Aminda Awethu To Be Presented At Afro Museum

O n April 9th, 1994, the world will take notice! The "first-ever" popular election in South Africa whereby Black South Africans will cast their votes that count. Shortly thereafter, the world as we know it will be the same.

To urgently establish an international link between African-Americans and all people of color. The Black Voice Foundation, Inc. in conjunction with the California African American Museum (CAAM), have established this, the first public exhibition which showcases the historic bonds that African-Americans have with South Africans. Titled, "Aminda Awethu," this exhibit will attempt to characterize the global inter-connection of all African people and the ongoing search for equality, freedom of choice and human rights.

The exhibit specifically to coincide with the "first-ever" popular elections in South Africa, this exhibit is scheduled to premiere at the California African American Museum in Los Angeles, CA, March 29th, 1994, and continue through June 30th, 1994.

Aminda Awethu will be introduced via a multi-media presentation. It will include history, personal accounts, vintage maps, documents, vintage video as well as contemporary commentary on the developing situation in South Africa. The Open House exhibit opening in Los Angeles is one of solidarity or Pan-Africanism. The focus is not the relationship of African-Americans with Africa since the early nineteenth century, and returns on South Africa's beginning in the 1890s. The premise for the exhibition is that there is an international link between Africa in the Diaspora but because the African people and their contribution to human progress have not long been recognized. We are going to welcome this historic event will be its location, political leaders, religious representatives, U.S. based African-American cadres, and politicians.

Rick Moss, CAAM Institute Director, and an authority on African-American Politics, and Policy have confirmed his presence. The "first-ever" public elections in South Africa is the Curator. The "first-ever" popular election will take place on April 9th, 1994. The "first-ever" popular election will be local/state political officials, volunteers, and members of the public.

INTERNAL POWER STRUGGLE TO BLAME FOR POOR COMMUNITY SERVICES

by Dean McCavan

Government officials should understand the principle if not in fact. The purpose of government is to ensure that the public interest is served as intelligently as the citizens of the city. The California State Assembly does its best to serve all the citizens of the city. The United States Congress does its best to serve all the citizens of the nation. But how does government learn what services to provide various communities? It learns from the claims of the respective constituencies within each of these states and cities.

Each level of government is controlled by European Americans, and when they understand the needs of the community, they understand the needs of the Black community. Even the most intelligent White public officials are culturally ignorant when it comes to the concerns of Black citizens. Therefore, African Americans cannot expect White public officials to understand and address the problems of the Black community.

When an intelligent White man talks to a sixty year old White public official, the White public official interprets the White man's intelligence as arrogance. And he attempts to make the intelligent White man an ally. However, if this intelligent man is a Black man, the White public official perceives the man's intelligence as a problem. And he attempts to eliminate the problem.

The White community is not the only community that perceives the intelligence of the Black man as a burden. I have been told by this trend. Most White men have been taught that Black men are not truly intelligent. The history of White America has traditionally declared the intelligence of the intelligent Black man as a problem.

When the intelligent Black man becomes a problem, capable Black men are quick to call him arrogant. The White public official and capable Black men immediately label the intelligence of a Black man as arrogance because they do not believe the Black man can serve the White man. And we all have been taught that arrogance is a problem.

The Black community cannot be served as intelligently as the White community can be served because intelligent Black men are not trusted, belittled and belittled while intelligent Black men are unheard and vilified. The public official appears to believe that it is a cultural phenomenon that is a result of the legacy of captivity.

Since the intelligent Black man is a descendant of captives, capable Black men are not trusted, belittled and belittled while intelligent Black men are unheard and vilified. This phenomenon appears to be not only a cultural phenomenon but a result of the legacy of captivity.

In addition, the United States region could create even better programs for drought relief and food production if they could afford it. The latter situation is in many cases these debts resulted in the countries of the African continent were heavily indebted to the United States. They have not been able to pay their debts, and the United States Aid is making no effort to reduce these debts. Therefore, the United States Aid is making no effort to reduce these debts. Therefore, the United States Aid is making no effort to reduce these debts.

