Many a book has passed over the circulation desk since the Library opened with a collection of 50,000 volumes. On May 17 the CSCSB Library will commemorate the acquisition of its quarter millionth volume.

Prominent script writer, author and critic, Harlan Ellison, will be on campus as featured speaker following the brief presentation ceremony of the 250,000th volume at 11 a.m. at the south end of LC-500.

One of Mr. Ellison's recent science fiction books will be accepted by a representative of the College as the volume marking the milestone in the Library's growth.

CSCSB's Library has more volumes than any other institution of higher learning in the Inland Empire except the University of California at Riverside, according to John Tibbals, Head, External Library Operations.

The initial 50,000 volumes were acquired and processed in a warehouse in downtown San Bernardino over a period of three years before the College opened.

Mr. Ellison has authored over 800 articles, essays, reviews and 30 books. He has also been a TV script writer for "Route 66," "The Man from U.N.C.L.E.," "Star Trek," and others as well as motion picture script writer. He is the subject of a recent biography by former CSCSB faculty member George Slusser, entitled "Harlan Ellison, Unrepentant Harlequin," currently on sale in the Bookstore.

Following the talk there will be a luncheon buffet at 12:30 in the Lower Commons. Reservations should be received by Thursday, May 12. ($3.75 a person). Call Ext. 7601. The College and the public are welcome to attend the ceremony and the luncheon.

The School of Education has been informed that the Regional Panel for external assessment of credential programs has just recommended to the Commission for Teacher Preparation and Licensing, "Standard Approval" for two basic programs.

This highest, most desirable level of accreditation was accorded to the Multiple Subjects and Single Subject Credentials Programs.

Ernest Garcia, Chairman of the Department of Teacher Education; Margaret Lenz and Gordon Stanton, coordinators, and other School of Education faculty, are responsible for the development and operation of the two programs.
CONCERT, FESTIVAL, PLAY AND FILM COMING THIS WEEKEND

A plethora of events will hit the campus this weekend and one wonders how even the most dedicated campus music lover, gourmet, theatre buff or movie fan will be able to take them all in.

TONIGHT - The Colonial Festival continues with Ben Franklin and His Friends singing opera, serving dinner and entertaining guests at 7 p.m. in the Commons. The cuisine is being prepared by Bruno, renowned chef of the White House, Kennedy through Nixon years.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," delightful Spring production of the Players of the Pear Garden, continues its run after opening night last night in the Little Theatre. Other performances are billed for Saturday and next week, week, May 17 through 21. (Call Ext. 7454 for ticket information.)

"The Four Musketeers," (Richard Chamberlain, Oliver Reed, Michael York and Frank Finlay) continue their swashbuckling adventures with the help of Geraldine Chaplin. PS-10, two showings 6 and 9:15 p.m.

. . . and between showings, "Zoo Story," skit, 8 and 9 p.m.

SATURDAY - "A Midsummer Night's Dream,"8:15 p.m., Little Theatre continues run.

President's Night at the Colonial American Festival, Lower Commons.

SUNDAY - Pianist Timothy Strong will be featured in his first recital on the CSCSB campus, Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. in PS-10. Prof. Strong will play the music of Schumann, Scarlatti, Ravel, Chopin, Bartok and Brahms. Admission is $1.50, with children and students with identification admitted free.

JOE MARTINEZ, FORMER CSCSB PROF., PRESENTS COLLOQUIUM

Dr. Joe Martinez who was a member of the CSCSB Dept. of Psychology from 1972 to 1976, will discuss how the brain analyzes and stores information in one of a series of colloquia sponsored by the CSCSB Psychology Dept. Dr. Martinez' talk will begin at 4 p.m. in LC-500 on May 11. The College and public are welcome.

Now a member of the Dept. of Psychobiology at UC, Irvine, Dr. Martinez was a visiting scientist at the New England Primate Research Center, Harvard Medical School in 1971-72, after he earned his doctorate in psychology from U of Delaware.

The neurological and biochemical basis of memory is the subject area of the talk and discussion period which will follow. Stuart Ellins, Asst. Prof, Psychology, arranged the program.

WATCH OUT FOR A SNAKE-IN-THE-GRASS

A number of rattlesnakes have been spotted recently on campus. This is the time of year for them to come out of hibernation.

All members of the College community are urged to exercise caution when walking near high grass, ivy or heavy plantings and to be on alert near shrubs or other places where they may take cover.
