Coming in the Spirit—San Dimas Chamber of Commerce is hosting the 3rd Annual African-American Women’s Conference on Tuesday, June 27, 1995 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Mission Valley Marriott Hotel in San Diego.

The conference will feature a variety of speakers, workshops, and panel discussions on topics such as career development, health and wellness, and family life. The keynote speaker will be Dr. Charlie Seymour, an important figure in the African-American community who has made significant contributions to education and leadership.

Dr. Seymour is a distinguished educator and author who has dedicated his life to improving the lives of African Americans. He is a professor of education at California State University, Los Angeles, and has written numerous books on social justice and equality.

In addition to Dr. Seymour, the conference will feature a range of other speakers and workshops, including panels on leadership, health, and economic development. The event is open to the public, and registration information will be available soon.

If you are interested in attending the conference, please contact the San Dimas Chamber of Commerce at 619-463-3333 for more information. This is a unique opportunity to learn from distinguished leaders and participate in discussions that are shaping the future of the African-American community.
Dear Editor,

Thank you for your organization's participation and efforts on a recent event. The faculty and staff at the University of California, Berkeley were thrilled to meet over 1,400 attendees for our third annual event. We trust that your participation in our event was rewarding and beneficial to yourself personally, as well as to your business.

The attendees who attended the conference were impressed with the speakers, the networking and the workshops both informative and stimulating. Currently, we are in the process of going over the many evaluations form filled out at the event. The response to the Expo has been fantastic. We are already looking forward to next year’s Expo.

Your support and cooperation in this event was extremely appreciated by all of us at the Island Empire Business Journal with a thank you so very much.

AN OPEN LETTER TO PRESIDENT CLINTON - GET IT TOGETHER

Dear President Clinton,

I am writing this letter to request that you portray the leadership you called for in your recent address to the nation - POLICY and move forward. Coordination and leadership is the key to successful economic policy.

It is time for you to lead. Do as Ronald Reagan did, make a decision and stick to it. Stop politicizing your actions with such regularity. When you do this, you look weak. Americans hate weak action. Act strong, look strong, be strong.

Many believe that you were a prisoner of your own lack of military service, recall them that the Clinton brothers, Alexander Hamilton, Ben Franklin and John Adams did not have the same qualifications as you. It is amazing that you do not trust them.

You must LEAD. If you do America will follow, even if you were wrong. Reagan proved this. Believe in what you are doing and project that belief to the world. If you think we should go into Somalia to protect the Moslem's, do it. If you think what you are doing is going to help the world, then do it and do it with confidence.

For example, how in the world can you call a group of mediators - mediated Mississippi Blacks possibly go to trial over the running of a ship of a financial empire worth billions of dollars at a point of no return. This is interfering with the problems of racism and murder.

Raising taxes is an obvious and easy tactic to protect the status quo. It is simple and frequently unisoned consequences. For example, higher worker's wages and lower consumer costs may benefit applicant employees, do not help those who need more. But this higher tax will cause business to close, move to another state, or simply hinder job growth. Environmentally wise people tax more to protect the natural environment, use employee unions, and try very hard to find more legions and make the money needed to dip into the public treasury. The main reason for their failure is very obvious to the desire to increase a public employee's paycheck.

I cannot support and cannot vote for a state legislature that raises the state tax increases ever again. Planning a year state tax increase ever again. California legislators are under tremendous pressure to keep taxes in order to keep their share of the budget. Our legislators are using the employment, union, and state workers. This means the government is in the process of shifting taxes, but not in a way that would benefit applicant employees, do not have any sort of sustainable tax and fund the employees' future.

The state tax increases must continue to increase. Of course, the state tax increases would not be suspended by local property tax cuts. If I shall not and cannot support this kind of fiscal policy.

As California legislators have faced tremendous pressure to increase taxes and fund the employees' future, I shall not and cannot support any state tax increases ever again. San Bernardino Schools Hold Principal For A Day

"W hat a wonderful day! I hope we can do this again." "I didn’t know things had changed so much since I was a student." "The teachers and principals are so dedicated."

These were just a few of the comments made by the more than 40 local business and community leaders who participated in the San Bernardino City Unified School District/San Bernardino Area Chamber of Commerce Principal For a Day (PFAD) program on April 25th.

