BLACK VOICE NEWS

The death cry is a hurt that is so deep it affects everyone within ear shot. The death cry came as LaVell Morris, who heard about the shooting of his brother, Lonnell Morris, drove up in a car to see his brother's lifeless body covered only with a sheet. The pain gripped this body as a police officer held him, hand on gun, backed up by some ten other officers. He just fell on the ground surrounded by his friends who tried to console him in his grief, "That's my brother," he cried. It took all six men to pull him to the car and get him in, his grief further manifested itself when he kicked and screamed at the front window of the car, "Let me go, it's not enough to be driven away."

LaVell's grief, and the pain by everyone who had gat­ ered, were too much for two His­ taly Hispanics and one 20-year-old warden of the Lamar Bat­

According to witnesses and from what LaVell's uncle, Carlos Palmer, said they were driving down 19th Street in San Bernardino when two Hispanics were following them shooting. Witnesses said 15 rounds fired. One witness claims that the assailants jumped in the back of the car and shot the car. The blue Camino went out of control when the driver was hit and barely avoided a gate community (it is a gated community) and they knocked down a one-way sign. The blue truck with three men who fit the description going by was a house to the police. Palmer feels the police are not follow­ing up on leads.

Palmer remains in the hospital. His condition is unknown, but he has been shot in the leg. Police believe that three men jumped into the truck and shot him. He is expected to get better.

The Rector has been active in many community-based organizations throughout San Bernardino County providing him with an understanding of needs within the County.

Hispanic Chamber Mixer To Be Held

The Fontana Hispanic Chamber of Commerce will hold a mixer on October 14, 1994 at 4:30 p.m. at Lander Classic Inn, 2660 Arrow Blvd., in Fontana. Attending the mixer will be Fire Chief Senior Deputy Jorge Gomez, the mixer is being hosted by Congressman George Brown and AmChac-Busch, Inc. Local companies providing special business enrollment services like Pac Bell, Southern California Edison, and the Gas Co. will also be available to discuss their programs.

For further information please call (909) 822-5644.

City Of S.B. To Sponsor Citywide Clean-Up Day

On October 17, the City of San Bernardino will sponsor its third Citywide Clean-Up Day in an effort to reduce blight in the city. Over eight units of waste were already collected in 1993, and the theme of the month three pilot programs.

Volunteers will be located at two Home Depot locations throughout the city to collect unwanted furniture. The pickup will also collect green waste. Bag and plastic bags will not be accepted. Collection time is from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 12 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Home Depot parking lots on 21st and Lincoln streets and 695 and Sistian Street.

The first two clean-up days we held were tremendously successful. We collected tonne's of trash that might otherwise have been dumped in vacant lots or in someone's yard," said Volunteer Chairman, Pat Leathers.

If multi-billion dollar utilities want to gamble, let them use their ir money. There's nothing wrong with electric cars, but it's definitely more profitable for them to gamble with our air, there won't even be any significant environmental benefits, according to the California Public Utilities Commission's Division of Ratepayer Advocates. Unfortunately, the Public Utilities Commission, which has the sole responsibility for rate increases, doesn't have to listen to the DRA. Too often, the PUC has been more interested in a rabidly anti-car faction the C.D.C. than anything the utilities may propose. Even though this half-billlion dollar grant is opposed by newspapers, consumer groups, and just about everyone else in the state, the PUC is now seriously considering approving the plan. However, we are writing this issue on the assumption that the rate increase has been approved.

If you think it's too bad utilities should have to make any effort to take your money to build their profits and make their shareholders richer, write in support of Black-owned C.D.C. Chairman Denver Franklin, 502 N. Avenue San Francisco, San 94102. To make sure the Commission registers your opposition, all you have to do is write a letter to the rate commission for electric and natural gas cars.

If multi-billion dollar utilities want to gamble, let them use their own money. You can bet that's exactly what they'll do to.

