Rheubottom Hospitalized

Harry Rheubottom

Harry Rheubottom, community activist and former Governor of the Kiwanis has been in the hospital for four weeks. Two weeks he spent in St. Bernardine Hospital and for the last two weeks in the Robert Ballard Rehabilitation Hospital in San Bernardino. Rheubottom is expected to be released in another week.

Drive By Shooting Leaves North Student Injured

At 8:04 Tuesday morning police were called to the front of the fire station on Cran- ford Street in the area of 18 to 20 year old black male with a hand gun lifted out the window and fired four shots. One round hit a male Hispanic student in the heel of his foot. The other two victims felled the area on foot. The suspects drove away, but the suspect vehicle was found abandoned nearby with Dr. Memphis. The suspects were described as three male Blacks, and were last reported to be going away in a tan Ford Ranger pick up truck.

The victim, a 9th grader at North High, will not be identified because he is a minor. He stated he did not know the sus- pects, and the reason for the shooting is under investigation. The victim is not identified as a gang member.

Some prefer education in smaller classrooms, others see education in the community as imperative. In diversity there is respect, appreciation, and equity for all.

Through the various programs, including the Substance Abuse Mobile (SAM), tens of thousands have been educated. Prevalent community problems were previously mentioned. The solution to the CSUSB service community's problems lies not in the corridors of Washington or Sacramento, nor the walls of more prisons, nor the pages of a reform journal to be read by learned colleagues. The solution lies in positively impacting our service area, empowering our constituents, teaching them to read, to stay in school and graduate, to train and obtain employment, to go to college, and/or to attain whatever a dream an individual potential can achieve. Diversity is defined as different, unlike, varied. Some professionals prefer to publish, others to practice. Some prefer education in smaller classrooms, others see education in the community as imperative. In diversity there is respect, appreciation, and equity for all.

Hugh B. Price Selected President Of The National Urban League

T he National Urban League recently named Ernest D. Levister, a senior official of the Rockefeller Foundation and a frequent commentator on social issues, as the seventh President and Chief Executive Officer of the nation’s second-oldest civil rights organization. Mr. Price succeeds John E. Jacob, who headed the Urban League for 12 years.

“Hugh Price brings experience, vision, creativity and leadership to the Urban League at a time when the African-American community is in great need of an effective advocate for equal economic opportunity,” said Reginald K. Black, Jr., Chairman of the League’s Board of Trustees and the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Time Inc. “Hugh has a passion for justice and a commitment to developing solutions to the problems facing urban America today. We believe he will be an effective voice for the Urban League and for the African-American community as a whole, and that he can lead our organization into the 21st Century.”

Mr. Price said, “African-Americans have made many important strides in the 40 years since Brown vs. Board of Education. We can now be found in the highest and most sensitive positions in government, business, law and medicine. But many others of us have been left behind. Rebuilding that economic and social infrastructure for all African-Americans is a daunting challenge, but no organization is better positioned to do it than the National Urban League.”

“The League is uniquely positioned to provide solutions to the problems of the minority community. More than any other civil rights organization, it fully utilizes the tools of advocacy, research, program service and building bridges and does so by leveraging the strengths of a strong base in the communities it serves. I am thrilled about the opportunity to build on what has already been accomplished by the Urban League and to work with our 113 affiliates to create a national organization that aggressively and imaginatively addresses the challenges of the 1990s.”

Different Types Of Strokes

Our Bodies

Ernest Levister, Jr., M.D., of developing a hemorrhagic stroke.

An ischemic stroke results from blockage of blood vessels limiting or preventing blood from going to the brain. This can result from a build up of atherosclerotic plaque or from blood clots (emboli) that have traveled through the blood stream. These clots can form on artificial heart valves or in the heart chambers with such conditions as atrial fibrillation or heart failure. To prevent embolic strokes many patients are treated with blood thinning medication such as coumadin or aspirins.

Surgical treatment for patients with ischemic strokes have yielded mixed results. Surgery to remove normal blood flow through the blocked vessels is done. Surgery on both the carotid arteries in the neck can help prevent a stroke when a vessel is narrowed but has not been shown to be an effective treatment for limiting damage from an evolving stroke.

Mr. Price told a reporter, “African-Americans have made many important strides in the 40 years since Brown vs. Board of Education. We can now be found in the highest and most sensitive positions in government, business, law and medicine. But many others of us have been left behind. Rebuilding that economic and social infrastructure for all African-Americans is a daunting challenge, but no organization is better positioned to do it than the National Urban League.”

U.S. Congressman Charles B. Rangel of New York was one of six recipients of Narconon International’s 1994 “Drug-Free Hero” awards presented by actress Erika Allen, Narconon International Spokesperson. Chairman of the newly-formed Congressional Drug Caucus, Rangel was named a Narconon Drug-Free Hero for his leadership against drug abuse and trafficking, and as Congress’ most outspoken advocate for more effective drug prevention and treatment programs. Allen, who overcame cocaine use through Narconon’s drug rehabilitation program developed by writer and philosopher L. In addition, you can call the Home Economist and get information on canning, freezing or drying your home grown produce for later use.

Also, you can start a Gardening program in your classroom or community. If we are to have scientists, engineers and other professionals for tomorrow, we must start today. Our nation’s future depends on its greatest natural resource, our young people. And their key to the future is education. But many students simply can’t afford to attend college. Government cutbacks in education support, lower student loans and rising costs have combined to limit access to a college education. That leaves minority students who need financial assistance.