Principal for a Day provided an opportunity for business/community leaders to learn firsthand of the challenges facing schools today as well as the successes achieved. Each community volunteer was paired with a school principal and participated in whatever activities made up that principal’s day: from meeting with parents to monitoring the latest arrival room, visiting classrooms, reviewing the budget to counselling students and monitoring student lunch time activities.

The day was designed to provide an realistic an experience as a school principal is as possible.

Dr. F. Neil Roberts, school district superintendent, said, "We are very fortunate to already have good relationships with the Chamber of Commerce and our business and community leaders. But this was an opportunity to further mobilize the expertise and resources of our community to build lasting partnerships and make our schools even better. This is a way for us to encourage businesses to help schools from the needs of the 21st century."

The day started with a continental breakfast hosted by the Chamber. An evaluation/ wrap-up session was at 4 p.m., hosted by the school district at their West Highland Administration Annex.

Dear Dr. Levister: I am recently married. My husband smokes. How can I get him to stop? Dorothy

Dear Dorothy: In the past, advocates of Freud have indicated that smoking is the satisfying of an oral need not met as an infant. There is perhaps some truth in this but today we know that cigarettes are addictive. There are 3,000 plus chemicals that burst out of a burning cigarette that are not only addictive but damaging to our bodies.

Despite the cigarette merchant's lies, tobacco kills and disables the smoker, their loved ones and individuals in their environment.

Your mate is a cigarette addict, identical to other drug addicts, and his cure should be approached in the same fashion. The key is motivation.

Poi dendexter Announces Pre- Endorsement

am Poindexter, President of the Fortuna Teachers Association, announced the pre-endorsement of Draymond Crawford at the PTA candidate for the school board election in November of this year. "This is a first for the Association. We have never pre-endorsed a candidate before. However, we are extremely impressed with Mr. Crawford's credentials and background. It is time that our school board come into the 21st century and be able to look into the budgets and the universal management of the school district."

The association will also be facing a critical issue on the November ballot — the voucher initiative. Crawford is not in favor of the voucher initiative as it is written. The initiative itself does nothing to improve the education system.

Worry To Much

Dr. Reginald Woods

QUESTION: Dear Pastor Woods, I am confused. Is a worry just a form of thinking about something, or is it different? Is there a way to stop worrying?

Worrying is a form of thinking about something, but it is different from just thinking. Worrying is a form of thinking that focuses on negative possibilities and outcomes. It can be distinguished from normal thinking by its intensity and frequency.

Worrying can be a natural and healthy part of life. It can alert us to potential problems and motivate us to take action. However, when worry becomes excessive and unmanageable, it can cause significant distress and negatively impact our mental and physical health.

Worrying can be harmful when it is persistent and prevents us from making decisions or taking action. It can also cause us to make irrational or unrealistic decisions. Worrying can also prevent us from enjoying the present moment and living our lives fully.

Worrying can be a sign of anxiety or depression. If worry becomes a constant and overwhelming part of your life, it may be time to seek professional help.

There are several strategies that can help manage worrying.

1. Cognitive-behavioral therapy (CBT) is a common treatment for anxiety disorders and depression.
2. Mindfulness meditation is a technique that can help reduce worry by helping us focus on the present moment.
3. Exercise regularly to release endorphins and promote a sense of well-being.
4. Practice relaxation techniques such as deep breathing, yoga, and progressive muscle relaxation.
5. Avoiding caffeine, alcohol, and nicotine can also help reduce worry.

Remember, worry is a normal part of life and can be managed effectively with the right strategies. If you are struggling with excessive worry, consider seeking professional help from a therapist or counselor.

"I know, share that feeling of nostalgia since we are graduating together.

Once again my focal point of these remarks comes from this campus...the message on the marquee at the top of the hill, "Five Years of Success." We truly have so much to be proud of.

Eight years ago I was selected as Principal of a school to be known as Canyon Springs. None of the buildings athletic fields and even homes that I saw today were built then - that was 1966. Maybe the district didn't realize it then, but as Principal there were certain qualifications in staff and students that I would be looking for.

These qualities include fierce loyalty, pride in purpose a sense of direction and most important, the right to be risk takers, to do that which is in the best interest of each of our students.

