A Tragic Tale Of Young Love Turned Teenage Fatality

By ROBERT G. CIPPTINO, JR.

To fully comply with my I.Q. I’m only able to tell you very simply express to the general community concerning the matter of this case because it entails my re-membering a sacrifice since in order to accomplish my objective: To do so, I will present my only child, Malaya Ann Portley, Assistant Pastor of First Baptist Church and pastor of both SBU S.D. Meeting

A very verbal parent Felicia Stafford, Jr. spoke in behalf of the teachers. She is the Rosa Parks of the district. “Why suspend the teacher?” she represented two women’s groups to the general community because the teachers were high-minded. She gave an emotional testimony of Dr. LeMar Foster.

She is the Rosa Parks of because the teachers were high-minded. She gave an emotional testimony of Black teachers from Rio Vista. She was angered that things had not changed and they were back to discrimination by a secretary who showed up to the protest. The young man Eric Washington’s removal. “This is a civil rights issue since the Principal of Rio Vista’s, Carolyn Livingston, said children who were Chapter I were not expected to do well. Kaiser Embarks On Facility Master Expansion Plan

HERBAL INFORMATION

QUESTION: Can you provide some information on the safety and efficacy of herbs?

ANSWER: Although the use of herbs is on the rise, the lack of reliable information makes many consumers adhere to thoroughly review their safety. For a copy of an article on Commonly Used Herbs, their efficacy and safety send a self-addressed stamp envelope to the University of California Cooperation Extension, Herb. 21150 Bix Spring Road, Merced, California 95347-8736.

QUESTION: Can you provide some information on the concern about lead in candy?

ANSWER: In May, 1993, California State Health Director Dr. Molly Joel Coye issued a warning to consumers to avoid eating Picarindo brand tamarind candy because it contains high levels of potentially dangerous lead. Not only is the candy contaminated, but high levels of lead are found in the walls of the Prahalid Granite Jan is in which the candy is sold.

Eunice Williamson, president of the California State Board of Pharmacy, said the candy was made in small pieces, four to five times the size of standard tamarind candy, which make it unlikely children would drink the candy as cup. Because the contamination is in the cup, parents should not allow children to drink from the cup. Although there are no reports of immediate illness or injuries from the consumption of this candy, it may lead to toxic effects in adults, especially infants and small children, and can permanently damage the central nervous system resulting in learning disorders and other long-term health problems. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) recommends that children under age consume no more than 10 milligrams of lead from all food sources daily. Tests of the Picarindo candy showed leads levels up to 83 parts per million. Eating only a few pieces of candy could expose a child to approximately 415 m grams of lead—or 0 times the total FDA daily recommended limit.

DEAR DR. LEVISTER: You're one of my New Year's resolutions is to join a health club and become fit. I am alarmed by the news of health club rip-offs and failure rates. How can I protect myself and my wallet? Flabby.

DEAR FLABBY: Over a million and a half men and women join health clubs each January. The health club industry is fighting its own fitness battle, plagued by scandal and the increasing popularity of home-based exercise equipment.

Minorities looking for a place to shape up may find themselves in over their heads in ongoing claims and several civil rights and housing settlements brought upon charges of discrimination against nonwhites and other minorities.

National enforcement violations and the selling of confidential membership information to prospective insurance providers and employers.

Just starting out? Seek a health check up along with your doctor's advice on which fitness programs are best for you. When choosing a quality club, look for a club that is certified by the American Council on Exercise or the American College of Sports Medicine. Ask about their membership rules and policies.

U.S. DEPARTMENT HOLDS INTERAGENCY CELEBRATION

In April, 1993, Kaiser Permanente awarded a $25,000 Good Neighbor Grant to the U.S. Department of Labor for their work in the creation of an interagency celebration. This was in recognition of the Kaiser Permanente's commitment to community service and their support of the U.S. Department of Labor's efforts to improve the health and well-being of the community.

Black Voice Joins USAir In Reception

USAir wants our business and they are making commitments to earn it. The $60 billion a year convention business is a lucrative situation for them. They are the fine airline to solicit a win-win situation with or more. Organizer of the reception is not just asking for your business without offering something in return. We are happy to work on developing this new relationship with the community." Shirley Henderson, Manager of Special Markets was the organizer of the reception hosted by the Black Voice, the Sentinel and the Compton Bulletin.

Snipes Goes To Harlem In "Sugar Hill"

Today, that Harlem is gone. "Sugar Hill" is a powerful saga about redemption, love and the price two brothers are forced to pay to fulfill their destinies, in a high stakes game for control of the streets they rule. In many ways, this movie is the real and brutal history of the first "hood. This little "Sugar Hill" is taken from the legendary neighborhood that represented the aspirations and hopes of all Harlem.

The Black Voice News Page B-1 Thursday, February 17, 1994

by the search for love," Snipes explains. "Roemello feels similar to the role was so different from the innocent girl he played in "Malcolm X." Melissa," says the soft-spoken actress, "comes from an urban environment and like a lot of women, she goes through many trials to find out who she is. She's a woman who, in the midst of some tough circumstances, wants to survive for a better life. Randle says the film points out some real-life lessons. "There are no shortcuts to life or love and she finally realizes this."

