COMING: Distinguished Lecturer
ROLES OF HUMANITIES AND SCIENCE
IN PROBLEM SOLVING, LECTURE TOPIC

A lecture by an engineer-educator will deal with society's seeming inability to channel technological developments in directions that sufficiently meet the broad range of human needs.

Dr. Daniel Rosenthal, Professor Emeritus in Engineering at UCLA, will discuss the importance of combining science and the humanities in solving problems. His talk, entitled "Humanities and Science: A Dual Approach to Problem Solving," will be given Thursday, April 28 at 1 p.m. in PS-10. The College and the public are invited to attend the lecture free of charge.

Dr. Rosenthal obtained his education in civil and aeronautical engineering from the University of Brussels. He taught at UCLA from 1946 to 1967 and has been professor emeritus since then. For three years he was a member of the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences at Harvey Mudd College in Claremont.

His books include "Engineering: Its Role and Function in Human Society." He is currently advisory editor to "Science, Medicine and Man."

DATE CHANGED FOR The "Memory for Faces" talk by Dr. Leah Light, originally sched-
"MEMORY" TALK uled for last Wednesday, has been postponed until May 4.

Dr. Light, Professor of Psychology at Pitzer College, Claremont, is presented by the Psychology Colloquium. Her lecture will deal with the question: "Why are faces remembered so well for so long, when corresponding names are forgotten relatively quickly?"

The time and location of the talk, 4 p.m., LC-500, remain unchanged.

BEN FRANKLIN & FRIENDS
TO ENTERTAIN AT COLONIAL
AMERICAN FESTIVAL ON CAMPUS

This year the College Chamber Singers have chosen Ben Franklin and His Friends to feature in a Colonial American Festival, a change of pace from their Renaissance Festival productions of the past four years.

The Commons will be converted to a proper Colonial setting for the dinner, singing and opera. Early American patriots, Franklin, Jefferson, and Mmes. Washington and Madison will serve dinner prepared by Bruno, renowned White House chef.

The festival starts at 7 p.m. on May 5 and 6. Tickets are $10 a person and space is limited. Those interested in receiving an invitation should call the Music Department, Ext. 7454. Tickets will not be available at the door.

PRESIDENT PFAU NAMED TO STATE AND NATIONAL HUMANITIES COMMITTEES

President John M. Pfau will serve in two new positions relating to the humanities. He has just been appointed to a four-year term on the California Council for the Humanities in Public Policy, which is a two-year-old organization funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

He also is one of six college presidents who will be called to Washington, D.C. later this month by the National Endowment to formulate policy for the NEH's new "Challenge Grants" program. The committee also will be reviewing applicants for grants and awarding a portion of the $12 million in federal funds available this year for support of the humanities.

In his new state-wide position, Dr. Pfau will serve on the 20-person California Council, which includes educators, labor leaders, business executives, writers and housewives.

Currently, President Pfau is chairman of a committee on the humanities for the American Assn. of State Colleges and Universities.

N.S.F. SEEKS APPLICANTS FOR ROTATOR'S PROGRAM

The National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C. is seeking qualified women, minorities and handicapped individuals for the NSF's Rotator Program. Under this program individuals who are selected for participation will serve as program directors or associate program directors on the Foundation's staff for periods of one to two years.

A rotator assumes the responsibility for the Foundation's support of scientific research, science education and information exchange in a specified area, through review and evaluation of proposals for support. Desired qualifications are Ph.D. plus six years of successful scientific research experience. However, over-all education, background and talents will be assessed. Salary is negotiable based on qualifications and experience. For further information see Faculty Senate bulletin board, AD-169.

OPEN MEETING ON ENGLISH EXAM An open meeting for faculty and students is scheduled Thursday, April 21, at 3 p.m. Leading the discussion will be Edward White, Prof., English and Director of CSUC English placement test program. All are invited to attend and participate in the forum, LC-500.

SPRING CONCERT OFFERED BY LESLIE HARRIS QUARTET The music of Haydn, Beethoven and Schubert will be played by the Leslie I. Harris String Quartet at a concert on campus Sunday evening, April 17. The Spring event will begin at 7:30 p.m. in PS-10. Admission is $1.50; children and students with I.D. admitted free.

"The three pieces were chosen because of their cheerful, Spring-like qualities," according to Victoria Shapiro, member of the Cal State string quartet-in-residence. "For example, Beethoven's Quartet in F major, Opus 18, #1, a particularly beautiful, romantic interlude which catches the feelings of Spring."

Members of the string quartet are Mrs. Shapiro, viola; Catherine Graff, cello; and Armen Turadian and Clyda Yedinak, violin.

SECOND EDITION OF TEXTBOOK BY RALPH PETRUCCI IN PRINT Ralph Petrucci, Dean of Academic Planning and Professor of Chemistry, has received advance copies of the second edition of his text, General Chemistry: Principles and Modern Applications, a 790-page revision of his 1972 college textbook.

The cover design features a color photograph obtained from the first moving pictures ever taken of atoms and is carried over onto the cover of the accompanying Student Solution Supplement, in paperback, some 357 pages, which contain solutions to all of the exercises in the text.

The publisher, The Macmillan Co., is arranging for publication of yet another book tied in with Dr. Petrucci's text, a study guide for self-paced courses specifically designed to be used with the text, and also has plans for publication of the text in an international version in paperback.