I must be honest with you that evening I firmly believe our city and district must regain its sense of diversity. I hear that your favorite expression from the Press Enterprise is on vacation tonight...some say he has been on one for the past two years, when it comes to responsible journalism...I appreciate the leadership of Mr. Larry Versus of the Valley Times who has always defended Canyon Springs as we truly are - a campus of diverse peoples who have a common purpose and goal success!

Finally, I must salute those whom I have at my service in you, the Cougar community. I truly believe we possess the finest certificate and classified staff ever assembled. I'll miss each of you. Keep up the good work, dare to be different, challenge your students and never lose your creativity and work ethic.

Detective Testifies Carjacking Defendants Discussed Train Heist

A detective testified on Tuesday that his teen-aged charged in a string of carjackings talked about robbing passengers on an Amtrak train.

The teen discussed using the money they made from carjackings to buy guns for the train robbery, Moreno Valley police Detective William Eldrich said during a Juvenile Court hearing Friday.

Eldrich testified during a hearing to determine whether a teen could be tried as an adult.

Prosecutors contend the teens carried out a series of carjackings during a six-day spree, including one that ended in the shooting death of 55-year-old Scott Brown, an Enterprise motorist.

Tamika Kay Overton was born November 26, 1975 to Rodney D. Overton and Mildred R. Cooke in San Bernardino, CA. She was the eldest of three children.

Tamika entered school in 1980 at the Mill Center Head Start, continued on to California Elementary where she found her first inspiration of sports, coming from a sports oriented family at the age of 10.

Her first exhibition was for the City Parks & Recreation at the Delmann Heights Community Center. Continuing her education, she attended Serrano Junior High in 1987, where she played baseball and basketball. Tamika also received many awards for her achievement in reading as "Tom Reader." In 1991, Tamika entered Cajon High School where she was on the Senior Roll, as well as on the Junior Varsity Basketball team. Upon completing her junior year, in 1993, "Me-Meer Mika", ran varsity track at Delmann Heights.

Tamika has many achievements, awards and certificates to prove her achievements, while walking in this land. In 1992 she became a "Peer Counselor." She also took upon the responsibility of becoming a godmother in De-De.

Tamika jumped on board with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ at the age of nine. She later started attending the Loveland Community Baptist Church until our Creator called her home. Tamika has joined her father, both grandmothers and grandfather in their resting place.

Train Yourself to Be on Time
Curry To Host Jim Thorpe Pro Sports Awards

Mark Curry, who stars on ABC-TV’s “Hangin’ With Mr. Cooper,” will host the second annual “Jim Thorpe Pro Sports Awards” special, airing “live” on Monday, July 12th, 9-11 PM, Eastern and Pacific Time on ABC-TV, from the historic Waitem Theater in Los Angeles.

The winners, which honor top professional athletes in auto racing, baseball, basketball, boxing, football, golf, ice hockey and tennis, is a production of Ken Wolfe Productions Inc. in association with Dick Clark Productions, Curry, who also tours the country doing stand-up, is no stranger to sports, having played basketball on the collegiate level, as well as having participated in a NBA pre-season game with the Golden State Warriors.

Hollywood stars will join sport celebrities in presenting these awards which have been named for the legendary Jim Thorpe, who was considered the greatest all-around athlete of his time. Among those already set to participate on Super-bowl MVP Tony Aikman, basketball superstar Charles Barkley, Heavyweight Boxing champion Riddick Bowe, New York Jes’. quarterback Boomer’ Eliason, Oscar-winner, Jack Lemmon, baseball great Willie Mays, auto racing legend Richard Petty, Dallas Cowboys’ star Emmitt Smith, TV’s Raven-Symone, sports journalist Dick Schaupp and sports broadcasters Dan Dierdorf, Frank Gifford and Al Michaels. There will also be performances by two of today’s hottest comics, offering their unique perspectives on the world of sports.

The special was conceived and will be executively produced by Emmy award winner Ken Wolfe, who also produces ABC’s NFL “Monday Night Football.”

Show will begin with host Curry in a room where his character, Matthew D. W. Cooper, is watched by BET’s first female host, Colinda Video Vibes” joined by Colin England’s “Come Over Baby” (Whitney Houston, Shanice, Aretha Franklin) and Michael Jackson. His voice, I noticed that the brotha is a real interesting performer. England is more than your average sexy singer. While she attended Oakland’s Merritt College with En Vogue’s Maxine Jones, she sharpened her voice by singing in Merritt’s traveling Voices Choir.