Smoking is a deadly enemy. In this series we will look at it from its origins to how it impacts upon our body. Tobacco is a tall, leafy plant, the leaves of which are harvested, cut and dried into cigars, shredded for use in cigarettes and pipe, and processed for chewing or "snuff". The main source of commercial tobacco is Nicotiana tabacum. There are many shapes from the small leaf aromatic to the large leaf aromatic. Tobacco is best classified by the method of cutting or drying the leaf.

This plant is native to the Americas. The practice of smoking dried tobacco from the dried leaves goes back to the Mayan culture more than 2000 years ago. The Mayan's moved northward from Central America into the Aztec empire and eventually took their cultivated tobacco to the North American Indian tribes.

Christopher Columbus, during his 1492 voyage, found native Americans smoking tobacco. He took the custom back to Europe. Jean Nicot gave the plant its generic name - Nicotiana. Sir Walter Raleigh commenced the cultivation of tobacco in Great Britain in 1556. James I vehemently disapproved of tobacco and forbade its use in public places. Europeans at first smoked their tobacco in pipes and later in cigarettes.

Cigarettes gained popularity after the Crimean war (1854-1856).

Easter Seal Now Accepting Applications

The Easter Seal Society of the Island Counties is now taking applications for Summer Camp. The six weeks, seven day resident camp program will take place at Camp Oakes, in the San Bernardino Mountains, Sunday, April 16 through Saturday, August 27, 1994.

The camp serves children 9 years old and up. According to Brian Bost, CEO, the camp is for children with physical disabilities, such as, cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, spina bifida, accidents or other disabling conditions. Campers need to have some communication skills. The fee for the resident camp program is $500, however, there are scholarships available.

The Camp Oakes activities include boating, campfires, horseback riding, boating, camping, and much more.

A Registered Nurse is on duty at the camp on a 24-hour basis. There is a counselor camper ratio of one to two counselors.

For an application, contact the Easter Seal Society at (909) 888-4123 or 800-992-7325, or write to the Easter Seal Society, 241 East Ninth Street, San Bernardino, CA 92410.

The Riverside Community College Gospel Singers (formerly Moreno Valley), a credit class, among the music offerings has only been established since September, 1993.

The group meets Tuesday and Thursday from 10:00 - 2:00 a.m. at the Moreno Valley Campus. The gospel singers is a multi-race and culture group of people with a variety of interests and religious orientations; yet, it is this special music that unites them as people who move throughout the various communities creating a positive presence.

Edgar Morris Team Comes To LA Black Expo

The Edgar Morris Team will be exhibiting their innovative system for the correction of skin tone. The Morris Corrective Skin Care System, April 16th and 17th.

Edgar Morris who has dedicated the past thirty years of his life developing a product that addresses the unique skin care needs of the American Black man with "people of color," has treated thousands of clients. Some of the most common skin care problems faced such as Stephanie Mills, Lynn Whitfield, and Debbie Morgan, to name a few, owe their success to the skin care genius Mr. Edgar Morris. Stephanie Mills, Singer/Songwriter, who has been using the Edgar Morris System for over fifteen years says "I wouldn't use anything else. If you want flawless skin, I urge you to try this product. It will change your life." Lynn Whitfield, Actress, says, "You get the results in just a few weeks. I'm young, living in Hollywood, and my skin is smooth, even-toned skin."

Church Of Christ Broadcast
Live on KPRO 9th

"J"osephine Birdsong of the Voices of Praise Ministry will sing the opening song on program "9th," says Brother McCallum, the director of the church. "We feel quite honored to share our accompanying music with the "J," be continued." A cappella music (without music accompaniments) is trendy in some circles but we are convicted from a spiritual standpoint," McCollum said. The Perez church was the director of the 1993 McDonald Gospel Sing Competition. The Perez Singers is the name of the music ministry at the Perez Church of Christ. We will give the public a sample of our wide range and our quality," says Shirley Coates, the assistant director. "We do contemporary gospel and Negro spirituals. We will do some hymns and perhaps one or two patriotic songs on the Voices of Praise program on the 9th." She continued, "The radio audience will be very delighted with what they hear." The Perez Singers were organized about three years ago and the group has about 15 members. The public is invited to come and sit in and the audience is admitted free. The church is located on the corner of "H" and "F" Streets. You may call (909) 857-5433 for more information.

