New U.S. Superstar
TWO LECTURES ON KING
TUT SET FOR JANUARY 30

Two multi-media lectures on the tomb of King Tutankhamun will be offered on campus Monday, January 30 in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

A special afternoon lecture for students, faculty and staff of the College will be given at 3:30 p.m. and an 8 p.m. evening lecture will be presented for the public.

Because of unexpected interest in the evening lecture, the Department of Anthropology and the Distinguished Lecturers Committee have arranged for Dr. Brian Fagan of UC, Santa Barbara, to make the two presentations. Both lectures are free. (See below for information on tickets for the 3:30 lecture. The 8 p.m. lecture is on a first-come, first-seated basis.)

Dr. Fagan's presentation, which involves several slide projectors and multiple screens, has been a sell-out at other campuses. It will furnish a background and understanding of the traveling exhibit of the treasures of the tomb of King Tut which opens at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art in mid-February.

The exhibit has generated a King Tut craze, making the 18-year old king, buried for 3,307 years, a new superstar on the U.S. scene, with lines of his fans standing for hours in all kinds of weather to view his earthly possessions.

The show, given as part of the L.S.B. Leakey Foundation Lecture Program, will cover Tutankhamun and his times, archeologist Howard Carter's long search for the tomb and the dramatic story of Carter's discovery of the buried entrance on November 26, 1922.

Dr. Fagan is a noted archeologist and author of numerous publications on Old World and Iron Age history. His most recent book, "The Rape of the Nile," has been selected as a Book-of-the-Month.

The audience will be taken, via pictures, through the various rooms of the sepulchre, pausing to view artifacts, jewelry and other unique objects.

TICKET INFORMATION FOR 3:30 P.M. Lecture - Tickets are available for the College Community - faculty, staff and students - starting today in the Music/Theatre Arts Office in CA-175. Hours: 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.. On Monday and Tuesday, January 23 and 24, special hours of 5:30 to 8 p.m. will be maintained for the benefit of evening students. Tickets remaining Thursday a.m., January 26, become available to the public as well as the College Community. Tickets are limited to two per person.

RAINFALL FIGURES - The College Weather Station reports that 8.44 inches of rain have fallen on campus since January 1.

FINE ARTS BUILDING
CONVERSION REACTIVATED

The design and re-modeling project of the Fine Arts Building, discontinued this year because of lack of funding, has been reactivated. Following approval by the Chancellor's Office and provision in the Governor's 1978-79 Budget, funds are tentatively budgeted to complete the work.

The architect, Charles G. Kanner of Beverly Hills, has been authorized to proceed with preparing the schematic drawings for the re-modeling, which will provide an enlarged ceramics lab, new sculpture studios, new woodworking and furniture design studio, and allow the Art Department to begin new programs in photography, metal smithing and jewelry. Consolidation of the Art Department, now scattered throughout the campus, also would be provided by conversion of the building to faculty offices and classrooms.

Leo Doyle, Art Department Chairman, and his staff will be working closely with the architect on planning of the project. If funds are approved on July 1, 1978, construction should begin some time later in the summer.

The cost of remodeling the building, formerly devoted mainly to music and drama facilities and the Bookstore, will cost approximately $227,400.
