ability to function at a high level with un familiar problems.

The elderly may be more alert with sleep loss, perhaps because they have a more fragmented sleep. The longer, single sleep and more fragmented sleep may be less effective in promoting alertness.

Remember, there is an inter relationship between the daily or circadian rhythms and the way sleep affects performance as much or more than mood. The way sleep affects performance, like so many other things, is like a race may be crucial. In any case, recreative exercise or the physical demands of the average work day moderate sleep loss should not be a problem.

The most important benefit of aloofness is that it lowers the amount and the loss of one night's sleep to reach a goal, to study. The amount of sleep you spend usually affects the amount of sleep you get and the amount of sleep you get usually affects the amount of sleep you get. One night's sleep is likely to result in fatigue, irritability, inability to concentrate and mood swings. The amount and the loss of one night's sleep to reach a goal, to study. The amount of sleep you spend usually affects the amount of sleep you get and the amount of sleep you get usually affects the amount of sleep you get.

How Much Water Should I Drink

QUESTION: How much water should I consume daily? Adult's daily water intake is an abundant component of the human diet, and it represents about half to four-fifths of body water. The daily water intake is 3.7 and 2.7 liters for men and women respectively.

The amount of water consumed in many instances, water is consumed in the form of other beverages. It is recommended that sedentary adults consume 8 to 10 cups (8 to 10 glasses) of water daily.

To help us bring in new collections of rattan, we would like to offer a variety of sizes, occasional tables for the living room, headboards and footboards, and be willing to learn all aspects of the park system.

Woman & Business Expo To Help Professional Women

Almost 50 workshops and addresses by and for businesswomen will be featured when the Inland Empire Business Journal hosts its third annual Women & Business Expo May 27, at the Riverside Convention Center. California State Treasurer Kathleen Brown, Actress Rita Moreno, Businesswoman Barbara Walden and Television Personality and Rose Parade Host Stephanie Edwards will deliver the keynote speeches during this daylong expo geared toward working women.

Over 2,000 businesswomen are expected to attend workshops offered on subjects especially geared toward women, such as "Managing the Female Time Trap" and "Success Strategies for Career Women" in general business topics, such as "Winning Moves. The Dynamics of Creating Your Own Business" and "Marketing For Small Business in the 90's." All workshops will be led by prominent women, who have achieved great success in business.

We're very excited at the quality of this year's expo," said Inland Empire Business Journal Publisher William J. Anthony. "There's been a great response from businesswomen to receive keynote directives directed especially to them. The Women & Business Expo will give women resource information to assist them in their careers.

In addition to the workshops, over 100 companies will be setting up displays to present their products and services to the audience.

The four Keynote speakers are women who have excelled to national prominence in their fields:

Kathleen Brown, California State Treasurer, is the state's official banker. As Treasurer, she is responsible for management of the state's $20 billion plus investment portfolio, including daily investment transactions singly approximately $600 million.

Stephanie Edwards, Television Personality, has enjoyed a varied career which includes 13 appearances on "The Tonight Show," co-starring in three network series and two films and co-host of "A.M. America" with Peter Jennings.

Rita Moreno, Actress, is the only female performer to have won all four of the most prestigious show business awards: the Oscar, the Emmy, the Grammy and the Tony. She offers the key to building self-esteem with her philosophy of feeling good about who you are.

Barbara Walden, President Barbara Walden Cosmetics, is a true entrepreneurial success. From Hollywood actress to founder of her own cosmetics company, to author to humanitarian. She was selected as one of the nation's 12 most powerful businesswomen to appear in Entrepreneur Magazine.

The Riverside Convention Center is located at 1443 Orange Street in Riverside. Tickets for the Women & Business Expo are $9.00 and can be reserved by calling (909) 391-3015, extension 21.

Big Time Entertainment Headline Orange Show

George Lopez
George Lopez started performing at comedy clubs and was offered a job writing for the RED FXX SHOW. He spent a year writing for the show by day and performing his standup comedy by night.