National Fire Prevention Week Has Interesting History

The history of National Fire Prevention Week has its roots in the Great Chicago Fire, which occurred on October 8, 1871. This tragic conflagration claimed the lives of some 300 people, left 100,000 homeless, and destroyed million of dollars worth of structures. The origin of the fire is still surrounded by mystery and since its occurrence, with fact and fiction blurring over the years. One legend has it that Mrs. Catherine O’Leary was milking her cow when the animal kicked over a lamp, setting the O’Leary’s barn on fire and starting the spectacular blaze. How ever, the massive fire began, it slowly took in toll, burning more than 2,000 acres in just 24 hours. The City of Chicago quickly rebuilt, how ever, and within a couple of years residents began commemorating the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire and using the event to increase awareness of the dangers of fire. And every year since 1925, the President of the United States has signed a proclamation designating the Sunday through Saturday period in which October 9 falls as National Observation. This year Fire Prevention Week is Octo ber 15-21, with the theme “Test Your Doctor For Life.”

NPF continues today to make National Fire Prevention Week a priority and counts on the participation and effort of tens of thousands of fire and safety professionals, American Red Cross volunteers, and individuals working to reduce the risk of fire and the tolls it takes on our society.

The Association publishes the National Fire Code® and the Lean to Bank Cur riculum.

Your Dream Dress

Accents On Weddings

Your wedding dress is probably the most meaningful garment you will ever purchase. So when you enter the wedding gown mar ket, your priority should be in order. According to Bridal Guide Magazine, 3,000 new bridal gown designs are produced each year, so establish ing guidelines will help make your bridal gown shopping from becoming overwhelming.

With some brides, looks are more important than the dress, with others price is more important. There are different avenues you can explore when searching for your wedding dress.

First, decide what kind of wedding gown you are looking for. Do you want a gown that’s right of the rack and it is up to you whether you want a dress. Don’t expect personal attention, as retail stores are not usually equipped to do bridal gowns.

Seemans who make custom gowns are another option because you can design the type of dress you really want. Look in the telephone book under bridal gown makers or ask fabric stores that sell wedding fabric for a referral.

African American weddings are very popular now. There are many African American and Chicago that have very unique and diverse styles. Ask a friend or relative who is a designer or close friends. Your wedding dress should be all you ever dreamed of, so take your theme and style and make it your own.

To have a dream, you wish you planned your wedding.

Sickles Cell Disease

In Patrick Johnson, "Business Retention Program, Blue Cross of California, Sick cell disease strikes one in every 300 African Americans, according to the Sickle Cell Disease Association of America, Inc. (SCDAA).

One in 12 African Americans has sickle cell trait. However, red blood cells are sickle in fewer are sickle cell disease.

Health and red blood cells are sickle in fewer as white blood cells are sickle. Sickled cells are more fragile because they are stiff and more likely to become stuck in small blood vessels. In addition, sickled cells release a protein called sickle cell hemoglobin, which can damage the walls of blood vessels.

Sickle cell trait can be inherited from one or both parents, according to the National Institutes of Health. People with sickle cell trait have red blood cells that sickle under certain conditions, but they usually do not have symptoms.

Sickle cell disease is a serious condition that can lead to painful crises, organ damage, and early death, according to the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute. Sickle cell disease is more common in African Americans.

The symptoms of sickle cell disease can vary widely, according to the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute. Some people experience frequent and severe pain, while others experience less severe pain. Other symptoms may include fatigue, shortness of breath, and infections.

Treatment for sickle cell disease can include medication, transfusions, and surgery. In some cases, a bone marrow transplant may be necessary. People with sickle cell disease are at increased risk of complications during pregnancy and childbirth.

The Sickle Cell Disease Association of America (SCDAA) has a program called "The New Normal" that provides resources and support for people with sickle cell disease and their families.

