Mandela Asks for Help!

BY BERNETTE BURKS

The voice of a mother, of a woman of the people, is the voice that has never been heard. The voice of a woman in the struggle for freedom and liberation is the voice that has never been heard. The voice of a woman in the struggle for democracy and justice is the voice that has never been heard.

Mandela, the leader of the African National Congress, has called for the release of all political prisoners. He has said that the struggle is not just for the liberation of the Black people, but for the liberation of all South Africans. He has said that the struggle is not just for the liberation of the Black people, but for the liberation of all South Africans. He has said that the struggle is not just for the liberation of the Black people, but for the liberation of all South Africans.

The North American Board of Missions is working with the National Council of Churches in South Africa to support the struggles of the South African people. They have set up a fund to help support the families of political prisoners and to help South Africans to become involved in the struggle for democracy and justice.

The fund is called the "Mandela Fund." It is a revolving fund that will be used to support the families of political prisoners and to help South Africans to become involved in the struggle for democracy and justice.

In spite of my intention to refrain, I must respond to a recent letter to the editor. A few statistics are hereafter submitted relative to California's juvenile justice system, found African-American youth through a number of recent reports to be significantly over-represented at all stages of the juvenile justice process. Although comprising less than 9% of the State's youth population, African-American youth were significantly over-represented at all stages of the juvenile justice process.

The NCCD report validates what those of us who experience the juvenile justice system first-hand know to be true. African-American youth are stopped and questioned, even though they walk the same beat each day. We are, however, arrested and imprisoned for drug offenses. African-American (AA) youth are 10 times more likely to be stopped and questioned, even though they walk the same beat each day.

The NCCD report says that even after controls for factors other than race, there is an evident relationship. A distinct minority of the community causes our children to live in crippling fear. Therefore, the fact that known drug dealers have the audacity to walk boldly into a politician's home demonstrates how important the violence prevention program is. The fact that known drug dealers have the audacity to walk boldly into a politician's home demonstrates how important the violence prevention program is.

We are disproportionately represented in California's juvenile justice system. African-American youth have higher detention rates than other youth. It is not that African-Americans commit more crimes, we arc disproportionately arrested and imprisoned for drug offenses. The fact that known drug dealers have the audacity to walk boldly into a politician's home demonstrates how important the violence prevention program is.

BILLY JOHNSON, JR.

From the minute the ladies took the stage, the audience could feel their seriousness toward hip hop. They did interact with the audience, but it was the way they rap with the same intensity off stage while just kickin’ it among friends.

For artists who are still riding on the growing success of their first single “Something To Ride To (Funky Expedition)”, TCD had the crowd hyped. I watched one guy in the audience turn around, smile and nod his head in approval of several raps laced by CMG and Special One. There aren’t too many hard core females out who get a lot of props from guys.

Not only does TCD deserve this belief, the ladies in the audience are women in support of certain TCD philosophies. The ladies loved TCD’s interludes on not cleaning up or looking for men. You can imagine the number of “Hurryyy” and “You Go Girls” shouted doing this part of the show.

Though things have been quite at Club Monopoly for a little while, club owner Ruben Chavez is placing to club back on the map. Chavez felt, “There was a need for (more hip hop venues) in this area” when he decided to get the club and rap club scene back on the ground. Working with promoter Jammin’ D, Chavez plans to bring performers in every other week. In mid April, Chavez also plans to expand the 18 and hip hop music nights.

Terminator X and the Godfathers of Threat - Super Rap - W.A.I. Records

ahh cookie,ookie noo!...back on the block with their latest compilation album. Terminator X, mixes a tribute to some of the old school, new school and other kind of school (I don’t know what school so and coming artists tell me).

For everyone who misses the old flair of rap groups like the Fantastic Five, Kool Hero, Grandmaster Flash and Cold Crush, Super Bad includes “StyleWeld '94.” This follow-up young n’ fab appreciation the contributions of pioneer artists. The follow-up allow their old school rhyme style including Outkast rhymes and of l.i.f.e. especially Cold Crush’s verse is the man but lyrical style like nothing you’ve heard in the sentence.

As for Ice Cube, Ice T, Chuck D and MC Lyte and the fly cut “Sticka,” the momentum keeps going. This team of raps most controversial artists break down the issue of the explicit lyric warning stickers placed on albums. Ice Cube describes it best in his line, “How the @#$ you gonna stop me with a stick, I’m under 21 still getting layin’.

Need I remind you that this compilation also includes Whodini’s current jam, “I All Comes Down To Money,” a host of nice up and coming artists and two seriously fly special mixes cut “#98 That Dreyal Made My Day” and the Miami bass cut “Put Cha Thing Down.”

The Conscious Daughters - Ear To The Street - Scarface Records - From the first beat of “Something To Ride To (Funky Expedition)”, I fell in love with the Conscious Daughters (TCD). This Oakland based girl group of CMG and Special One are setting new standards for hardcore female artists. They are not rapping about killing folks, like Boss. But definitely talk about being conscious about what goes on in the streets because “people don’t want to hear about that being happy until” Special One explains.

Produced by Paris, labeled the Black Panther of rap, TCD’s album is filled with funk, some even compare it to Dr. Dre’s sound.

“Something To Ride To” is the best cut, but Ear To The Street has a few close contenders. Another freestyle thug “Put Cha Thing Down” on a faster paced vibe and is how lyrically vocally TCD can be.

They however, plan to keep the mellow moment going with “We Roll Deep” being the first song. Chavez also describe this one as a cut you burn to while you roll in your car (with the boomin’ system).

A cut on, but I’ll just say that TCD also have good message songs about women not being main “What’s A Girl To Do?”), and the realistic implications of a one night stand (“#98 Situation.” It’s well worth checking out.

Socialites Host Annual Knights Of The Beautillion Ball

On Saturday, March 24th, the Socialites will host their 27th Annual Knights of the Beautillion ball at the Radisson-Convention Center. Chairperson, Mrs. Betty Lewis, is particularly proud of the 16 socially active young men in this year’s candidacy. She states “our young men have been instructed in the need to give back.” This is one of our goals to create a circle of giving within our community, to show our appreciation of its support. This season our young men were involved in and contributed to numerous benevolent endeavors. A part of their spiritual activities is the church visitsations to the candidate’s churches.

The Socialites Auxiliary was recently merged with the main body of the organization and will present, for the third year, the newest feature of the Beautillion, the Pages, young boys between the ages of 13 and 18. Mrs. Lewis states “It is important to start early instilling the discipline and respect so needed by our children and particularly our young men.” While many of the young men who participated in the Beautillion have made great strides, we continue to encourage those who have yet to find their niche. “They are all our children and we subscribe to the ethic, “It takes an entire village to raise a child.”