That’s why Dr. Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation continues to support educational opportunities with contributors to the United Negro College Fund and directly supports institutions of higher learning that serve minority students. Our commitment to UNCF is only part of Brown & Williamson’s, and our employees’ grants to education. We know these future leaders, now studying in colleges and universities across the country, need our help. Given the opportunity, these young people will excel and secure a brighter future for themselves and for all of us.

Black Companies Hit Record $10 Billion In '93 Revenues

The nation’s 100 largest black-owned industrial/service companies and 100- top automobile dealers broke the $10 million gross revenue barrier for the first time. With combined 1993 sales of $10.28 billion, these companies recorded a 13.9 percent increase in revenues, according to the exclusive B.E. 100s report in the June 1994 edition of BLACK ENTERPRISE Magazine. The report is recognized as the authoritative ranking of the nation’s largest Black-owned companies.

More important, the B.E. 100s companies experienced their first major boost in employment—on an incredible 20 percent increase—since 1984. These businesses employed over 43,000 people last year.

In its 22nd Annual Report on Black Business, BLACK ENTERPRISE reported that despite a slow national economic recovery, B.E. 100s companies fared better than the largest majority-owned corporations, which combined 1993 sales rose only 4.5 percent.

The list of the B.E. 100s includes the B.E. Financials which consist of:
- the ranking of the 25 largest Black-owned banks and savings and loan associations
- the B.E. Insurance List, comprising over the 15 largest Black-owned insurance firms
- the ranking of the 15 largest Black-owned investment banks

"Despite fierce competition and an unforgiving economy, Black businesses were able to achieve greater productivity from increasingly scarce resources and yield a record breakthrough of over $10 billion in revenues," said BLACK ENTERPRISE publisher Earl G. Graves. "The entrepreneurs of the B.E. 100s companies provide powerful examples of what entrepreneurial courage is all about."

New York-based TLC Beatrice International Holdings Inc. held on to its first-place spot on the B.E. Industrial/Service 100 list with more than $1.7 billion in revenues. Johnson Publishing Company of Chicago remained the second-largest company on the list, posting revenues of $236.3 million in 1993.

Among the industrial/service corporations, food and beverage companies posted the highest percentage of sales while technology companies experienced the greatest growth.

"The growth trend of Black business in traditional areas such as food and beverage distribution is due to an increase in African-American ownership of fast food outlets and super market chains in the inner cities," said editor-in-chief Sheryl Hilliard Tucker.

Two Different Directions In A Marriage

QUESTION: Dear Dr. Woods,
Would God's purpose for a marriage take a couple in two so differently directed directions? My wife's goal in church is to minister to children. My goal is hospitality, such as ushering.

This does not always happen. However, you must be support-ive of the directions your spouse takes. God uses every instance to teach us. Do not minimize the significance of your efforts. Though you may not be directly involved in your spouse's endeavors, do as much as possible to identify with and "own" their endeavors. The law of giving applies here. If you show concern ("gives") for your wife's endeavors, she will show concern ("gives") for your area of concern.

If you have a question that you would like answered in this column, write: Dr. Reginald L. Woods, Life Changing Ministries, P.O. Box 9718, San Bernardino, CA 92427-9718.

A Cry For Help Written For Those Who Have Lost Their Voice

Dori Sanders' large and loyal following knows the author's skills and her ability to create compelling stories. Sanders' latest novel, "Her Own Place," is a testament to her talent and dedication.

The novel is set in a small town in the South, where a young woman named Mae Lee Barnes is trying to make sense of her life after the loss of her husband and children. Mae Lee is a strong and resilient woman, and her journey is both heartwarming and heartbreaking.

Sanders' writing is evocative and richly descriptive, capturing the timeless beauty of the Southern landscape and the pain and joy of being a Southern woman. Her characters are complex and multi-dimensional, and their struggles are relatable and universal.

"Her Own Place" is a powerful and moving novel that will resonate with readers everywhere. It is a story of loss, survival, and redemption, and it is a testament to the enduring strength of the human spirit.

Black Nurses Present Scholarships

By Cheryl Brown

Dr. Brenda Davis
Speaker

The Inland Empire Black Nurses Association held their Ninth Annual Scholarship Awards Banquet entitled "Preparing for the Health Care Reform" recently.

Following a welcome by Sandra Waters, was the introduction of Master of Ceremonies Ralph Rivers, President of the Inland Empire African-American Chamber of Commerce. Rev. Arthur J. Forbes returned for the 9th year to give the invocation.

Following dinner, Myrtle Knollish introduced the speaker. Dr. Brenda Davis, Provost Norco Campus, Riverside City College.

Davis spoke of her concern for the allowable level of care of health care plan proposed by President Clinton. She expressed concern for her primary focus—the patient.

Awards were presented by Faye Culpepper Ceaser. "Our objective is to provide a mechanism for the unification of Black nurses of varied age groups, education levels, and geographic location ensure continuity and flow of our common heritage and goals," said Knollish.

The scholarships were presented to nursing students: Nanna Amissal, Cheryl Anthony, Brian Huff, Yvette Smith, and Wendy Wong.

Nothing makes the cash register ring like a newspaper ad. Studies prove it. For instance, newspaper ads more than doubles the sale of package goods. (Not increases, doubles it.) And we’re not talking about fire sales and cents-off items. No, we’re talking package goods at full-blown, retail prices. Now that’s what you call powerful advertising medium. And coincidentally, that’s exactly what consumers call it too.

In survey, they cite newspapers as the medium of choice for shopping advice. The place they turn when they want to buy. The place they’re actually looking for ads, not trying to avoid them. (Ha, bet you never heard anyone say that about T.V. or radio.) The point is pretty clear. You should be advertising in the Black Voice News. Unless of course, you’ve got some strange aversion to sales.