Back then, Nikita made tons of contacts and impressed the likes of Narada Michael Walden (Whitney Houston, Sheryl Cole, Aretha Franklin) and Michael Powell (Aretha Baker). In fact, Nikita has sung back up for Whitney, Aretha Franklin and Johnny Gill. So once she hooked up with Motown, she was set. Her current single “Sweet As It Can Be” is indeed sweet, soft and definitely radio friendly (tallest) in the category. I’d say her material should appeal to those who sorta like Jodeci, but get lost in all the attention first, because of the childrend. Still, he is. Howard, Harrison, Jones: Make a Statement

By Leland Stein Sports Editor

A t the 75th Annual California Interscholastic Federation State Track and Field championships held at Corrigan College Saturday, the California preps came to play.

In particular, three California preps — Marion Jones senior from Thousand Oaks, Calvin Harrison senior from North Salinas and Bryan Howard sophomore from Moreno Valley Canyon Springs — made statements that will be long remem­bered.

What statements did Jones make?

Well, Marion just went out and solidified her claim as the great middle-distance prep track and field performer of all-time. Already the national record holder in the 100 (11.14) and 200 (22.67) meters, the almost unmarked national long jump record, but settled for the state mark instead, winning 22 feet 1/2 inch in her first year of competi­tion in the event.

Do you want a domination statement?

Marion dominated the state field like only she can,opping in her fourth consecutive 100 and 200 state titles. With these victories and the long jump crown, she has now won an incredible nine state titles.

I sat down with Marion after her races; she shared her thoughts, feelings and emotions concerning the class of her illustrious prep career.

"I cried in joy over the fact it was my last meet, but during the 200 (her last race) I told myself, "Four long years had paid off", so I threw my hands in the air (in a rare display of exaltation emotion) as I crossed the finish line," Marion happily recol­lected. The CIF most directors asked Marion to take a victory lap — the only performer so honored.

The crowd could extend their appreciation and admiration for her four year reign over the prep track world. What statement did Howard make?

Bryan Howard became the first sophomore to win the triple 100, 200 and 400 state titles. With these accomplishments, he has already the national long jump record, but settled for the state mark instead, winning 22 feet 1/2 inch in her first year of competi­tion in the event.

The field of play.

Rick Callaway, ex-football player and now inner warrior, had this to say about his craft. "Everybody asks why I do it? It's a crazing. It's a big sport. I love it. It's a kick in the pants. And don't let anybody tell you we aren't athletes. And after a days work, work hard, be to love, I do it."

James Watson Jr., the producer of the show through Cal-Tex Rodeo Productions, has been putting on rodeo shows since 1989, explained why he does rodeos: "I do the rodeo because I have roots involved in the West too. I have expanded my efforts to feature cowboys and cowgirls from all ethnic backgrounds."

Despite the fact we weren't in western attire, Watson and his cowhands corralled the national long jump record before Marion Jones claimed it? ....

C ITY OF INDUSTRY—Without much thought, I put on my beach shorts and top, loaded up the kids, and headed to the Industry Hills Equestrian Center in the City of Industry, CA, on our way to our first rodeo adventure.

When you think of cowboys, all I saw were wranglers, spurs, cowboy boots and more of the same. I felt like a Jamaican 'Rasta!

I was nervous before the race, and during the race I was looking around to see who was close to me, noted Howard. "After I crossed the finish line, I said, "Oh my God, I can't believe this." Then I said, "Yes, yes, yes."

The 100 and 200 races were not the only statements Howard made on this day. He also anchored his school's 4x4100 relay team in a fourth place finish. The quadruple (Tony Harvey, Randy Bishop, Marcelle Willams and Howard) was somewhat disappointed with their finished.

"We came a long way, but you can't help but a little dis­appointed," explained Harvey. "Going in, I felt we were going to win it."

Bryan's dad, Harold, put the effort in, but told the cxecutive creator, "We needed perfect passes to win the state, and we didn't get it," said Harold. "But, the fact is: You are number four in the state and that's not bad."

What statement did Harrison make?

Harrison senior from North Salinas and Bryan Howard became the first two farmers to win the triple 100, 200 and 400 state titles.