AA New under­ground comedy showcase will allow Black comedians to tell it like it is without toning down their messages, like Black television shows.

By BILLY JOHNSON JR.
ENTERTAINMENT EDITOR

A New underground comedy showcase will allow Black comedians to tell it like it is without toning down their messages, like Black television shows.

Music Notes

Mitchells notes "the real issues are outed on [television]." He wanted Comedy Underground to allow comedians to tell the truth about African-Americans without having to lock their tongues for fear of how other cultures might interpret their messages.

At the same time, he does not want to create a platform dominated by the traditional negative punch line comedians, where men put down women.

"I went to comedy shows where everybody was in the []" Mitchell notes. He continues, "Since my stuff wasn't like that, I didn't even want to perform," though he does not intend an excluding racism comedians from Comedy Underground showcases, the Comedy Underground venue will feature the negative issues following the delivery, Mitchell says.

Having a background in the arena, rap and stand-up, Mitchell doesn't offer the traditional stand-up routine. One of his most popular routines is his Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. impersonation, as if Dr. King addresses the issue of the blood and crops. Part of the routine reads:

I have a dream that Black, Crayola, Pinky and S.A. from Nickerson Gardens to Jordan Downs, South Los Angeles to Imperial Courts will all live as one.

"Cause I've been in the hood called one top and I don't mind what color you wear or what hood you live in."

Let your rag hang from the top of your back in the future of your crookheads. Let your rag hang from the prodigious billings of Compton to the front lines of South Central.

Talk Is Cheap Showcases Multitude Of Singing Talents

By Rockie Blinds

The gospel stage play "Talk Is Cheap" premièred the weekend of March 26th and 27th at the Stamp Center for the Arts in San Bernadino.

The play focused on the events surrounding a man who leaves his wife and children for another and a pastor whose son is dyin of AIDS.

"Talk Is Cheap" showcases a multitude of singing talents including the writer, director and producer Mr. Daz Patterson who selected the audiences with her vocal ability. The pastor was also an audience pleaser with his singing.

One interesting and different thing of "Talk Is Cheap" was the color blind casting. Although the majority of the cast was Black, there were two major characters that were not.

Red and blue rags, red and blue rags. Thank God for the nasty of red and blue rags.

As for his rap career which he has been pursuing since age 13, Mitchell plans to release his first single "The Conspiracy" this summer on Groove-a-lot Records. The single addresses the conspiracy to destroy the Black family. Like his comedy, Mitchell will mainly promote songs with positive messages.

The first Comedy Underground showcase will feature Mitchell along with Larry La, Keith Morris, local comedians Craig Foster, Beef and a few special appearances. It will be held at 7:30 P.M. Saturday, April 13 at the McDermont Hall, 4800 Magnolia Ave., in Riverside.

Tickets are $10 to $12 to advance. For more information on Comedy Underground call (909) 788-7377.

▲ One-on-one interview with the Master of Disaster NBA MVP Candidate.

INGLEWOOD: "Nothing is going to keep me from being outstanding," says Shaquille O'Neal of the Orlando Magic in his hit rap song, Outstanding.

Well, Shaq appears to be taking those words literally. He is outstanding.

Starting with his basketball prowess, Shaq, the 22-year-oldmodern-day Michael Jordan, is scoring, is No. 2 in rebounding, No. 2 in field goal percentage and No. 5 in blocks shot.

Not bad for a guy some opposing players and a number of critics say doesn’t work on his game. Many say, "Shag has received too much hype for what he is." Well, he has his rookie season, he has his rookie season. He is accomplishing.

Shaq has come back for his second season with post moves and bank shots that he didn't have in his rookie season. He is on the verge of leading the Magic to the playoffs after the first time ever - in an era of the NBA Finals behind the New York Knicks.

The Magic is probably the top road drawing team in the league and Shaq is fast becoming the league’s most popular player with the fans, too.

