COMMENCEMENT DRAWS CLOSER AS WINTER GRAD LIST IS RELEASED

The release of names of Winter Quarter graduates by the Admissions and Records Office brings the College's June Commencement that much closer.

Ninety-five students graduated at the end of the quarter, 11 with master's degrees, including eight in education, one in biology, one in psychology, and one in administration. Among the 84 students receiving bachelor's degrees, five earned the Bachelor of Science.

High honors were awarded to R. Kevin Johansen and Joy Ann Gruber, both graduates in administration. Honor graduates were Frances Deanor Elick, Kathleen Joyce Hunt, Jane Brennan Rupert, and Wayne Scott.

The number of graduates thus far eligible to participate in the June 18 Commencement now totals 322 and includes those receiving degrees at the end of Summer and Fall '76 quarters. Graduating seniors will swell the ranks to over 1,000.

A.S. PRESIDENT RUNS
UNOPPOSED FOR 2ND TERM

Kevin Gallagher will run unopposed in his bid for second term as Associated Student President. Unless a write-in candidate should be successful, he is destined to be the first A.S. President to hold office two years in a row.

Four other offices have only one candidate: Jeff Baker (Judicial Rep.); Mario Tnzuna (Soph. Class Senator); Pamela Miller (Junior Class Senator); and Mary Stathis (Soph. Class Pres.)

Three nominees have declared their candidacy for A.S. vice presidential seat: Douglas W. Cole, Paul G. Martinez and Charles McKee. Gena Bacca and Tracy Figueroa compete for A.S. treasurer. A.S. secretary and senior, junior and sophomore classes have vacancies. This makes the field wide open for write-in candidates.

RENOWNED ENGINEER-EDUCATOR
TO DISCUSS SCIENCE & HUMANITIES
IN HUMAN PROBLEM-SOLVING

Scientific methodology, based on an unambiguous set of principles, can deal successfully with natural phenomenon but it is severely limited when it comes to human beings. This is where the role of humanities can enter the scene, according to a renowned engineer-educator, who will lecture on the dual roles of science and humanities in solving human problems.

Dr. Daniel Rosenthal, professor emeritus from UCLA, still teaches a special experimental class there which deals with channeling the objectivity of science with the humanistic approach of the humanities.

The public and the College are invited to attend the free lecture at 1 p.m. in PS-10 next Thursday, April 28.

Dr. Rosenthal believes that proper emphasis on both science and humanities will result in their being able to solve serious problems confronting mankind today.

Dr. Rosenthal, who has written extensively on this subject, obtained his education in civil and aeronautical engineering from the University of Brussels. He taught at UCLA from 1946 to 1967 and has been professor emeritus since then. For three years he was a member of the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences at Harvey Mudd College in Claremont.