"Sugar Hill" is a reality-based story which illustrates both sides of street life. It shows that the strong-willed do survive and that the streets take a toll on young victims. Actor Michael Wright's character is a case in point. As Raynathan, he portrays the brash and unpredictable older brother who cannot assume control of the family's business. Unwilling to go straight, he is trapped in a life of organized crime. "He doesn't see any alternatives," says Wright. "All he knows are the streets. Ray's not in a life of organized crime. He doesn't see any alternatives," says Wright. "All he knows are the streets. Ray's not in a life of organized crime."

"Sugar Hill" is available on Fox Records/Beacon Records.

Snipes stars in "Sugar Hill" as Roemello Skuggs, the younger, yet wiser and cooler-headed brother to Raynathan, played by Michael Wright. Together, they have built their way to the top of their own crime empire, which has brought them money, power and infamy.

But now Roemello, weary of the violence that surrounds him and offering the promise of a better life with a new love, Melissa (Theresa Randle), has decided to walk away from this destructive world. The painful decision threatens to bring down not only the lucrative businesses he and Raynathan have built together, but the last vestiges of his family as well.

Wesley Snipes stars in "Sugar Hill" as Roemello Skuggs, and also stars Michael Wright in his brother Raynathan in "Sugar Hill."

RIVERSIDE: What many high school coaches dream about has become a reality for many stars in the local area.

A number of local players that have thrived for years has moved on to the next level and signed college letters of intent to play football the next four years. Many have stayed in the Inland and will be display for our viewing pleasure.

Joining Weldon Ford, Avery and Aaron Anderson, and Richard Martin at UCLA will be Radio Eisenhower star quarterback Glenn Thompson. He will play defensive back or wide receiver.

Joining David Dixon, Germaine Greer, Clay Hambright, Sammy Knight, Willie Lowery and Kyle Wacholtz at USC are defensive and George Perry of San Bernardino, wide receivers Leon Green of Mt. San Antonio CC and Steinbacker Eck Herrin of Mt. San Jacinto.

Choosing to go out of state to continue their educational

“This has been the most enjoyable pleasure I've had in my life" said Nelson. "I maybe hard on them, but I praise them when they do good, also.

"Once you become a part of IE-BALL, you are committed forever. We have all nation­alities and it is a family experi­ence. I love those girls! But, I could do none of this without the wonderful people backing me up.

Yes, Ed has enlisted some committed and talented people from the Inland Empire com­munity to assist him in the rise to perfection.

Starting with his wife, Pamela, who is the league Administrative Assistant (meaning doing everything). She also designed and did the lay­out for the IE-BALL yearbook.

IE-BALL is an organization which a girls league could survive in the Inland Empire. What IE-BALL and many other organizations prove is:

"The Fontana School Dis­trict is to be commended for opening up the Alder Middle School (RIM’s efforts," said Curton. "But, at the same time, the boys league (Golden State) is being charged a substan­tial fee for using the Rialto facili­ties. We use the facilities 7 hours a day, or so. These are volun­teer organizations that are com­mitted to giving the kids the best we have to offer and improving their futures.

At the close of the evening, Ed couldn't look around and see anything. As the girls gathered around Ed and sang happy birthday to him, you could tell that he enjoyed himself. He was blind by singing. But, you know even if Ed couldn't see, his heart and constituents out of the
His Name Has a Double $, And His Game Is A Double S

LOS ANGELES: The man with the 5 squared name given, Steve Smith, is known around the league as the player with the double S. Smith's game can best be described as silky smooth.

At the start, Steve left off the court for a total of 65 minutes in his two NBA seasons, his peers and coaches know what kind of player he is. Steve Smith was elected to the U.S. Dream Team II, which will compete in the World Championships in Toronto, Canada in the summer of 1994.

With the Michael Jordan and the Penny Hardaway Band at NBA competition, Steve Smith is one of the prospects that is expected to carry the mantle and continue the excitement and traditions of NBA action.

Smith has the history and background to elevate himself to the elite level of the NBA. After he was named to the 1991-92 All-Rookie Team after being drafted by the Miami Heat in the first round (5th overall), he led Michigan State to the Big Ten Title in his senior year and left the school as the school's leading scorer. Prior to that, he earned All-American honors at Detroit Pershing High School--the school that produced Sparky Harwood, Ralph Simpson and Bubbles Hawkins, just to name a few.

A man has taken the best from his idol George Gervin, his mentor Magic, and his best friend and fellow Dream Teamer, Derrick Coleman. After Magic had dropped off the Los Angeles Clippers at the Sports Arena, Steve Smith sat down and talked about his team, the Dream Team, and how he would like to be involved.

Q: How do you view your role with the Heat? A: The person that can bring attitude on the court that focused to myself. Just the person that can bring that attitude.

Q: Do you consider yourself a point guard or off guard?

A: I try to do what the game tells me to do.

Q: Which position do you prefer? A: I just try to do what the situation tells me. When it's time to score I can score, do rebounding. When it's time to pass I can pass or do what we need rebounds. We just have to be versatile.

Q: Since you are 6'6"-8, who is tougher for you to defend against, the point guards or off guards?

A: Defending the quick point guard definitely is harder. At 6'6" I'm quick with it, very quick. It's a situation when they have me on the outside, but I can go down and pass and get them in foul trouble. You just come down and when you foul each other out you lose.

Q: What are your goals for the upcoming season? A: Make the playoffs, stay a good person, keep my head in the game. We want to be a basketball team, a basketball family.

Q: And Smith think they know football; Bo knows football, basketball; Bo knows basketball; sports Nuts,' since we know more than $0, but the Black Voice is giving us what we want.