Add to these accomplishments, the fact Shaq has made an album that has gone platinum. An album that has gone platinum... of writers say doesn’t work on his game. Do you consider yourself a role model? I have my little brother and sister looking as me. I don’t want to be a failure in that model.

Don’t worry Shaq, you won’t be a failure in any of your relationships, cause you are outstanding and I know you got skillz young man.

A: Yeah, I'm happy. I'm having fun, staying out of trouble and doing what I want to do. Yeah, I'm happy. I'm enjoying what's happening to me, and that's the celebrity status doesn't bother me or weight me down.

Q: Do you consider yourself a role model?
A: There are many definitions of a role model. When I was growing up, a role model was the person you could talk to about the birds and the bees and troubles and this and that, and that person was my father. Now we as athletes can get on television and say don't do drugs, but if someone comes up to you and says do drugs, he can't say me up and ask me about it, that's why he has, to come to you for the answer.

Q: Do you plan to pursue acting opportunities?
A: I like "Outstanding," I don't get bored and stuff like that. I think my next album will be a whole lot better. I did think I would go platinum. By the way, I like to think I'm a music expert. I know what people want to hear. They are the audience I'm after - like good beats. If you get a nice beat that makes a person's head go like this (Shaq demonstrated this point, too), then it's all good. The music I make is made to make one dance.

Q: Are you happy?
Helping Our Children Prepare For The Future

The Black Voice News Page B-3 Thursday, April 7, 1994

Community

I am sure that we will have a new young Congressman in Washington this November. Volunteers are needed as we put together a large precinct walking and phone banking operation. You can help call Jamie Hurdado for more information at (909) 485-3355.

Smoking: We are losing many of our citizens to the expensive, smelly, unhealthy habit of smoking. I have a responsibility to ask our young people not to smoke, and encourage our older people to "stop smoking".

Would you like to stop smoking? If you would like to be among those who free themselves of the expensive, smelly clothing and home, bad breath, stained fingers and teeth, nagging cough that lead to serious health hazards such as cancer and many other long-term problems, you can. During the next few weeks in this column I will share with you some tips, based on the experience of some successful quitters and the format of very effective stop-smoking programs. Smoking is a habit that we all can live without, however, no one can live with—not very long. If we work together, we can help our children.

Charles Ledebetter can help our children.

African-American Conference Together they did. An outstanding program was held March 26th at the March Mountain Comprehensive High School in Moreno Valley. The chairperson of this meaningful event was Counselor Eudora Mitchell, who presented a very enthusiastic group, the "Conference Overview." The welcomed address was given by Jarone Beetier, Assistant Principal at March Mountain High School. I gave the second welcome address as a member of the School Board of Education.

Hanyik Wood of Moreno Valley High School introduced the student speaker, Brian Ingram, who reminded the audience and the world at large, that he "has rights too." He ended an inspiring speech with these words, "As a Black man, I have a right to be me." His speech was very impressive. I was followed by the keynote speaker, Susan Director of African Student Affairs at the University of Riverside. He was introduced by Londa Wilson, a student at March Mountain High School. He gave a very interesting speech which covered Black people's involvement in world affairs before the turn of the century to the present time.

I had to leave at the end of his speech, I was participating in a strategic planning conference.

The future is what we make it. Each individual has within him the ability to help make this a better nation, world, state, city, school, community or home, let us do it. Together we can.

Nothing makes the cash register ring like a newspaper ad. Studies prove it. For instance, newspaper ads more than doubles the sale of package goods. (Not increases, doubles it.) And we're not talking about fire sales and cents-off items. No, we're talking package goods at full-blown, retail prices. Now that's what you call powerful advertising medium. And coincidentally, that's exactly what consumers call it too.

In survey, they cite newspapers as the medium of choice for shopping advice. The place they turn when they want to buy. The place they're actually looking for ads, not trying to avoid them. (Ha, bet you never heard anyone say that about T.V. or radio.) The point is pretty clear. You should be advertising in the Black Voice News. Unless of course, you've got some strange aversion to sales.