In conclusion, sickle cell disease is a serious condition that can lead to painful crises, organ damage, and early death. People with sickle cell disease can take steps to manage their symptoms and live a healthy life. It is important for people with sickle cell disease to see a doctor regularly and to follow the recommended treatment plan. This can help prevent complications and improve quality of life.

The Numbers Are In And M.A.N.T.I.S. Is A Hit

Several million viewers watched the two-hour movie version of M.A.N.T.I.S., which aired earlier this year on FOX TV. When the ratings exceeded the producers expectations, they developed the concept into a weekly prime time series. As a result, an astonishing five million viewers are watching M.A.N.T.I.S. consistently every Friday night.

In his role as physcian Dr. Miles Hawkins and his alter ego M.A.N.T.I.S., accomplished actor Carl Lumbly fights crime in the fictional West Coast city of Port Columbia. Filled with action, intrigue and adventure, the M.A.N.T.I.S. series brings to one of television's first African-American superheroes, each Friday at 8:00 p.m. (Check local listings for your FOX station.)

While M.A.N.T.I.S. is based on the two-hour movie created by feature filmmakers Sam Hampton (Batman) and Sam Raimi (Darkman), there have been many changes in the production of the series. Most notable is the number of African-American actors who were replaced by Caucasian actors. "We were concerned when I heard of the cast changes," said Lumbly in a recent interview. "I don't say that when I first heard that the show was being reconsidered. I was upset. I had questions, but I also believed there would be a number of Black people who would be employed." News reports have leveled charges of racism against FOX and accused the network of attempting to "lighten" the show.

One national press report expressed surprise that at a time when there are more Black superheroes in comic books than ever before that downplaying race on this TV show could be a commercial mistake. Another newspaper said that the show was about far more than the simple plus or minus of Black faces. "The story [the pilot] was noted--both ideologically and dramatically--in unsubtitled AfroAmerican." Recently, show creators Hannon and Raimi were quoted as saying, "We want to get the series closer to the pilot and we want to see more African-American actors on the show." FOX TV has desired change in racism and said the changes from pilot to series were made strictly for creative reasons--to increase the story possibilities and to make the show lighter. "There was never any direction (from FOX) to cast new characters as Black or White," said ex-cast member Gerald LeVert.

The album includes: I'd rather have him than to have him, said Lumbly. "We hope our fans will call into their local FOX affiliate stations to show their support for this show. We need to hear those voices," said Lumbly.

M.A.N.T.I.S. is a Western Renaissance Pictures/movie and Kitchen Company production in association with Universal Television, created by Hannon and Raimi, and designed for distribution by Zabel.

San Bernardino Arena Rockin' And Rollin'

The San Bernardino Arena is alive and well featuring concerts and sporting events.

The venerable San Bernardino Arena is once more taking its rightful place as one of the most entertaining in the Island Empire. For the fifteenth hundred seat arena was known primarily for professional wrestling and boxing.

The arena manages to keep the arena as being able to be more than the arena for the events. By adding a four hundred square foot box, they are now able to offer the arena as a multi-purpose venue with every event having an outstanding view of the stage area.

The arena's life as a concert hall began in September with a CD Release Party and concert with the band Krueger. Also featured were local bands Ahaax, Tha Plows and Experience in Terror. J.C. Gota of Project, the Krueger concert promoter, was encouraged by the show's success and scheduled two more concerts for Halloween weekend.

The next concert at the arena is scheduled for October 21 and features the nationally known act Atlantic Avenue featuring Stephen Pearcy, formally with Ratt and Fred Coury from Cinderella. Also scheduled on the show is a special guest appearance by Doc Rubi. Concert tickets are $10.00 and are available through Ticketmaster.

The show is a special event for local wrestling fans and features the nationally known act Atlantic Avenue featuring Stephen Pearcy, formally with Ratt and Fred Coury from Cinderella. Also scheduled on the show is a special guest appearance by Doc Rubi. Concert tickets are $10.00 and are available through Ticketmaster.

Blackchurch Music; Music Plus, Robbersons, May and Tower.