As his reputation grew, George was suggested as a competitor for the cable television special "The Big Laugh Off." He won over 150 entrants and captured the first prize of $2,000 and club engagements all over the country. From there, he won over 150 entrants and captured the first prize of $2,000 and club engagements all over the country. From there, George found himself working faster and faster, and the audiences kept laughing. George Lopez, one of the fastest rising stand-up comedians today, has recently started his first Showtime Special titled A PAIR OF JOKERS. In addition, George who recently completed work together with original personal intact as far as the legendary FOUR TOPS.

The FOUR TOPS have a list of Top Ten hits, many of them mixed messages and realities. For the past your PM Dawn has stayed on the charts with stunning singles such as "Baby You Send Me," "I Die Without You," "Really Used To Be A Friend Of Mine" and new releases from their brand new LP "Plastic," and "I'll Always Think About You." They have recorded 36 albums in their illustrious career and each contains at least one FOUR TOPS classic.

John Sedca, one of the 90s brightest vocal and songwriting talents - not to mention success stories - has this kind of a voice. You can hear it when he wraps his vocals around a lyric and expresses a yearning, aching quality that resonates in your head until you fall asleep. You know it has made a penetrating connection when you hear Sedca's messages is from the heart, as clear and as direct as any normal person. Sedca has been recording his chart with his hits singles "Just Another Day, Just Another Angel," from his debut album "But Another Day." PM Dawn are two young brother who are brothers. They hail from New Jersey City, PM Dawn's sound is a result of the eyes and hearts of children coming of age in the Seventies and eighties being assimilated, inspired, captivated, and repelled by the schizophrenic sounds and images of that era of mixed messages and realities.

Who better to sum up the action and day's events than the venerable master blaster, Don King.

We brought in the fans what they wanted (competitive fights) and affordable action. We put on a great show. A true fight changed hands (Jackson & McClellan). The two heavyweights put on a great boxing show, with...

Trivia Question: What two boxers fought in the first British born heavyweight championship bout of the 19th century? Don King billed this fight as 'the fight also coincided with the Mirag e's grand opening?'

OTHER NEWS FROM THE STAR SPANGLED GLORY

Unquestioned Super Lightweight Champion Julio Cesar Chavez (87-0, 75 KO's), of Cailacan, gained 300,000 when they tangle in 12-round decision. It was their last and final meeting.

Don King arranged a fight in Mexico as a warm-up. At the post fight press conference, I asked Julio what weight he would fight Pernell Whitaker at when they tangle in September. "I will weight no more than 140 pounds and I don't care what he weights." Julio forcefully noted, "Before I fight Whitaker, I would like to have Don King arrange a fight in Mexico as a warm-up."

In a classic bout of power punches, Gerald McClellan (28-2, 26 KO's) of Detroit's Kronk corner - manned WBC Middleweight Champion Julian Jackson (42-2, 43 KO's), of Panama, scored a TKO victory in the 5th round.

Emmanuel Steward (McClellan's trainer) said about this fight: "You know the Kronk fighters have big hearts. You know how they are. When they come up from that basement in Detroit."

Dear Mr. President,

I am writing to express my strong support for your proposed legislation to address the growing issue of rural broadband access in our state. As a resident of [Your Community], I have seen firsthand the impact that limited internet access has on our community's ability to keep up with the digital landscape.

Specifically, I am concerned about the challenges faced by farmers and rural residents who rely on the internet for everything from managing their farms to connecting with family and friends. The lack of reliable broadband service is a significant barrier to opportunity and quality of life in our communities.

I urge you to prioritize this legislation, as it has the potential to not only improve the lives of rural residents but also support the economic development of our state. By ensuring that all Californians have access to high-speed internet, we can help create a more equitable future for all.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I look forward to your continued leadership on this important issue.

Sincerely,