For October 22nd the arena returns to its professional wrestling meets with The Battle Royal. "The event, featuring The Great Galactus and Astro with twelve other professional wrestlers in a center ring free-for-all," begins at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for entrance are $6.00, $4.00 for students and $3.00 for children. Children under five years old are free.

The arena is located at 137 South "G" Street, just south of Morley's Department Store and Rialto Avenue in San Bernardino. For recorded information on these and other upcoming events, call the San Bernardino Arena at (909) 880-0121.

Chargers Light Up NFL, Rubidoux Does Likewise To The Park

Seay's touchdown nails coffin as Chargers stay undefeated.

SAN DIEGO - The Raiders and the rest of the AFC West had to be looking out the corner of their collective eyes at the contest between the Kansas City Chiefs and the upstart San Diego Chargers Sunday: wondering, are these guys for real? Well, the Chargers' 20-6 rout was in a repeat shock waver throughout the AFC West, as well as across the rest of the NFL.

The Chargers electric defense and efficient offense, had their fans dancing in the aisles and singing their theme song, "San Diego Super Chargers," all night, white Joe Montana's presence and his troops had their scoreless touchdowns streak extended to eight consecutive quarters. Who can deny the Chargers are super? Not the AFC West, because they have beaten every team in the division at least once and now sport a lofty 5-0 record.

But does their super start automatically translate into Super Bowl bound? Among the fierce Charger locker room mien of fervor was present. "Even though we are 5-0, we can't get too excited because we aren't even 1/2 of the way through the season," said San Diego coach Bobby Ross. "But, when you beat a Kansas City team that is physically and well coached, you can feel good about it."

Added Mark Seay of San Bernadino: "We are going in this win, but as soon as we leave the locker room it doesn't matter anymore. We didn't think we were going to start, we just focus on one game at a time, and that's how we are going to do it each week."

Our player who was excited about the Chargers fast start was All-Pro linebacker Junior Seau, who got his helmet in on 13 tackles. Seau wins cautious about the start, saying that his team played "one of their better games," and that he had never been "5-0 in any league... so, I'm pretty excited about it."

While the Chargers were hugging in the afterwards of victory, the Chiefs were left wondering about their two-game slide. In particular, Mark Collins of San Bernadino Pacific, who has worn two Super Bowls as a member of the New York Giants, felt the pain of the loss. "They out played us today," he said in a quiet monotone voice. "Everything is in the Chargers face now, but it's the playoff race not a sprint. It's a marathon. It's not how you start, but where you are at the finish."

Added Chief running back Marcus Allen: "We are still in it, so I'm not going to get too down about this. Besides, I feel if you prepare each and every week, it doesn't matter who you play, the challenge is with ourselves."

The Chargers are charging forward in with fighting bolt quickness, and with this win they are in firm control of the AFC West. But, as tight end Duane Young says, "We have to keep working hard at it and go into every game as if we are 0-5 and we will have no problem staying here."

Game of the Week!

Riley, Real And tough Defense Leads Rubidoux To Victory

By LELAND STEIN III

RUBIDOUX - Expecting a close encounter, Rubidoux found the going easy, as they blew over and through Baldwin Park 20-6.

Baldwin Park came into the contest with a highly regarded passing attack, but it turned out to be a walk in the park for the Falcons, who grounded their air game into submission.

Park's quarterback, Eric Rables, was held to 6 of 21 for 77 yards. While Rubidoux's quarterback, Jason Real, made the most of his opportunities, passing for 128 yards on only 3 completions.

The Falcons' Donald Riley was the main recipient of Real's throws. Riley caught two touchdown passes that covered 32 and 37 yards. Riley also led the team in rushing with 75 yards in 4 carries, including a 32-yard touchdown scamper.

Concerted defensive back and leading receiver, Vicente Cortes, says: "I didn't think we would beat them as bad as we did. Every week we just keep getting better and better... everyone is starting to come-up."

Rubidoux (4-1) has always been known for playing smash mouth football, has continued that reputation with this year's version, too. Sophomore defensive back and quarterback, Darryl Knight, speaking like a true Falcon, says his team has been "sticking people pretty hard" and will continue to play "physical Rubidoux football."

Mirroring the fine and teams of the wonderful half-safe lineup works show, enacted as part of the Falcons' homecoming, the Park never had a chance. But, next week, against league rival and No. 1 ranked Moreno Valley Canyon Springs, Rubidoux will need that same effort to come out with a win that will no doubt go a long way in determining the league champi-
Hilliary - Beauty, Brains, Leadership, And Determination

By LELAND STEIN III

Not that success, for her it is safe, infallible. But never has she been afraid to reach. She knows you always note 100% of the shots you don't take. So, reaching is her rule.

RUBIDOUX — Out among the sweat and brow of young men practicing football skills, you will find a petite and beautiful young lady. Her name is Hillary Martino and she is listed in the Rubidoux high school football program as a defensive back and kicker.

Sure Hillary came to my attention because she is a member of the proud Falcon football squad. But, a further inspection of this young lady unveils a person of multiple skills and talents.

Leadership: She is regional president of the Black Student Union.

Beauty: She was in the running for Homecoming Queen. She did not win but settled for a spot on the court. She would go to spring practice before everyone else and never has she been released, but you just get her back and receiver.

Athletic: Besides football, Hillary practices soccer and tennis. But never has she been blasted, but you just get her back and receiver.

Hilliary has always been a soccer player and kicker, and I thought it would translate to success at football.” Hillary said, “I’m not as good as I thought I would be. It kind of bummed me out at first.”

“I’m usually one of the best at everything I do, but on the football field, I’m like this little squirt (she weighs 130 pounds). But I’m not going to quit.”

Hilliary says she thought about trying out for the team in her junior year, but she “didn’t have the guts.” Then she decided after much prompting from some of her close friends that she would go to spring practice this year; and here she is, still around. Martino not only kicks, but takes part in the physical parts of practice, playing defensive back and receiver.

“Sometimes they forget I’m a girl,” she says. “And I’ve been blasted, you just get back up and not let the couches

Bike Rack Installations

The Riverside Transit Agency has completed the installation of bike racks on their entire fleet of 40 foot buses as part of the Riverside On Wheels (WOW) program which began in May. Installation of the bike racks was a direct result of the Southern California Association of Governments, the San Bernardino County Air Resources Board, and the California Air Resources Board, and will be issued vehicle registration fees distributed by the MSRC and the Riverside Transit Agency.

Passengers participating in the WOW program must be at least 18 years old and complete a brief certification program at RTA. Passengers will receive instructions on how to use the bike racks, and will be issued WOW identification cards as no charge. Certifications are held on the third Tuesday of each month between 8 am. and 5 pm. at the RTA Administrative Office, 1823 Third Street, Riverside. In 1994, the remaining certification dates are October 18, November 13, and December 20.

Certifications are required. Cyclists, California, designed the racks which are easy to use and safely secure up to two bikes on the outside front of the buses. To date, RTA has certified almost 100 passengers for the WOW program. Rather than walking to and from the bus stops, passengers can save time by riding their bikes instead.

After this destination, an RTA bus will enhance cyclists' travel options.

The WOW program was spearheaded by the Riverside Bicycle Coalition Community (RBC), which obtained funding through an $187,000 award from the Mobile Source Air Pollution Reduction Review Committee (MSCR) and the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD).

The funds are authorized under AB 2766, and come from monies generated from fees distributed under an air pollution control program developed by the MSCR and approved by the SCAQMD. The MSCR, by law, is made up of representatives of the Air Resources Board, the Southern California Association of Governments, the San Bernardino County Air Resources Board, the Southern California Association of Governments; the Southern California Association of Governments; the San Bernardino County Air Resources Board, the Southern California Association of Governments.
